Accident at Bear River. The first report received here was that on Wednesday three men were killed and thirteen wounded at Bear River by an explosion of giant powder. The second report, and probably the true one, stated that two men were engaged in drilling into a boulder on the side of the mountain, when it turned over crushing one man to death and breaking the legs of another. Dr. Walls, the company's physician, is in charge.

Pleasantly Entertained. An afternoon tea was given by Mrs. B. F. Taylor Thursday. Those present were: Mrs. B. F. Taylor, Miss Elizabeth Taylor, Mrs. F. A. Voorheis, Mrs. James Meahan, Mrs. Wallace Kay, Mrs. Emma Jensen, Mrs. Haddersley, Mrs. W. S. Williams, Miss Thirza Paul, Wm. Tison, rector.

Good-Bye. As it is impossible to call on every one of my friends before leaving for Alaska, I take this means of saying "Good-bye." I must say that Jackson will always have a tender spot in my heart, and wherever I may be anyone from Jackson will always be greeted with a true friendly spirit. I wish good luck, health and prosperity to one and all, and hope that when I return on a visit in a few years to find all, young and old, single and married, happy. Yours respectfully, FERDINAND MAYER.

Accident at Bear River. The first report received here was that on Wednesday three men were killed and thirteen wounded at Bear River by an explosion of giant powder. The second report, and probably the true one, stated that two men were engaged in drilling into a boulder on the side of the mountain, when it turned over crushing one man to death and breaking the legs of another. Dr. Walls, the company's physician, is in charge.

Pleasantly Entertained. An afternoon tea was given by Mrs. B. F. Taylor Thursday. Those present were: Mrs. B. F. Taylor, Miss Elizabeth Taylor, Mrs. F. A. Voorheis, Mrs. James Meahan, Mrs. Wallace Kay, Mrs. Emma Jensen, Mrs. Haddersley, Mrs. W. S. Williams, Miss Thirza Paul, Wm. Tison, rector.

Good-Bye. As it is impossible to call on every one of my friends before leaving for Alaska, I take this means of saying "Good-bye." I must say that Jackson will always have a tender spot in my heart, and wherever I may be anyone from Jackson will always be greeted with a true friendly spirit. I wish good luck, health and prosperity to one and all, and hope that when I return on a visit in a few years to find all, young and old, single and married, happy. Yours respectfully, FERDINAND MAYER.
