The two families have been living under the same roof for several years, and are loath to be separated.

A. H. Kuhlman, the carpenter and contractor, was kicked by a horse last Monday, and injured so that he was unable to work for several days. He was in the act of going into Garbarini's blacksmith shop, and passed close to a horse belonging to Barney O'Neil that was tied in front of the premises. The animal was scared, and let fly with both hind feet, striking Kuhlman in the right hip, inflicting an ugly flesh wound, but fortunately breaking no bones. Dr. Gall was summoned and dressed the wounds. Kuhlman is able to get around with the aid of a stick.

It is reported that the premium coin of this denomination is the one of 1894 coined at the San Francisco mint. There were only a few dozen coined there, but many at other mints which command little or no premium. The San Francisco dime, however, is said to be worth several dollars.

The A. O. U. W. of Jackson contemplate giving a picnic and ball next month. A meeting was held last Wednesday to discuss the matter. The expense of hiring bands for day and night, also for grounds and other things was looked into, but no definite conclusion was reached. The committee having the matter in charge will meet again next Thursday, when it is likely the affair will take on a definite shape.

E. A. Freeman has been elected to the office of Grand Master Workman of the A. O. U. W. of California. His term of office is two years. An opinion prevails that there is a handsome salary attached to the position, but this we are informed is not the case. The office is an honorary one, but all traveling expenses connected therewith are paid by the order. The Grand Master is required to devote his time in visiting the lodges throughout the state. Our townsman is to be congratulated upon his capture of this high position, in the face of keen competition.

Many strangers have arrived in Jackson this week. They hail from all quarters, and most of them belong to the foot brigade. They are gathering here preparatory to being forwarded to Bear River, to work on the dam of the Standard Electric Company at that point. The recent storms have delayed the commencement of the season's work. It is contemplated to start at least 100 men for that camp next week, and the force will be increased as the weather becomes settled. The arrival of these strangers, although remaining but a few days in our midst, help to liven up business generally.

The Middle Bar school has been closed on account of the existence of diphtheria on the Calaveras side of the Mokelumne river. Two children of the Garaventa family have died of this disease recently. One was a boy of about 17, and the other an infant daughter. Neither of them was attending school, but others in the family were scholars, and hence the trustees decided to close the school, probably for two weeks. It seems there are still two cases of the disease in the same family. This disease is highly contagious, and the utmost precautions have been taken against its spread.

A special meeting of the board of supervisors of Calaveras county was held last Saturday for the purpose of acting on a petition for including a portion of Calaveras county in the Middle Bar school district on the Amador side of the river. Saturday was the last day allowed for action on the petition, so that it would take effect this school year, hence the special meeting. J. L. Sargent, one of the trustees of Middle Bar district, attended the meeting in the interest of the petitioners. The prayer of the petition was granted. Middle Bar school district therefore now comprises a territory of Amador and Calaveras counties.

The change gives about 10 additional census children to the district. These children have been attending school at Middle Bar, but heretofore the district was unable to draw school money for these scholars. Now, however, the appropriation will be increased on the basis of these extra pupils.

The rainfall for the past week, as measured by the Ledger office gauge, is as follows:

Senator John F. Davis returned from an extended business visit to the city Wednesday evening.

Bill for Surgical Fees.

Drs. Adams and Frary of Ione attended the man, Pete Lavella, who was run over by the cars at the depot last month. There seems to be some misunderstanding on the question of responsibility for the surgical treatment rendered. The case was an urgent one, and demanded prompt aid. The doctors above named amputated both legs. The patient died after the operation was performed. The nature of his injuries were such that there was little hope of saving his life. The man was not a railroad employe. In fact he was trying to beat the company when the mortal injuries were inflicted. Naturally the railroad company disclaims all liability for surgeon's fees. It seems the constable of Ione got the doctors to attend the case, and had some talk with the district attorney about it. The doctors put in a bill against the county for $250 for their services, which was at first rejected, but afterwards reconsidered, and will be brought up at the next meeting of the board. The doctors interested were present, and at their request the matter was postponed so as to enable them to substantiate their view of the matter. The district attorney says he made no statement whatever that could be construed into authorizing a claim against the county in this matter. The principle is an important one. To admit that in any case of accident where the patient is unable to pay for surgical attention, the attending physician may fall back upon the county, would certainly prove a hard blow for the county treasury.

Charged With Concealing Estate.

Some months ago, David Gutmann, who had been an active mining operator in Amador and Calaveras counties died, leaving his affairs very unsettled. Though he had handled propositions involving millions of dollars, his estate as returned by his widow, who acted as executrix, showed only a valuation of $300.

Among other ventures of the active life of Mr. Gutmann, were the deals connected with the Ford and Sheep Ranch mines in Calaveras county. In the latter W. H. Clary now of Stockton, was involved, and he has a claim against the estate for $30,000, which he is now trying to enforce.

Last week he secured an order from Judge Trout's Court in San Francisco, citing the widow to appear on April 4th, and show the condition of the estate. Clary avers in his petition that the widow has secreted a portion of the estate for the purpose of defrauding the creditors. He further claims that she deliberately concealed all knowledge she had of $150,000 received from certain mining stock, promissory notes, to the value of $5000, and certain valuable real estate.

The Lawn Tennis Club.

A meeting was held in the supervisor's room last Saturday evening to take preliminary steps toward the organization of a lawn tennis club in Jackson. Quite a number of young folks of both sexes were present. The subject was discussed in all its aspects, and the following committees were appointed with the view of ascertaining the probable cost of preparing the grounds, and securing the necessary paraphernalia for getting the affair on an active basis:

Committee on Ground—Dr. Wilson, U. G. Spagnoli, and R. I. Kerr.

On Paraphernalia—Miss Hilda Clough, Miss Edith Giles, and Miss Lizzie Berryman.

Another meeting has been called for the 14th instant, to receive the report of these committees, and to take such further action as may be deemed necessary. All persons interested in the movement are invited to attend.

A Suspicious Affair.

Wilford Dennis, agent for Wells Fargo in Jackson, had an experience during Wednesday night that has caused him considerable reflection. Wednesday evening a large sum of money was received by express to meet pay day at one of the mines. The coin was placed in the safe, and at the usual hour Dennis retired to his home on the Hamilton tract. About half past one o'clock he was awakened by the furious barking of a little dog which he keeps inside the house at nights. He could tell by the manner of the animal that something unusual was on foot. Hastily dressing he went to the door, when he was addressed by a man in the street, whose features he could not distinguish, but whose voice sounded familiar; "Wilford, for God's sake, come down to the office; they are trying to rob it; they have smashed in the front door. Constable Kay is there now on guard." Dennis' first impulse was to rush to town as requested. The man's voice was heard also by neighbors. A young lady in D. A. Patterson's house across the street, looked out of the window on the floor, and saw the outline of two men, who were evidently acting in concert. After the first call, the stranger appeared inclined to walk off, whereupon Dennis called, and reported to the police, but for him; that he did not want to go alone. Mrs. Dennis told her husband that there was something wrong and urged him not to go. She was satisfied it was part of a plot. His residence is provided with a telephone, and he thought that constable Kay also had a telephone at his residence. So he called up the constable, and asked him about the matter. The officer answered at once that he was at home, and that it was the first intimation he had received of any attempt to rob the office. This settled it. Dennis did not go to the office, but officers called, and reported everything was the same as usual. Dennis believes it was a deplorable plot to get him to go to town alone, and by threats against his life compel him to open the safe to be plundered by the schemers. That he escaped the trap is due solely to the untowardness of his wife. The treasurer of the safe amounted to something like $10,000.

KEYSTONE MINE AND MILL

Still in the Infancy of its Career.

The Mill and Hoisting Plant are Modern Structures—Mine Developments.

A few years back it was thought that the days of the Keystone at Amador City as a bullion producer were numbered. It was one of the first mines to bring the quartz industry of Amador county into prominence, and for more than 40 years has continued to surrender generously of the precious metal. Owing to the discovery that large masses of quartz, heretofore regarded as waste and unprofitable, carried gold in paying quantities, the mine has just entered upon a new era of production, which bids fair to outclass the remarkable history of the past.

MILLING AND HOIST PLANT.

Through the kindness of C. E. Bunker, the superintendent, we were shown through the recently reconstructed mill and hoisting plant. The old 40 stamp mill has been remodeled and 20 additional stamps added, making 60 stamps in all. The 40 stamps are 750 pounds each, with crushing capacity of 31 tons per stamp per day. The new portion of the mill is provided with 1000 pound stamps, and it is calculated that these will be equal to 5 tons per day, although this has not been proven as yet as a month's run has not been made.

One of the noticeable features about the mill is the absence of wood, wherever that material can be dispensed with. The mortar blocks are all of concrete; the floors are of cement, and the concentrators and other machinery are bolted into the artificial rock floors. The spacious building 70 feet wide and over 100 feet long is of galvanized iron. In the new part of the mill the amalgamating plates are 20 feet long, as against 16 feet for the others. A pair of six foot Frue concentrators is provided for each battery of five stamps. The Woodbury concentrators, after a thorough trial, have been discarded for the Frue. The last named machine seems to be better adapted for the gold ores met with on the main belt of this county. In some sections of the county, where a different class of ore has to be treated, preference is given to the Wilfley or Woodbury patent, but on the mother lode it is well settled that better results are secured with the Frue. This fact has been strikingly exemplified at the Keystone. While the Woodburys were in use, a tallings or slime plant was kept running, the owners making a good living out of it. But as soon as these machines were displaced for Frues, the business of catching sulphurets below the mill proved unprofitable, and the tallings plant has been long since abandoned. An electric motor of 150 horse power runs the 60 stamp mill.

The hoisting works now operated by steam, are soon to be run by an air compressor operated by a 300 horse power dynamo. After leaving the compressor the air will be superheated so as to ensure greater efficiency. Heat, as is well known, expands air, and by the application of heat in its compressed form a greater motive force is secured. With steam it requires 6 cords of wood per day to run the hoist. With the new works, one cord per day will be sufficient to increase the temperature of the compressed air to the proper standard. At the time of our visit the machinery of the air compressor and motor was all in place and ready to be started. It is estimated to hoist 160 skips of 1 1/2 tons each per day, and also 150 skips of water of 550 gallons each.

MINE DEVELOPMENTS.

The Keystone, notwithstanding it has more years of constant activity to its credit than any mine in the county, is still in the infancy of its career. The magnificent milling and hoisting equipment just described has been provided with a full knowledge of what the underground developments warrant. The lowest working level at present is 900 feet deep. There is a deeper level, at the 1000 feet, but this is full of water, the necessity for unwatering it has not yet arrived. The truth is the possibilities of mining on the mother lode are only just beginning to be appreciated. With the Keystone it is not a question of deep mining. The ore bodies lying comparatively near to the surface promise to supply food for the mill for another generation at least. It has been found that the gold-bearing material consists of at least four veins. Those lying close to and in contact with the slate have been the productive ones in the past. But at the distance of about 300 feet east of the slate an immense body of grey schist is met with. This, although of a quartz nature, has not been recognized as milling ore, doubtless for the reason that it was considered too poor in the precious metal to prove profitable. Its presence has been known for a long time, but it certainly would not have met the demands of the expensive methods of early days, and hence was not exploited to any extent. It is this high grade proposition that is the keystone of the county, are looking for future dividends. At the 300, 500 and 800 levels, all in active working, the ledge is found to be fully 50 feet wide, and in some places has been proved to be over 300 feet in length. The gold is more uniformly distributed through this mass than in bonanza veins of the contact. The value is chiefly obtained in free gold, although the sulphurets are of good paying grade. The mill has been running steadily for some time on this ore, with satisfactory results. By putting large quantities through it can be worked at a profit with the improved methods of mining and milling now in vogue.

THE MACQUARRIE CASE.

The Information Filed Against Accused.

On the 8th instant the district attorney filed the information in the superior court against N. A. Macquarrie. The charge in the information is in substantially the same language as the complaint in the justice's court, with the following additional paragraphs: And the district attorney doth further charge that the said N. A. Macquarrie, by and under the name of M. A. Marquarrie, before the commission of the offense charged in the information, was in the police court No. one and for the city and county of San Francisco, convicted of a petit larceny, and the judgment of said court against said defendant on said conviction was pronounced and rendered on the 26th day of July, 1887, and bears said last mentioned date, and said judgment has never been reversed, annulled nor set aside.

And the said district attorney doth further charge that the said N. A. Macquarrie, by and under the name of M. A. Marquarrie, before the commission of the offense charged in this information, was in the police court No. one of San Francisco convicted of a petit larceny, and the judgment of said court against said defendant on said day conviction was pronounced and rendered on the 28th day of July, 1887, and bears said last mentioned date, and said judgment has never been reversed, annulled nor set aside.

VOLCANO.

VOLCANO, APRIL 8.

The travel to Bear River has already commenced, although the uncertainty of the weather for the last week will probably make it necessary to postpone the sending of the main force for a while, as there is some snow in the mountains.

L. H. Cook went up with a load of provisions to Wiley's station a few days ago, so as to be ready to accompany the traveling public.

Placer mining is now in full swing in this neighborhood. Parties working on the tunnel company's ground expect to make a very satisfactory cleanup.

A good deal of prospecting is being done by the company operating at Rancheria. The result seems to be fairly good, though the mill is not quite in good running order. Operations on the French gravel claim have been suspended for a while, but will probably be resumed again this summer.

Mr. F. Clute, landlord of the hotel, is just recovering from a serious illness. There has been a good deal of sickness in this neighborhood during the winter. Dr. Roberts has quite an extensive practice and seems to be very successful.

The Volcano band, under the management of John F. Clute, will give a great entertainment and dance April 19th. A good vaudeville program has been prepared, in which the vocal and dramatic talent of the town will show to its best advantage. The boys hope to see as many of their friends as enjoyable evening.

Al Clute of San Francisco, came up from the city last week for a stay during his father's illness.

Health Officer's Report.

County Health Officer Gall reported to the Board of Supervisors that there remains two cases of smallpox in Amador City, five cases of scarlet fever in Plymouth, one case of scarlet fever in Ione. In Sutter Creek ten cases of smallpox were reported at the last meeting, eight cases have been quarantined since, fifteen released from quarantine, leaving three cases still under quarantine.

The health officer further reports: "We have been able to confine the epidemic of smallpox to Sutter Creek and Amador and vicinity, and in a very short time the epidemic there will be at an end. The five cases of scarlet fever at Plymouth and one at Ione are doing well. The epidemic of measles has been wiped out."

Attached.

W. S. Gilbert, the dry goods and notion dealer of this town, was attached Tuesday for a debt of about $153 due to Trist & Co. of San Francisco. H. Larsen was placed in charge as keeper, and the store has remained closed ever since. Mr. Gilbert and family moved out of the store building, under the Dispatch office, on Thursday, and are now living in one of A. C. Brown's houses on Water street. It is not probable that he will resume the store business. There are other creditors in San Francisco and elsewhere, his total liabilities being estimated in the neighborhood of $1000.

Shot In His Left Leg.

For all kinds of sores, burns, bruises, or other wounds DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure cure. Skin diseases yield to it at once. Never fails in cases of piles. Cooling and healing. None genuine but DeWitt's. Beware of counterfeits. It suffered for many years from a sore caused by a gun shot wound in my left leg," says A. S. Fuller, English, Ind. "It would not heal and gave me much trouble. I used all kinds of remedies to no purpose until I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes completely cured me." Kerr's Pharmacy, Jackson.

MINING.

A piece of ore taken from the tunnel which is being run to tap the ore body in the Horn mine, in Pioneer district, was left with F. F. Thomas of the Gwin mine for assay, with the result that it yielded at the rate of over $500 to the ton. Something over 150 feet has to be run in order to reach the vein in the Horn mine. It is known to be there, as rock of high grade was being taken from the shaft until the water became too strong to be handled without expensive machinery. George W. Horn, who is personally superintending the operations, expects to tap the vein in three months. It will open up the ledge over 100 feet below the bottom of the shaft.

George I. Wright was down from the Del Monte mine in Calaveras county this week. He reports that all the machinery for the air compressor is now on the ground, the misunderstanding with the teamster having been satisfactorily adjusted. The machinery is being put in position as speedily as possible, and in a few days the tunnel operations will be pushed ahead at a much faster gait than heretofore with hand drilling. The company is having two wagons made at Garbarini's machine shop. One is a spring wagon for traveling purposes, the other a two-horse wagon for hauling supplies for the works.

SARGENT—The Sargent Gold Mining Company has been incorporated by W. H. Roden, S. Duca, W. B. Coffey, J. H. Dawson and F. Kirchhoff, with a capital of $100,000.

BAY STATE—The creditors of the Bay State Mining Company have given an extension of time for the Rhetta Mining Company to purchase the property. The sum of $1100 is to be paid by May 1st, the balance of the purchase price amounting to $12,700 is to be paid in two years, including the sum of $500 to be paid monthly.

New Mining Company.

The Amador and Calaveras Reduction and Mining Company was incorporated to-day with the capital stock fixed at $200,000, divided into shares of $1 each. The stockholders, who also constitute the board of directors for the first year, are T. A. Nelson, E. H. Cary, F. H. Cordway, N. W. Mahaffey and John Marshall. All are residents of this city except Mr. Cordway, who lives in Lodi. Each has five shares of the stock.

This is the outcome of the experiments recently made with the Wiest process of reducing sulphurets and base gold ores in this county. It was stated by the promoters when in Jackson that they intended to incorporate, and efforts were made to secure subscriptions to stock at that time. The experiments here were altogether too crude and unsatisfactory to inspire confidence in investors. We hope the company will go to work and demonstrate the practical character of their process, for there is no question that if they do what they claim, it is one of the most important steps made in mining progress in many years.

PINE GROVE.

With abundant and seasonable rains, everything is looking fine in the vegetable kingdom. Miss Maude Griffin has returned home, after an extended visit with relatives near San Jose.

Cranmer Bros. struck a rich body of ore last week. They milled four tons, which yielded fifty dollars per ton.

Rev. Geo. Beattie returned home last Friday night from San Francisco. He says he was attending strictly to business; that he is sorry he has disappointed the people of Pine Grove, but he intends making another trip about the 4th of July and it is probable that he will spend the 4th there, and it is possible that we will not look in vain for the home coming next time.

Ten cent pieces of 1894 are worth about $1 up this way. Gus Grillo is counterfeiting them for many years and has made several purchases on that basis.
