

THE CAIRO BULLETIN

Established 1888.

Published Daily and Sunday by the Bulletin Company at 708 Ohio Street. Phone 55.

Subscription Rates by Mail

Invariably Cash in Advance.

One year, Daily and Sunday..... $4.00

Subscription Rates by Carrier

By carrier, outside of Cairo..... $2.00 a month

Notice to Subscribers

Subscribers will confer a favor by reporting to this office any lack of prompt delivery on the part of carriers.

Noticed at the Cairo Post Office as second-class Mail Matter.

CIRCULATION STATEMENT.

Average number of complete and perfect copies of The Cairo Bulletin printed daily and Sunday during the year 1908..... 2084

Average number of complete and perfect copies of The Cairo Bulletin printed daily and Sunday during the month of December 1908..... 2403

December Circulation.

1.	2193	16.....	2480
2.	2284	17.....	2493
3.	2360	18.....	2455
4.	2285	19.....	2475
5.	2306	20.....	2372
6.	2243	21.....	2367
7.	2387	22.....	2420
8.	2363	23.....	2420
9.	2482	24.....	2415
10.	2488	25.....	2376
11.	2470	26.....	2420
12.	2470	27.....	2370
13.	2395	28.....	2410
14.	2470	29.....	2415
15.	2470	30.....	2421
31.....	2489.

The above is a correct statement of the circulation of The Cairo Bulletin for the year 1908 and for the month of December 1908.

CLYDE SULLIVAN,
Business Manager
Subscribed and sworn to before me this fifth day of January 1909.
(Seal) LEO J. KLEB,
Notary Public.

The Bulletin is on sale at the following places:
Coleman's, 214 Eighth Street.
Halliday House News Stand.
Blue Front Restaurant.

TODAY IN HISTORY

February 1.

1733—Oglethorpe and his company settled at Yamacraw, now the city of Savannah.

1789—Commodore David Porter, distinguished American naval officer, born in Boston. Died near Cincinnati March 5, 1842.

1860—Pennington, of New Jersey, speaker of the house of representatives after halting negatively two months.

1861—Texas convention passed an ordinance of secession.

1865—General Sherman left Savannah on his northward march.

1894—House of representatives passed the Wilson tariff bill.

1901—William H. Taft succeeded Elihu Root as secretary of war.

1908—Federal government filed a bill in equity seeking dissolution of the Harriman railroad combine.

Biography.

Caleb Powers, the Kentucky politician whose eight years fight for freedom attracted the whole country, was born in Knox county Kentucky, Feb. 1, 1863. He worked his way through college, studied law and was admitted to the bar. His first public office was that of superintendent of schools of his native county. In 1892 he was a candidate for secretary of state of Kentucky on the Republicans ticket, with W. S. Taylor for governor. The election of the governor was contested and while the matter was pending in the courts William Gobell, the Democratic candidate for governor, was assassinated in Frankfort. Mr. Powers was among those accused of having a part in the conspiracy. He was arrested March 19, 1890, and was placed on trial in July of the same year. He was convicted but in the following February he was granted another trial. Again he was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. A third trial resulted in a sentence of death. The fourth trial of the case was ended in January, 1908, with a disagreement of the jury. Last June the famous case was finally closed when Mr. Powers was granted a pardon by Gov. Wilson of Kentucky.

Exercise for the Sedentary.
Thirty Jumps Before Breakfast One of Two Recommended.

In the thick of winter busy men find their usual exercise "curtailed," and must look about for some easy way in which to keep themselves in condition. Many walk to and from their places of business, but these generally live within three or four miles of their offices.

If you aren't one of these, try a regular course of jumping. One of your winter maxims should be: "Thirty jumps before breakfast." If you stick to this all through the cold spell you will come out in the spring fit as a proverbial violin.

The Origin of Pie.
The origin of pie, especially mince pie, like the origin of sausage, is shrouded in mystery, but certain it is that it was known as far back as the time of King Solomon, and it may be that in the original pie could have been found the precedent which led on to the making of the present pie. The first pie was made of meat and fat, and it was said to be good for the heart.

Nearly a Hero.
"Hands up."

The passengers on the Pullman car took in the situation at a glance and did exactly what the train rider told them to.

At the points of his guns he relieved them of their valuables. But at the sight of one woman he paused with a start.

"Who are you, woman?" he demanded.

"I," she quavered, "am Mrs. Pay de Fluffie, the well-known actress. Here are my jewels—take them all!"

The hold-up held up his head proudly.

"No," he replied, "I may be a robber, but I am no press agent. Keep your wealth!"

Too Literal.

They tell of an Atchison man who was going down street with a girl. She was one of the kind who believes in the power of the gentle hint, and as they passed a candy store, she said: "Doesn't that candy smell good?"

"Yes," the man replied; "let's stop here and smell it awhile"—Atchison Globe.

Hard to Understand.
Bacon—That's the third time this week I've seen blinks coming out of that X-ray doctor's.

Ether—Is that so? What in the world do you suppose the doctor can see in that man?—Yonkers Statesman

Domestic Finance.
First Landlady—If you allow tipping it reduces wages.

Second Landlady—Yes, but the boarders are too much to us.

VAN OSTEN'S ORCHESTRA.

Available for dances, receptions, private parties, etc. Office 104 Eighth St. Residence 2208 Sycamore.

Photo 554.

Mrs. IPN, Mrs. Chas. Kyle and Miss Lucy Wilson.

CAESAR'S GHOST IN POLITICS.
Nations Still Cling Tenaciously to Nation of Empire.

Even more tenacious has been the hold of Caesar's ghost in politics. There are two forms under which the idea of world government presents itself: One, the dead notion of empire, the thing for which Caesar stood, the very name of the man still clinging on in the words czar and Kaiser, and the name of his idea remaining in the word emperor; the other, the living idea of federation. When we have come to understand the nature of ghost rule we wonder no longer at some political phenomena otherwise absolutely incomprehensible. Why, for instance, does each nation now strive for the climax of military preparedness? Germany, England and Japan levy an intolerable tax of money and blood to maintain their armies; the nations are in perpetual travail to bring forth battlefields after battlefields. If you go to the bottom of the reason of all this you find no reason at all, or it is silly one. For it is manifestly impossible for any one nation to conquer all the others. You ask yourself why one international fleet and army could not be supported, to be at the command of one international court, thus to settle all disputes and enforce all decisions. The answer plainly is that this question is mere living mortal common sense, and hence a puny thing to put against the age-old, dead ghost-principle of empire.—Atlantic Weekly.

Bids were received by the city council for filling portions of Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Walnut and Cedar streets—the lowest bid having been 38 cents a cubic yard.

At the same council meeting the city comptroller was instructed to advertise for bids for the construction of a sewer through Ohio levee at Thirtieth street.

The Bulletin of Oct. 4th has an account of a birthday party given by little Norma Lynch, 5 years old, daughter of County Clerk Lynch, and of a similar party given on Oct. 3rd by little Miss Winifred Dunning. Fifty children assisted at the latter party. Miss Jessie Phillips and Lulu Pace presided at the piano, and Dr. and Mrs. Dunning made the children feel at home.

LEGAL DECISIONS

INDICTMENT OF THE LANDLORD.

Stern Words for Those Who Surrender Themselves to Greed.

Who is a Guardian.—In People vs. Simwick, 111 New York Supplement, 11, the New York Supreme Court decided that guardian, as used in the statute forbidding the admission to certain places of entertainment and amusement of children under 16 years of age, unless accompanied by parent or guardian, should not be restricted only to apply to a guardian in the sense of one appointed by a court, but the law should be complied with if a child should be accompanied by its elder brother, sister, neighbor or a friend.

Contempt in Violating Decree for Closing Building.—In Lewis vs. Brennan, 117 Northwestern Reporter, 279, a nuisance, and ordered closed against the side of liquor and kept closed for a year. The order was such that if the building was broken into and used for another purpose the parties would be subjected to a prosecution for contempt. The fact that the judge orally advised the sheriff to close the building temporarily was held no justification, as his oral advice outside the court was of no effect.

EXERCISE FOR THE SEDENTARY.

Thirty Jumps Before Breakfast One of Two Recommended.

In the thick of winter busy men find their usual exercise "curtailed," and must look about for some easy way in which to keep themselves in condition. Many walk to and from their places of business, but these generally live within three or four miles of their offices.

If you aren't one of these, try a regular course of jumping. One of your winter maxims should be: "Thirty jumps before breakfast." If you stick to this all through the cold spell you will come out in the spring fit as a proverbial violin.

The Origin of Pie.

The origin of pie, especially mince pie, like the origin of sausage, is shrouded in mystery, but certain it is that it was known as far back as the time of King Solomon, and it may be that in the original pie could have been found the precedent which led on to the making of the present pie. The first pie was made of meat and fat, and it was said to be good for the heart.

Exercise for the Sedentary.

Thirty Jumps Before Breakfast One of Two Recommended.

In the thick of winter busy men find their usual exercise "curtailed," and must look about for some easy way in which to keep themselves in condition. Many walk to and from their places of business, but these generally live within three or four miles of their offices.

If you aren't one of these, try a regular course of jumping. One of your winter maxims should be: "Thirty jumps before breakfast." If you stick to this all through the cold spell you will come out in the spring fit as a proverbial violin.

The Origin of Pie.

The origin of pie, especially mince pie, like the origin of sausage, is shrouded in mystery, but certain it is that it was known as far back as the time of King Solomon, and it may be that in the original pie could have been found the precedent which led on to the making of the present pie. The first pie was made of meat and fat, and it was said to be good for the heart.

Exercise for the Sedentary.

Thirty Jumps Before Breakfast One of Two Recommended.

In the thick of winter busy men find their usual exercise "curtailed," and must look about for some easy way in which to keep themselves in condition. Many walk to and from their places of business, but these generally live within three or four miles of their offices.

If you aren't one of these, try a regular course of jumping. One of your winter maxims should be: "Thirty jumps before breakfast." If you stick to this all through the cold spell you will come out in the spring fit as a proverbial violin.

The Origin of Pie.

The origin of pie, especially mince pie, like the origin of sausage, is shrouded in mystery, but certain it is that it was known as far back as the time of King Solomon, and it may be that in the original pie could have been found the precedent which led on to the making of the present pie. The first pie was made of meat and fat, and it was said to be good for the heart.

Exercise for the Sedentary.

Thirty Jumps Before Breakfast One of Two Recommended.

In the thick of winter busy men find their usual exercise "curtailed," and must look about for some easy way in which to keep themselves in condition. Many walk to and from their places of business, but these generally live within three or four miles of their offices.

If you aren't one of these, try a regular course of jumping. One of your winter maxims should be: "Thirty jumps before breakfast." If you stick to this all through the cold spell you will come out in the spring fit as a proverbial violin.

The Origin of Pie.

The origin of pie, especially mince pie, like the origin of sausage, is shrouded in mystery, but certain it is that it was known as far back as the time of King Solomon, and it may be that in the original pie could have been found the precedent which led on to the making of the present pie. The first pie was made of meat and fat, and it was said to be good for the heart.

Exercise for the Sedentary.

Thirty Jumps Before Breakfast One of Two Recommended.

In the thick of winter busy men find their usual exercise "curtailed," and must look about for some easy way in which to keep themselves in condition. Many walk to and from their places of business, but these generally live within three or four miles of their offices.

If you aren't one of these, try a regular course of jumping. One of your winter maxims should be: "Thirty jumps before breakfast." If you stick to this all through the cold spell you will come out in the spring fit as a proverbial violin.

The Origin of Pie.

The origin of pie, especially mince pie, like the origin of sausage, is shrouded in mystery, but certain it is that it was known as far back as the time of King Solomon, and it may be that in the original pie could have been found the precedent which led on to the making of the present pie. The first pie was made of meat and fat, and it was said to be good for the heart.

Exercise for the Sedentary.

Thirty Jumps Before Breakfast One of Two Recommended.

In the thick of winter busy men find their usual exercise "curtailed," and must look about for some easy way in which to keep themselves in condition. Many walk to and from their places of business, but these generally live within three or four miles of their offices.

If you aren't one of these, try a regular course of jumping. One of your winter maxims should be: "Thirty jumps before breakfast." If you stick to this all through the cold spell you will come out in the spring fit as a proverbial violin.

The Origin of Pie.

The origin of pie, especially mince pie, like the origin of sausage, is shrouded in mystery, but certain it is that it was known as far back as the time of King Solomon, and it may be that in the original pie could have been found the precedent which led on to the making of the present pie. The first pie was made of meat and fat, and it was said to be good for the heart.

Exercise for the Sedentary.

Thirty Jumps Before Breakfast One of Two Recommended.

In the thick of winter busy men find their usual exercise "curtailed," and must look about for some easy way in which to keep themselves in condition. Many walk to and from their places of business, but these generally live within three or four miles of their offices.

If you aren't one of these, try a regular course of jumping. One of your winter maxims should be: "Thirty jumps before breakfast." If you stick to this all through the cold spell you will come out in the spring fit as a proverbial violin.

The Origin of Pie.

The origin of pie, especially mince pie, like the origin of sausage, is shrouded in mystery, but certain it is that it was known as far back as the time of King Solomon, and it may be that in the original pie could have been found the precedent which led on to the making of the present pie. The first pie was made of meat and fat, and it was said to be good for the heart.