DEMONSTRATION FARM NEAR FOREST CITY

One of the country places around here worth visiting is the homes of the three Osborn's, five miles south of town, on the Pierre-Forest City Auto Highway. Every time Ye Editor visits this "resort" he is convinced that it is not the land, but the man, that makes poor crops. Here is a GARDEN which we believe the records show, has never known such a thing as a drouth. The trees, shrubbery, fruits, flowers, vines, evergreens, etc., to the writer, have always been the same year in and year out, for the last ten years. Of course, there "is a reason." That reason has been mainly INTENSIVE, instead of Extensive, Farming. On a small piece of land, one is able to keep the weeds down—and nature will do the rest. With INTENSIVE farming is included the conservation of the rainfall, by the excavation of little ponds and reservoirs next to and adjoining the land in cultivation, which will hold a portion of the rains, causing it to go to the roots of the trees and other plants, at the same time creating more moisture in the air. And then your INTENSIVE system appropriates thousands of dollars worth of fertilizers which are allowed to go to waste under the Extensive System.

Louis Kehr has tomato plants about ready to bloom having been transplanted. The editor of the paper has planted his cucumber crop this early in the season. This has been done by taking sod and transferring it to the basement and planting cucumbers in the sod. We expect to gain one month in growing plants as this plan is said to be successful as the plants can thus be transferred and transplanted without disturbing the growing vines. There is no patent on this process, and anyone wishing early cucumbers can do the same.—Pierre Capital Journal.

The local weather prophets are predicting rain now for seven Sundays, because it rained on Easter Sunday in various parts of the State.

Grover Dugger is moving this week to the former Schlachter place, which it is understood he has leased from Mr. Stoll. Buck Harveson and family take Mr. Dugger's place on the Will Combellick ranch, which we understand is now owned by J. F. Whitlock.

Bob Roberts is running the gov't blacksmith shop for Chas Smith who has been granted leave of absence for thirty days. The latter is improving his time getting ready to move to his new home four miles east of Promise, where he will become an up-to-date progressive farmer. He expects to be ready to move about May 10. Mr. Smith's mixed farming will include pure-bred fowls and a large colony of honey bees.

Supt. Crandall of the Pierre Indian School is up today on a visit at the Agency.

Mr. Honberger and Mr. and Mrs. John Schoof were over Sat. to play for a dance at the Agency.

Miss Ethel Kempf of Gettysburg is the guest of Miss Ethel Miesck, a former schoolmate.

DESERVED HONOR

Andrew J. Grant left Monday for his new home in Lebanon, Mo. Mr. Grant has been the efficient engineer and general manager of the waterworks at Cheyenne Agency for some five years, besides doing a large amount of plumbing and sewer work. Among his most notable achievements was the wells he sunk from which to pump water out of the river, after a number of others had tackled the job and failed.

Another testimonial to his skill is the fact that, on the eve of his departure, the local authorities invited him to remain and superintend the work of extending the sewer system, for which the funds have been provided, and it is his intention to come back within a month to accept the position.

He and his wife have made many friends here who regrets to see them leave, and will wish them much success in their new home.

Some Indian boys dont like to go to school. Last week Mrs. Spotted Crow's boy was placed in charge of the Gettysburg stage driver, to take the train there for the Pierre school. But the boy showed up when the stage was ready to start again, got in, and then when within a mile of Forest City, took to the woods, and next morning was discovered on the Agency side of the river. It is said that the boy stole a boat to get over the river. Saturday morning he was given in charge of Long Rock, who took him to the train again. We understand young Spotted Crow has a grudge against the school at Pierre, but does not object to attending the Agency school.

The trade in autos seems to be livening up around town. Arthur Comeau has bought a Ford; Geo. Comeau has traded his car off to his brother-in-law, Ed Wagner, in order to get a new car, while Joe Otto and Ed Orsborn have announced that they intend to each get a car soon. Other deals still are also in prospect.
