ONLY THING HE COULD DO

Foolish to Think That Man in Trench Would Allow Shell to Spoil Arduous Work.

We extract the following from a letter written to his parents in Ireland by one of the Irish brigade in France, says London Tit-Bits. About half a dozen of them were told off to dig a hole somewhat in advance of the trenches. They had got on nicely with their job, when the Germans spotted them and began to try their artillery marksmanship on the diggers.

For a time the shells went wide, but at last one dropped right into the midst of the men.

All but one scrambled out like rabbits. The "man who stayed behind" put his spade under the shell and flung the projectile out of the hole after his comrades, who, in dire alarm, quickly threw themselves flat on the ground and escaped injury.

Going back to the hole, they saw their mate, a Londonderry giant, coolly lighting his pipe.

One and all upbraided him for throwing the shell out after them.

"What would you have me do?" he asked, "ave the shell in the hole, an' let it spoil our half-day's beautiful work!"

Remembers Her Bible.

"Two fellows declare that they cannot live without her."

"And which has she decided to marry?"

"The rich one. She says the other could get into heaven easier if he should really die."

Explained.

"Songs of the sea are always popular."

"Possibly because they are in accord with the whistling buoys."

POSTUM

Made of wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses, it has the rich snap and tang of high-grade Java coffee, yet contains no harmful elements.

This hot table drink is ideal for children and particularly satisfying to all with whom coffee disagrees.

Postum comes in two forms; The original Postum Cereal requires boiling; Instant Postum is made in the cup instantly, by adding boiling water.

For a good time at table and better health all 'round, Postum tells its own story.

HEAVY ARTILLERY BATTLE CONTINUES ON FRENCH FRONT

Germans Are Replying to Furious Bombardment—Trench Raids Are Executed By English Troops.

VERDUN DEBACLE GOES ON

Germans Take Works Only to Lose Them Again—Russians Overwhelm Austrian Lines.

Petrograd, June 30. (via London). The war office announced today the capture of the town of Obertine, south of the Dneister river, and villages north and south of that point.

British Headquarters, in France, (via London), July 1.—Activity continues and increases along the whole British front, the initiative, as heretofore resting almost entirely with the British. Besides a heavy bombardment of the enemy's positions which in some places did material damage, a dozen local raids have been executed since yesterday, nearly all of which in addition to inflicting more or less serious casualties succeeded in the capture of prisoners.

The German reply to the British bombardment is still generally ineffective though in places the Germans have been very active, using large numbers of lacrymatory shells.

BRITISH OFFICER LOSSES NOW TOTALS 27,905 MEN.

London, July 1.—Casualties among officers in the British army continue to pile up. Published lists for the month of May show that 466 were killed, 1,080 wounded and 55 missing—a total of 1,601. This brings the aggregate losses since the commencement of the war to 27,905, of whom 8,574 were killed or died of wounds, 17,424 were wounded and 1,907 are missing.

Among officers of high rank, Brigadier Generals Hogston, Heyworth, Rice and Morrison were killed or died of wounds; three other brigadier generals were wounded and 11 lieutenant colonels were killed.

GERMANS TAKE FRENCH WORKS, THEN LOSE THEM

Paris, July 1.—In a terrific attack upon the French positions east of Hill 304 in the Verdun sector the Germans captured a fortified work in the first line of the French trenches after the garrison had been literally buried under a storm of shells. The position was recaptured by a brilliant French counter attack, according to an official statement issued by the French war office today.

The Germans also delivered a powerful attack on the French positions in Avocourt wood and west of Hill 304, but all their efforts are declared to have been checked with heavy losses to the attackers. Considerable activity is reported on the front from Neuport to the Aisne.

RUSSIANS GAIN ACCESS TO CARPATHIAN PASSES

London, July 1.—Recent Russian successes in Galicia and Bukovina have resulted, it is believed, in further demoralization of the Austrian defenders. The capture of the Kolomoj-Lemberg railroad and the fall of Kolomoj has given Russia easy access to the passes of the Carpathian mountains, leading to the plains of Hungary.

224,000 IN NEED.

New York, July 1.—Distribution of 1,000 oxen to 2,000 Armenian families in 46 villages of the Russian Caucasus was reported today by the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief. These families were refugees who are returning to their homes following the advance of the Russian armies into Turkey. The consul added that there was still need for expenditure on a large scale. The committee estimates there are about 224,000 refugees in the Caucasus and in Persia.

RUSSIANS IN RETREAT SAYS TURKISH REPORT.

Constantinople, (via London) June 29.—Russian troops in Persia have withdrawn from their fortified positions near Kerend after two desperate attacks which were repulsed by the Turks, says today's official Turkish announcement. The Turkish troops are pursuing the enemy.

MAINE IS CENTER OF HOT POLITICAL FRAY

Election to Be Held There In September and Both Sides Seek First Blood.

Washington, July 1.—A fierce political struggle in Maine is presaged by the political experts in Washington. The Maine election is held in September and the leaders of both parties, for the moral effect of victory there, are anxious to make the best possible showing in the state. This is one reason why the Pine Tree state will be a real battleground. Another strong reason is that because of the death of Senator Bureleigh, two senators are to be elected from Maine this fall. It will be highly important to the republican plans for the capture of the Senate if they can elect these two senators, and, of course, equally important to the democrats to have these places.

CLEMENCY IS URGED FOR BRITISH TRAITOR

Manchester Guardian Suggests Casement Be Saved From Death.

London, July 1.—The Manchester Guardian, one of the most influential papers in the country makes a direct plea for clemency for Sir Roger Casement.

While admitting that no other sentence but that of death could have been pronounced by the court, the Guardian says:

"Casement was a fanatic and his crime like those of many other fanatics are free from the taint of sordidness and meanness. The death penalty will do nothing to kill such dreams as his. Rather, it will give them life.

"For the sake of the new Ireland, which we hope to see, it is a moment for clemency."

An indirect plea for mercy is made by other papers on the grounds that the execution of Casement would not assist in settling the Irish problem.

Washington, June 30.—A resolution requesting the president to ask the British government for a stay of execution of Sir Roger Casement, the Irish leader convicted of treason yesterday in London, pending presentation of new facts was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Martine, of New Jersey. It was referred to the foreign relations committee.

WILSON WILL NOT APPOINT COLONEL

No Chance For Teddy and Wood to Win Military Glory Under Present Administration.

Washington, D. C., July 1.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will not be permitted by President Wilson or the present administration to lead as a major general a division of volunteers to the defense of the border, even though Colonel Roosevelt should organize such a division.

Neither will Major General Wood, who ranks the other active major generals of the army, be sent to command on the border or to head a division into Mexico, should war come.

Political considerations have cut both of these leaders from the spotlight in any military emergencies that the country might have to face.

Congress cannot help because the president alone has the power to appoint the officers to command the volunteer troops that may be called or taken into the regular service, or to make details for the regular officers to important commands of regular troops engaged in active service.

Roosevelt Plan Out.

Friends of Colonel Roosevelt, hoping to move congress to accept his offer of a volunteer division, have discussed and rejected the possibility of naming Colonel Roosevelt by special act as major general in command of his volunteer division. Congress tried this once, but its action was held invalid.

Both Colonel Roosevelt and General Wood have become too active in connection with the Hughes campaign for President Wilson to allow any favors to be extended to them by the democratic administration. Colonel Roosevelt has been a constant critic of President Wilson, and his recent letter to the progressives, indorsing Hughes, did not please the Wilson people.

Counts Against Wood.

While General Wood has taken no active part in politics, the administration leaders have several counts against him. These started with the general's invitation a year ago to Colonel Roosevelt to attend the Plattsburg "rookie" camp, where General Wood was in charge.

The colonel made a speech criticizing the democratic administration on that occasion, and General Wood was brought to book by the then secretary of war, Lindley M. Garrison, for having permitted the speech.

Since then General Wood has been a dinner guest with Colonel Roosevelt at important gatherings, which were given more or less political significance and still more recently he has been a caller on Mr. Hughes, following the latter's nomination for the presidency.

It is known here that Colonel Roosevelt has been organizing his volunteer division for more than two years, expecting need for it in war with Mexico. He has selected all his officers from the rank of retired regular army men or those who have been permitted to resign by the war department. His men for the division have been picked with an eye both to infantry and cavalry service that they might be more effective than were the rough riders of the Spanish-American war.

MANY SEEKING TO FIGHT UNDER COLONEL ROOSEVELT

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 30.—Applications for enlistment in a proposed voluntary army division which Col. Theodore Roosevelt is preparing to organize if there is a call for volunteers are so numerous that the colonel's secretary, Walter J. Hayes, issued today a statement in which he said:

"We have been literally deluged with telegrams and letters with applications from men who wish to join a volunteer division. It is physically impossible to reply individually to the organizations and to the men that have communicated with us, but I will see that their applications are carefully filed for future reference so that in the event of hostilities they can be apprised of what action is contemplated.

BRITISH WORKMEN URGE GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF FOOD

Delegates Speaking For 3,000,000 Workers, Ask That Maximum Prices Be Fixed By Decree.

LIVING COST IS SOARING

Commodities Gain 59 Per Cent In Two Years of War—Higher Wages Only Alternative, Claim.

London, July 1.—A special trades union congress of 600 delegates representing 3,000,000 workers met in London today and adopted a resolution asking the government to take steps to regulate the prices of food and fuel. The resolution expresses the view that price regulation would be enforced only by a department of the government with power to commandeer and distribute food and fuel, fix freight rates, requisition home grown crops and establish standard prices for fuel. The mover of the resolution declared prices had increased 59 per cent owing largely to the rise in freight and the greater cost of coal.

The congress also adopted an alternative resolution in favor of government ownership of all merchant shipping. Still another resolution declares that if the government offers objection to the proposals of the congress, immediate steps will be taken to press for such advances in wages as are necessary to maintain a proper standard of living. The congress also adopted a resolution asking for an increase of 50 per cent in old age pensions during the period of high prices.

AMERICAN AVIATOR SOLD LIFE DEARLY

Victor Chapman Brought Down Two German Aeroplanes Before Third, Captain Boelke, Got Him.

Paris, June 30.—It was while on an errand of mercy for a wounded comrade that Corp. Victor Chapman, of New York, a member of the Franco-American aviation corps, met his death last week. Captain Boelke, the most famous of all German aviators, who up to that time had accounted for 15 aeroplanes, sent Chapman to his death.

But before he fell the American brought down two German machines. These details are disclosed in a semi-official statement given out here today, which also announced rewards and promotions for other American aviators. All the members of the American squadron, save two, have been decorated and promoted.

Serg. Clyde Baisley, of San Antonio, Tex., wounded in a fight near Verdun, and probably cripple for life, is in a hospital a few miles from the aviation camp to which Corporal Chapman was attached. The sergeant asked for an orange, but there was none to be had at the hospital. Corporal Chapman heard of the incident, obtained a basket of oranges and set forth in his aeroplane for the hospital.

While on his way he discovered that three French aeroplanes were engaged with four German machines and dashed into the fight. swooping down on the Germans, he put his machine gun into action. Two German machines fell to earth.

Chapman sent them down almost as soon as he entered the combat. Then, Captain Boelke turned on the American and caught him at such an angle that he was able to rake the aeroplane with machine gun fire. One bullet struck a vital spot and Chapman slung lifeless to the ground within the German lines. The semi-official statement says that a religious service will be held in memory of this citizen of the United States who, inspired by sentiments of lofty idealism, gave his life for the cause of the allies.

Further recent accomplishments and promotions have been given to American aviators as follows:

Lieut. William K. Thaw, of Pittsburgh, the cross of the legion of honor.

Serg. Kiffin Rockwell, of Atlanta, Ga., the military medal.

Serg. Bert Hall, of Bowling Green, Ky., the military medal.

All the other members of the squadron, save two, are made sergeants.

FIND CAR; DRIVER GONE; MURDER IS SUSPECTED

Cambridge, Md., June 30.—William H. Medford, clerk of the Dorchester county circuit court and prominent in local republican politics, business and social circles, is thought to have been murdered on a lonely road in Dorchester county last night.

The body has not been found. The car in which he was riding was found on the roadside by Fred Hudley, a farmer who had been guided to the spot by a stranger, who told Hudley that a man with whom he was riding, lost control of his automobile and jumped into the river. The stranger then disappeared.

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering. It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.

SOME CONSOLATION IN THAT

Growing Maiden Quick to Recognize and Announce That Conditions Might Be Much Worse.

At the beginning of hot weather last summer's clothes always regain respect. They are then buttoned hurriedly into service. Dressmakers foresee this time, providing deep hems and convenient tucks; mothers dislike it for the prof it enforces of their growing daughters' added inches.

Her mother was trying one of last summer's resurrected glories on Mary Jane. "Goodness gracious, Mary Jane, how you have grown!" she said, looking despairingly at the short dress. "This hem will have to be let down at least three inches."

Mary Jane was plainly troubled.

"I don't see why I grow so much, it just makes you have to let out and let out. If I keep on growing tall I soon won't be able to go through the door ways."

Suddenly her face brightened.

"I'm not so tall as I might be, though," she added, "for just think how tall I would have been if there wasn't so much turned up for my feet."
