Who's your Tailor?

Most men are proportioned like one of these. Those who are discriminating know that the clothier who claims to fit every body is taking a long chance.

And the unfortunate thing about him is that he can sell to good dressers only during the season that his stock of clothing is in style.

We have no stock on hand to get rid of. We want to make up—expressly for you—a suit of clothes having character, distinctiveness and style—that will fit.

We most cordially invite you to inspect the Spring and Summer 1906 line of fabrics now on display.

BEAUTIFY THE CITY ISLAND.

Much Talk Current Regarding the Beautifying of the City Island Near the South Bridge.

Quite a number of people who are interested in the welfare of Daytona, are agitating the question of securing permission from the city authorities to beautify the City Island. Daytona has no breathing place for people who come here to enjoy the beauties and healthfulness of our city, and many think it is high time a place was provided.

No better spot could be found for a park than the City Island. It could be made one of the prettiest spots in Florida with very little expense. Other Florida cities are expending vast sums in beautifying their surroundings, notably St. Petersburg, on the west coast, which has bonded the town to establish a park for their winter visitors. Daytona can do the same. The work can even be done without bonding if the people interested will take hold of the matter in the right spirit.

The Gazette-News would suggest that a Public Improvement Association be formed and the matter taken up with a will that knows no such word as fail.

A sea wall can be built around the island, tennis courts can be laid out, lounging places can be provided and the park put in shape to make a breathing place for the hundreds of visitors who make Daytona their winter home.

What Kills a Town.
(St. Augustine Record)

Various papers, from time to time, furnish their readers with receipts for killing their home town, but the Record has always been of the opposite character. It may be well to call attention, however, to some of the methods which have been applied to successfully ruining a town. These suggestions, however, are prefaced with the advice not to adopt them.

When a stranger arrives with the intention of investing, by persuading him you are the only honest man in the community, you will help to kill your city by driving him away.

If you lead strangers to believe that you are taxed to death, they will fight shy of the city you call home.

If you oppose every public improvement, you are doing effective work towards destroying your home town.

If you fail to take an active part in promoting enterprises that will benefit your town, you are contributing to its ruin.

If you create dissension among those working for the interests of the general public, you are retarding the growth and prosperity of your town.

If you allow your premises to take care of themselves, you will not only give the city authorities cause for grievance, but you will also discourage strangers from locating in a town where such sloveness is permitted.

If you send away for everything you want, you will help to starve out the home merchants and thus depopulate the town.

Entertained at Cards.

The Misses Abercrombie and W. W. Abercrombie entertained at cards at their home on Myrtle avenue Friday evening of last week. The prize winners were Miss Mabel Bingham, Mrs. J. R. Turner, Mrs. Lasseter and Messrs. Clark and Yarborough. The prizes were: ink-well, comb and brush tray, cream and sugar bowl, smoking set and stein. Dainty refreshments were served and the evening was a delightful occasion to the guests.

Much needed repairs are being made on the Port Orange road. Quite a stretch of road has been shelled just north of Port Orange, and if the repairs are carried on will make a fine road between Daytona and Port Orange.

DAYTONA ILLUSTRATED.

The Gazette-News Pictorial Edition About Ready for the Press.—A Fine Work of Art.

The time is drawing nigh when the last form of the Pictorial Edition of the Gazette-News will go to press. A number of residence owners have taken advantage of our liberal offer to illustrate their homes, and we feel sure there are more who will do so. But the time is now limited, and if you want to get a picture of your home, grove, or other view in this magnificent book, you must do so at once.

No work like this has ever been attempted on the East Coast and we feel safe in saying that when the book is issued from the press you will all agree with us, that it is the finest illustrated book ever got out in Florida. Over sixty pages of fine half tones of Daytona and nearby scenery, together with a text that tells about all one wants to know of the beauties and attractions of this locality.

If you have a view of any kind that is worthy of illustration, you wish inserted, send us a photo. We will have a plate made and the only cost to you will be the price of the plate. Don't delay for the forms will soon close, and if you are not represented, you will be sorry for it afterwards.

This magnificent book will be sold at the very low price of twenty-five cents—less than half the price charged for books of a similar character that are worth much less. Your orders will be booked and delivered as soon as the edition is ready for delivery.

The Hamilton boy was not seriously hurt. The Anderson boy was fined $5 in mayor's court.

OBSERVED LABOR DAY.

Union Labor Men Observed Labor Day Monday in a Fitting Manner.—Parade a Creditable One.

The carpenters and masons of Daytona celebrated Labor Day Monday by indulging in a very creditable parade; after which there was speaking at the armory.

The parade formed at Union Hall, on North Beach street, at one o'clock. Floats representing Daytona business houses headed the procession. First came a huge tank from C. Nash & Son, a creditable float representing the Gruber-Morris Hardware Company, another one representing The Bingham & Maley Co., McClellan & Edwards with a fine display from their novelty works, W. E. Thomas, with a load of the "earth" he sells, E. J. Mills, T. F. Curtis, J. W. Fulgum, R. H. McDonald, J. L. Odum, and others.

After the floats came the Halifax Rifles with a full company, under command of Captain Morris. Following the Rifles came the carpenters and masons about seventy-five strong.

About 2:30 the parade broke ranks at the armory and filled that structure with an appreciative audience to listen to the remarks of Charles F. Burgman, of Seabreeze, on "The Duty of the Hour." Mr. Burgman's speech was well prepared and very well received.

PECK-HENDRICKS COMPANY NOW.

The Consolidation of J. A. Hendricks & Co., and F. T. Peck & Co., Now Complete—Ready for Business.

The Peck-Hendricks Company, which recently applied for incorporation papers, is now an assured fact. The stock of the F. T. Peck & Co., is being moved in the Hendricks store this week, and the consolidation of these two large stocks is now complete.

This gives Daytona one of the largest dry goods establishments on the East Coast, south of Jacksonville, and it is housed in one of the finest buildings in the State, for a city of its size. Many improvements are being made in the store room, which was thought to be very complete before.

The new firm is a solid and substantial one, Mr. Hendricks, of the old Hendricks Company, having had years of mercantile experience. Associated with him will be Frank T. Peck and Harry Hartshorn, both experienced men, and all enjoying the confidence of the entire people.

The new firm will carry a complete line of dry goods, notions, and ladies' furnishings, and when their stock is arranged and improvements completed will have a stock of goods second to none in the State.
