Mrs. ELLA G. TIMONEY.

Rev. A. A. Hurd, in accordance with a special request, will preach a funeral sermon, in the Congregational Church, next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, in memory of the late Thomas W. Corey.

Mrs. Hurd, wife of our esteemed Congregational minister, and Miss Medora, their charming daughter, also Mrs. Plagg, mother of Mrs. Hurd, arrived here from California last Friday, by special stage.

Jefferson Reynolds, the widely-known banker and capitalist, of Las Vegas and Mr. Zollars of Kingston, N. M., are in town. Their presence here at this time portends much of interest to White Oaks in the near future.

R. C. Stewart and T. C. Bassick, the live representatives of the Brown & Manzanera Co. of Socorro, rounded up our merchants here the fore part of the week. They left Wednesday for Roswell and the intervening towns and will return in about ten days.

L. B. Beard, a bright, promising lawyer who has been in town for the past two months, has opened up an office in the Barber property on White Oaks avenue. Ernest Langston and A. W. Callahan have made arrangements to study and read law with him.

W. A. Seaver, of Oklaheesa, Iowa, representing a large syndicate of capitalists, spent a few days in White Oaks and vicinity last week, looking up our vast and many resources. His chief object here was to investigate the immense and practically inexhaustible fields of coal in this locality and as he had a particularly well informed guide in the person of Mr. Wm. Watson, we may reasonably hope to hear more of Mr. Seaver and his company in the near future.

A TIMELY WARNING.

"OLD ARE EAGLES"—In behalf of honesty and the welfare of property owners in White Oaks I want to call attention to the vandalism and thieving that is constantly going on, and state that a reward, and a good large one, awaits the party or parties who will furnish information that will convict one guilty thief, be it man, woman or child. To illustrate: A certain house or shop, iron-roofed, has had staples pulled at divers times and tools and other things taken. Also, a lock to a certain tunnel broken and entrance gained. Also, windows broken in a large building and oil cups and other things taken. Also, certain houses entered, the inside doors removed and also the locks. It seems almost that nothing is safe here now-a-days and "old times" have passed away. Now, there is no doubt that there are thieves in our midst and that some one knows who they are and unless they are run down, caught and punished, no property holder is safe. Will we allow this thing to go on, or will every honest man determine to ferret out these thieves and protect themselves as they should and must to hold their own? This thing has gone far enough and it is time such measures were taken as to convince parties that this house breaking and thieving must stop. What do you think about it?
CITIZEN.

The columns of this paper are open at all times to communications, like the above, intended for the welfare of the town and county and we shall take pleasure in exposing evils and evilsdoers at any and all times.—Ed.

Fly Nitrods.

Peter, Wait, and Joe Gumm, Bob Ransome and Andy Fowler quietly slipped out of town early Sunday morning on a nice little bear hunt. They knew of a "favorite" feeding place of some half dozen of the festive brutes and proposed to corral the whole "layout". The visions of nice juicy bear steaks that loomed up before the EAGLE man's excited and expectant imagination were beautiful to contemplate, but were ruthlessly swept away on the return of the tired sports—empty-handed. The boys claimed that their bears all kept "out of sight", but that they ran across lots of deer and antelope, but as they were after larger game they generously left them alone. It was bear or nothing and that's what they got—nothing.

On Wednesday evening the whist club were entertained at the home of Col. and Mrs. Heman. The charming hostess did the honors in her usual pleasing manner and a most delightful evening was enjoyed by all present. The club is composed of the following members, all of whom were there: Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Sager, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. A. Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. Alcock, Mrs. M. Parker, Mrs. Suttiff, Messrs. Jacob Zeigler and Vandervort, and the host and hostess. They meet again next Wednesday night at the residence of Judge and Mrs. Hewitt.

That the White Oaks Lumber & Building Co. are taking time by the forelock is evidenced by the fact that they are preparing to establish a full-fledged planing mill here. The planing and lath mills, masher and ten-horse power engine, are now on the road and are expected to arrive daily. The mill will be located on the east end of Jicarilla street and when in full running order, the company will have a splendidly equipped establishment and be prepared to do anything in their line.

A letter received by Col. Heman a day or two since from Gen'l Manager Houghton states that the surveying corps under Herace G. Ropes will arrive at White Oaks in time for Thanksgiving. If they do they will receive a most cordial reception and be made to realize that it's Thanksgiving sure enough.

A change in the time schedule has occurred on the Santa Fe railroad, but just what it is could not be learned. The new order of things may cause a radical change also in the schedule of Ozanne & Co's stage line in which case, full particulars will be given next week.

Edward Church, of New York City, brother of the well-known erratic Joseph, who has been mining in the Jicarillas for some time past, came in on last Sunday's stage and on Monday returned east with Joe, who will at once be placed under medical treatment.

Trinidad has at last raised the $2,000, their proportion of the survey expense. That burg is a trifle slow, but they generally get there when once waked up on any matters of importance and interest to the town.

Our Two Biggest Little People.

FRANKIE'S BABY.
I came to fight life's battle,
An' 're ready for de battle;
I'm des keepin' everybody in a stew,
Day say my pa's dejected,
Tause I wasn't what he speered;
But he'll like me soon as I tan say "ah-goo."
My baby clothes are nicely
Made, and fit me des precisely,
An' when they set me on Frank's lap
I bite my fist and flosser,
Des up comes all my dinner,
An' I cry an' twist an' want to go pap.
I've set everybody talking,
But as soon's I get to talking,
I see de folkses won't know what to do,
I tan mostly now turn over,
An' I tan I'll tickle Grover
When I bustle him in 1892.
I des I'm goin' to stay here
A while, and coo, and play here,
But des we's goin' to move in '93;
Des Papa Grov will treat you
An' after dat I'll meet you
Most any time in Washington, D. C.

GRANDPA'S BART.
Baby McKee says, "Ruth let me be,
Now you're out, stay out; I'm in it;
You've never been here or quickly you'll see
Grandpa on his ear," every minute.
"So Ruth, do be good, poor Grandpa's got pain;
Can't digest good food—disease is Chills;
Bad doctors say goot; its principally pout,
'Cause if you come in, I must go out."

New Hotel Project.

John Y. Hewitt contemplates the erection of a handsome, three-story, thirty-six room, stone or marble front, hotel building, and if his ideas are carried out it will be the finest building of its kind in the Territory.

While to a great many, such a large structure may seem premature, it must be taken into consideration that it would take at least eight or ten months before it would be ready for business and by that time the large influx of strangers seeking homes and investment in White Oaks would unquestionably make the hotel a paying one the moment it was thrown open to the public.

The present hotel facilities are even now taxed to their limit and it is certainly a wise plan to make some such provision for the future.

We hope soon to learn that the Judge's plans have taken tangible shape.

Married.

A very pretty wedding occurred Thursday evening in the spacious parlors of the Southwestern hotel, the contracting parties being Mr. Sam P. Williams and Miss Orpha McElwee, both of Trinidad, Colo. Rev. Hurd performed the impressive ceremony which united the lives of these young people, for wed or no, as may be their fortune, in the presence of a large number of mutual friends. The happy bride arrived from Trinidad only a few hours previous to the wedding, but the fortunate groom has been here for some months past.

They will make White Oaks their home and at once go to house-keeping. That their future may be as bright and propitious as the present and full of happiness, is the wish of the EAGLE and all of friends.

Mrs. B. F. Gumm, the estimable wife of our enterprising contractor and builder, accompanied by their sons, John and Roy, and their beautiful, accomplished and vivacious daughter, Miss Vene, arrived here from Trinidad Saturday evening. They are stopping for the present with Mrs. Timoney, but as soon as their furniture arrives will go to house-keeping in the cottage on the corner of Jicarilla and Pine streets.
