OFFICIAL PAPER OF LINCOLN COUNTY.
WHITE OAKS, N. M. JULY, 11th, 1895.

HOW THE PEOPLE STAND.
Atlanta Constitution.]

We referred recently to the enterprise of the Boston Post in taking a census of the views of its subscribers in regard to the silver question. The enterprise displayed by the Post was more far-reaching than the editor bargained for. As soon as the readers of our contemporary began to make responses the esteemed editor found that he had walked head foremost into a trap. The majority in favor of free coinage grew so large that the Post was compelled to suppress it, and to avoid all reference to the fact that the opinions of its readers had been asked.

The New York Mercury has inaugurated a similar enterprise, and the close of the first six days' balloting shows that eleven readers of the Mercury in New York and Brooklyn are in favor of the single gold standard, while 100 are in favor of the restoration of silver. The whole number of ballots received during six days was 172. Of this number 161 are in favor of the immediate and independent restoration of silver, while eleven are in favor of the single gold standard. The balloting will be continued and the result will be announced every Sunday.

Considering that every one who votes must cut out the printed ballot and write upon it his name and address, place it in an envelope and pay 2 cents to mail it, the result of the first six days' balloting is very significant indeed. It shows beyond all question that an overwhelming majority of people are in favor of the immediate restoration of silver.

The movement in favor of justice and honesty is growing, and will continue to grow.

United States Circuit Judge Ross has decided the demurrer in favor of Mrs. Stanford in the government's $15,000,000 suit against her husband's estate. All the facts of the case were agreed on by the attorneys, and the decision on the demurrer practically settles the case so far as the circuit court is concerned, unless the government's counsel should file an amended bill, which is not probable. The suit was instituted on the theory that every stockholder in the Pacific roads incurred a personal liability to the government for any failure of the railroad companies to comply with the conditions under which the roads were aided. John Garber and his associates contended that the Stanford estate was in no manner liable for the debts of the Pacific roads, because the law contemplated a promise to pay by the corporation only and not by the stockholders as individuals. Speaking of that phase of the case, the judge held emphatically that the government never had any intention of making the men who constituted the corporations individually responsible. The court held that they would not have been responsible at common law; for there were no common law liabilities applicable to the case; nor were they liable under the state law in force at the time the grant was made, and the law which fixes the liabilities of stockholders in proportion to the stock they hold was passed subsequent to the making of the government contract with the Central Pacific.

The New Mexican, on Tuesday evening, announced that the Santa Fe Southern railroad had passed into the hands of the newly organized Rio Grande and Santa Fe Railroad company and was practically a part of the great Denver and Rio Grande system. The details of the transaction may now be disclosed.

The incorporators of the Rio Grande and Santa Fe Railroad company are Charles H. Schlacks, Andrew S. Hughes, Edward O. Wolcott, John B. Andrews, and Charles W. Waterman, of Denver, all prominently identified with the Denver and Rio Grande system. The capital stock of the company is named at $375,000; 10 per cent has been paid into the treasury, and the objects of the company, according to the articles on file in the office of the territorial secretary, are constructing, leasing, purchasing and operating lines of railroad in New Mexico. Santa Fe is designated as the principal place of business of the company and Gen. E. L. Bartlett is named as resident agent.

The directors of the company are as follows: Edward T. Jeffery, Charles H. Schlacks, Andrew S. Hughes, Charles W. Waterman, of Denver; George Coppell, of New York; Edward L. Bartlett and John H. Knebel, of Santa Fe. At a meeting of the directors, held at the office of Gen. Bartlett in this city, all being present except Messrs. Jeffery and Coppell, the following officers were elected: E. T. Jeffery, president; C. H. Schlacks, vice president; J. B. Andrews, treasurer; E. R. Murphy, auditor.

The title of the Santa Fe Southern, recently bought by Mr. Waterman, was formally transferred to the new company, and its operation turned over, it is said, to the Denver and Rio Grande. Certainly there appears to be no doubt that the new company will lease its road to the great Denver corporation and that henceforth trains will be run solid from Denver to Santa Fe. It is generally believed that this is the starting move of important railroad extensions into New Mexico, and that great and enduring benefits will result therefrom to the mining camps and agricultural and mining centers of this territory.—New Mexican.

A special, July 6, from Baxter Springs, Kan., says a cyclone which struck that town that night killed five people outright, while a dozen were seriously injured.

OWED TO THE FLIES.

Hear them hum!
They have come.
In the window, through the door,
Up and down from cell to floor
All the walls are covered o'er.
Window panes are clouded too
Others trying to get through.

See the cook's
Bour looks
As they sing around her head,—
Crawling o'er her meat and bread.
In the soup you find their dead.
They crawl upon your face and nose
'Til you can't sleep; you scarcely doze.

When the last census was taken the depositors in the savings banks numbered 4,532,217, or about one-third of the number of voters, while the deposits amounted to $1,623,000,000, an average to each depositor of about $385. It is believed that no other country can show so large an amount of savings as this.

Of the farmers of this country one-fourth, or 25 per cent., have property valued at less than $1,000; 73 per cent. have holdings rated at from $1,000 to $10,000, and only 2 per cent. have property valued at from $10,000 to $100,000. The number of millionaires among the farmers is so inappreciably small that it does not appear in the census returns.

Twenty per cent. of the business men of this country have a capital of less than $1,000; 50 per cent. have from $1,000 to $10,000; 25 per cent. transact business with a capital of from $10,000 to $100,000; 4.8 per cent. have a capital of between $100,000 and $1,000,000, and only 2 per cent. of the business men of the United States have a capital of more than $1,000,000.—Atlanta Constitution.

On the 6th inst. a storm awful in terror and total in its work of destruction washed out the town of Winona, on the Current river branch of the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis railway. It is certain eleven persons lost their lives and eight others are missing.

A Fort Scott, Kan., dispatch, July 5 says: The heaviest rain that has fallen in this section for many years occurred last night, when there was a precipitation of 4.19 inches of water. The Matamor river and Mill creek rose rapidly and this morning a portion of the north side of town is completely inundated. Families have been driven from their homes and much damage to property has resulted. The Missouri Pacific freight depot is on an entirely inaccessible island and the Missouri Pacific shops are under water, necessitating suspension of work. The two rivers have joined on National avenue and the water is still rising. So severe was the storm that the safest country roads were for hours impassable. J. H. Demeritt, of this city, while driving a buggy, accompanied by his daughter, along a country lane, last night, was washed down a ravine and lodged against a tree. He unhitched the horse and his daughter rode it out. He swam to a knoll, but was almost drowned. Many similar incidents have occurred and it is thought news of drownings will certainly be received when the country roads leading to town are passable.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it thro' the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure, be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and is made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
