The Advantages of the Panama Over Other Routes Set Forth in an Interview.

The Country Not to be Tortured by an Extra Session of Congress.

Senator Blaine and the Rheumatism—Encouraging Business Outlook.

No Change in Pennsylvania—A Murder at Cottonwood Colorado.

An Interview.

New York, Feb. 19.—The Herald prints an interview with Col. G. M. Totten, the man who built the Panama railroad and who last winter went to Panama as a member of the engineer commission called together by De Lesseps. He says that as a coast route between our Atlantic and Pacific ports the Nicaragua route, being more northerly appears to be nearer and shorter than by the way of Panama but the coasting trade alone would not support a work of the kind on account of the great length of the Nicaragua canal compared to that of the Panama route. Excepting under certain conditions the support of the canal must be derived from the trade between the Atlantic ports of North and South America and Europe with the Pacific ports of North, South and Central America, and China, Japan and Australia, together with the Sandwich and other Pacific Islands. The trade of the west coast of South America, south of Panama is forty per cent. greater than that of the west coast of Central and North America north of Panama. The population of the west coast is distributed in about the same ratio as the trade, hence the Panama route will be nearer than that of Nicaragua to the principal centres of population and trade on the west coast. It is also nearest to the trade of New Zealand and quite as convenient to Japan and the Pacific Islands.

Col. T. computed also the saving of several days in the passage of sailing vessels from Europe and North America, via the Panama Canal, on account of the greater length of the Nicaragua Canal, and the slow speed and delays incidental to the locks. Allowing for calms to which the sailing vessels may be subjected in the latitude of Panama, there still remained a difference of many hours in favor of the Panama route. As to the cost of the Panama Canal, Totten said that the estimate of Gen. Grant is altogether too exorbitant. The Chagres River will never be perfectly controlled, which was supposed to be the next improvement to the execution of a tide level canal by this route. Having effected this object the rest of the work becomes comparatively simple.

The Funding Bill.
New York, Feb. 19.—According to Washington advices a movement was made to-day to refer the funding bill to a conference committee of both Houses.

The Commercial says: The flurry about the 3 per cent funding bill which some of our wise people attempted to get up has about passed over. There is not the slightest doubt that the government will get all the money wanted to buy bonds of '81 at 3 per cent. The whole $300,000,000 of one year treasury debt could be subscribed on the New York Stock Exchange next week if the rates were ready and offered at face value. This, with the $200,000,000 cash balance in the treasury, which is constantly increasing, would settle all the bonds without a dollar of re-funding, and if we are not greatly deceived, this will be the policy of the new administration.

Fernanda Wood's Funeral.
Washington, Feb. 19.—The funeral of Fernanda Wood took place this afternoon from his late residence. Nearly all the members of Congress and many prominent officials were present. The services were conducted by Dr. Pratt, of the Protestant Episcopal Church. The pall bearers were Senators Thurman and Bayard, Speaker Randall, Representatives

Morton and Loring, Judge Swayne, Mayor Barret, Mr. Corcoran, Alderman McAvary, Mr. Murphy, Bernard Kinney and Mr. Hilliard. The committee appointed by the board of Aldermen of New York were present. The remains leave to-night for New York accompanied by Representatives Tucker, Frye, Phelps, Dannel, Wells, McKim, Chittenden and Hutchison.

Murdered His Brother.

St. Louis, Feb. 19.—Baptist Costa, an Italian coal miner living near Collinsville, Illinois, murdered his brother last night. Very little is known of the circumstances but the brothers lived together in a shanty near the mine in which they worked. It appears that the murdered brother attempted to keep Baptist out last night when the latter forced the door and shot his brother. Baptist then went to the house of a neighbor and told him he had killed his brother and taken his money but no notice was taken of it as he was regarded insane. Baptist remained near all night but left in the morning. Shortly after neighbors went to the shanty of the brothers and found the dead body on the floor. Baptist has not been seen since.

Fire in a Mine.

San Francisco, Feb. 19.—A Eureka dispatch says: A fire occurred night before last in one of the chambers of the Richmond mine which was smothered before much damage was done. An effort is being made to create the belief that the fire was due to an act of some one connected with the Albion mine in litigation with the Richmond but the sympathy of the community rather leads to discrediting that version of the affair and some charge that the fire was set by the Richmond people with a view of throwing suspicion on the Albion management. The matter will be investigated.

Higher Market.

New York, Feb. 19.—The Graphic says that the majority of the conservative stock operators in Wall Street look for a stronger and higher market next week, after the funding bill is better understood, and as soon as the Government actually begins to buy $10,000,000 of bonds and issue $30,000 in certificates a further improvement may be looked for, because operations, to a great extent, will prove a virtual expansion on a sound basis. There is a very large show of interest in the general stock market.

Senator Blaine.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—The Journal's Washington correspondent says that Senator Blaine is still confined to his bed with rheumatism although his condition was somewhat improved to-day. His physicians think that he will speedily recover and be able to leave the house the early part of next week. It is not true that he has given up his seat in the Senate, but on the contrary there are some matters pending before the Senate which will receive his attention as soon as he can get there.

The Great Unknown.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—In reference to the New York dispatch of last night saying that O'Leary had been unable to secure his unknown, that pedestrian says: "I will wager $5,000 that my unknown in the individual six days contest excels any previous six day record ever made. As several parties have stated that I have not selected my unknown I will wager an additional $5,000 that I have a contract made with my unknown and signed by him and witnessed."

Foul Play.

Deer Trail Feb. 19.—The body of W. A. Middlewest, a well-known stock man was found yesterday about half way between River Bend and his rancho, which is situated twenty-five miles north of River Bend. He left River Bend for his rancho on Sunday with a four horse team. Two of the horses were dead and the other two were in a very bad condition when found.

Murder.

Denver, Feb. 19.—This afternoon at Cottonwood ranch on Cherry Creek, a short distance from here, Ed Chever shot and instantly killed Thos. Garland. There was a standing quarrel between them. Cherry was repairing fence when he and Garland met and both drew guns, but Chever fired first. He gave himself up soon after.

Collision.

Richmond, Feb. 19.—Last night the through express train on the C. & O. road collided with an east bound freight train. W. R. Cundiff, engineer, was killed, and Fireman Peck severely injured. The engine, baggage car, passenger train and several freight cars were wrecked. The accident was caused through the misunderstanding of orders.

Found Dead.

St. Paul, Feb. 19.—A special to the Press says that Mrs. Irene Crandall and her child were found dead in the road in Grant county near her home. It is thought that her husband, who habitually abused her, drove her from the house, followed and killed them both. Crandall is still at liberty.

A Step Similar.

New York, Feb. 19.—The Herald finds reason to believe that the French Cable Company are about to take a step similar to that of the U. S. direct cable, who have obtained an injunction against the A. & P. and W. U. Companies, to prevent them carrying out the provisions of consolidation.

The Business Outlook.

New York, Feb. 19.—Business in general is quiet but the markets are slowly improving. When the difficulty in transportation is removed there will doubtless be much activity. Wool is very dull but the prices are about steady. Advances from England report the sales easier than expected.

Recommending.

San Francisco, Feb. 19.—At a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce today resolutions were adopted memorializing Congress to pay back to Japan $146,322, retaining only $140,000 as prize money of the Japanese indemnity, as recommended by the foreign commissioners.

The Cause.

Buffalo, Feb. 19.—The jury appointed to inquire into the cause of the falling of the New York Central depot reported that they could not state the cause except that the iron cords parted and let the roof descend. The verdict is considered an extraordinary one.

Death at Sea.

San Francisco, Feb. 19.—News has been received of the death of Capt. C. Comstock, chief officer of the steamer Clyde, on the 13th of January last, at sea. Capt. Comstock's command the Golden Gate when she was last on the Pacific coast.

Body Snatching.

Montreal, Feb. 19.—Body snatching from the village church yards in the neighborhood of this city has been quite extensive of late. The police to-day recovered the remains of a woman in the dissecting room of Bishop's college.
