DEMOCRATS MISTAKEN IN REGARD TO REPUBLICAN DIVISION IN COLFAX COUNTY. NOT THERE. CATRON AND HUBBELL

We realize that the fight for the nomination for governor on the Republican ticket will be very hard fought and very close but at the same time we believe that Hon. Holm. O. Bursum is practically nominated at this time. That he is the logical candidate is a self evident fact.

S-A Club For Hubbell The executive committee of the Spanish-American Republican club endorsed Frank A. Hubbell for Republican nominee for United States Senator and Hon. H. O. Bursum, for governor, at a meeting held Sunday night.

The committee members are Remigio Mirabal, chairman, Roman Hubbell, Max Contreras, David Garcia, E. Sidillos, Mr. Leyba, and A. Jaramillo. The action of the committee was unanimous, each member voting in favor of endorsing these two candidates.

The action of the committee binds the club to do all in its power to further the selection of delegates to the county convention who will favor sending delegates to the state convention who will stand for Hubbell and Bursum.

The committee bound the club to support the Republican candidates for senator and governor, whoever they may be, in the event that those favored by the clubs committee should fail to secure the nomination.—Gallup Herald.

About Mr. Catron.

As the date of the republican state convention draws near it becomes apparent that there is no county in New Mexico that has not had, or will not have, the vote of its delegation earnestly solicited by the candidates for the nomination for United States senator. Judging from the claims emanating from the rival camps, the vote will be close but both Thomas B. Catron and Frank A. Hubbell, the rival contenders are putting up the best fight that's in them, and whichever man loses will give his undivided support to his rival in the election next November. So far as is known neither is overlooking any argument why he should be elected and neither is endeavoring to win by abusing or belittling his rival.

The Optimist believes the state is fortunate in having two such strong men as available senatorial material. Of the two, however, it is of the opinion that Mr. Catron is best suited, by experience, ability as a lawyer, and temperament, for a seat in the United States senate. Senator Catron is just finishing a term in the upper house of the nation's highest legislative assembly, where he has given a good account of himself. This year the national election is certain to change the political face of the senate, the control passing over to the republicans. With such a chance, Senator Catron, with his seniority acquired by previous service, is certain to be assigned to some of the more important committees with the likelihood of receiving a chairmanship. Should Mr. Hubbell be nominated and elected, the ranking he would receive in committee appointments would not be as that of Senator Catron because he would be serving his first term in the senate.

Furthermore, Senator Catron has earned the right to re-election. He has been loyal to his trust as a member of the senate and has worked and voted for the best interests of his state and his country. He has stood steadfastly for the principles of the republican party, which are the principles on which are founded peace, prosperity and happiness. Having been loyal to his state and to his party, Senator Catron has a right to ask and expect their support in the coming convention and election.—Las Vegas Optic.

Steady Gain.

The recent visit of the Hon. Frank Hubbell to our city has drawn local attention to the steady gain of his popularity as a candidate for senator to the United States Senate. He is receiving enthusiastic greeting wherever he visits.

Hon. Frank A. Hubbell, of Albuquerque, candidate for the U. S. Senate from New Mexico, is a native of the state. Not only is he a native of the state but his whole life has been spent within its borders. He is of the people, its soil, and its atmosphere. He thinks and talks in terms of New Mexico. He has prospered because of personal effort and application backed by that faith. His ambition to serve the people of New Mexico is laudable; it is an ambition grounded in desire for service, not for personal gain or glory. He goes before the people with a clear cut program—a program of progress and prosperity for the whole state.

It is well perhaps to analyze the elements of Mr. Hubbell's strength and to set forth his claims upon his party and the people for their support. In the first place being a native born citizen, he is naturally the favorite of a large part of the citizenry. This does not, however, of itself constitute ground for support; it is rather the fact that he comes from the ranks of the people; that he has shown conspicuous ability in public and private affairs; that he is a part of the business life of the state and his intimate acquaintance with the resources and its needs and aspirations of its people.

Mr. Hubbell's candidacy has grown in public favor steadily since he first announced himself in the race. The explanation of this, is that as he has gone among the people, his purposes, his motives, and his ability have become better understood.

The unanimous endorsement of his candidacy by his home county this week at Albuquerque is a recommendation of his merit and ability to the rest of the state; it is an invitation to the rest of the county to do likewise.

The reports from different parts of the state so far received already indicate Mr. Hubbell's lead over his competitors and that he will enter the convention the strongest man, if not with a clear majority of delegates. It is conceded by disinterested observers in both parties that Mr. Hubbell will be the choice of the convention and that he is the strongest man that can be put forward.—Gallup Herald.

Judge Hanna For Governor

Richard H. Hanna was one of the first men in New Mexico to set his face like flint against crooked practices in his own party, which was Republican. He was not deterred by threats or persecution with the result that there is probably not a right thinking man the State who does not hold him in esteem. Since Judge Hanna possesses the ability, the character and the high qualifications for office since it is the heights of fashion to nominate judges of our courts for office, the Republic here and now nominates Richard H. Hanna as the Democratic and Independent standard bearer for the office of Chief Executive of New Mexico.

On our first page today The Republic takes the unauthorized liberty of mentioning as the best candidate for governor of the state of New Mexico Justice Richard H. Hanna

We believe the people of New Mexico will second this nomination and that a wave of state patriotism will rally to his support a loyalty that will leave no doubt as to what New Mexico wants. The Demand must be made upon Judge Hanna that any sacrifice made by him is made for his state and her good government and he will not fail to come to the rescue at such an hour of need. We believe he is the logical candidate to succeed Governor McDonald and to defeat Mr. Bursum.—Las Cruces Republic.

Spanish-Americans Loyal

The loyalty of the Spanish-American people to the United States is being demonstrated with greater force every day. These good people from the first have manifested themselves to be perfectly willing to perform their share of the work of defending our nation, either from the incursions of bandits or of the regular troops of the Mexican army. This fact when considered with the other estimable qualities of these people leads to the inevitable conclusion that they are among the best citizens we have in these United States. In addition to being patriotic enough to shed their blood in time of war, they are noted for their respect for the law and quietness during times of peace. We are unable at this time to state how many of the young Spanish-Americans volunteered for service in our national guard in New Mexico, but information in our possession leads us to believe that a majority of the applicants for enrollment in this organization have been from the ranks of the Spanish-Americans. We are also confident that when the president calls for volunteers, not only will the Spanish-Americans furnish a large contingent for service as enlisted men, but will also furnish from the educated and qualified Spanish-Americans of this state a valuable number of officers. This has been done in the Spanish as well as in the civil wars.—Las Cruces Citizen.

STATE FAIR PRESENT YEAR SURPASSES ALL

NEW FEATURES ADDED TO LIST OF ENTERTAINMENTS. NOTHING LIKE IT EVER SHOWN. KANGAROO COURT GREAT

Albuquerque, N. M., August 17.—The appointment of J. W. Kinney to the office of manager of concession of the New Mexico state fair was the event of chief interest in fair circles last week. Mr. Kinney has had wide experience in this line of work having acted in a similar capacity for a number of fairs in Texas and this state and considered the ideal man for the position. He has already taken up the duties of his position and is in complete charge of all concessions of every character at the fair grounds.

One of the most interesting of all the fair events has recently been announced. It is to be a grand masquerade ball to be held on the principal street of Albuquerque on a night to be announced later. Several blocks of Central avenue will be roped off and traffic on that thoroughfare will be suspended while the ball is in progress. Music will be furnished by the four excellent bands that have been engaged for the week of the fair, and all the revelers will be required to unmask at 11 o'clock sharp. The street mask ball is a novel feature of the fair and will undoubtedly prove one of the hits of the entire week.

A Bum Guess

A gentleman who telegraphed to the Albuquerque Herald the information that this year the Colfax county Democrats are together and the Republicans are divided needs to have his guessing mechanism overhauled. It is certain that the Democrats have not yet come together because of the peace and quiet that prevails hereabouts. When they do get together, a telegram to the downstate papers will not be necessary to inform them of the fact. The dynamic reverberations will speak for themselves. As to the Republicans, they have not been better prepared to give successful battle to the enemy since 1910 than they are today. Do not fear for them, dear brother; rather, fear them. And if you enjoy the game of guessing do not let us stay you. Take six more. Perhaps you will get a good one out of the lot.—Raton Range.

Dr. Shuler O. K.

A review of the political comment of the state, in which the gubernatorial timber figures, leads many of the prominent politicians and editorial writers to the belief that Dr. J. J. Shuler, of Raton, will be prevailed upon to accept the nomination for Governor of this state on the Democratic ticket.

A close scrutiny of exchanges of the state leads to the conclusion that Mayor Shuler is the one big man in the state who will niute not only the entire Democracy, but will receive the hearty support of the Progressive voters as well as many of the Republican voters, who are not only openly broken with the Republican machine because of its endeavor to force candidates on that ticket not in accord with the wishes of the rank and file of the party but are open in their admiration of Dr. Shuler, because of his ability to harmonize most of the warring factions of all parties to the general uplift and welfare of the whole state.

Mayor Shuler has stated on several occasions that he was not a candidate for any office and was not interested in politics. He also stated that he trusted that the people of this state would not be misled into thinking that his progressive activities in the city of Raton were for the benefit of gaining prestige abroad. That he had served the people of Raton the best he knew how, was because of the fact that Raton needed such public benefices and his friends forced him into leadership, and once seeing his way proceeded with the work as only men of Dr. Shuler's executive ability can proceed.—Raton Reporter.

BIG CONTEST OFF FOR STATE DELEGATIONS

COUNTY CONVENTIONS NOW HELD SHOW THERE HAS BEEN A FIGHT FOR SUPREMACY LARGE TURNS-OUTS.

SENATORSHIP AND GOVERNORSHIP FIRST

EVERYTHING ELSE OVERSHADOWED FORECAST OF PRESENT OUTLOOK DARK HORSES IN THE DISTANCE, BURSUM IS IN THE LEAD.

As the political battle draws to a close the interest is most intense and the various complications of the expected vote for each candidate difficult to follow. There have been some of the most active workers busy as bees during the past week and th primaries held show the results, not only in Santa Fe county but elsewhere.

The primary night in this city was a decidedly hot one within the rooms where the delegates assembled and the steam roller did most effective work on all sides, but there was no claim that the majority in each case did not rule and that all the members of that majority did what they had a right to do as they had the votes to accomplish what they intended, so that those who went under the roller have no complaint to make and how to the rule of the majority.

The primaries so far held begin to show which way the wind blows and give an idea as to the result. There is still a good bit of speculation and there may be some surprises in store for the candidates and their friends. In case of a deadlock on the senatorship and a switch to a new man, the one most talked of is Judge Reynolds, of Albuquerque, though there is a great deal of undercurrent talk that suggest that Attorney General Frank Clancy would fill the bill as he is one of the strongest men in the state before the people and would poll a splendid vote.

As far as the governorship is concerned, the general opinion is that Bursum will win on the first ballot, but if there should happen to be a dead lock and a new man, or one aside from the two most prominently mentioned, Bursum and Secundino Romero, that man will be William G. Sargent, beyond any doubt. He has been seriously considered and would be a compromise candidate who would call out the warm sanction of every Republican voter in the state.

Looking at the matter from an unbiased standpoint and with the best evidence at hand that can be gathered, the following compilation looks like the one that is nearer to the truth than any that can be given out up to the present time.

In the primaries of this city there was a very large turnout and all the workers were busy. The lines of the county candidates were drawn taught and the governorship and even the senatorship were thought less of than the delegates to be selected for the county nominating convention. There were some rather remarkable combinations on this account. The sentiment for Senator Catron was unanimous and no one was against giving this county to him, but there was a very extensive talk on any process that looked like being led with a ring in the nose.

Perhaps the big contest was in the eighteenth precinct. The Bursum men were out in force and they had a clear majority. Bursum and Catron were declared to be the choice and the delegates were instructed for both. There were also instructions for Edward P. Davies for district attorney.

The Bursum strength was also manifest in precinct 3. As far as the contest for county officers is concerned, there is a decided difference of opinion and it will continue until the final vote is given in the county convention. Both sides are making claims and they will do so until the county delegates give the verdict.

HUGHES MAKING STRONG HEADWAY

HIS CAMPAIGN ISSUES CLEARLY DRAWN. WILSON DECIDES NOT TO MAKE A CONTINENTAL TOUR.

With rapid strides the Russians have forced their way along the Dniester in Galicia in the direction of Halicz, considered one of the main outlying defenses of Lemberg on the south.

General Letchitzky's army has already reached the Dniester to the south of Mariampol, a town only eight miles southeast of Halicz. Likewise they are pressing toward Halicz further north entering the town of Monasterzyka on the Stanislaw-Buczacz railroad, directly east of Halicz.

British pressure on the Somme front is being continuously exerted against the Germans in the Bazentin, Le-Petit and Poziers regions and General Haig's forces have made additional progress north of both of these places, London announces.

The French in the Somme region are evidently preparing for a new offensive movement.

The Italians have occupied the entire Dobruha plateau.

The Italians also have captured Riddia and San Martino Del Carzo. They have reached the line of the Vallone river. The Austrians have retired to the east of the town of Vallone.

By their new victories the Italians appear to have taken an important step toward clearing to the front formed by the head of the Lomra-blow Gortau. The Dobruha plateau was the scene of the heavy fighting at early in the war, but the Austrians obstinately withstood efforts of the Italians to win this important position.

The Political Field

On his return Hughes, like now declared his campaign sufficiently to make clear the impression which he hopes to overthrow the Wilson administration.

Preparations will not be made the campaign issue. He believes the most pressing need of the nation is an honest, efficient, economical republican administration of its affairs. In this as a necessary quality of efficiency he has the military preparation. This, with a positive test as the basis of the national economic system, a firm insistence upon a respect for the national rights, the protection of its citizens wherever they may be, and military preparedness sufficient to uphold the rights and attend the protection are the issues upon which he will make his fight before the people.

Hughes believes his nomination was due to the record he made as governor of New York. He is striving to convince the people now, therefore that he has not changed in the intervening years.

After a conference between President Wilson and the members of the Vance Mc Cormick committee, Vance McCormick, chairman of the national committee announced that the president would make no speaking tour, but probably would accept invitations to speak at different places.

Mr. McCormick explain the president's decision by saying Mr. Wilson considered a stumping tour incompatible with the dignity of the office of president.

Yast week congressional calliers at the White House gained the distinct impression that Mr. Wilson would make a trip to the Pacific coast. So far the president's only speaking engagements are Hodgenville, Ky., September 4, and St. Louis September 20.
