Still the prairie schooner, laden with its human freight, arrives daily.

The advertising car for the Territorial Fair will start on its tour of the Southwest on August 21. On the trip of the car twenty more towns will be visited this year than last.

Edison, the wizzard, recently remarked: "We know only one-seventh-billionth about anything." Jee-whiz! If this is all we know of Tucumcari's future, ain't we going to be a whopper?

It is expected the territorial fair at Albuquerque this year will be bigger than ever. The committees are already making arrangements for the various attractions and have a large sum of money in the treasury for the premiums and race purses.

Into the bright sunlight of a bright Sabbath morning, into the stillness of a city drowsy with the lazy slumber of a summer Sunday, William D. Haywood, defendant in one of the most noted trials involving conspiracy and murder that the country has ever known, walked forth a free man, acquitted of the murder of former Governor Steunber of Idaho.

Just as a suggestion: Would it not be wise for Tucumcari to number its houses? With the present strides the town is now going, up-to-date methods are called for to conform with our growth. Free delivery would be a good thing also, and would relieve the congested conditions at the post office.

Tucumcari is sure coming to the front in a manner that is of the Western spirit. Steps that are being taken are destined to make it a town that will be a mighty factor in Eastern New Mexico. We refer to the new railroad proposition from Texico, and also to the Amarillo cut-off, as well as those roads that are now operative at this point.

If things don't happen to come your way, don't sit down like a bullfrog with the belly ache and plubber about it. Yank off your coat and go to work, and in a short time you won't find any hard times. The world has no use for a croaker anyway. Other men have troubles of their own, and don't want to be burdened with yours. If you are worth three hurras in hades stop croaking and get a hustle on, brace up till you show your collar button; be a man; get up and hump yourself with a vigorous and unanimous hump, and then when you meet your fellow man, instead of pouring out a pitiful tale of woe you can tell him that even if you're not getting rich you're at least making an honest living, and are as good a man as he or anyone else.

Mrs. S. H. Cover who has been visiting relatives at her old home in Piedmont, Mo., for the past month, is expected home tomorrow.

Plenty of Rain.

Wednesday night an electrical storm hovered over this section of country. Bombardment after bombardment was carried on in midair until the flood gates opened. The amount of rain-fall we know not, but it sure was a soaker. If there has been any doubt regarding the crop conditions in this section, they must now be dispersed.

Mrs. Sallie Walbaum, sister of Mrs. Dr. Russell, who has been, visiting here for some time, left for her home in Chicago Wednesday. Mrs. Gray another sister returned home last week.

Dr. Leipziger of Burlington, Iowa, was here Wednesday. He went from here to Montoya where he will visit the Kohn Bros.

DIED—August 2nd, at the family residence in this city, Thomas Gordon, of spinal meningitis. The deceased leaves a wife and four children to mourn his loss. Funeral services took place at the Tucumcari Cemetery yesterday afternoon.

J. W. Hardy, living four miles east of here, was in town Thursday and presented to the News a dozen roostenears. They are fine specimens of the Indian corn. The recent rains, he says insures a bumper crop.

LOST—Ladies' gold watch—Waterberry key winder. Suitable reward will be paid if returned to Miss Ethel Surguy, at Daughtry's real estate office. 43-11

FOR SALE—Wagon, harness and team. Separately or together. See A. G. Jones, Manney building, first door south of automobile barn. 43-11 pd

The two new portable school buildings on the school grounds are being constructed and will be completed before September first.

A two-chair barber shop has been opened up in the Powell pool hall. This is only temporary quarters, however, as the same parties will put in a five-chair shop in the Carter building as soon as completed.
