

Social Events Of The Past Week

By Florence B. Crofford

Bay View Enjoys Spread—

The dignified Bay View votaries cast dignity and study aside on Wednesday afternoon of this week and after a short program and a brief business session indulged in a veritable picnic spread that was truly a feast of good things. Mrs. Edwin Cady very obligingly turned over her well-equipped dining room and kitchen to the committee in charge and the delicious edibles contributed by each member were served in a cafeteria to a jolly crowd. Everything good to eat was there from salad to sherbet and the abundance equalled the quality of the viands.

Among the items of business taken up was the unanimous election of Mrs. Dick Aber to membership. A discussion of Household Problems, lead by Mrs. Noble, was much enjoyed as was also a talk on Labor-saving Devices by Mrs. Campbell. Mrs. Koch very ably conducted the discussion of cook-books, and arranged the numerous "favorite dishes" which made up the luncheon.

Present were the following members: Mesdames Anderson, Finegan, Cady, Campbell, Conwell, Crofford, Donohoe, Falkenberg, George, Goldenberg, Hinds, Hillman, Jarrell, Jones, Koch, Noble, Randle, Staudt, Vorenberg, Wingrove, Pearson and Meeker.

Womans' Club in Social Meeting—

The members of the Womans' Club have hit upon a very clever idea in regard to diversifying their meeting. Each alternate week will be given over to an impromptu discussion of current events or any interesting topic suggested, the ladies in the meantime employing their fingers with needle work and embroidery while they handle points of pertinent mental problems.

Mrs. Stanley Lawson was hostess to this week's informal meeting which all who participated in pronounce very interesting.

The Methodist Missionary Society

met in the monthly social meeting at the home of Mrs. J. F. Tarpley. The time was employed in cutting and in passing blocks for comforts which will be given to the needy. The afternoon was concluded with appropriate refreshments.

There were present Mesdames Evans, Hiltson, Campbell, Mundell, Smith, Hupper, Sandusky, Temple, Belknap, Duvall, White, Elkins, Boyett, Hudson, Bullington, Spence, Horne, Murphy, Johnson, Tarpley, and Kirkpatrick.

Bridge Club—

Mrs. W. A. Randle was the charming hostess of the Bridge Club on last Friday afternoon. Two tables of bridge occupied the hours with the result that Mrs. Parsons, scoring highest, was the recipient of the afternoon's trophy.

At the close of the series of games the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Thompson, served a specially delicious salad course. The ladies will meet next with Mrs. Reuter, Parsons, Beeth, Morris, Conwell, George, Noble, Chenault and Mrs. Thomson as a guest of honor.

Crochet Club Meets—

The members of the recently organized Crochet Club met on Tuesday afternoon of this week with Mrs. M. B. Goldenberg in whose pleasant home an afternoon devoted to social diversions means one of enjoyment. The hostess for next week is Mrs. C. M. Staudt.

Wedding Anniversary Celebrated—

Mr. and Mrs. James Conwell celebrated their eighth wedding anniversary with a quiet little dinner on last Sunday evening to which a few friends were bidden to felicitate with them on this auspicious occasion. Covers were laid for nine and an elegant five-course dinner was served under the supervision of this successful hostess. The table decorations were white and yellow chrysanthemums.

New Card Club Organized—

Dame Rumar has authoritatively announced that a new card club has been organized among a few of the exclusives of which fuller and more interesting details will be given later when the plans of those who are interested in the new club have been given out.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick Entertains—

THE SHOW

The Stock Company of Ion Lehr, which has been here all week, is the best, we think, which has visited our city for sometime. The play, "M'ne Felicia" last night was good enough for any place, and a splendid home greeted them. We are sorry the parlor has not been better all week. Tonight is a strong bill and all should attend. Saturday matinee will be a feature. Don't miss it.

Vote for Jaffa for Congressman.

CALLLED HOME

On Thursday, Oct. 17, 1912, Mrs. William Cound, of El Paso, Texas, departed this life for the great beyond, after a long and useful life. She was 62 years old, a member of the M. E. church and had been since she was 15 years of age.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. C. Bodington, of the church and under the auspices of Ladies' Auxiliary of the B. of A. of which she was a member, the remains being laid to rest in Congregational cemetery on Sunday, Oct. 20.

The deceased leaves a husband, five children, besides a host of friends to mourn her departure.

It is said that while she lived she reared her own monument in the hearts of all who knew her, if work well constitutes a completion.

"Smooth the locks of silvery hair
On mother's brow with tenderest
Gather the robe in final fold
Around the form so still and
Lay on her bosom, pure as snow
The fairest, sweetest flowers that Kiss her and leave her our delight;
Her pain is over, she sleeps to

PULPITS ASKED TO PREACH AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS

People who are working for the study and prevention of tuberculosis express the belief that 100,000 ministers will, from as many pulpits, preach on the subject, either on Sunday, Oct. 27, or on some occasion near to that date. Consideration is had of many demands for special Sundays, and so pastors are asked to fit the call into their own plans. Last year about 30,000 made some mention of the day. President Taft and many other distinguished people have approved this manner of calling the attention of the public to possible means of consumption prevention. Achievements of these people to date are claimed to be: The forming of more than 600 local societies to combat the disease; the distribution of 80,000,000 pamphlets dealing with the subject; the establishing of 12,000 beds for advanced cases; and 18,000 for curable cases; the founding of 500 hospitals; the opening of 100 dispensaries, and the securing of laws in 45 states intended to compel a study and apply preventatives of the ailment.

A chief purpose of the day this year is to give wide warning of the danger of relying upon, even or using patent medicines and sure pills claiming to have value. The scientists say there is no drug that will effect a cure, and that people waste both time and money. Along with the warning will be given exact instructions for the study and prevention of the disease, always to be done under some recognized physician. All of these points have been furnished by the national organizations to ministers everywhere.
