George Haldorn of Butte visited here the first of the week.

Jeff Cartland and family, of Butte, have moved to Eureka.

Mrs. David Kiehl and son were Park City visitors last week.

F. C. Schramm spent last Sunday in Ogden visiting relatives.

D. C. McLaughlin was in the city the first part of the week.

On last Saturday the children's choir of St. Mary's had a candy treat.

T. J. Clark of the Rock Island, arrived on Wednesday from the east.

Dr. F. E. Roche accompanied by his wife, is at the Cullen from Corinne.

P. J. Quesaly and wife of Kennerly, Wis., are registered at the Knutsford.

H. M. Clay of the Union Pacific is steadily improving from his severe illness.

Mrs. George Hill and Miss Lillian O'Reilly are at the Walker from Mercur.

Mrs. Sarah Cannon of Ogden is visiting her niece, Mrs. C. H. Jenkinson during the holidays.

Frank Judge, son of Mrs. Mary Judge, will be home from college in the East for the holidays.

Colonel J. W. Donnellan of the Commercial National Bank has been in Laramie for a few weeks.

The report of McCormick & Co. shows deposits amounting to $5,000,000. How about this for Salt Lake?

William Murphy, the prominent mining man of Cripple Creek is here to spend the holidays with his family.

Tuesday being the Feast of Our Holy Lady of Guadalupe, Benediction was given at all the Catholic institutions.

Manager Thomas Kearns of the Silver King, accompanied by Hon. W. S. McCormick, were in Park City on Sunday.

D. H. Peery, Jr., president of the Salt Lake Stock and Mining Exchange, is at home from a two weeks' trip to California.

The Altar Society of St. Mary's will have a special meeting on next Tuesday at 2 p. m., to arrange for the decorating of the altars Christmas.

Mrs. William Ousey and little son Merritt, with her brother, Royal Pease, will leave for Montana on Sunday to spend the holidays at home.

James and Walker Salisbury, sons of Hon. O. J. Salisbury, are expected home for the holidays from the East, where they have been attending college.

Services will be held at the Penitentiary tomorrow. Miss Minnie Little will sing "O Eyes That Are Weary," and "Dream of Paradise," for the service.

Rev. Father Morrissey returned from Helper on Monday. Mass was celebrated there in the Union Chapel on Sunday, and there was also an evening service.

A cablegram from Rome says that on Tuesday last the Pope granted an audience to the Archbishop of San Francisco, the Very Rev. Patrick W. Kiordan.

James J. Burke, the city representative of the Inter-mountain Catholic, is meeting with great success in his work, and will call on all of the Catholic people very soon.

All the interior furnishings for the beautiful home of David Keith arrived on Monday, and will be put in at once. The residence will be ready for occupancy by February 1st.

At St. Mary's assembly last Sunday two novices took their first vows, their names in religion being Sister Mary Bruno and Sister Mary Joseph. Rt. Rev. Bishop Scanlan officiated.

Mrs. Charles Vadner was the hostess of a very delightful Kensington last week. Her guests were profusely entertained with flowers and palms, and delicious refreshments were served.

There was no music at the 9 o'clock service on Sunday, nor any rehearsal for the young girls' choir, owing to the illness of the organist, but today a special rehearsal will be at 2:30 for the entire choir.

traveled by the Roy. Father covers 500 by 400 miles. Rev. Father Mannilo has many friends here and in Park City, who are always glad to welcome him during his brief visits.

The Walker House property on Main street, between Second and Third South, on last Wednesday became the property of Hon. David Keith, the Park City mining magnate. Last fall Mr. Keith purchased a half interest in this property, but this week the remaining half was transferred to him by M. H. Walker for $75,000. The total cost of the property to Mr. Keith was $150,000.

On last Friday afternoon Mary, the beloved wife of Mr. J. H. McCallum, died at St. Mary's Hospital. She was buried on Sunday afternoon from St. Mary's Cathedral. Rt. Rev. Bishop Scanlan officiated and preached a most eloquent sermon, in which he paid a well deserved tribute to the deceased. Mrs. McCallum was a woman of beautiful character, which showed nobly in her last illness. With unflinching trust in God's great mercy he faced death, with unflinching tenderness for those behind she took leave of life; with simple resignation she bowed to the Divine decree. Her husband and four brown-eyed little ones all love and sympathy goes out. May God in His infinite mercy comfort them in this hour of trouble and bear them safely through what remains of the troubles and sorrows of this world to their everlasting home where there will be no more death, crying or pain.

CHAPTER XII.

Of the advantage of adversity. It is good for you and then to have some troubles and adversities, for oftentimes they make a man enter into himself, that he may know that he is in exile, and place not his hopes in anything of the world.

It is good for us sometimes to suffer contradictions, and to allow people to think ill and slightly of us, even when we do and mean well. These are often helps to humility, and rid us of vain glory.

For then we more earnestly seek God to witness of what passes within us, when outwardly we are slighted by men, and incur their discredit. Therefore ought a man so firmly to establish himself in God as to have no need of seeking many human consolations.

When a man of good will is troubled, tempted, or afflicted with evil thoughts, he should understand that what need he had of God, and that without Him he is incapable of any good.

Then, also, he is sorrowful; he sighs and prayeth, by reason of the miseries he suffereth.

Then is he weary of longer life, and wisheth death would come, that he may be dissolved, and be with Christ.

Then, also, he perceiveth that perfect security and full peace cannot be realized in this world.

CHAPTER XIII.

Of resisting temptations. As long as we live in this world, we cannot be without tribulation and temptation.

Hence it is written in Job: "Man's life on earth is a temptation."

Every one, therefore, should be solicitous about his temptations, and watch in prayer, lest the devil find opportunity to catch him; who never sleepeth, but goeth about, seeking whom he may devour.

No one is perfect and holy as not sometimes to have temptation; and we can be wholly free from them.

Nevertheless, temptations are often very profitable to a man, troublesome and grievous though they be, for in them a man is purified, humbled and instructed.

All the Saints passed through many tribulations and temptations and profited by them.

And they that could not support temptations became reprobate and fell away.

There is no order so holy, nor place so retired, where there are not temptations and adversities. A man is never wholly secure from temptation as long as he liveth; for there is within us the source of temptation; since we are born in a sinful nature.

When one temptation or tribulation is over, another cometh on; and we shall always have something to suffer; for we have lost the advantage of our original happiness.

Many seek to fly temptations, and fall the more grievously into them.

We cannot conquer by flight alone; but by patience and true humility we become stronger than all our enemies.

He who only declineth them outwardly, and doth not pluck out their root, will profit little; nay, temptation will the sooner return, and will find himself in a worse condition.

By degrees and by patience, and magnanimity, thou wilt by God's grace better overcome them by hardness and thy own opportunity.

Take counsel the oftener in temptation, and do not deal harshly with any one who tempteth thee, for thou knowest, as thou wouldst wish it done to yourself.

Inconstancy of mind and little confidence in God is the beginning of all evil inclinations. For as a ship without a helm is driven to and fro by the waves, so the man who is negligent, and giveth up his resolution, is tempted in various ways. Fire trieth iron, and temptation a just man. We often know not what we are able to do, but temptation discov'reth what we are.

Still we must watch, especially in the beginning of temptation; for then the enemy is more easily overcome. If he be not entered to enter the door of the mind, but is withstood upon the threshold the very moment that he knocketh. Whence a certain man hath said:

"Resist beginnings; all too late the cure. When ill's have gathered strength by long delay."

For first there cometh into the mind a simple thought; then a strong imagination; afterwards delight, and the evil motion and consent.

And so, by little and little, the malignant foe doth gain full entrance, when he is not resisted in the beginning.

And the longer any one hath been slothful in resisting, so much the weaker he daily becometh in himself, and the enemy so much stronger against him.

Some suffer grievous temptation in the beginning of their conversion, others in the end, and some are much troubled nearly to the end of life. Some are very lightly tempted, according to the wisdom and equity of the ordinance of God, who weigheth man's condition and merits, and provideth all things for the salvation of His elect.

We must not, therefore, despair when we are tempted, but the more frequently pray God to vouchsafe to help us in every tribulation; who, of a truth, according to the saying of St. Paul, will make such issue with the temptation, that we may be able to sustain it.

Let us, then, humble our souls under the hand of God in every temptation and tribulation; for the humble in spirit he will save and exalt. In temptations and tribulations it is proved what progress a man hath made; and there, also, is the greater merit, and virtue is made more manifest.

Neither is it a great thing for a man to be devout and fervent while he feeleth no weight in the time of trouble; but if he suffereth patiently, there will be hope of great profit. Some are preserved from great temptations, and are often overcome in daily little ones; that humbly, they may never presume upon themselves in great trials, when they are so weak in such trifling occurrences.

Holiday Gifts. What Shall I Buy?

This is one of the most troublesome questions that arises at this time of the year, when every one is called upon to attest his love or friendship with a present of some kind. There is no house in Utah where this trouble can be dispelled so quickly as ours. We have presents that will suit every condition and relationship in life—presents that are dainty, artistic, useful. It matters not whether you have ten cents or a hundred dollars to spend for an article, we can accommodate you.

THE FAIR SANTA CLAUS HEADQUARTERS.

We are distinctively the Headquarters for Toys of all kinds. We have an extensive stock of all the latest novelties known to Toydom—Dolls, Doll Carriages, Beds, Dishes and everything that Dolly uses in her household; Sleighs, Toy Trains, Soldiers, Baby Rockers, etc., etc. We can sell these goods at less than any other house in the city because our firm deals exclusively in Toys and Christmas Goods.

THE FAIR STORE, 257 South Main Street.

There Will be no Better Time to BUY A SUIT OR OVERCOAT Than at Present, BECAUSE PRICES ARE Continually advancing on all classes of goods, from the cheapest to the most expensive fabrics. The same suit we are selling for $10 to $12, next year we will be compelled to sell at an advance of from $3 to $5 a suit. Even a greater increase in all better grades of goods. Better stock up your wardrobe now, and save money. You can't save it in any easier way; besides you will have the pleasure of enjoying the good things of the world when you most need them. Treat yourself to an Overcoat for Christmas.
