A constitution enfeebled by age and exposure was the cause of the dread pneumonia. Mr. Taylor was a mining prospector, and is widely known throughout the intermountain region. Early Monday the sad message came, and Mr. and Mrs. Duce at once departed over the Northern Pacific for Doylestown. 'Tis a severe trial to Mr. Duce to have the anticipated Christmas meeting with his mother after an absence of eighteen years, thus cut away by her sudden death. His many friends extend sympathy. Thus is our laurel ever entwined with rue.

ANACONDA.

Catholic Social Club. (Correspondence Intermountain Catholic.) At a business meeting of the Anaconda Catholic club held Saturday evening, Dec. 15, thirty-five new members were elected. The constitution and by-laws, as prepared by the executive committee, were read and discussed informally. They will come up for final adoption at a meeting to be held next Wednesday.

The chief business of the meeting was the appointment of a committee of seven to arrange an entertainment to be given at the club on or about Jan. 1. This will be the formal house warming party, and promises to be a brilliant affair. The committee consists of W. H. Malone, Harry Cannon, Joseph Hynes, Rose Le Miere, J. P. McCarthy, Joseph A. Hughes, Thomas McGowan and Peter Tovey. The meeting was attended largely, and was decidedly enthusiastic.

The Anaconda Catholic club is located in the old library building on Cherry street and Third avenue. The object is to furnish suitable quarters where the young can spend a pleasant evening in various modes of recreation. The ground floor of the building is to be converted into a gymnasium, fitted with shower baths and all necessary apparatus. Those in charge struck the proper chord in the gymnasium idea. The chance to attain proficiency in athletics appeals to learned and unlearned alike. Besides being very interesting, the exercise is beneficial both from a physical and mental standpoint. A good Catholic club, such as the Anaconda one promises to be, if fitted with proper gymnasium fixtures, will give any young man a "meat and drink" in corpore sano.

The upper floor will be converted into reading and reception rooms. The best periodicals will be in evidence, also a billiard and pool table. The present membership numbers about 120. Bi-monthly social gatherings will be a pleasant feature of the intermountain. The Anaconda Catholic club is the right move actuated by the proper spirit. The Intermountain Catholic extends best wishes for future success, a happy Christmas and joyous New Year.

St. Peters.

Anaconda is to be congratulated on the establishment of a convent school in its limits. The Ursuline nuns, whose mother house is Mt. Angel, near Cascade, Mont., came to Anaconda last September and opened a school in St. Peter's parish. Neither quarters nor location were all that could be desired. Yet Mother Angela and her six co-workers with characteristic baseness took up the burden. At present there are 300 children attending the school, and it is safe to say that the attendance would number as many more if space could be at once provided to accommodate them. The musical department has fifty pupils and that of art and elocution thirty. The pupils make their first public appearance on Dec. 28. That the effects of refined training will be evident is a foregone conclusion.

It is the intention of Father Coopman to erect a suitable school building in the near future. In such a worthy cause all possible assistance is richly deserved. The Intermountain Catholic extends its warmest greetings and best wishes for future prosperity to the Ursuline nuns.

A Pleasant Surprise Party.

One of the most pleasant surprise parties ever given in Anaconda was that in honor of Lucy Dan on Tuesday evening, Dec. 15. Cards was the amusement of the evening, the prizes being won by Miss Ellen Hammond and Mr. McManamy and Miss Ella Scrup and Willie Goodwin.

Those present were Misses Ellen Hammond, Lillie Whalen, Maggie Jensen, Maggie Thomas, Agnes Hogan, Nellie Sheehan, Beatrice Trisberger, Mamie Plunkett, Ella Scrup, Lucy Duvy, Mosser, Charley Douglas, Frank McKenna, B. Crosswhite, E. Shavlin, C. Smith, H. Smith, L. Brown, S. Mulligan, A. Anderson, R. Davis, Roy Davis, Ben Kraus, Willie Goodwin and Harris Williams and Mrs. William McManamy.

St. Paul's.

One of the most pleasing and inspiring features of midnight mass will be the singing of the "Gloria in Excelsis" and the "Adeste Fideles" by a children's choir ranging in age from 10 to 12 years. The choir will render the famous chorals mass of Pon la Hancha.

ANACONDA NOTES.

Miss Belle McCaffery has returned from an extended visit in Great Falls.

The altar society is in a most flourishing condition. Days and meetings are regularly attended to.

The Children of Mary recently purchased an organ for their own special use at services and meetings.

The new organ purchased from the proceeds of the Father Murphy's lecture will be in place and ready for Xmas services.

On the Feast of the Holy Innocents, Dec. 28, the Sunday school children will be entertained and banqueted in the A. O. U. W. hall. No pains are being spared to insure a merry time.

Midnight mass will be celebrated with the pomp and solemnity becoming the advent of the infant Christ. The choir, under the direction of Miss Mary McCabe, will render Mozart's Mass.

The Misses O'Brien, whose place of business is under the A. O. H. hall, have charge of the interests of the Intermountain Catholic in Anaconda. Subscriptions may be handed in there. All information regarding the paper will be cheerfully furnished with sample copies.

At a meeting of the Catholic Foresters Thursday night, Dec. 21, Messrs. Joseph Hennigan and Michael Kelly were admitted to membership. This society numbers at present 40 members in good standing, and is in every way a credit to Anaconda. Rev. Father Follet is chaplain. At the close of the meeting an adjournment was made to the A. O. H. annual ball, where a happy time was spent by all.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Leary were agreeably surprised Friday evening, Dec. 22, by a party of friends. Progressive whist and refreshments filled the pastime. Miss Annie O'Brien won the "booby prize" and Mrs. Murphy won the first award. Rev. Father Coopman graced the occasion with his presence and genial humor. Miss N. Long, sister of Mrs. Leary, is the party responsible for the ambush and pleasant evening. Mr. and Mrs. Leary leave shortly to reside in Butte.

HELENA.

Funeral of Miss Shaffer. (Correspondence Intermountain Catholic.) The funeral of Miss Katherine Shaffer, who died of pneumonia Friday, Dec. 15, at her home in Marysville, took place Monday afternoon, Dec. 18, from the cathedral of the Sacred Hearts, where Rev. Father Victor Day conducted an impressive service at 1:20 o'clock. The body of Miss Shaffer was brought to Helena on a special train, which arrived at the Northern Pacific depot at 10:40 a. m., and was accompanied by about 100 friends, who, with others from Helena, attended the service. The interment took place in the Catholic cemetery, a large number of friends following the body to the grave.

The pall-bearers, all of whom live in Marysville, were: John Brunsell, H. H. Pottling, Jr., Ed. Mansur, Patrick Sullivan, Charles Carlson and Henry Shoenborn. Miss Shaffer was the daughter of Mrs. Katherine Shaffer, an old time resident of Marysville. Her father, Peter Shaffer, died four years ago. Miss Shaffer was 22 years old. She was chief of honor of Silver Spray lodge No. 9 of the Order of Honor, and many of the members of that lodge attended the services at the cathedral yesterday. Miss Shaffer was prominently identified with the social life of Marysville, and was held in great esteem by all who knew her.

HELENA NOTES.

The residents of Marysville who attended the funeral in Helena yesterday returned to the camp on their special train, which left at 4 o'clock.

The location and accommodations of the Orphanage are all that could be desired, and the little ones receive the best physical and mental training. Such a worthy enterprise deserves generous support from all quarters.

On Sunday last a collection was taken up in the cathedral for the orphan. Two of the children from the Orphanage, a little boy and a little girl, passed the plates. The silent but touching appeal called forth generous donations.

On Thursday, Dec. 17, the talent of the East Helena Catholic church gave an entertainment, in which they were aided by Helena (main) performers. The affair was a decided success, both socially and financially. The net sum of $100 was netted, clear of all expenses.

Father O'Brien has departed on a recuperating trip to California. He will return about Jan. 1. The reverend gentleman paid all Hallows' College a visit in passing through Salt Lake City. His acquaintance among the Montana contingent at the College were very pleased to see him.

About two years ago, Mr. John Curtis of Butte presented the Sisters of Charity in charge of the Orphan's Home, Helena, with a very desirable lot of land. During the past year a building plan costing about $1,000 was put in the Orphanage, and in order to help defray this heavy expense it was determined to dispose of this lot, as it was of no financial benefit to the institution. The A. O. H. of Butte have charge of the matter. Tickets at $1 each are out for the drawing, which will take place Christmas. Some fortunate will make a paying investment as well as help a good cause. The various Catholic societies of Butte are making up purses to add to the sum realized on the property.

The Sisters at Helena have 147 orphans in charge, the bulk of whom are from Silver Bow county. For only about forty cents the number are getting fees being paid. The care and rearing of the majority is gratuitous effort on the part of the Sisters.

MISSOULA.

(Correspondence Intermountain Catholic.) Missoula, Dec. 19.—The residents of Plains are making arrangements to build a Catholic church there and have already purchased the property. The building will be erected as soon as the weather becomes more mild and it is expected to be ready for services by early spring. It will be a frame structure and will have a seating capacity of about 200 people.

Missoula, Dec. 19.—James Burns, who is in charge of the St. Regis Lumber company at their mill on the Coeur d'Alene branch, is receiving congratulations on the arrival of a fine boy. Mrs. Burns has been staying in Missoula, and the child and Mrs. Burns, who is in a short time to return to her home in St. Regis.

CHRISTMAS

(Written for The Intermountain Catholic by E. J. J.) Let us rejoice and exult, for on this day we celebrate the great feast of "Peace and Love," the New-born King, the Nativity of our child and Saviour, Jesus Christ. What His humiliation has purchased for us we know by faith. The world had subsisted about 4,000 years when Jesus Christ, the eternal Son of God, having taken human flesh in the womb of the virgin Mary, and being made man, was born of her, for the redemption of mankind at Bethlehem of Judea.

Joseph and Mary had come up to Bethlehem to be enrolled, and, unable to find a room in the inn, they took refuge in a stable, and in this lowly place Jesus Christ was born. The blessed Virgin wrapped the Divine Infant in swaddling clothes, and laid Him in the manger. While the worldly and the proud were asleep, an angel appeared to some poor shepherds. They were seized with great fear, but the heavenly messengers said to them: "Fear not, for behold I bring you good tidings of exceeding great joy, that shall come to all men. For this day is born to you a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord, in the city of David. And this shall be a sign to you: you shall find the child wrapped in swaddling clothes, and laid in a manger. After the departure of the angel the wondering shepherds said to one another: 'Let us go over to Bethlehem, and let us see the word that is come to pass, which the Lord hath shown to us.' They immediately hastened thither, and found Mary and Joseph, and the infant wrapped in swaddling clothes. Bowing down, they adored Him, and then returned to their flocks, glorifying and praising God.

Christmas brings joy and gladness to every Christian heart; the very air seems filled again with heavenly choirs, singing "Gloria in Excelsis Deo." Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace to men of good will. It tells of the "Prince of Peace," who left his home of eternal bliss and glory and came into the world to effect an eternal alliance between God and man, bearing tidings of joy to all mankind. He came into our midst to govern, instruct and guide us in the path of the precious fruits of His redemption, the felicitous inheritance. Although His first hour on earth was but in a stable, yet His spirit dispelled the gloom of night, and He was the true light, which was to enlighten every man that cometh into the world. His light was to dispel the darkness of evil, and those who would follow Him should no longer remain in the gloom of night.

What wonder, then, that all Christians should rejoice and sing their praises of praise to the "Incarnate Word" at Christmas-tide! For the joyful feast of Christmas is as far above all the other festivals of the year as the sun outshines the stars. What wonder, then, during this holy season faithful Christians should decorate their homes with Christmas trees, and a crib to the Holy Child, for the instruction of their innocent children, those youthful olives of God's holy Church, those links between angels and men.

The light which we place upon the Christmas tree are typical of Christ, the light of the world. The light of divine truth, which was prefigured by the star of Bethlehem, the true light to true Christians to make a source of enlightenment to make all duties easy and agreeable. May, then, the lights which we place upon the Christmas tree of Christian homes be a means of leading to those who are in search of the principles of light and truth to find them in Christ, the light of the world, the true light of God's Church, which is the source of light and truth to all mankind. The ornaments, embellishments, flowers and presents which we place upon the Christmas tree remind us of the fruits of His precious blood, treasured up in the sacraments, which the "Incarnate Word" presented to all men of good will. The sacraments are the fountain sources from which flow in perennial streams the precious blood of Jesus Christ for the redemption and sanctification of men.

Let us all gather around the crib and remember its beautiful signification. Teach the young and old its typical meaning that they may the more joyfully appreciate its fruits and gifts.

St. Stephen. Holy Mother Church celebrates on Tuesday, Dec. 28, the Feast of Saint Stephen, First Martyr.

There is good reason to believe that the Saint was one of the seventy-two disciples of our Blessed Lord. After the Ascension he was chosen one of the seven deacons. The machinery of the seven was very fruitful; but Stephen especially, "full of grace and fortitude, did great wonders and signs among the people." Many adversaries rose up to dispute with him, but they were not able to withstand the wisdom and the spirit that spoke. At length he was brought before the Sanhedrin, charged, like his Divine Master, with blasphemy against Moses and against God. He boldly upbraided the chief priests with their hard-hearted resistance of the Holy Ghost and with the murder of the "Just One." They were stung with anger, and grasped their teeth against him. But when, "filled with the Holy Ghost and looking up to heaven, he cried out: 'Behold, I see the heavens opened and the Son of Man sitting on the right hand of God,' they rushed upon him and dragging him forth without the city, they stoned him to death.

Reflection—If ever you are tempted to resentment, pray from your heart for him who has offended you.

St. John, Evangelist. On Wednesday, Dec. 27, Holy Mother Church celebrates the Feast of St. John the Evangelist. St. John, the youngest of the apostles in age, was called to follow Christ on the banks of the Jordan during the first days of Our Lord's ministry. He was one of the privileged few present at the Transfiguration and the Agony in the garden. At the Last Supper his head rested on the bosom of Jesus, and at the last stood by the cross with Mary. From the cross the dying Saviour bequeathed His Mother to the care of the faithful apostle, who "from that hour took her as his own," thus fulfilling, as St. Austin says, "to a virgin was the Virgin entrusted." After the Ascension St. John lived first at Jerusalem and then at Ephesus. He was thrown by Domitian into a cauldron of boiling oil, and is thus reckoned a martyr, though miraculously preserved from hurt. Afterwards he was banished to the Isle of Patmos, where he received the heavenly visions described in the Apocalypse. He died at a great age, in peace, at Ephesus, in the year 100.

Reflection—St. John is a living example of Our Lord's saying, "Blessed are the clean of heart, for they shall see God."

Holy Innocents. Holy Mother Church celebrates on Thursday, Dec. 28, the Feast of the Holy Innocents.

Herod, who was reigning in Judea at the time of the birth of Our Saviour, being grieved that the Wise Men had come from the East to Jerusalem in search of the King of the Jews, was troubled. He called together the chief priests and scribes, saying, "Where is to be born the Christ?" When the Wise Men: "When you have found Him, bring me word again, that I also may come and adore Him." But God, having warned them of the danger not to return, they went back to their homes another way. St. Joseph, too, was ordered in his sleep to "take the child and His Mother and fly into Egypt." When Herod found that the Wise Men did not return, he was furious, and ordered that every male child in Bethlehem and its vicinity of the age of 2 and under should be slain. These innocent victims were the flowers and the first fruit of His martyrdom, and triumphed over the world without having ever known it or experienced its dangers.

Reflection—How few, perhaps, of these children, if they had lived, would have escaped the dangers of the world! What snares, what sins, what miseries they were preserved from! So we lament as misfortunes many accidents which in the design of heaven are the greatest mercies.
