SALT LAKE

CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

The new city directory, containing 1,200 pages, or 150 more than last year, will be ready for delivery in about ten days.

The new officers of Cunningham & Co. took hold Tuesday. The company was established in 1876, and incorporated in 1885 with a capital of $150,000.

The Cosgriff-Wood company of Salt Lake City yesterday filed its articles of incorporation with County Clerk John James. It will transact a general wholesale and jobbing grocery business with a capital stock of $300,000, divided into 3,000 shares, at a par value of $1 each.

Salt Lake is to be treated to an exposition of what constitutes a genuine presentation of that never-to-be-forgotten melodrama, "Uncle Tom's Cabin." There have been Uncle Tom's Cabins in the past, but the efforts of the Press club and its directors are in the line of expelling all previous presentations in Salt Lake, both professional and amateur.

City Physician King and Land and Water Commissioner MacKnight, who have been appointed a special committee to select a site for a new isolation hospital, spent the greater part of the afternoon yesterday in visiting different pieces of property belonging to the city, which could be used for a site.

The state board of medical examiners will meet in the joint building April 6, at 10 a. m., to examine applicants for license to practice medicine in this state. An average of 75 per cent is required in these branches of study: Obstetrics, gynecology, anatomy, surgery, chemistry, materia medica, pathology, practice, physiology and hygiene.

A copy of the articles of association of the Sisters of the Holy Cross Hospital association, incorporated at St. Mary's academy, St. Joseph county, Indiana, was filed in the office of Secretary of State Hammond Monday. The capital stock of the association is $19,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each.

The new steel shelving for the state law library in the city and county building has been installed and the books are fast being replaced, so that the library now presents a decidedly neat and modern appearance. By the use of the steel shelving, room has been made for 4,000 additional volumes on the same floor space.

Plans for the entertainment of President Roosevelt on the occasion of his visit to Salt Lake and Ogden were considered Wednesday afternoon by the committee having the matter in charge. Senators Kearns and Smoot, Governor Wells, Mayor Thompson and Mayor Glassman of Ogden, the full committee, were present.

A small spring that burst forth in the basement of the new Judges' miners' hospital caused the contractors considerable trouble for a few days. The spring, caused supposedly by the melting of the winter's snows and the saturation of the ground, began to bubble forth in the basement about the center of the building. Considerable water flowed into the basement and there was some danger of the ground being weakened and caving but the contractors succeeded in tapping the spring outside of the building and digging a ditch that carries the water away.

CATHEDRAL NOTES.

The following musical programme will be rendered at St. Mary's cathedral on next Sunday (April 5), Palm Sunday: Voluntary.....Bohm Mass in G.....Millard "The Palm".....Paure Rev. Father Lechner. Processional March.....Hyde

Miss Florence Locke and Master Emmett Mulvey will be the soloists at the 9 o'clock mass next Sunday.

Miss Lena Furek, Miss Nellie Geary and Master Emmett Mulvey were the soloists at St. Mary's last Sunday evening.

Miss Katherine McDonough was the soloist at St. Mary's last Sunday evening.

The ladies of the Altar society met last Monday afternoon.

Rev. Father Lechner will sing the "Fathers" by Paure at St. Mary's on Sunday.

Powers in great quantities will be required for the altar next week. The ladies are requested to send them early on Wednesday for the Repository and early on Saturday for Easter Sunday.

The children of the 9 o'clock choir have been very negligent about their practice of late. Parents are requested to see that their little ones attend regularly and promptly.

The boys of the choir rehearse on Saturday at 5 o'clock and on Sunday night after church.

on Easter is to be properly rendered the children must positively attend the rehearsal.

The young ladies of the choir rehearse on Sunday morning at 9:30.

For the 11 o'clock mass last Sunday there was not an altar boy to serve the mass. To say that this state of things is disgraceful is putting it mildly. Who is to blame? Surely not the devoted clergyman, who does everything possible to influence the boys to come. It is the opinion of every intelligent person in the parish that a little interest on the part of the parents would improve matters.

The promoters of the League of the Sacred Heart held their usual monthly meeting last Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Next Friday being the first Friday, the members of the league will receive Holy Communion in a body.

Sunday will be Palm Sunday. Palm will be blessed before the High Mass. Next week being Holy Week, the office of Tenebrae will be sung on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at 7 o'clock. Good Friday, stations of the cross will succeed the Tenebrae service. On Holy Thursday solemn High Mass will be celebrated at 8 o'clock. On Good Friday will be celebrated the Mass of the Pre-sanctified, and afterwards will occur the "Adoration of the Cross." On Holy Saturday the Mass will also begin at 8 o'clock. Confessions will be heard on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons and evenings.

The following clipping from an eastern exchange will be of interest to the members of the Cathedral parish, who will always remember Father Youman, the Paulet Father who gave a mission here three years ago:

"Father Youman, the Paulet who delivered a series of lectures to White Plains non-Catholics, will return here for Holy Week. He has arranged a course of sermons and non-Catholics will be specially invited. Palm Sunday morning, his subject will be 'Justice, the Betrayer'; Palm Sunday evening, 'The Denial of Peter.' The subjects for the other evenings of the week are: April 6, 'The Three Hours Agony'; April 7, 'The Bloody Sweat'; April 8, 'The First Three of the Last Seven Words'; April 10, 'The Sixth and Seventh of the Last Seven Words and the Death on the Cross.' Easter Sunday morning Father Youman will preach on 'Resurrection.'"

Hours of adoration on Holy Thursday of the promoters of the League of the Sacred Heart and their respective bands of members:

- From 10 a. m. to 11 a. m.—Miss May Kane, Miss Mary Pryor, Miss Nora Gleason, Charles Pannetier. From 11 a. m. to noon—Mrs. M. B. Salisbury, Mrs. P. Fitzgerald. From 12 noon to 1 p. m.—Mrs. N. Sloan, Miss M. McCoey, G. W. Keel. From 1 p. m. to 2 p. m.—Miss L. O'Brien, Miss C. McDonald, Miss M. Stephens. From 2 p. m. to 3 p. m.—Mrs. P. L. Gleason, Mrs. S. Simkins, Mrs. K. Ely, Miss Irene Kane. From 3 p. m. to 4 p. m.—Miss F. O'Meara, Miss H. C. Thomas, John P. Carroll. From 4 p. m. to 5 p. m.—Mrs. A. Dillon, Miss M. McDonough, Miss A. Mahan. THE POLICE MUDDLE.

The resolution of the city council ignoring George A. Sheets as chief and ordering Captain John Burdidge to assume charge of the department has been ignored by the police as supreme by the council has ignored Chief Sheets. The latter is still running the department, and says he proposes to continue to do so. The only hitch is the tie-up of the salaries of the officers, and the department will attempt to break this without much delay.

Mandamus proceedings will be commenced against City Auditor Reiser to compel him to pay the salaries of the men for the past month. This, it is believed, will settle the matter so far as the officers are concerned. Chief Sheets proposes to take his case into the courts for settlement if Auditor Reiser insists on withholding his salary. Just when the mandamus proceedings will be commenced the officers have not decided, but it will probably be within the next two or three days.

Policemen Ignore Council Resolution.

Notwithstanding the resolution of the council, the desk of chief of police was held down as usual yesterday by Chief Sheets. He issued orders and they were carried out. Captain Burdidge made no effort to follow the instructions of the council and assume charge. He went right along in his accustomed position as usual, as the second in authority. The policemen from the first sergeant down said:

"So far as I am concerned George Sheets is chief, and I am here to do as he orders. He is chief of police and we shall recognize him as such."

Captain Burdidge, when asked what he proposes to do in regard to the orders of the council, replied:

"This is not my fight. Things are going along all right as they are, and I suppose they will continue to do so. I have nothing more to say about the matter."

Captain Burdidge would not say that he would not assume charge as ordered by the council, but the fact remains that he did not even attempt to take charge; and if the old saying that "actions speak louder than words" is true, he declines to follow the instructions of the council.

Will Mandamus Auditor Reiser.

The only thing that is troubling the department is the refusal of the city auditor to pay the monthly salaries. The payrolls that were returned to the department with instructions that they should be approved by Captain Burdidge, being they would be paid at the police department. And they still bear the name of Chief Sheets as approver of the lists. Captain Burdidge hasn't signed his name, and the indications are that he does not propose to. It is not believed to be necessary, as it is considered that mandamus proceedings will serve the same purpose.

Chief Sheets, when asked if they would commence mandamus proceedings to get the officers' pay, said: "We'll do that. We propose to get the boys' their money, and we will."

He stated further that some of the officers would probably take action, as they could do it under the circumstances. When told that Auditor Reiser was contemplating mandamus proceedings to force him to sign the payrolls, the chief said:

"I don't think he can. It isn't his kick if the department is willing to go on without pay. It is for us to manumit him to get our wages. I don't care about him holding up my wages for a time, but if he continues to do it I will take my case into court to settle it. I think one mandamus will suffice to settle the matter so far as the other officers are concerned."

Mayor Criticizes the Auditor.

Mayor Thompson, in expressing himself about the matter, said: "I think it is shame that the wages of all the boys should be held up because of this fight. It wouldn't matter so much if they only held up Sheets' pay, but to hold up the wages of the boys to hold out their hands, however, that the matter can be settled without legal proceedings. At any rate, the boys will get their pay."

Auditor Reiser would not want to force the issue any further yesterday, for he asked an opinion of City Attorney Nye if it would be lawful for him to audit the payrolls without a certificate as to their correctness from the head of the department. When informed that he could not do it, the auditor sent the payrolls back to the police station, with the request that Captain Burdidge certify to them.

If City Attorney Nye had ruled that it was not necessary for a certificate, Auditor Reiser would have audited all the salaries excepting that of Chief Sheets. He would have ignored the latter's claim, because he does not recognize the action of the council in electing him.

Auditor Reiser gave the implication yesterday that if Captain Burdidge did not certify the payrolls within a reasonable length of time, that perhaps mandamus proceedings might be brought to compel him to act in the premises.

Comfort can be enjoyed only by those whose money affairs cause no worry. To be "comfortably rich" is an enviable condition, enjoyed by few, and yet within the reach of all. A steady income from money invested in safe securities is a source of comfort and pleasure. When that income is sufficient to live on, the possessor is as rich as any one else. There is no need then to work or worry, and there is time for the higher aims and pleasures of life. Happily, too, such investments are in the long run more profitable than speculation. Our first mortgage securities, netting 6 per cent per annum, are the safest and best paying investments in the world. The investor holds the security and we do the work. KING WILL VISIT POPE.

Rome, April 2.—Prince Colonna, the mayor of Rome, has been officially informed by the Italian government that King Edward will visit Rome at the end of this month. Monsignor Stonor, canon of St. John Lateran, the highest English prelate here, has been entrusted with negotiations to arrange a visit of King Edward to the pope.

It is proposed that the king either go to the English Ecclesiastical college here, or to the residence of Prince Massimo, whom he met when here as Prince of Wales, during the lifetime of Pope Pius IX. From either of these places he would start for the Vatican, not in a carriage of the king of Italy, but in a private vehicle.

The interview between their majesties on board the Victoria and Albert lasted one hour and a half, after which a procession was formed and the two kings went ashore. The historic galley occupied by the king and the pope. It was followed by a flotilla of various craft. Their majesties' procession was accompanied by salutes and artillery and the sailors of the warships again manned the sides.

On landing King Edward and King William were greeted with tremendous enthusiasm. Their majesties were admirably uniformed. King Edward looked in the best of health and accompanied by the king of Portugal, he had been recruited in a pavilion, where the presidents of the two legislative houses and others were present. The royal party then entered six ancient state coaches, the last of which, drawn by eight horses, was occupied by their majesties.

The procession received a great ovation along the route from the immense crowds of spectators. The costumes of the royal party, the decorations of the streets and the bright sunshine contributed to the brilliancy of the royal progress through the city.
