BANQUET IN HONOR OF THE GRADUATES

St. Patrick's Alumni Society Makes Preparations for Delightful Occasion Next Thursday

A most delightful occasion is planned by the Alumni society of St. Patrick's parochial school in honor of the high school graduating class of 1907. A reception and banquet will be given next Thursday evening at the beautiful new home of the sisters of the Holy Family. The rooms will be decorated for the occasion, and music will be furnished by the High school orchestra of fifteen pieces. It is expected that about fifty members of the alumni of the school will be present

W. J. McMahon of the class of 1905 will be toastmaster at the banquet, and the program will be as follows: Address of welcome, by the president, Miss Josephine Kellett, class of 1906; "Our Country," Miss Eva Holt, 1906; "Our Bishop and Clergy," Edward O'Flynn, 1902; "The Class of 1907," Miss Frankie Dillon, 1902; "Noblesse Oblige," Miss Mary Holman, 1903; "The Ladies," Jack Dugan, 1902; "Alma Mater," Edgar Andrieux, 1897; "Retrospection," Miss Mary McMahon, 1902; "St. Patrick's," Rev. P. De Siere

The committee of arrangements for the occasion is composed of Miss Nellie Driscoll, Miss Josephine Kellett, Miss Annie O'Brien and John Dubej

The graduation exercises of the Sacred Heart church school at the Broadway theatre last Monday attracted a very large crowd of people, and the entertainment was of a high order. There were a number of graduates from the eighth grade, while five pupils received diplomas from the high school

J. J. Lynch delivered an interesting address on the higher ideals and the possibilities to be attained in life. Rev. Father Carr in presenting the diplomas and prizes, made a few remarks

Miss Katherine Byrne was awarded a medal for general excellence in the high school; Katie Daley was presented with a medal for proficiency in stenography; Charles McGrail a medal for department in the senior department of the high school; Loretta Little, a medal for department in the junior department of the high school; Katherine O'Keefe, a medal for proficiency in Christian doctrine, and Esther Sullivan was given a medal for proficiency in music

Four medals were awarded to members of the eighth grade class, who were also awarded diplomas. Leo Dwyer was presented with a medal for general excellence, Joseph McGonigle also for general excellence, and Joseph Kelly and Charles Shannon for application

A great audience at the Broadway theatre Thursday last week was delighted with the beautiful exercises in connection with the graduation of the eighth grade pupils of St. Patrick's parochial school. The clever children who took part in the cantata, "America," showed excellent and painstaking training by their teachers, the sisters of the school. The diplomas were conferred by Rev. Father De Siere, the pastor of St. Patrick's church

The announcement of the winners of the Leyson gold watch and the gold medal for attendance and deportment was much applauded. Alice Leyden drew the gold watch. Other pupils who also merited the prize and competing in the drawing were Maybelle Haggerty, Frances Haggerty and Edna Barizon. The gold medal was drawn by Isabelle Murray. Ita Fox also won medals and was entitled her to take part in the drawing

At the high school commencement exercises that also took place at the Broadway theatre Tuesday evening Arthur Dubej was presented with the Leyson gold watch, which was also merited by Leonard Stafford

St. Patrick's orchestra of talented young musicians is composed as follows: Piano, Agnes Tobin; violins, Willie Sullivan, John Sullivan, John Reichle, Frank Heaney, Chester Dietler, Francis Silver, Willie Flemming, Willie Donlan, Denis Shea, Peter Gallagher, Homer Kelly, Nora Tobin, May Hayes, Margaret Murphy, Mary Walsh, Helen Reichle, Maybelle Haggerty, Vivian Knuth; mandolin, Charles Lavely, Mary Flemming; guitars, Alice Harrington, Lucile Hartman, Lillian Keys

Shoshone, to Casper, to Manville, to Glendo, to Douglas, to Crawford, to Orrin Junction. Several left for the south by way of Denver, for Lincoln, Neb.; John Logan, Denver and Sheridan; others for the west, going to Rawlins, Laramie and Saratoga; others going east to Kearney, Neb.; to Windriver, Neb.

The exhibition of needlework this year was considered the best yet seen at the convent. It surpassed the work of former years in number, variety and excellence, and was greatly admired by the many visitors who attended the graduation exercises. Those deserving the greatest praise for careful work were the winners of the prizes. Miss Helen Keefe, whose bureau scarf in ecru embroidery called forth much praise; Miss Esther Friebe's ecru embroidery and cushion; Miss Gertrude Geddes' centerpiece in solid embroidery; Miss Hazel Moran, who excelled in embroidery and plain sewing, received well merited praise. The other important pieces of fancy work on exhibition were a centerpiece in ecru embroidery by Miss Edith Casteel, embroidery by Miss Mary Keogh; a shirt waist in ecru embroidery by Miss Ivah Kanatsber, Sheridan; a bureau scarf in shadow work, apron and pillowcase, embroidered in white silk, by Miss Marie Coyne, Sheridan; two pin cushions in ecru work by Miss Ivah Card, Manville, Wyo.; pillow shams in shadow work by Miss Esther Bollen, Douglas; aprons, pin cushions, pillow shams, collars and cuffs, by the three Misses Cross, Beaver

The plain sewing was also much admired. The children whose work received the most praise and who displayed it, were: Misses Hazel Moran, Mary Sullivan, Margaret Coughlin, Lillian Willard, Edith Casteel and Emma Lucas

The display of drawings and water-colors won much praise and showed earnest work on the part of instructors and pupils. The model drawing deserves special mention, as it was remarkably well done and showed great talent in some of the students

The examination papers, encased in artistic covers, each class having their own colors, and the composition books of the high school classes, the botany books, plant analysis and mounted specimens of the graduates added greatly to the articles on exhibition

Mrs. Kate Connelly and little daughter Agnes left Monday morning for a two months' visit in the eastern states

Miss Elizabeth Keefe has gone to Laramie, where she will attend summer school at the University of Wyoming

Mrs. J. J. Daly and Miss Geraldine Daly left Monday evening for the east, where they will visit relatives
