Sheppard has removed his custom shoe shop from T. Kidder's building to Rich's block, formerly occupied by J. Bromfield, where he will be pleased to see all in want of work in his line. We have recently received large additions to our stock of boots and shoes, making it the largest and most complete to be found, and will be sold at prices to suit all. BECKWITH & CO.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mr. A. J. Severance arrived in town Tuesday afternoon. Dr. C. E. Prentiss is spending a few days in Washington, D. C. Col. Thad M. Chapman and family arrived home Tuesday afternoon. Judge Knapp will deliver the Decoration-day address at Warwick, Mass. Butter was still lower Monday than the week before, the best selling at 18 cents. Noland Bros., have just finished painting the front of Mr. Bond's clothing store. Geo. C. Walker, who travels for a Burlington firm, is in town visiting his family. The ice-men have begun their summer's work. H. C. Langworthy drives the delivery wagon. Will Powers, who has been in Philadelphia, New York and elsewhere for a year past, has returned home. A. P. Tupper, Esq., has been in Manchester, N. H., this week on a visit to Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Murkland. Mr. and Mrs. E. Vallette, who had been in New York since the early winter, came home Saturday evening. Harry R. Dorr of the S. M. Dorr Investment Co., Rutland, was in town Friday and Saturday on business. Prof. and Mrs. Solon Albee have gone back to Langdon, N. H., after having spent the winter at Prof. Parker's. Jerry LaRoque, employed by Dr. Sheldon, cut his foot with a hatchet the other day, but is able to be out again. A Kentucky sheep-breeder has lately bought 12 ewes of C. A. Chapman, who will shortly ship them to the purchaser. Mrs. James McDonald passed her 90th birthday on Monday, April 26. She is believed to be the oldest person in town. James Donahue, who went to Marietta, Ga., several months ago to enter the employ of a marble concern, has returned home. Mr. Parsons, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has rented the Rowley place, lately vacated by E. E. Bond, and has moved his family thither. The effort to organize a hose company here has apparently been given up, for the reason that the cost would cost more money than could be raised. Dr. V. W. Blanchard has been quite ill for several weeks at his home near this village. He is afflicted with rheumatism and was in bad condition at last reports. Thomas Wilson was fined $5 and costs on a plea of guilty of intoxication before Justice J. E. Stapleton, Friday, Grand Juror J. M. Slade appearing for the State. A Mr. Townsend succeeds J. W. Pitts as clerk at the Addison House. Mr. Pitts took the place only temporarily. He has not yet decided what he will do next. One of F. A. Bond's horses was frightened by the mail train Friday afternoon and ran out to Geo. Hammond's. Beyond some scratches the animal was not hurt. Mrs. Abram Williamson, of whose severe illness mention was made last week, is slowly but steadily gaining, so that her friends regard her ultimate recovery as certain. Communion services were held at the Congregational church last Sunday and 14 persons were received into membership, making a total of 76 new members since the current year began. John Hillian and family have moved to Rutland. F. L. Champagne and wife will soon go to the same place, where he will enter the employ of McClure Bros., dealers in musical instruments. Mrs. A. L. Parsons received a dispatch from Auburn, Me., yesterday, saying that her mother was at the point of death. Mrs. Parsons left on the express train, last night, for Auburn. Mr. Calhoun's men have been obliged to suspend work at Montpelier to allow the blasting out of space under the floor of the corridors of the capitol for the passage of the return steam pipes. The steamer company had the engine out, Tuesday evening, for trial. It was stationed at the tank south of the Addison House and was used to lay the dust in that vicinity. It was in good working order. The New York World is to run a Sunday train up through here with its Sunday issue and will begin next Sunday. Those who want a Sunday paper will then be able to get one that is good for something. The work of frescoing the Congregational church progresses but slowly, owing to the condition of the plastering. At the Catholic church the repairs are well along, and already the building is much improved in appearance.

A. W. Varney of Bristol, a member of the senior class at the college, has been seriously ill for a week past with pneumonia. For the last few days he has improved quite rapidly. His mother is here caring for him. Rt. Rev. W. H. A. Bissell of Burlington, bishop of Vermont, confirmed a class of 26 persons at St. Stephen's Monday evening, when a large congregation was present. This is the largest class for more than forty years. Letters addressed as follows have remained in the postoffice one month un-called-for: Mrs. Lillian Archer, Mrs. Boswell, Miss Caroline Bryant (2), Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. Cronk, Mrs. Hattie Fitts, Martin Keeler, J. S. Taylor. The special delivery postal arrangement seems to be a failure. The Middlebury office sold only three of the stamps last month, two in March, two in February and four in January. Telegrams don't cost much more and are speedier. The New England Telephone Co. talk of buying the telegraph line which the American Telegraph Union built between Rutland and Burlington. If they do so, we shall probably have telephonic communication with towns north and south. Miss Mary E., daughter of W. B. Mussey of Rutland and once a resident of Middlebury, was married in the Congregational church, Rutland, Wednesday evening, to Walter E. Jackson of Boston. Miss Mussey is a niece of Mrs. E. P. Russell. Announcement is elsewhere made of the death of a young man once well known in this vicinity—Will F. Tobin. He was born in this village and lived here several years, being employed part of the time as a clerk in Beckwith & Co.'s establishment. Scarlet fever prevails to a considerable extent in the village. Martin O'Connor's oldest daughter is very sick with it; Rufie, son of Rufus Wainwright, Esq., is just getting up from an attack; Abram Williamson's two boys and niece are ill and also one of Mr. Alden's children. There are probably other cases of which we have not heard. Lieut. Frank Correll of East Douglass, Mass., is in town on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Henry Smith. Old army men will remember him as a soldier, and a good one. When the war broke out he lived in Brooksville, and he went to the front as orderly sergeant of company K of the Second Vermont. In 1862 he was made lieutenant in the same company. This is the make-up of the college baseball club which will play in the league games: Willis M. Ross, '86, captain and catcher; G. Willis Mead, '86, pitcher; W. D. Rich, '89, first base; W. S. Alden, '89, second base; E. E. Howe, '88, third base; James T. Clark, '87, short stop; F. E. Douglas, '89, left field; W. B. Clift, '88, center field; E. D. Howe, '87, right field. Rev. Mr. Speare will speak at the lecture room, on Wednesday evening next, upon the subject "The Power of Oratory." The lecture is to procure money wherewith to compensate the janitor of the church, Mr. Cushman, for his extra labors during the revival meetings in the winter. It ought, and without doubt will, be largely attended. It will be followed by a sociable. Chas. D. Lane is to supply a number of families on North Pleasant street with water from his spring on the Stearns' lot near the base of Chipman hill. The pipes have been extended along the street for this purpose. Mr. Lane bought the spring in the first place to furnish water for his son's greenhouse, but it is found to yield more water than is needed for that alone. Mr. Rider has bought of G. S. Wainwright the barn on the latter's lot, and it is to be moved upon the east end of the Addison House premises for use as a granary. The fence along the highway east of the hotel has been taken away and the shrubbery in the little park in the rear of the house trimmed. Painters are now at work on the house both indoors and out. Three young men went out on the creek Saturday evening to spear fish by the light of a torch fixed in the bow of their boat. One of them got up from his seat to fix the lighting apparatus, whereupon the boat gave a lurch and over he went headlong into the muddy stream. As he emerged from the water and clay his first request was, "Boys, don't give me away." They didn't and we shall not; and yet the exploit should be recorded. On Tuesday of last week M. T. Butterfield let W. E. Dewey of this place and one Dwyer of West Randolph have a horse from his livery to drive to Rochester. The next he heard was that the horse died Thursday morning at Rochester. Mr. Butterfield went over to see about it and found that the animal had been driven much farther than he supposed it was going and that the probable cause of its death was over-driving. The sociable at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, Friday evening, drew together many members of the association and the Woman's auxiliary, who spent a very enjoyable evening. On Sunday afternoon the assembly room of the association was filled to its full capacity. Rev. Mr. Carpenter, rector of St. Stephen's, preached an able sermon on "The Resurrection." There will be a meeting at the rooms this (Friday) evening and a song service on Sunday afternoon at 3.30. At the annual meeting of St. Stephen's parish, held on Easter Monday, Albert Chapman was chosen senior warden and Wm. Chadwick junior warden, and these officers were elected: Vestrymen, Albert

Chapman, Geo. C. Chapman, Henry L. Sheldon, Dr. W. H. Sheldon, E. W. Judd, Dr. E. P. Russell, Wm. Chadwick; clerk, Henry L. Sheldon; collector and treasurer, Dr. Sheldon; delegates to the diocesan convention, Albert Chapman, G. C. Chapman, Dr. Russell. The selectmen having been petitioned to make repairs on seven distinct pieces of road in various parts of the town, have called a special town meeting at 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Monday, May 17, when the voters will be expected to instruct them what to do. They call the meeting in order to get such instruction, as they do not wish to lay themselves open to the charge of extravagance or of using more money than the town is willing to allow. The meeting held at Grand Army hall, Monday evening, to make arrangements for the observance of Decoration-day, was not largely attended and adjourned, without doing any business, to next Monday evening. It is hoped people will then turn out. The G. A. R. post does not feel like going ahead alone, inasmuch as citizens have contributed to the fund which will be expended. Besides, the post will need help in carrying on the work of preparation. Everybody is invited to be present at the meeting next Monday evening, in G. A. R. hall at 7:30 o'clock. The presence of ladies is especially desired. We were shown a letter written by L. W. Huntington, 19 Wabash avenue, Detroit, Mich., a former resident of this town, who when about 17 years old lost his eyesight by a premature discharge of a cannon fired on the election of General Taylor to the presidency. He has had several operations upon his eyes, all to no purpose, and for 38 years has been obliged to work and earn his living after having learned the upholstery business at a blind asylum in Boston. Being energetic and ingenious, he did good work, and, unlike many others who would have given up with the same disability in despair, he patiently worked on. After going from this place he located in Detroit. He thought he would make one more effort to gain his sight. He went into St. Mary's hospital and Dr. Y. Smith performed the operation upon the central pupil of the eye—an operation never performed before in this country, with entire success, so that Mr. Huntington three weeks after the operation is now able to read common print and write to his friends. Well may he feel elated, after these long years of darkness, at so great a change. Mr. Huntington's relatives and acquaintances here all feel great satisfaction in learning of his good luck, and hope that other prosperity will follow him the rest of his life.
