

ulation and the laying of foundations which he had made good preparation the old halls of Chicago theological university.

Mr. Rowland's scholarship in college is a testimony to his industry and the faithful study in all the coming years. The only fear was of over application under the stimulus of the example of his industrious associates, the eager pursuit of the empire and the proverbial faculties of the language. He was caused to couple with his studies a close looking with the people in all their ways, so as to learn their working ideas of ways of thinking in general. Then, when the secrets of the language were known, he could effectually preach two hours at a time and spend the following night in answering questions as the Japanese would be only too happy to have him do.

By way of encouragement, the candidate was pointed to the promising era of missionary enterprise, after seventy-five years of cumulative progress; to the moral of his field so exceptionally superior; to the eminent worth and ability of his associates, and, above all, to the abiding conviction that he had been called and ordained by the Great Head of the church to go and bring forth fruit—fruit that should remain.

Rev. George R. Hewitt of North Bennington, who gave the right hand of fellowship, was a missionary classmate of intimate friend of Mr. Rowland. It was one of the best features of the mission full of a young worker's enthusiasm and fragrant with personal attention. Referring to the saying that missionaries were the flower of Christian Italy, the speaker congratulated the candidate upon entering the highest order of Christian knight-errant. He was fully to labor in no foreign field, for there is none. In these marvelous days of communication, the stars are the only foreign field. In the name of the church of his native land, of the 33 churches of Japan and of all Christian workers, in earth and above, who join hands in lifting the Kingdom of Christ, this new order of the Lord's conquering hosts was bestowed and cheered on his way.

In the absence of Rev. C. S. Sargent, pastor of the New Haven church, where Mr. Rowland is a member, and who had been expected to offer the prayer of ordination, that service was appropriately performed by Rev. M. C. Stebbins.

Special interest was added to the occasion by singing "The Missionary's Call," whose author, Rev. Dr. Nathan Brown, died last New Year's, a missionary in Japan. He was a native of the Champlain valley, and more than fifty years ago first went as a missionary to Burma.

Supplementary to this brief and inadequate account of this ordination, it is fitting to add that Rev. Mr. Rowland's master's oration, commencement exercises, on the True Education of the Nineteenth Century, fully equalled every expectation. He was himself an eminent illustration of his main thought—that he should resist the necessary and inevitable tendency of our day to specialisms of study and pursuits that, while fruitful to the present, we should build the future in a rounded and symmetrical character; his sympathies catholic in his vocation, his judgment mature and generous, and all in the interest of forgetting usefulness, getting to give of living to impart life.

At 4 p. m. Commencement day, at the residence of the bride's mother and in the presence of kindred only, Rev. Mr. Rowland performed the service which united in sacred union Rev. George M. Rowland and Miss Helen A. Goodrich. Mrs. Rowland has been a successful teacher in the Middlebury Graded school, of which she is a graduate. She is a member of the Middlebury Congregational church, and her place in the Sabbath school and other walks of usefulness will not be easily filled. She is the first missionary of "The United Workers" in that church, whose missionary meetings and evangelical work have borne fruit in many fields at home and abroad, at none, however, so substantial as this. It is to be hoped that Mrs. Rowland is but the first fruits of many to follow.

After a brief stay in Boston for purchases needing early shipment, Mr. and Mrs. Rowland will return to Middlebury, they expect to leave for their missionary field in October.

PERSONAL.

Phil B. Stewart of Middlebury was voted the handsomest man in his class at Yale, according to the New York Evening Post.

The father and uncle of Hon. Levi P. Morton were graduates of Middlebury, and his father was pastor of the only church in Shoreham 70 years ago or more, being known through all the region as "Priest Morton." Here, in the title story and one-half paragonage still standing Levi P. Morton was born.

Middlebury fares very well at the hands of the Cleveland administration. Three of its natives, born within half a mile of each other and all graduates of the college, have received appointments to diplomatic positions. They are Hon. E. J. Phelps, minister at the court of St. James; Hon. Wm. Slade, consul at Brussels, and D. N. Burke, consul at Puerto Cabello, Venezuela.

OBITUARY.

LOYAL W. STOWE.

Loyal W. Stowe was born in New Haven March 15, 1814, and died June 21, 1886, of pneumonia, after an illness of fifteen days. His father, Moses Stowe, came from Massachusetts in 1792 and located upon Town Hill, upon the same premises where the subject of this sketch was born, spent nearly his entire life and died. Loyal W. was one of a large family, of which three brothers and one sister, Mrs. Eleeta Wright of Weybridge, yet remain, the latter being the only survivor living in Vermont. Stowe's educational opportunities were limited, yet his good sense, fairness and sturdy integrity secured to him honorable recognition by his townsmen. He was called to most of the various town offices, represented his town in 1848-9, was county commissioner for three years and director of the like term for Addison county of the Vermont Mutual fire insurance company. His most prominent characteristic in public matters was independence of thought and action. No man in the whole community was less of a "polley" man.

In 1836 he was married to Jane C. Munger, who, with their only child, Mrs. E. A. Doid, survives. In 1858 he publicly espoused his savior, uniting with the church, gave evidence of his sincerity by his attendance upon, and support of, the religious interests of the parish. Mr. Stowe's interest in the practical questions of life, in moral or business never lessened, but even permitting the rapidly increasing toebleness of age to deter him from vigorously prosecuting the matters he had in hand, his motto—to be as he is, and it is better to wear out than rust out.

Thus the old landmarks disappear—and they will be missed.

A CARD.

For the assistance and sympathy extended to us by neighbors and many other friends, in loving words and kind deeds, during the sickness and last sad rites attending the loss of our departed husband and father, we desire to express our very great sense of obligation. Our gratitude is also due to those whose thoughtful kindness prompted the gift of beautiful flowers in great profusion, also to the singers whose sweet strains tended so much to soften the bitter grief of that occasion. May the Lord reward you all.

Mrs. JANE C. STOWE,
Mrs. E. A. DOID.

Lactated Food
FOR INFANTS AND INVALIDS

THE SAFEST FOOD
IN SUMMER

For YOUNG or DELICATE CHILDREN.

A Sure Preventive of Cholera Infantum.

It has been the positive means of saving many lives, having been successful in hundreds of cases where other prepared foods failed.

Its basis is SCALAR OF MILK, the most important element of mother's milk. It contains no unchangeable starch and no cane sugar, and therefore does not cause sour stomach, irritation, or irregular bowels.

For Invalids deprived of mother's milk, or when weaning, it is unequalled.

For Invalids, either in chronic or acute diseases, it restores digestion, and builds up the strength. It is

The Most Nourishing,
The Most Palatable,
The Most Economical,
Of All Prepared Foods.

Sold by Druggists—25c., 50c., $1.00.

An interesting pamphlet entitled "Medical Opinions on the Nutrition of Infants and Invalids," free on application. Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. 24

Neurotic Oil.

The Greatest Remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pains and Aches, Internal and External.

THE KING OF LINIMENTS.

Whitcomb, Vt., April 28, 1886.

NEUROTIC OIL CO.—Gentlemen: I have been troubled with Rheumatism for a number of years, and have spent a great deal of money for different remedies, have not been able to get relief until I used Neurotic Oil. It has done wonders for me. Yours truly,
BENJ. F. CHARLES.

Winooski, Vt., April 28, 1886.

NEUROTIC OIL CO.—Gentlemen: I have been troubled with Sciatica for a long time. After using Neurotic Oil, I was immediately relieved. I recommend it as the best of all liniments. Yours respectfully,
ALLEN STONE.

Burlington, Vt., March 6, 1886.

NEUROTIC OIL CO.—Gentlemen: I have been a great sufferer from Neuralgia for a number of years. I was induced by a friend to try Neurotic Oil, and it gave me immediate relief. I also recommend it for burns and sore throat. Respectfully,
MRS. W. M. POTTER.

Winooski, Vt., April 28, 1886.

NEUROTIC OIL CO.—Gentlemen: For over twenty years I have suffered with Rheumatism, and at times have been unable to be about for six or eight weeks. I had a severe attack not long since and very fortunately tried Neurotic Oil. It helped me at once, and I can heartily recommend it as the greatest Rheumatic Remedy of the age.
MAY A. AUSTIN.

From the Foreman of Burlington Water Works, January 29, 1886.

NEUROTIC OIL CO.—Gentlemen: This winter while in discharge of my duty at the Water Works, I received a severe cold while closing a window. I caught cold at the time, which caused the wound to swell and pain me severely, causing me sleepless nights. Hearing of Neurotic Oil, I gave it a trial, and after using two bottles I call myself cured. I have since used it for a severe bruise and strain and find it to be the King of Liniments.
Yours truly,
JOEL W. THOMAS.

Burlington, Vt., March 16, 1886.

NEUROTIC OIL CO.—Gentlemen: One application of Neurotic Oil on a broken arm has convinced me that you do not claim too much for it, and the relief is so soon that it seems to be possessed of a magical power.
Respectfully yours,

MARBLE QUARRY

FOR SALE!

THE ADDISON MARBLE CO. being about to dissolve their corporation, have authorized the undersigned to sell their Quarry Property in MIDDLEBURY, VT.

This quarry is located on a lot of 25 acres or more, and contains a vein of equal or superior to any produced in the United States or Italy, and furthermore as to its quality we would refer to the celebrated

STATUARY MARBLE

STATUE of "VICTORY."

In the Boston Latin School, as a sample of what this vein produces, and which was cut from a block 3' x 4' x 6'.

Proposals will be received up to July 1, 1886, and if not sold at that date, will be sold at public auction after due notice.

By calling on Mr. E. J. Mathews, whose farm adjoins the quarry, he will show the property.

AN INCREASE

Of 10 1-2 Lbs. of BUTTER

In One Week!

This is to certify that I commenced June 2nd to weigh my milk and set it in large pans; I set 1373 lbs. of milk, from which I made 54 1-2 lbs. of butter.

On June 9th I commenced setting my milk in a Cooley Creamer for one week; I set 1373 lbs. of milk and made 65 lbs. of butter, making 10 1-2 lbs. more by the Cooley than by the large pans.

I milk equal to 10 average cows.
