Penstar Racin-oil.
(Aromatized Castor Oil.)

Castor oil would be given to children and taken by adults much more frequently if it were not for its nauseous taste and unpleasant after effects. It is without doubt one of the best all around laxatives at our command both for children and older persons.

Penstar Racin-oil is castor oil with the unpleasant taste entirely removed and all of its virtues left in. It is a pure castor oil combined with harmless aromatic substances which completely cover the original taste and make it pleasant to take and easily retained by the most delicate stomach. With Penstar Racin-oil at your command there is no necessity or excuse for ever giving or taking a dose of ordinary castor oil again. Remember it when you are looking for a safe, effective and pleasant cathartic for the baby. Price 25 cents. For sale at Dutton's Pharmacy.

MIDDLEBURY LOCALS.

News has been received here that Frank Parrow, who recently underwent a second operation at a Burlington hospital, is in a serious condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Ashley and Miss Florence Ashley of Meriden, Conn., are in town for a stay of two weeks with relatives.

Mrs. William R. Branshaw and her sister, Mrs. Susan Hardwick of Providence, R. I., are visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Mumford and Charles Lamorder have returned from Vergennes where they were called by the illness of Mrs. Charles Miller.

The funeral of Mrs. Merritt Hurd took place from her late home at Bridport Tuesday afternoon, prayers being offered by Rev. Mr. Bold. Mrs. Hurd's body was brought to Bridport from Florida, where she went last fall to spend the winter.

The Boy Scouts will hold their next meeting in the vestry of the local Congregational church.

The condition of Mrs. Mary Bitney, who was taken suddenly ill on College street on Tuesday morning is improved.

Mrs. George Shambo is sick at her home on High street with the grip.

Prof. Raymond McFarland of the college will deliver a lecture at the Congregational church at Brandon on his experiences during his trip in Labrador a year ago.

Frank S. Havens, superintendent of construction for the new gymnasium at the college, has returned from a business visit at Saranac Lake, N. Y.

Col. James M. Tracy has so far recovered from the injury that he received from a fall on the ice a week ago that he was able to resume his duties in the Benedict store Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Wimet have returned to their home in Fowler after a few days' visit with relatives here.

Mrs. C. F. Harrington of Port Henry, N. Y., who has spent the past ten days with relatives in this town and Brandon, returned to her home Monday.

A shed adjoining the house of George Steele on Mill street collapsed on Tuesday night caused by the heavy fall of snow and sleet. The premises were unoccupied and had been for some time. The occupants of the Steele house were badly frightened, but no one was hurt.

Notices have been posted in the various departments of the Graded school building warning pupils to refrain from throwing snow balls in the street on their way to and from school. The practice of the boys in this respect has for a long time been an intolerable nuisance and should be suppressed if possible.

Tuesday was the 24th anniversary of John Morcomb's birthday and in the evening a lot of his friends gathered at the home of his parents on College street and gave him a surprise party. Choice refreshments were served and the evening passed very pleasantly with instrumental music and games.

March 27 is the date set for the meeting arranged by Highway Commissioner Gates at Middlebury. This meeting is called for the purpose of getting all the road commissioners to meet with the state highway commission and to come to an understanding of the new laws regarding highways and the best manner of treating the different road problems.
