

THE BEAVER HERALD.

VOL. XIX.

BEAVER, BEAVER COUNTY, OKLAHOMA TERRITORY, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1905.

NO 26

LOCAL NEWS.

M. D. Hubbard returned to Gate Monday after a week spent in our city.

Harry Hanson, who has been suffering with a severe attack of tonsillitis, is slowly recovering.

A little daughter of Mrs. Gracy is reported as being quite sick with pneumonia.

Mrs. R. H. Looftbourrow has been suffering with a severe cold the past week but is now improved.

Miss Densie Printz is spending the week in town at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Blanchard.

Having the only abstracts in the county, with years of experience, Walter C. Frazer is the only one here competent to make reliable abstracts.

Miss Ella Baker made an official visit in the vicinity of Riverside Wednesday. She went down to appraise some school property.

J. W. Culwell was absent from Beaver several days this week transacting business southwest of town. He returned home Tuesday.

Show us the person who is free from a cold these days and we will show you a lucky individual. Everybody carries a bottle (of cough remedy of course.)

J. D. Niles, Sr., of Harper, Kansas, arrived in Beaver Saturday on a visit to his son and to make residence on his homestead.

If you haven't the money and want to prove up on your claim see W. G. FIELDS & Co., Beaver, Okla.

Views, portraits, medallion, buttons, liniments and all kinds of photographs furnished by patrons. Call soon, while I am here. J. M. Eckles, Beaver, Okla.

Miss Laura Tooley, of Hibbs, who has been spending the past several weeks at the home of A. G. Thomas and wife, returned home this week to spend the holidays.

Mrs. Annie L. Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Thomas, arrived from Green Ridge, Missouri, Tuesday for an extended visit with relatives here.

I will remain in Beaver City only as long as work is brisk, so will not delay and get pictures of yourself and dear ones. J. M. Eckles, Beaver, Okla.

MONEY TO LOAN. On decided lands or to prove up on your claim W. G. FIELDS & Co., Beaver, Okla.

Walter Stallings and Mr. Mitchell, of Pronto, came up to Beaver last week and remained over Saturday. Mr. Mitchell took home a new buggy which he purchased while in the city. He also took one down for Mr. Sternburg.

L. C. and N. B. Denman, of Nabisco, were in Beaver several days the past week looking after some school business for their district. Mr. N. B. Denman is a piano agent and was looking up business in this locality while here.

Mrs. F. P. Madison returned from Wichita Saturday at which place she has been to purchase goods for their big holiday trade. She states that she ordered a big stock and such a large assortment that everybody can find something to suit.

Having disposed of the 500 numbers given with shoes, the drawing will take place at 2 o'clock, Saturday p. m., December 16, 1905. J. W. Webb.

F. C. Tracy and wife are the proud parents of a charming little daughter, who came to their house Thursday, December 14th, at 12 o'clock m. The mother and child doing well but Fred's case is hopeless.

The many friends of Miss Maude Stallings were glad to note that she was able to be out last week. The Herald office acknowledges a pleasant call. Miss Maude has been laid up the past three weeks as the result of having run a nail in her foot.

When final judgment has been passed by the Courts, how many land titles will stand the test? Have them examined and abstracts made by the reliable abstractors, Macy & Ogilvie. They will do your work promptly and accurately.

Beaver begins to look quite afflicted with the sign boards in such prominence. The front fence of T. D. Shelton's feed yard has been adorned with flourishing signs of F. P. Madison's establishment and Shelton's livery.

August Reimer purchased a new buggy the other day. It went back quite natural to see Mr. Reimer come to town in any other vehicle than the old spring wagon in which he has made the trip so many times for the past sixteen years.

Will Stafford, who has been absent from Beaver for the past several weeks having purchased a bunch of horses in the vicinity of Kenton, returned to Beaver last week bringing the horses with him. He hopes to dispose of the same at a good figure.

Arthur Shillingberg, who has a fine farm on the North Flat, left yesterday for his old home in Woods county where he goes to spend the Christmas holidays. He went by way of Woodward, going that far with J. W. Culwell, who goes to Woodward on land business.

John Meiling, our up-to-date butcher, is building quite a convenient slaughtering pen down on the river bottom and is preparing in various ways to take care of his increasing business. Beaver was long in need of a good butcher, but they found such a one in Mr. Meiling.

Mother Hanson came past the Herald office the other day and said something about "chicken." We instantly looked so hungry that that good old soul took pity on us and invited us down to dinner. We went and such a dinner! Well, when it comes to cooking "Mother" knows how it is done.

Milton Todd and Lindsay Wright, who have been at St. John, Kansas, for some time engaged in carpentering, returned to their home at Fulton, via Beaver, the latter part of the week. They are undecided yet as to whether they will return to St. John but rather expect to remain in Beaver county.

Mrs. W. H. Thomas and Mrs. Nettie Brown, who have been in Kansas City and Sedalia, Missouri, the past three weeks, returned home Tuesday night. Mrs. Brown received treatment for deafness in her left ear while away and was materially benefited by the treatment. They both came home much improved in health.

T. L. Floyd, the popular liveryman of Beaver, was in Tyrone Monday.—Tyrone Observer. The Observer man is only about two years behind the times but that is doing very well for Tyrone. Mr. Floyd sold his interest in the livery business at Beaver about two years ago. At present he is serving in the capacity of deputy county treasurer.

H. D. Peckham has been appointed a member of the school board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of L. M. Larsen. Mr. Larsen has made a good officer but owing to the fact that he would not be at home for some time he resigned and Mr. Peckham was appointed in his place. Hiram will make the right man in the right place and will look after the interests of our schools.

"It's better to be born lucky than rich." Yea verily, but we never believed so much in that theory until Monday evening when Miss Ella Baker came into our sanctum and informed us that fresh oysters were to be fried at her home that evening and invited us to partake. "It's needless to say that we were 'Johnny on the Spot' and did full justice to the oysters as well as the other choice viands set before us.

Frank Laughlin is prepared to tell all those who ask him, that advertising pays and pays well at that. Two weeks ago he advertised a bunch of cattle for sale, in the Herald. He received replies from various parts of the county, but the replies did not stop there. He received word from parties in Michigan, also in Oklahoma City, who wanted to purchase stock. He has disposed of his entire herd except the yearling heifers and calves. Oh yes, it pays to advertise when you advertise in the medium that reaches the people, and the Herald is the one that does that.

A letter from Clyde Williams, of Tusculum, Ala., enclosing the price of subscription to this sheet, stated that he is getting (Long) fine and inquires after the welfare of his many Beaver friends. Mr. Williams will be remembered as book-keeper of the Bank of Beaver City during the "period of oppression." However no one business him with any part of the crookedness of the affair and he is a capable hand with the books. At present he is assisting his father with the work in the Tax Collectors office.

Beaver is always wide awake looking for business and no festive occasions go by uncelebrated. At stated times in the spring and fall for about a month, everybody is "getting ready for Court." Then comes the Fourth of July, Normal, Thanksgiving, Christmas, etc., each receiving its due amount of consideration. Just at the present time everybody is busy "getting ready" for Christmas and nobody has time to spare. What if Mrs. So-and-so did call on Mrs. What-you-may-call-it? She only did so to procure her latest recipe for Fruit cake or Plum pudding and not to exchange any friendly greetings. Oh, Beaver is a busy place but a good place to live in anyway.

H. P. Garrett, the telephone man, was busily engaged this week putting in a line connecting C. M. Mansfield's residence and barber shop. The telephone has become almost an absolute necessity and ere long every home in Beaver will be fitted with the service. What is needed now is a consolidation of all the lines and a good switch board unit. This is the only manner in which satisfactory service can be obtained. The block switches do very well where there is but few phones on the lines but where the number is great the service is unsatisfactory. It wouldn't be a bad investment for some individual to purchase the line and put in the switchboard.

Mrs. Alice McCool received, several days ago, $1,000.00 from the Modern Woodman of America, insurance of Harry C. McCool. The head claim was very prompt in allowing the claim and the thousand dollars sent the beneficiary of one and a half months' salary. One who is in much need of the amount. An insurance in a fraternal organization like the Modern Woodmen costs little in comparison with old line companies and one knows when he pays his assessments that the money is going to help some needy one. No princely salaries and no graft in this lodge. The beneficiary members amount to three-quarters of a million, and sometimes as much as a million dollars is paid out in one month. It tends all such secret orders in membership.—Kenton News.

Food made with alum baking powder carries alum to the stomach unchanged. Scientists have positively demonstrated this and that such food is partly indigestible and unhealthful.

Teachers' Association.

The second meeting of the Beaver County Teachers' Association was not so largely attended as the former one but an interesting program was carried out by those in attendance. It is to be hoped that the teachers of this district will make it a point to attend each meeting of the association. Miss Baker, county superintendent, has something to say to the teachers in another column, along this line.

Former Beaverite Married.

Mr. May D. Foxberger and Miss Maude M. Fox were united in marriage on Thanksgiving day at high noon at the residence of the bride's parents, Rev. Morton of the Baptist church officiating.

The above from the Clayton (N. Mex.) Enterprise is clipped on account of the bride being a former resident of Beaver county and Beaver. Miss Maude Fox will be remembered by many Beaver people, they having resided at old Beaton for a number of years, afterward moving to Beaver and were the first owners of the White House hotel having built the same. Miss Maude is a very charming young lady and had a host of warm friends in Beaver all of whom join the Herald in wishing her much happiness.

LAUNCH ON THE SEA OF MATRIMONY.

License was issued Saturday for the marriage of Miss Eva Ogilvie and Daniel R. Conley, both of Conroy, and the ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, T. L. Ogilvie, Sunday evening, December 10th. This newly married young couple have many friends in this section and those who extend them congratulations and wish them unbounded happiness. The bride is a niece of Register of Deeds Ogilvie.

LYONS—STAGE.

Allen Lyons and Miss Rosa Stage were the contracting parties in a wedding which occurred at the Thompson House Saturday of last week. Judge H. D. Meese performed the ceremony. The young people are new residents of the county, residing in the vicinity of Dombey.

TO THE TEACHERS OF BEAVER COUNTY.

I am much disappointed in the attendance at the Teachers' Association held at Beaver last Saturday. Now, teachers, your cause can't get any attendance at these meetings, and whether your name is placed on the programme or not we want you to be present. We expect all to take part in the programme.

You should not stop to take into consideration the value of a few paltry dollars if you have the welfare of your school at heart. You have made a written contract with your school boards; you have given your word to them; don't you intend to keep your promise? That is a part of your contract just as much as drawing your salary.

Of course, should the weather be very severe so you could not come, you would have a reasonable excuse, but you are allowed the time by your school boards in which to get here and if sickness does not prevent, we will expect to see you here at our next meeting which will be held here at Beaver on the second Saturday in January 1906.

Very Respectfully, ELLA BAKER, County Supt.

OBITUARY.

Elizabeth M. Green was born near Rushville, Ill., July 17th, 1829, and died in Beaver county, Oklahoma, November 11th, 1905, aged 82 years, three months and 25 days.

She was first married to Andrew Blackley, by whom she had one son, William, who still resides in Rushville, the husband dying on an overland trip to California.

On May 6th, 1849, she was united in marriage with James P. Beatty. To this union was born five sons and one daughter. One son died in infancy and the daughter died in 1867. Her aged husband, five sons and numerous other relatives remain to mourn her loss. Four sons reside in Rushville, Illinois, and one, J. E. Beatty, in Beaver county, Oklahoma.

On October 6th, 1894, she, with her husband, came to Oklahoma to make their home with their son.

On November 8th she was taken sick, from which she never entirely rallied, but was able to be about part of the time; but for some weeks past she had not seemed so well, although her family felt no alarm.

On the morning of her death, about 5 a. m., she was stricken with paralysis of the brain, remaining unconscious until death, which came at 7:30 p. m.

She was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal church when a small girl and held her membership there until about middle age, when she went with her husband into the M. E. Church South; but later in life she removed her membership back into the Methodist Episcopal church, where it still remains.

She was ever a devoted Christian, a kind and loving wife and mother, ever ready to do all in her power for her family and friends; and always ready to lend a helping hand wherever help was needed.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the home, conducted by Rev. Hallmark, attended by a large company of sympathizing friends and neighbors.

The remains were laid to rest in the Fincher cemetery.

A FRIEND.

By an oversight last week we failed to mention the entertainment given by the pupils of the primary grade of our schools. The entertainment was such a unique little affair that it deserves mention hence our account at this late date. Invitations written with white ink on paper pumpkins were issued and the children were carefully drilled in the work by their able teacher, Miss Ogilvie. Considering that less than a week had been devoted to the preparation the children acquitted themselves admirably and the entire program was enjoyed by the many visitors who attended. The "Waters' Song" by several little girls was especially good as was also the "Topsy-Turvy Song." Aside from their regular school work, the children are receiving valuable instruction along literary lines and this is something for which the parents should be especially grateful. It is no small task to drill a class of little ones but the efficient manner in which Miss Ogilvie handles the work shows that she is equal to any emergency and is thoroughly capable of handling any line of the work.

Isn't it strange that—while the Guy-mon Herald has supported democrats in times past; while the Beaver Herald supported one lone democrat in the past campaign; while the Beaver Journal supported the whole democratic ticket in the last campaign, by issuing a side issue as a democratic paper; while several prominent republicans bolted the republican convention and supported a third ticket; while several prominent republicans became candidates on a third ticket; yet at the republican love feast and harmony meeting, all of these bolters were forgiven and invited into the fold again, with the one exception of the Beaver Herald, whose greater sin was that it stood in the way of J. S. Fischer's appetite for pie, and therefore had to be crucified.

John Savage introduced the resolution which declared the Beaver Herald not to be worthy of Republican support, because we had at one time supported a Democrat. Yet John Savage never voted for a Republican in his life, if he thought he could gain an advantage by supporting a Democrat, and at this time is acting as deputy to a Democratic sheriff.

WITH the brand of shoes you have been wearing, come in and let me fit your feet with a pair of "SELZ" Shoes.

SELZ SHOES do not rip across the toes. You are at liberty to cut open any Selz Shoe in my entire line and if the uppers do not extend to the end of the toe, they won't cost you a cent. This is a proposition that very few manufacturers will permit their dealers to make.

Many stores handle one brand of shoes for a few months, possibly a year, and when you are dissatisfied with the brand, they have some other line for you to experiment with. I have been selling SELZ shoes in Beaver for six years, and this fall have a larger line than ever before. If I can sell you one pair, I know you will come again.
