Readers Ask More About Cooper.

Interest Taken in the Account of His Work Printed in this Paper Last Week.

Demand for the Cooper Remedies at F. C. Tracy's Drug Store Causes Much Comment.

In the past several weeks the famous Cooper Remedies have been in such quantities that far surpass any ever introduced here. Mr. Tracy, the local agent, says he has never handled remedies that have been so popular. There seems to be an abatement to the interest displayed by local people in the work of the Cooper Remedies, the following of which is from the Journal City:

In the past two weeks hundreds of testimonials have been sent to Cooper's headquarters. The Drug Company, 150 State street, Chicago, the following of which is from the Journal City:

The recent callers were Mrs. Stanley, living at 713 Washington street. She told her story in a convincing manner, and many who stood around her, in all she had to say in praise of Cooper's Remedies. She said:

"I had the most complicated case. Mr. Cooper has had to deal with me for some time. I was troubled with both deafness and stomach complaints. I don't know of anything had anything to do with the other, but I do know that many patent medicine preparations have not resulted. I was so deaf I could not hear a clock tick and my stomach was in such a wretched state that I could not enjoy a meal."

"I was very nervous and could hardly sleep. I had a roaring noise in my ears and dancing spots before my eyes. My head was very bad and weak."

"One day I heard about the Cooper Remedies and decided to try it. I have ordered my fourth bottle and improvement in my case has been wonderful. My nerves have been quieted, my hearing is much improved, and I feel like a new woman."

"I cannot say too much for those wonderful remedies, for they have made me well again, so that I may now enjoy life like I used to before I was sick."

Among the many callers yesterday was Mr. George P. Lintz, 300 Center street, who had been a sufferer from stomach trouble for many years. He said:

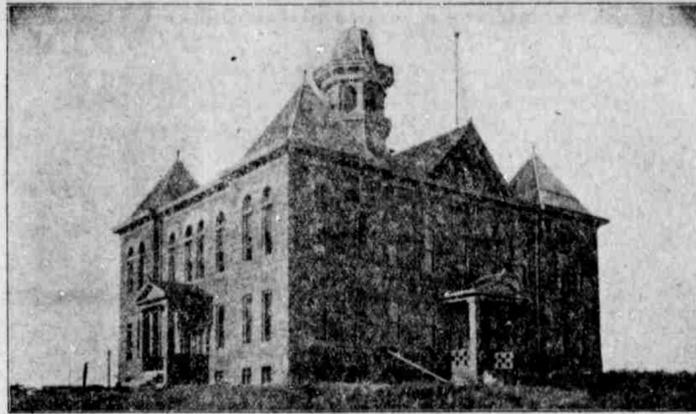

"I suffered several years from indigestion and stomach trouble. At times I was very weak and nervous, had dizzy spells, headache and felt tired and miserable nearly all the time. Sleep at night gave me no strength and I was always tired in the morning. My appetite was also impaired; once in a while I could eat a good meal, but most of the time I had no desire for food."

"One day I saw the advertisement of Cooper and read of his remedies. I went at once to get the medicine, and after I had taken a few doses I was relieved of an enormous tapeworm. Now I know what caused my suffering. My stomach feels easy now, as if a great weight had been removed, and my health improved rapidly. I have a good appetite and am completely restored in strength."

"I am very thankful to Mr. Cooper for all that his medicine has done for me, and I heartily recommend it to all persons who feel exhausted, and are probably troubled as I was."

"It has done all that has been claimed for it in my case and has helped me where all other medicines failed."

Hundreds of people are daily calling to see Mr. Cooper with the same story of restored health, strength and happiness, which only proves that all that has been said and written about the medicine is undoubtedly true.

Receive New Piano.

The Beaver school is the proud possessor of a new Vose piano which was received last week, and which will be a great factor in our schools from many standpoints.

The piano fund was first created through the energy of those able teachers, Mrs. Lillian Hauser and Miss Daisy Oyler, now Mrs. Claude Blanchard, during their work here two years ago. The good work then begun has since been pushed by our present teachers and the long-talked-of piano has at last become a reality. However, a considerable amount is still due on this instrument and this indebtedness our efficient corps of teachers hope to liquidate. Each one, then, should feel it a privilege to assist whenever possible in any move that they may make to accomplish this.

Failed to Get Evidence.

In the case of the Territory vs. Otto Lohstroh which was heard Monday and in which Lohstroh was charged with selling liquor, the Territory failed to produce evidence sufficient, to convict defendant and the case was dismissed. The witnesses, on their sworn oath, testified that they never purchased liquor from defendant or anybody else but when they required the stuff found (?) in hay-stacks, mangers, buggies, sage bushes, etc. Well, maybe they did, but whisky usually costs money and the fellow who distributes it so freely must surely have plenty of money and can afford to send "silver dollars sailing away to the moon."

Primary Pupils Render Program.

The little tots in the primary grades of the city schools, gave a very interesting program last Friday afternoon, under the able direction of their teacher, Miss Mae Maple.

A number of the patrons of the school and others attended the exercises and pronounce the afternoon's entertainment a pleasant one and a credit to both teacher and pupils.

Messdames Stone and Mansfield have rented the White House hotel and are having it thoroughly renovated after which they propose to conduct the same as a lodging house. We also understand that they will put in an up-to-date stock of millinery and notions. We welcome these genteel ladies and hope that their business venture may prove both pleasant and profitable.

The business men of Beaver have made up their minds to have a railroad if they have to build it themselves. They figure they can reach the Rock Island with a mile 40 miles long that will cost $8,000 per mile to build or $320,000. They figure that it will advance all farm property for six miles on either side, so generally that every farmer can take $100 in stock. 320 men can build the line at that rate and many can pay for their stock in work. The grading will all be light, and the ties and rails are the chief cost.—Kenton News.

Beaver Post Office Robbed

Safe Blowed With Nitro-Glycerine and Contents Stolen.

Thief Escapes and as Yet, is Still at Large. Secured About $500.00

The long-expected has happened. A bold robbery has occurred in Beaver. Friday night of last week some one of creation without the fear of man or God in his heart, entered the postoffice at this place, and blew the safe with nitro-glycerine, securing about $500.00 in currency, the contents of several registered letters and the blank draft book, together with some valuable papers belonging to Postmaster Thomas.

The robber secured entrance to the building by breaking the glass in the front door beside the lock and bar with which the door was secured, and reaching in unlocked the night latch and lifted up the bar, walking right in and making himself at home. He then proceeded to the safe and knocked off the combination knob by means of which he poured the nitro-glycerine inside the door. The explosion followed which tore the safe door asunder and shattered the glass in the front of the store to atoms. He then secured all the available money, stamps and registered letters, tearing the latter open and taking the currency they contained leaving the checks, etc., and when he had completed his depredations departed as deliberately as he entered, going out the front door and starting down the street.

Andy Mc Kew, night watch at the jail, heard the explosion and in company with a Mr. Freeman was standing in the shadow of Roberts & McKillips store waiting for the robber to appear. Just as he left the postoffice steps McKew called to him to halt. He turned quickly and ran east. McKew fired three shots after the fleeing man but each shot went wild and the robber escaped.

The alarm was given and soon a crowd was on the ground but the blackness of the night prevented pursuit until dawn. By that time the fugitive had made good his escape and not a clue could be found, up till this time the robber has not been apprehended but Uncle Sam spares nothing to bring such criminals to justice and there is yet hope of his being taken.

The total loss will probably amount to some $500.00 about $300.00 of which will fall on the shoulders of Postmaster Thomas. The damage to the building and safe will add at least another $100.00 making the night an expensive one to Uncle Sam, Postmaster Thomas and F. C. Tracy, owner of the building. The stamps, some several hundred dollars worth which were dropped in the haste to escape the shots of McKew and were recovered. Also some $4.00 or $5.00 of silver which was spilled when the robber stumbled over a pile of excelsior at the rear of the store, and fell.

Thus it is the long-expected and much talked of robbery has fallen to the lot of Beaver. The thief came, found us sleeping, blew up a safe and still couldn't wake us, or if we were awake, were afraid to get up. And why is it Beaver is so hard to rouse? Right here, let it be said, and we are sorry to say it, our ears are too accustomed to the sound of shots on the still night air. Why should Beaver rise up as one man upon such an alarm when 99 times out of a 100 it would only be the disturbance of some drunk or rowdy? If the proper order was maintained then we might be on our guard but with all sorts of disturbances and men walking the streets all hours of the night with no reasonable excuse for doing so how can Beaver be blamed for her conduct on this occasion?

How many heard the commotion that eventful Friday night yet slept on satisfied it was some drunken rowdy or some of the "kindergarten" who ought to be at home lulled to sleep turned over mother's checked apron and padded with proverbial slipper, but who were displaying some of their usual "bad man" qualities?

Of course the robbery has been committed but there may be times to come and we should be more on our guard. We would suggest that the city take action to maintain more quietude at night. A law compelling men who are on the street after 11 o'clock p. m., to give an account of themselves would not be bad and make a good stiff penalty for boisterous noises, shooting, etc. after nightfall.

8 1-2 Pound Turnips.

D. L. Manning, who has a fine farm near Beaver, thinks he can raise turnips second to none, no matter where produced and as evidence, left a couple of huge specimens at the Herald office Wednesday. The turnips on exhibition at this office weigh 8 1/2 and 7 1/2 pounds and were raised on upland where it is 100 feet to water. These two were not the only big ones Mr. Manning produced either. He has a big patch and they are all about the size of the sample brought us. Mr. Manning challenges anyone to produce bigger turnips than his and says if they can do so he will take down his shingle otherwise he claims to be Turnip King of Beaver county.

Duggan-Stafford.

Miss Kate Duggan and Will Stafford had some very important business at Guymon last week and "pulled the wool over the eyes" of their Beaver friends at a great rate.

Mr. Stafford returned to Beaver Friday but Miss Kate Duggan will never return. Her friends will not mourn for her however for Mrs. Will Stafford greatly resembles the said young lady, and has promised to take her place in Beaver's social circles.

The wedding occurred at Guymon Thursday October 31st. Both of these young people have many friends who join the Herald in congratulations.

Has Honorable Appointment.

C. H. Tyler received this week from Governor Frantz an appointment as delegate to the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress which meets at Muskogee, November 19-22.

In his appointment the Governor said: "It is my intention to confine the appointments to representative business men. Knowing of your interest in public affairs I hereby appoint and commission you." The appointment was a good one and it is hoped Mr. Tyler may be able to represent Beaver county at this important meeting.

Miss Dorothy Herron departed Sunday for a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Della Ballinger, of Anadarko, after which she will probably return to the west where she spent the past year.

An automobile caused considerable excitement on the streets of Beaver Wednesday afternoon. A party drove over from Liberal on business. They came into town slowly to avoid frightening horses but unfortunately a horse hitched to a buggy in front of Bullick & Co's broke loose and started to run away. O. J. Loofbourrow's team also scared and ran, running into another buggy and team. All of the teams were stopped before much damage was done. One of Mr. Loofbourrow's horses received a bad gash on the shoulder and the buggy they ran into was slightly damaged. Fortunately no more serious damage was done.
