Pleasant Surprises a Hostess May Set Before Her Guests.

There are many times when the housekeeper who expects company wants to set before her guests something that is a little different, but which she can make herself without the apparatus of a professional caterer. The recipes given below are easy to make for a person of average knowledge of cookery, and do not require so much effort that the hostess need tire herself. They are not too elaborate, but depart from those of the cook

Pineapple Eggs.-Soak the contents of half a box of gelatine in water and when dissolved add a cupful of grated nineapple (canned or otherwise), and the juice of one lemon, a cupful of boiling water, and a cupful of sugar: strain and set away to harden. As soon as the hardening process begins, whip quickly with an eggbeater and fold in the whites of five eggs. Mold in eggshells and serve in any fanciful

Ice Cream Cake.-Cream two cups of sugar with one of butter, add a cupful of sweet milk, 31/2 cupfuls of flour, and the whites of nine eggs; stir in two scant teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and bake in jellycake pans. Spread each layer with a boiled icing, seasoned with the juice and rind of one

English Tart.-Line a deep pie plate with a rich crust and fill with gooseberry preserves, sprinkling a little flour over the top. When baked cover with a maringue or with whipped cream, sweeten to taste, and set on German Dumplings.

Remove the crust from two or three small stale rolls and cut the crumbs into small pieces. Lay the crusts aside. Put the crumbs into a basin and pour over them enough boiling milk to nearly cover. Soak 10 or 15 minutes, and then press, to remove superfluous milk. Put over the fire and stir with a spoon until hot, but net scorched. Push back and season with salt and pepper. Cut a half pound of bacon into small pieces and fry with some of the crusts cut into dice. When done, add to the soaked bread, with two tablespoonfuls of butter cut in small pieces and enough beaten egg to bind the mixture without making too soft. It must be stiff enough to hold its shape when rolled into dumplings. Flour the hands freely and make the dumplings of equal size. Plunge into a saucepan of boiling water, cover tightly, and cook ten minutes without uncovering. Drain; put on a hot dish until ready to serve.

Meat Pasty for Lunch.

Put one pound of steak into a saucepan with an ounce of suet, and just a little water, not enough to cover it; cover closely and gently cook for about an hour; let it get cold, then cut up Into small dice and season rather highly with pepper and salt. Make some pastry with four ounces of butter, two ounces of lard, or cold bacon dripping, and eight ounces of flour; rub both butter and lard into the flour, add a teaspoonful of Borwick's baking powder, mix with cold water; roll out rather less than half an inch thick cut into rounds about six inches across, on one-half put some of the meat with a little gravy to moisten it; turn the other half over, press the edges. Bake in a brisk oven till the pastry is cooked.

Dry Curry.

Mince four onions; cut fowl or veal in small pieces, and fry in butter; add two tablespoonfuls of curry powder, and put all in a small stewpan. Rinse boiling water, and pour amongst the curry. Season with salt, cover closely and stew till tender. Add a tablespoonful of lemon pickle and two of cream. Stir, and boil five minutes. Serve with boiled rice round the dish, the curry in the center.

Raisine.

To make this famous French marimalade allow an equal weight of grapes and pears, cook in a little water until soft, then press through a colander to remove the seeds. 'Add the pears, cored and sliced, and simmer until thick, stirring almost constantly, When thick sweeten to taste, scald, strain through a colander and can.

A Mexican Dish.

into a baking dish put a layer of macaroni (after it has been thoroughly cooked in salted water), then a few spoonfuls of gravy from roast beef; cover with tomato catsup, then another layer of macaroni, gravy and catsup on top. Set in the oven to brown.

Sick Room Shade.

In the center of a common pie tin punch a hole large enough to slip over the gas jet, and drop in place right side up. It will not interfere in any way with lighting the gas, and will be found to shade the patient's eyes perfectly. It also allows sufficient light for nurse to attend to her duties.

Beef and Carrots.

Take one pound of round of beef and chop coarsely. Chop three carrots fine and cook with the meat in water just to cover until done. Season this with salt, pepper, butter and an onion grated. Thicken with a tablespoonful of flour, rubbed smooth with cold

Creamed Carrots on Steak.

OLD . FASHIONED "PINCH" BAG MOST CONVENIENT.

Buttons, Needles and the Little Odds and Ends of the Sewing Room Kept at Hand in This Receptacle.

For holding a few buttons, a paper of needles and a spool of thread or two there is nothing in the way of a bag that is more convenient that the old-fashioned "pinch" kind. It is large enough to serve as an ordinary traveling work bag and there are no drawing strings or ribbons to be bothered with. Nothing could be simpler than the flat mouth which closes itself and is pinched open. The "pinch" bag derives its name from this opening, which is fitted with two short, stiff whalebones. Ribbon is best to make the bag of. When silk by the yard is used seams must be turned and there is always more or less trouble in giving them a neat finish inside. Take a quarter of a yard of plain or flowered ribbon about three inches in width, or wider if liked, and trim both ends evenly. Flowered rib-bon of this width is something of a rarity, even on the bargain counter, with dainty floral patterns and a nar row satin edge. A white ground with pink flowers and a blue satin edge makes a dainty hag.

After the ends are evened turn them under for a narrow hem of the correct width to accommodate a strip of whalebone. Then hem this down with tiny stitches, using fine white cotton thread instead of silk. The cotton makes a firmer hem and shows less than the silk. The two hems should be turned on one side of the ribbon, the wrong side if there is any difference in the pattern or weave.

Use pure white whalebone, which comes in long strips and can be cut any length desired for the pinch top, or take two whalebone collar supports about three inches long. Cut two pieces to fit the hems. Make them just a fraction shorter than the width of the ribbon so that they will not punch through the ribbon afterward. If the whalebone strip is used soak it first in warm water, letting it remain in the water for 15 minutes or longer. This makes it cut easily. After the length is found and the whalebone cut, shave the blunt ends ever so little and cut them slightly round instead of perfectly square. Now slip! a bone through each hem, fold the strip of ribbon double with the tops meeting evenly, and whip the edges of the ribbon together with white cotton, and the bag is ready to use. Unless it is pinched the top will stay perfectly tight, holding any small articles. To open the bag hold the whalebone ends between the thumb and forefinger and press or pinch.

One may have several of these bags. a whole set of different sizes and different ribbons, or they may match. They will be found most convenient for holding small articles. Lace buttons can be kept in one bag, papers of needles in another, hooks and eyes or patent fasteners in a third, and so on until a bag is provided for everything and once put in order they will remain so.

A "pinch" bag will be found invaluable for keeping collar buttons, sleeve links and small lace pins within easy reach. There is no danger of their yet it can be found in a good quality | slipping out of the case.

Shadow Chemisette Has Come to Stay

To the necessarily economical majority, however, this covering up of one good thing with anther has a savoring of extravagance and, on the whole, it will be well to bolster up that impression. But as they stand, the shadow chemisettes are a fine inspiration, and a most welcome relief from their lingerie prototypes.

From the initial essay of veiling an all-over ivory lace with fine-tucked chiffon toned to the color of the gown. there has grown the veiling of one chiffon with another, the under out the frying pan with a teacupful of trimmed with ivory lace. And yet a further sten is the shadow corsage, the slight incidental matter that is now all that is exacted by the highwaist skirt.

BAG FOR SILVER TEA-POTS.

Article Saved from Scratches an Preserves Proper Luster.

The careful housewife, who takes a pride in her shining silver tea-pot, and who, perhaps, polishes it up her self to the last degree of brightness, must often be disappointed to find how quickly it grows dull and tarnished after it has been cleaned, and how often, too, it suffers from mysterious scratches, when it is not actually piece frock into an empire, but a good in use. A wise precaution, and one dear can be done along this line. CALLER LEFT IN A HUFF.

Innocent Thought of Business Man That Gave Serious Offense.

Two business men had been talking good naturedly the other day. Their conversation had reviewed a number of things, and a remark made by the proprietor as his caller was leaving brought up the subject of prosperity in a rather awkward way.

"Business with me has been a little dull of late. I've had only a few callers," he remarked.

The friend smilingly rejoined: "You'll have enough of them in a short time—prosperity's coming right along. Why," he added, emphatically, "the next time 1 drop around, instead of being able to chat with you for half an hour, there'll be so many people ahead of me that it'll take me two

INVALID'S SAD PLIGHT.

After Inflammatory Rheumatism, Hair Came Out, Skin Peeled, and Bed Sores Developed-Only Cuticura Proved Successful.

"About four years ago I had a very severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. My skin peeled, and the high fever played havoc with my hair, which came out in bunches. I also had three large bed sores on my back. I did not gain very rapidly, and my appetite was very poor. I tried many 'sure cures' but they were of little help, and until I tried Cuticura Resolvent I had had no real relief. Then my complexion cleared and soon I felt better. The bed sores went very soon after a few applications of Cuticura Ointment, and when I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment for my hair It began to regain its former glossy appearance, Mrs. Lavina J. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical traternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of their system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
