To Escape the Laugh.
Loie Fuller, the noted dancer, told at a luncheon at the Plaza a story about her class of dancing children.
"I gave the children a Christmas

"I have put in this pudding a coin, a little china doll and a button. Whoever gets the coin will be rich. Whoever gets the doll will be married before the year is out. But whoever gets the button will be an old maid."

"Well, the pudding disappeared rapidly, and the little girls soon found the coin and the china doll. But the button did not turn up. No one got the button. This amazed me.

"That night I said to my favorite

my room:
"I can't understand what became of that button. I put it in the padding myself."
"I'll tell you," the little girl confessed, turning rosy with confusion.
"I dot the button. But I didn't want everybody to laugh at me, tho I thwaled it." —St. Louis Globe Democrat.

A Hero In a Lighthouse.

For years J. S. Donahue, So. Haven, Mich., a civil war captain, as a lighthouse keeper, averted awful wrecks, but a queer fact is, he might have been a wreck, himself, if Electric Bitters had not prevented. "They cured me of kidney trouble and chills," he writes "after I had taken other so called cures for years, without benefit and they also improved my sight. Now, at seventy, I am feeling fine." For dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, they're without equal. Try them. Only 50cts. at Fred C. Tracy's.

Billy Sunday's 20 Things.

Evangelist "Billy" Sunday ended his six weeks' revival in Wichita this week. On the closing day a "free will offering" was collected, amounting to $10, 140. He made 5,245 converts. Just before leaving Wichita Mr. Sunday gave the Beacon this list of Twenty Things to Remember:

1. No man's character is any better than his word.
2. The man who starts out looking for trouble will not take a long journey.
3. You cannot tell the size of a man's character by the size of his tombstone.
4. You cannot tell by hearing a man yell amen just what he will do in a horse trade.
5. Everything that has set this world going Godward had its beginning in prayer.

6. No man ever moved this world one inch who didn't believe in something.
7. If you live to help others—others will live to help you.
8. The sun puts on mourning when a man and his wife quarrel.
9. Whenever you feel weak think how strong Christ is.
10. What God commands you to do he stands pledged to help you do.
11. There isn't any place in God's service for a coward.
12. Every life is a voice, speaking either for Christ or against him.
13. Size is not the only thing that reaches home base.
14. When a man treats his mule better than he does his wife the devil likes to hear him talk in church.
15. The surest way to make a boy worse is to tell him every day how bad he is.
16. A blow aimed at the devil sometimes hits a deacon square in the eye.
17. The slums is not the only place where the devil gets in his work.
18. If you hit the booze you can't hit the ball.
19. Don't knock the fellow who is climbing the ladder ahead of you.
20. Some day you will ride in the hearse at the head of the procession.
