MONEY TALKS

What will you do at 60?

It will depend on whether or not, by prudent foresight, you insure that your road will become easier as you go along. You may be doing hard labor at low wages, or you may have the assistance of a moderate capital, and enjoy a prosperous situation in which reasonable exertion brings large returns.

The way to this is by saving. Begin now. Interest paid on savings.

A $100,000 sanitarium for the treatment and cure of tuberculosis victims is to be built at Alamogordo, N. M. Treatment will be free to those who cannot afford to pay. The incorporators are Luther S. Powell, of Alva, Geo. H. Healy, of Beaver, and Dean Sherry, of Alamogordo. Mr. Powell will be the resident secretary.

Miss Orveta Quinn left for New Mexico last week on a visit to her sisters, Mrs. Jennie Fox and Nora Quinn.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wright, Mrs. Alma Brown, Miss Effie Katell, Miss Keith and Frank Peace made an auto trip Sunday to an all-day meeting at Garrett's school house.

THE NOMINATIONS AT CHICAGO.

The Republican and Progressive National Conventions, held in Chicago last week, spent the entire week trying to get together, but without results. The Progressives had but one choice for a presidential nominee—Theodore Roosevelt. The old line Republicans had a large number of "favorite sons" to choose from, but didn't get to a ballot until late Friday afternoon.

It had been understood for many hours by most of the delegates that there was no possible chance for the two parties to agree on a single candidate for both. Word got out that the Republican Convention was about ready to ballot on a candidate, and the Progressives immediately nominated Roosevelt by unanimous acclamation. In less than an hour afterwards the Republicans nominated Chief Justice Hughes as their candidate.

Notice of this action by the Republican convention was sent by special messenger to Justice Hughes, and he dispatched an answer back to the convention immediately accepting the great honor.

The Progressives notified Roosevelt of the action of the convention tendering him the nomination. Roosevelt had already heard of the nomination of Hughes. He answered the telephone notice by the same route. He thanked the convention for the proffered nomination but declined it, saying that under that present condition of affairs he could not accept it at that instant; but if the convention was not satisfied with his action, it could, if it thought it best, finish up its other business and adjourn, leaving the National Executive Committee still in session for a limited time. In the meantime he would study the situation in all its phases and bearings, and at the appointed time he would present his views to the Committee, and if it was still agreed to give him the nomination, he would then give his definite answer. This proposition was agreed to, and the Committee will remain in session until June 25th.

THEY STICK IN THE MUD

According to the latest reports the auto party consisting of Miss Maude O. Thomas, Miss Virginia Wickham, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laughrin, had reached Santa Fe, New Mexico, without any serious misadventure. Upon one occasion one of the cars stuck in the mud, but the other car was able to pull the unfortunate one out. With this exception the party is enjoying good health and a glorious outing.

The Marthas spent a very pleasant afternoon with Mrs. W. H. Robertson last Thursday, the meeting being a surprise in honor of little Miss Mauree, who was presented with a gold ring as a token of esteem from the society.

G. T. AYERS FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

County Superintendent G. T. Ayers again presents himself for nomination for the office of County Superintendent on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Ayers was born near Fairfield, Illinois, and received his education at that place, completing the grade and high school courses, and afterwards attending Harvard College at Quincy, Illinois. After completing his college course he engaged in school teaching, devoting his time during vacation to farming.

For two years he served in the capacity of a teacher in the Illinois State Reformatory, which ranks second in the United States among institutions of that kind. He resigned this position to accept a position as Train Auditor on the Rock Island, which position he filled creditably.

Seven years ago he came to Beaver County and took up some school land near Floris. During the seven years he has taught terms of school in this county, and has a clear record of past successes. He is one of our leading educators, and his services are always in demand.

His record as County Superintendent is without a flaw, in spite of the fact that he has had opposition amounting almost to persecution, yet never at any time has anyone been able to show that he has neglected his duty or been guilty of any overt act for which he could be criticised by any person of honest and open mind. Such an administration deserves the endorsement by the people for a second term. In addition to his ability and qualifications, Mr. Ayers is a Christian gentleman, honest, upright, sincere, without conceit, without guile, and it is such men as this that we need to fill all our public offices.

It is conceded that Mr. Ayers will be the Republican nominee, and it will require more than mere argument to convince his friends that he will experience any difficulty in defeating his democratic opponent, whoever that opponent may be.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Dr. Duncan, of Forgan, accompanied two of his patients to Beaver Tuesday. Dr. Levi operated on each of them, removing tonsils and adenoids. The operations were both successful. The patients were Raymond, son of H. H. Hartrouff, and Hazel, daughter of B. S. Dethick.

Claude Black, who was operated upon some three weeks ago by Dr. Levi, returned to his home, six miles east of Forgan, Tuesday. The operation has proven entirely successful and Mr. Black is rapidly regaining his strength.

Mrs. N. M. Lucas brought her daughter, Hazel, to the Beaver hospital Tuesday to receive treatment for eye trouble. Mrs. Lucas lives ten miles west of Forgan. She was accompanied by her neighbor, Mrs. G. B. Hinds.

YOUR CHANCE TO DRESS UP

Your attention is called to Feinberg's in this issue of the Herald and especially to one statement.

Mr. Feinberg's eastern buyer was recently fortunate in making some purchases in the eastern markets at special reduced prices. These purchases consisted chiefly of large lots of Men's and Boy's fine clothing, and the bulk of these goods was shipped to Beaver. In order that the store might not become too crowded it has been decided to continue their big clothing sale at reduced prices and, beginning Saturday June 17, this clothing will be placed on sale at what is ordinarily wholesale cost. This big sale will continue 13 days—until June 30th.

At least call at the store, whether you intend to buy or not, and meet the manager, Mr. Cooper. You will find him a pleasant and courteous gentleman, always ready to show you the stock and to do his utmost to see that you are pleased with the quality, the appearance and the price of your purchases.

AN EXPLANATION.

As everyone knows, the trains have not been running on the W. F. & N. W. for almost two weeks. As a result, THE HERALD has been confronted with the same proposition which confronts almost every business house in town—that of not being able to secure goods and material ordered several weeks ago.

The paper for this week's issue is held up somewhere between here and Wichita. Knowing this would be the case, we wired the paper house last Monday and had a duplicate shipment, shipped by express, to Liberal. We have made every effort to get this shipment to Beaver, but all efforts have been in vain. We delayed going to press until Friday morning, and still no paper. So we are issuing on the half-sheet, and are late.

A DEADLY MENACE.

There has been but very little warm weather this summer up to this time, and perhaps because of this, flies have not become so numerous as usual. Still there are plenty of them. Warm weather is coming soon, however, and then flies will appear in myriads. It is advisable to take precautions in advance and keep all premises as clean as possible. Trash and slops should not be allowed to stand in the house, neither should it be poured on the ground near the house. In fact, where possible, it is best to have a cess-pool, or to empty in some definite place and keep it disinfected with some dependable disinfectant.

After the flies are here we can swat them, catch them on fly paper and in traps, and fight them in other ways.

In order to be successful it is necessary that the entire town join in the fight against this spreader of disease and death. It is your duty to yourself and family, as well as to all other inhabitants of Beaver, to do your utmost to assist in making this a flyless town.

It may require a small outlay of cash to successfully fight this pest, but it is one of the best investments anyone ever made. The manner in which flies gather filth and disease germs and deposit them in food is almost too revolting to speak of. If every person could look at a fly's legs through a high-power microscope, each would become a convert and join the fly-swatting brigade without further delay.

It is the babies and smaller children that suffer the most, since their food is largely milk, and milk is one of the best (or worst) breeding places for germs, where it is exposed to flies.

There are a thousand ways in which flies carry germs, and the only way to protect ourselves is to use every available means to utterly destroy them.
