MARTIN PAINTER DIES
S. S. Strong and wife were called to Wichita last week on account of the illness of Mrs. Strong's brother, Martin Painter, who had undergone an operation for hernia and locked bowels at a Wichita hospital. Death came at the sufferer a few hours after the arrival of Mrs. Strong at his bedside but happily the ill man knew and recognized her.
Burial was made at Ramona, where the parents reside. Mr. Strong and wife returned home Monday night.

SATURDAY'S CROWD NIL
Saturday's usual crowd in Beaver was conspicuous by its absence last week. Only a few cars stood here and there on the streets which are customarily so crowded on Saturdays that the parking space is all taken and cars often stand three wide in the middle of the street. Those few people who did venture in were women for the most part, coming after supplies and to market cream, eggs and other produce. The men were all busy at home in the harvest fields.

"HEINIE" SIGNED

After all the palaver and play for time on the part of the unspeakable Hun, they were at last pointed to the dotted line and told that time was up to sign or not sign. They signed. Peace thereupon became a reality. Saturday, June 28, 1919, at 9 o'clock a. m., United States time, which it occurs to us, is about the only kind of time so far as the Hun is concerned, and had it been left entirely to the "Yanks," would have been a different kind of a time altogether for the Boche, for the Yanks were rarin' to go to Berlin last November and the disappointment of their lives was the signing of the armistice which prevented them nailing the Stars and Stripes to the topmost mast at Potsdam. With the signing of the Peace terms, the terrible World War was brought to a final end after five bloody years of devastation and plunder on the part of German. In that short cycle of time, short in point of time but long, oh so long, in suffering and death, Germany was brought down upon itself the condemnation and utter abnegation of the entire civilized world which it will take generations to remove if ever the blemish is blotted out. By their acts of cruelty and depravity they have made the name German repulsive to all while to those whose loved ones sleep in Flanders field or have been returned to them maimed in body, broken in spirit and but the shadow of the stalwart man who marched away, the feeling in the heart of those is akin to hate which we fear will never die. Germany has signed. Now they should be compelled to comply with the terms to the last letter. The whole world weeps and mourns because of their wanton reign. No penalty which they may be required to pay can be as hard as the burden they have floatingly heaped upon the innocent, suffering peoples of the lands who opposed their reign of terror and fought for liberty and justice. Let the Boche pay to the last ditch!

WHY NOT A BOOSTER TRIP?

It has been mentioned The Herald that we boost for a big Booster Trip to the eastern half of the state, showing the residents of that section what we can produce in the "Short Grass Country" and wake them up to the realization of the fact that Beaver county, which many of them are prone to underestimate, is in reality the Garden Spot of Oklahoma and the oasis of the Northwest. We are only too glad to do this as we are to boost for anything that is for the benefit of Beaver county, in particular and Oklahoma in general.

The plan suggested is that all the towns of Beaver county, whether located on the railroad or not, join together and charter a special train taking in other towns down the line that why wish to join, Rostown, Lawrence, May and other towns doubtless wishing to join, and gather together a display of our products to take along to show the residents of other parts of the state the possibilities of Beaver county and the Northwest. It is suggested that by all joining together the trip could be made without excessive cost to anyone and there is no question but that such a trip would be a wonderful advertisement of our resources and a great means of acquainting the people of other parts of the state with this section. The residents of this county and of Northwest Oklahoma know that this is the Garden Spot of the West but our splendid advantages are not advertised extensively outside and many, many people look upon this section as still being the home of range cattle, coyotes and wide areas of waste land, knowing nothing of our fine farm homes, our splendid schools and churches and of our sweeping acres of wheat, barley, rye, oats, and row crops, to say nothing of the fruit and garden products and the poultry farms, which in themselves are no small item.

Such a trip as suggested would unquestionably be a very desirable means of letting our development and resources be known. It can be arranged if some big public-spirited individual will take hold of it and push. What do you think of such a proposition? Who will take hold of the matter, communicate with the other towns and make the necessary arrangements? Let's go!

EDWIN GARDNER HOME FROM OVERSEAS

Edwin Gardner, brother of Under Sheriff E. B. Gardner, returned to Beaver Thursday night of last week, having recently returned from service overseas and received his discharge. Ed was certainly looking well and was in the best of spirits, glad to get back of course. He has a host of friends in Beaver and Beaver county, having lived here since a small lad, all of whom are more than delighted to have him return to our midst after his encounter with the Hun, many of which were bloody but from which he fortunately escaped without injury.

HOMER McKAY RETURNS TO BEAVER

After a sojourn overseas with Uncle Sam's expeditionary forces, Homer McKay returned to Beaver last week to again take up his residence permanently and to resume his former job with P. L. Thomas at the O. K. Barber Shop. Mrs. McKay, who has been spending the time during the absence of her husband with her father and sisters in Kansas, also returned. Both are delighted to return to the old home again and all missed them a most painful void.

EVERYBODY IN THE HARVEST FIELDS

Beaver is depopulated this week. Every available man and boy is in the harvest fields helping to take care of the bumper crop of wheat that is being harvested this week. Many who could leave their places of business have done so and are out helping the farmers garner in the golden grain. A number of those who went did so merely to help out in the emergency for help was scarce and every man able to handle the job was needed so that none of the grain might be lost. Such men deserve commendation for this act. It is not an easy job, this work of harvesting, and to the "soft" man from the street or from the place of business, not accustomed to the heat of the sun and the strenuous farm life, even the high wages would fall to lure in most instances, but they realized that the grain must be harvested and went willingly. Harvest is on in full blast this week. Thousands of acres of grain are being placed in the stack or shock this week. By Saturday night by far the greater part of the crop will be harvested. Some are threshing from the barge as they go, the wheat being extremely dry and in splendid condition for threshing. Yields are good and the grain is testing well. Many fields have produced 32 bushels per acre and the wheat has tested around 63 pounds. The majority of the yield however, will average about 20 bushels per acre and will test 54 to 60 pounds. Beaver county's harvest is indeed a bumper one this year. It will mean thousands of dollars to the coffers of Beaver county people. Let us hope that all those dollars will be guarded well and expended wisely toward the upbuilding of the home life and the development of the county. The failures of the past few years have caused many to become indebted. The first call of the harvest dollars should be to clear the home and other property of debt, then why not think of a better home for the family and better barns for the stock, machinery and farm products? The faithful wife and mother of the home has gotten along for years perhaps the best she could and unconplainingly in the little house and without the conveniences to make her many burdens lighter. Why not give her the first thought now after taking care of the debts? A new home and some of the modern conveniences will aid her greatly in her stupendous labor of love, will prolong her days perhaps so that the family may be reared properly and will make for all a happier and healthier home. Sweet Home, and a better county for, after all the prosperity and happiness of the county, state and Nation, depends upon the happiness and prosperity of the homes. Don't waste a single one of the hard-earned harvest dollars. Let all the family share in the benefits and above all, beware of the shyster and the grater with his Get-Rich-Quick propositions. The "Blue Sky Commission" created at the last session of the state legislature, has supervision over and licenses all stock selling propositions. If you are solicited to buy stock, be it oil, mining, automobile or any kind whatsoever, demand to see the authority of the one who offers such stocks to you for sale. If he cannot produce his authority, the safe plan is to let his proposition alone. All legitimate salesmen should be clothed with such authority of the state. Don't waste your hard-earned dollars!

B. M. & E. TO EXTEND

Jacob Achenbach, of Hardtner, Kansas, and L. B. Blackstock, of Springfield, Illinois, together with C. J. Turpin, of Oklahoma City, all officials of the Beaver, Meade & Englewood Railroad, were here last week going out over the county to view conditions and particularly to view the route from Beaver to Ochiltree, Texas, over which they propose to extend the road now terminating at Beaver. An extension to Englewood, Kansas, to connect with the Santa Fe at that place and give a direct route to the Wichita market is also proposed. A third extension to Liberal, Kansas, to connect with the Rock Island has also been mentioned. Any and all of these extensions are splendid propositions and The Herald trusts to see them all go through.

We were not permitted to interview the officials while here, their stay being brief, but we are sure that when the time is ripe for publicity from them and we assure them in advance, that we are ready with the columns of The Herald to boost for any good thing for Beaver and Beaver county. Come on with the roads! We can't have too many railroads in old Beaver county. Our people have waited long and patiently and have hauled long distances. If we can assist in bringing a market to their doors, we are for them. As for Beaver, its future is assured. Being centrally located it will serve the rest of the county as a division point and with three lines terminating here will enjoy a growth and prosperity not affected by the prosperity of other sections of the county lucky enough to secure the roads. Their prosperity will but add to ours and all will benefit in the end and for more taxable property will be created and general prosperity will reign.

Mrs. W. M. Robertson and daughter Maurine left yesterday for Kansas City, Mo. Joseph and other Miss Robertson will visit for a few weeks returning to the city for the summer stock for the Robertson family.

Found Him Asleep!

When burglars entered old Safety Stevens' house they found him sound asleep. When his wife aroused him with the whispered assertion that "there are burglars in the house," he replied with a yawn, "Let them go—they can't find anything. Our money is in the bank." He was not worried. His pocketbook contained nothing but a bunch of blank checks and a little loose change; nothing to lose. It pays to have a bank account in a good reliable bank for the feeling of safety inspired, to say nothing of the many conveniences and advantages.

Because of our bountiful wheat crop, the grain will be in the field longer this season than usual before it is threshed, and because of the high price it is going to bring, you are exposed to an unusual loss in case of fire.

We are prepared to furnish you with insurance, written in the St. Paul, Aetna, and other reliable companies, against fire and lightning, covering your grain while in the shock, stack or in the bin, at the following rate per $100.00

1 month, 30c; 2 mo., 45c; 3 mo., 60c
4 mo., 75c; 6 mo., $1.05; 1 year, $1.50

Policies will be written in the field or in this office and take effect immediately. No application is needed. Write or phone and your policy will come out at once. We want your business.
