IN Mr. Walton's anxiety and endeavor to attract voters to his banner and stop the flood of democrats that is pouring into the John Fields camp he has entirely lost sight of the Oklahoma City platform and seldom makes reference of any kind to the Shawnee platform, further than to state that he is still running along on it at a pace that does not register on his speedometer. His platform during the past few days seems to be "whiskers" and "dude clothes."

John Fields remains firm on his platform and lets the voters know that he stands on every plank and board in it; that he favors making good every dollar lost by depositors in state banks; that he will see that tenant farmers get school land money at a low rate of interest, in their efforts to own homes of their own, that the state shall furnish free text books to the schools of the state; that he will give four years of business administration and pays no attention at all to whether his opponent has a clean shave, wears patched pants or uses a hickory limb for a walking stick. John's platform is built for permanency and he is not afraid to put his entire weight upon it. There is no word or sentence in Fields' platform that he is ashamed or afraid to be shown in the light of day and he does not have to dodge issues to stand on it. If you have heard Mr. Walton speak you know the difference between the two candidates. Walton is "jazzy," Fields is business. Which do you prefer?

The burden of taxation in Oklahoma is too heavy. Relief is needed for the prosperity of the people of the state. John Fields is pledged to give such relief. Jack Walton's program is to mortgage the property of the state—which includes everybody—for sums sufficient to put the state into the business of banking, house-building, farm buying, mill and elevator building, oil tank building, "and the like," every cent of which must be paid, with interest, by the taxpayers. Keep in mind, folks, that these huge businesses will be under the direction of a bunch of politicians whose only qualification need be their devotion to the interests of Jack Walton.

Word from Mrs. Edwin S. Gardner, wife of County Attorney Gardner and who is at Alamogordo, New Mexico, for her health, is that she is much improved which news will be gladly received by her many friends here.

"Vote for the Man" John Fields' plea for Oklahoma, is gaining such headway that Walton has abandoned all issues upon which he claims he is running and devoting most of his time to "discussing the man." If he will just keep this up he will compel the people to believe what many have said all the time, that John Fields is really the only candidate capable of being governor of this great state.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE—FORECLOSURE

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of an order of sale issued out of the District Court of Beaver County, State of Oklahoma, on the 3rd day of October, 1922, in an action wherein the F. B. Nearly all farmers have finished drilling wheat. Some may drill more if it rains soon.

A number of the farmers are bringing their cattle home from pasture this week.

Bro. Neff gave a very interesting talk Sunday about the curios. The curios pleased the children especially very much.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McNew, Thelma and Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wheeler and Zelta, and Robt. Ensminger took Sunday dinner with the Lyle Wheeler family. Margaret Hill and Pearl Hiatt and Mr. and Mrs. Beauchamp spent the afternoon there also.

Only 66 at Sunday School last Sunday. What's the matter folks. Come next Sunday. The last Sunday in October is Literature Day. There will be a program that day including some temperance subjects. Come help in the program. It will help you and help the Sunday School.

Mrs. C. B. Evans and Mrs. Stephenson spent last Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. A. W. Smith's helping Mrs. Smith make a dress form.

Mrs. A. J. Nix's father, Mr. Price, came one day last week to visit for several days.

Mrs. L. A. Richardson and son, Donald, have gone to California to spend the winter.
