ANDERSON ELK ENJOYED TRIP
Tom Bolt Back From the Grand Lodge Which Met This Year With Denver B. P. O. E.

J. Tom Bolt, past exalted ruler of Anderson Lodge No. 1296, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, has returned from the grand lodge of the order, which met this year with the Denver lodge. Mr. Bolt says that he never enjoyed an affair more in his life than he did this meeting of the grand lodge.

Speaking of the trip, Mr. Bolt said: "Friday we spent in Cincinnati sight seeing, etc., and a good deal of the things we saw were of cetera. Cincinnati is a city of probably half a million people, most of whom are Germans, Jews, Greeks and Italians. It is noted for its glass manufactories, potteries, wholesale jewelry establishments, splendid street railway system, zoological gardens, consumption of beer and whiskey."

Saturday we spent in Chicago, the Windy City, so-called, we believe, because of the severe winds that blow in from the lakes. Chicago has nearly two million population—mostly foreigners—almost every man of which is practicing the rule of "Do others before they do you." Let us say right here that Chicago is no place for a man who has any confidence in humanity. We believe six months in that town would make the most forgiving soul callous and obdurate. No one attempted to bump us, but if you do not want to be run over you had better keep both your eyes peeled while strolling around Chi. Did I say stroll? Well, there is no such thing as being permitted to stroll in that town. You have to keep on the dead run to keep out of the way.

A portion of Sunday was spent in riding through Iowa, and at Omaha, Neb. Iowa is one of the greatest farming sections of this country. As far as the eye could reach on both sides of the railroad were great fields of waving corn, oats, wheat, ready to cut and being cut, timothy hay, alfalfa etc. The farmers out there seem to have little regard for the Sabbath as threshing machines, reapers and hay presses were in operation, and men were engaged in harvesting just as if it had been Monday. Sunday afternoon we spent in Omaha, and, I can't forget, we will say this is some warm burg. It was 110 in the shade. The men paraded the streets without coats and the women without petticoats. A half day in Omaha during July is sufficient evidence of the reason why Mr. Wm. J. Bryan takes a summer cottage in the wilds of Tarhella.

We arrived in Denver Monday morning. Now Denver is some town. Almost every street and building was profusely decorated with the colors of the B. P. O. E.—white and purple—while the electrical display was said to be the most magnificent ever attempted in the history of the world. There were about one hundred thousand visitors, most of whom were Elks, and on every hand was a royal welcome for the Elks. Even the Denver papers were printed in purple ink on white paper for the four days of the Elks convention.

The convention lasted until Thursday afternoon. It was the largest attempted and the most successful in the half century existence of the order. The parade was spectacular to a marked degree.

Friday, July 17, we spent at Carone, Colorado, styled "the top of the world." It is 13,000 feet above the sea, and is a place of perpetual snow, and on this mountain top we played snow ball with a Bill from Kansas.

We started home Friday night and made good time back to Carolina, arriving here Monday evening.

BITTER TALKS AT LEXINGTON

JENNINGS MADE A SEVERE ARRAIGNMENT OF GOV. BLEASE

NEW FEATURES

Bleas Accuses Francis H. Weston Of Abusing the Privilege of His Office

Lexington, July 24.—The senatorial meeting here today was marked by the bitterest speech of the campaign. This vitriolic utterance was from J. Jennings who said the present chief executive during the last three and one half years "has made the filthiest and most diabolical record ever made by a white man in South Carolina."

"The governor," he added, "has debauched the state worse than Chamberlain, Scott and Moses of radical times combined."

When he was speaking the governor said that he never spoke to his opponents, his reference being to Messrs. Jennings and Pollock. Alluding to them the governor said: "When men appear on the platform to spew out filth against a gentleman, I don't notice them. I never pay any attention to any men who put themselves on a plane with John T. Duncan and Barney Evans."

Mr. Jennings answered this by saying that he would suffer his right hand to be paralyzed and his tongue to cleave to the roof of his mouth before he would speak to a man with such a filthy record. "And if I should speak to him," this candidate went on, "I hope my wife and children will desert me." The governor's record was "as filthy as the nest of a carrion crow," Mr. Jennings concluded.

W. P. Pollock, the first speaker was little less bitter in his denunciation. When this candidate was drawing the "blisters" on the administration followers, there was much heckling and angry retorting, the Bleas faction trying at times to keep what the speaker was saying from being heard. To one of these Mr. Pollock replied, "Yes, hollow for Bleas now and two years hence you will be like Peter of old, you will declare you never knew him."

Another was told that the Bleasites would be buried August 25 with faces down. This he explained would be done so that "if you scratch out you will scratch out in hell." This speech told the audience that if the roll of delegates to the state democratic convention of last May should be examined, it will be found that there were members of the Lexington delegation who were on the Bull Moose ticket with John C. Capers and other negroes. The Lexington delegation to the last state convention was reported to be for Bleas.

If the governor should go to the United States senate, Mr. Pollock continued he could not work in double harness with anyone. He said the governor was "out of joint" with every department of the national government with which he had any dealing, that he was working against Senator Tillman who had stood four square to the world and would neutralize the senior senator's good work so that the state would be practically without representation.

Mr. Pollock again today measured by the carload the more than 900 negroes pardoned, saying that "there would be about enough to make up the biggest negro excursion in South Carolina."

Senator Smith said today that he was in the campaign to take care of his own record, and not to attack others. "I am not going around," he explained, "picking out the rotten spots in any man's character. I have not started a campaign of diffamation and abuse. I am not here to hold up any man's piteable fall, but here to hold up E. D. Smit's magnificent success."

The speech of Gov. Bleas was marked by his allusions to the Columbia State, which he said, though he apologized for using so. "For once in my life I want to thank the State, and I hope lightning won't strike me for doing so. I want to thank the State for our being fair to me in printing this morning the record in the Richey case."

This is the home of State Senator W. H. Sharpe, who is state chairman of the Bleas organization.

Today the governor said that one representative from each county composed the executive committee. Under each county committee, he added was a suborganization, with one or two members from each club in the county.

Francis H. Weston, recently appointed United States Attorney, was charged today by Bleas, with attempting to disrupt the democratic party in South Carolina. "How long, I wonder," the governor asked, "will Mr. Weston, allow to be violated that democratic doctrine of Grover Cleveland, that rule laid down by him, that federal appointees should not participate in party politics?" Weston explained "is doing everything in his power to disrupt the democratic party in South Carolina by splitting up into factions by working for Smith, so that if they are defeated they will have an excuse to go to the general election."

In connection with his discussion of the governor's record, Mr. Jennings made mockery of the governor's position as the poor man's friend.

"Point to a single act," he challenged the Bleas following, that the governor has done for the poor white people since he was born, and I'll withdraw from the race," he added with emphasis.

The speaker was equally sarcastic in his reference to the governor as "the protector of woman's virtue." In this connection the trial of Dr. Elenore B. Saunders, was again held up, the two letters which the governor wrote being characterized as the like of which had never been written by the lowest down man who ever walked the face of the earth."

It was also pointed out by Mr. Jennings that the extra one mill school tax levy which the governor had said would cause the last session of the state legislature to go down in history had been vetoed by the chief executive.

The meeting here today was attended by approximately 1,500 people. Geo. Bell Timmerman, county chairman and solicitor from this circuit presided.

During his speech Mr. Jennings said that some years ago John T. Duncan and Bleas were in the race for the legislature in Newberry county; that Duncan got over 1,100 votes and Bleas got $60. That is how the people think of the two men in their home county," exclaimed Mr. Jennings.

RURAL SCHOOLS ARE IMPROVING

Many New Buildings Going Up In All Sections of County and Better Teachers Being Secured

It is a significant fact that the rural schools in Anderson county are progressing in a truly remarkable fashion. Anderson county can boast of the best country school houses in the state and all these country schools are splendidly equipped and a majority of them have capable teachers and competent instructors in all departments.

Many of the country schools have been benefited by the consolidation of two or more school districts being merged, while with some other schools they have merely determined that they would better conditions and have gone ahead and done it.

J. B. Felton, county superintendent of education, said yesterday that it is indeed a rare thing for a day to pass in Anderson without some mention being heard of a new school building and he says the growth of all the schools would astonish most Anderson citizens.

DRASTIC ACTION WILL BE DELAYED

Government Will Wait Until Forced To Act In Haiti

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, July 23.—Drastic action by the United States government in Haiti and Santo Domingo is imminent. Force will not be used until every effort is made to settle the revolutions in the two countries by peaceful means.

President Wilson today explained to inquirers the position of the American government toward the two republics as one of much anxiety. He said marines had been concentrated to be ready for any emergency that might arise and admitted that the representatives of the United States had used strong language in urging peace.

The president indicated that no fixed policy of intervention had as yet been determined upon and future steps would depend on the developments from day to day. He intimated that no answer which could be considered final had been received as yet from the military enter and attributed the delay largely to bad communication facilities. The transport Prairie with a small detachment of marines is expected to arrive tonight at Cape Haitien to fill out the complements of the Cruiser Washington and battleship South Carolina.

BIG IMPORTATION OF CORN

Shipment Held Up on Account of War.
(By Associated Press.)
Seattle, Wash., July 24.—More than one thousand bushels of Manchurian corn, one of the best shipments to arrive in the United States since the tariff was removed, is held up on the Seattle wharves until it can be determined whether the wheat with which it is infected is destructive. The corn was intended to be used for stock feed.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulfur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.
Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulfur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays by asking at any drug store for "Walt's Sage and Sulfur" hair remedy, you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents. Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you have darkened your hair, as it does naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge of soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray will disappear, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.—Evans' Pharmacy, Agents.

BIT OF POSING BY WOMAN'S TRIAL

Letters of Mme. Caillaux Were Not Sufficient Provocation For Murder

Paris, July 24.—The defense in the trial of Mme. Henriette Caillaux, charged with the murder of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro, today was caught in a trap.

The principal argument of Maître Labori, counsel for Mme. Caillaux has been that his client was driven to shoot M. Calmette through fear that two letters, of which she was aware photographic reproductions existed, would be published by M. Calmette and the secrets of her inner life, thereby made public. The letters were produced and contained nothing sensational.

A dramatic bit of testimony was given during the day by Dr. Wilbert Calmette, director of the Pasteur Institute at Lille. He paid a high tribute to the character of his brother.

"I am convinced," said Dr. Calmette, "that if Mme. Caillaux had simply opened her mouth, if she had only said to my brother, 'Is it true that you have in your possession the private letters?' my brother would have immediately reassured her. If you know how scrupulous was my brother with his word, he would have removed Mme. Caillaux's apprehension."

A MEMORIAL ON BONHAM'S GRAVE

Prof. Shigo, Eminent Geographer, a Profound Admirer of That Hero of Alamo

(By Associated Press.)
Tokio, Japan, July 18.—Professor Shigetaka Shigo, the eminent geographer, traveller and author, who will go to the United States this fall to address the American Historical society at Washington, D. C., will fulfill during his visit a long cherished desire to erect a memorial at San Antonio, Texas, on the grave of the famous Col. James Butler Bonham, whose gallantry in defense of the Alamo makes one of the brightest pages in American history.

Dr. Shigo's admiration of Bonham is an old story. In his youth, the professor had two enthusiasms, one for the romantic record of ancient Japan, the other for the story of the United States as told by Quackenbos to successive generations of school children. The famous defense of the Alamo fired his imagination and when he discovered in Japanese history an almost exact parallel in the battle of Narashimo during the Tokugawa Shogunate, the ambition then grew that some day he might find a way of commemorating publicly the undying admiration which the story of the Alamo had awakened in a Japanese school boy. His scientific visit to America offers the desired opportunity.

Dr. Shigo will take with him two blocks of stone from the battlefield of Narashimo. A Chinese poem he has composed in honor of Bonham will be carved on one of the stones, which will both be used over Bonham's grave.

Dr. Shigo has written to the mayor of San Antonio asking if the city will accept the memorial.

James Butler Bonham was a brother of the late Gov. M. L. Bonham of this state and an uncle of Gen. M. L. Bonham of Anderson, Col. Jas. B. Bonham practiced law at Pendleton before he went to Texas.

COLLETON HEARS THE CANDIDATES

Mendel Smith, Irby and Manning Were Favorites At Walterboro Thursday

(Special to The Intelligencer.)
Walterboro, July 23.—Candidates for state offices speaking here today used the attempted assassination of Dr. James H. McIntosh in Columbia as an instance of the direct result of the disregard for law in South Carolina. The speakers thrilled the auditors with pleas for enforcement for all laws and the statements were splendidly received.

There were several hundred voters present at the meetings.

"You are a liar," said A. W. Jones, "you are a liar," said J. A. Summerfelt. Thus the two candidates for comptroller general started a wordy war. Later a hand primary was taken and it was found that Mr. Jones was the favorite.

Mendel L. Smith was the favorite among the candidates for governor. Judging from the volume of cheer the meeting was distinctly anti-administration.

In answer to charges by Mr. Summerfelt, Mr. Jones asked him what he had to do with the indictment of 900 back negroes when Summerfelt was on the pardoning board.

W. C. Irby made a fiery attack on John C. Richards. Mr. Irby received a fine reception.

Richard L. Manning made a telling address and was well received by the voters of Colleton county.

HEAVY FINE OFFICERS KILLED.

A Brass Bandman Shot Through Eye of Near Shot While Searching for Contraband Liquor.
(By Associated Press.)
Tulsa, Okla., July 24.—Holmes Day, Graham, Oklahoma, a black innkeeper, today pleaded guilty before the county court judge at Tulsa and was sentenced to 10 years in the state penitentiary for the death of a black bandman from an Oklahoma band, when they attempted to enter the latter's residence to search for contraband liquor.
