It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

I wish every suffering woman would give

Grandma's Telephone Visits

GRANDMA SMITH is a sprightly old lady who likes to keep in touch with things. In the next town lives another dear old lady who was Grandma's school-mate, and of whom she is very fond. It is impossible for the two old ladies to do much visiting, but every day they call each other up on the telephone and have the most delightful chats.

No one gets more comfort and pleasure out of the family telephone than Grandma.

When you telephone—smile

HAND GIVES ADVICE TO STATE EDUCATORS

URGES THAT WORK NOT LAG THIS YEAR.

TEACHER'S DUTY

At Beginning of Session, He Urges That All Teachers Do the Best Work of Which Capable.

"If the teachers in Anderson County will read this letter and ponder over its contents," said J. B. Felton, county superintendent of education, "they will be greatly benefited and will be able to discharge their duties more faithfully."

The letter to which Mr. Felton refers was written by William H. Hand, of Columbia, in his capacity of State Inspector of High Schools, and says: "Dear Fellow Worker: The high schools throughout the State are about to enter upon their year's work. I hope for you the best of which you are capable, the unstinted support of your patrons, the responsive efforts of your pupils and the warm cooperation of your teachers. I would not presume to give advice but I beg the privilege of offering you encouragement and support in what you undertake. Here are a few things it might be well to keep in mind.

"Before any successful teaching can be done the teacher must get a personal hold upon his pupils and his patrons. Wholesome companionship between teacher and pupil and respected friendship between teacher and patron foreshadow success. Strive to know your pupils in their daily life, in their sports and in their day-dreams. You need to study, but you must not be a hermit.

"Give your pupils plenty of work and see that they do it, but do not overload them. A few subjects mastered are better than many subjects skimmed over. Five subjects are enough for any high school class. The best schools are coming to regard four major subjects enough. Skimming over work is demoralizing. Some of the subjects which seem to lend themselves especially to skimming are history, literature, physical geography and even Latin. Some teachers will run through a book of the Gallic war in half the time it takes other teachers. But the latter will get twice as much out of the book. Tarr's physical geography has in it ample work for ten months with daily recitations, yet a few teachers are unable to find enough in it for more than three recitations a week for nine months. Do not work for units. Twelve units in a three year course are enough.

"Preserve a rational balance between the humanities and the sciences. Five or six recitations a day in the languages and but one or two in the sciences do not suggest a well planned course. Manual training is as necessary to a good education as mere academic training. This work is gradually growing in this State.

"There are a few things every high school pupil ought to be able to do: To spell decently the words making his vocabulary; to write a legible hand; to read with some expression; to speak and write every-day English creditably; to make simple arithmetical calculations neatly and accurately and to have some knowledge of the history and geography of his own country. Until a pupil can do these things it seems unwise to put him to other tasks.

"The school studies are important, but there are more important things than these. Character building comes first. Manly and womanly virtues come ahead of academic studies. Good citizens are needed more than good scholars.

TEAMS ARE READY FOR OPENING GAME

Third Baseman Deal Will Play For Smith Who Broke His Ankle.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Things began to move rapidly today in preparation for the opening game of the series Friday for the baseball championship of the world. The Boston Braves and the Philadelphia Athletics practiced while thousands of persons in the downtown district provided excitement in their scramble to buy tickets.

Tonight no reserved seat tickets are to be had for any of the games, scheduled to be played on the American grounds here except through speculators.

The so-called tuning up process today of the present world's champions and the winners of the National League pennant was of a mild character. The National Leaguers spent more than two hours in the forenoon on the grounds of the Philadelphia National League club taking an workout. Rain fell during a part of the morning and the Boston manager returned to let his men extend themselves. Tyler was the only member of the pitching staff to warm up.

The team practiced behind closed gates and the few supporters of the club who saw the players at work bestowed their attention upon Third Baseman Deal, who will go into the series in place of Smith, who is lying in a Brooklyn hospital with a broken ankle. Deal fielded hard hit grounders and fuced some stiff pitching. Stallings, who was reported to have been greatly depressed over Smith's misfortune said he felt confident Deal would do his best to measure up to Smith's ability at the bat.

ANDERSON MEN GO TO ATLANTA CONVENTION

CITY WILL BE REPRESENTED AT MEETING.

ON FOREIGN TRADE

Business Men Of This City Will Probably Send Representative to the Coming Conference.

In all probability there will be several business men of Anderson and representatives of the Anderson Chamber of Commerce to attend the Trade Convention which is to be held in Atlanta, Ga., on October 13 and 14. Business men of this city are very much interested in the efforts now being put forth by the South to secure a portion of the foreign trade and are lending all possible assistance.

The Anderson chamber of commerce yesterday received the following letter: Mr. Porter A. Whaley, Secy., Anderson Chamber of Commerce, Anderson, S. C. My dear sir:— I beg to thank you very much for yours of October 3rd giving us a list of concerns likely to be interested in Foreign Trade.

We have sent an invitation to each of these to attend the Foreign Trade Conference to be held in Atlanta October 13th and 14th. We hope very much that your city will be well represented at this Conference, and that you can attend in person.

Yours very truly,
W. G. COOPER,
Secretary.

In Memory of Mrs. Polly Hicks.

God in His all-wise providence, saw fit on September 29, 1914 to call from us our dear sister to that reward that awaits the children of God. There remains a seat to the children of God. Heb. 4:9. We are all sad and will miss her so much, but God who worketh all things after the counsel of His own will knows best. He has said, "All things work together for good to them who love God."—Romans 8:28. So we trust and pray that the bereaved ones may all say, "Thy will be done," and feel that our loss is her eternal gain.

May God bind up the broken hearts and help each one who mourns for her to meet some sweet day where parting comes no more. No more death, sorrow nor night, dear ones who weep. Just say goodbye for a short time. We hope to meet you again.

She has been a sufferer for about a year, but bore her suffering with that spirit of a true child of God. Ever ready to say, "Thy will be done." She loved her church, and was always there when her health would permit. She dearly loved her Bible and every 8:25. Her great comfort in her affliction was great comfort in her affliction. Her suffering is over, she has answered her last call, and has heard from her Lord these words: "Well done good and faithful servant." Her life of purity and gentleness, her loyalty at all times, and her sympathy for all in sickness or distress, won for her the love of all who knew her. Thank God for the life and influence of such a noble woman.

Mrs. Polly Hicks was the devoted and affectionate wife of Mr. S. L. Hicks, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McCallister. She leaves a husband and five children, two brothers and one sister to mourn her loss. She was a devoted member of the Baptist church, she was a devoted wife, a loving mother, a loyal Christian a devoted neighbor, and kind to all with whom she came in contact.

Her remains were laid to rest at Six and Twenty Baptist Church on Wednesday, September 30, with funeral service by Rev. Land and Nelson. A large concourse of people were present to pay their last tributes of respect to her memory. She rests in the tomb, "till she is called on the morning of the resurrection and ever be with the Lord. We will all miss her but we hope some day to join her in the sweet home above. May God bless the bereaved ones in the prayer of her pastor.

Sister thou was mild and lowly, Gentle as the summer breeze, Pleasant as the air of evening, When it floats among the trees. Goodbye dear sister, for a short while, We all hope to meet you again and ever be with the Lord.

FURMAN WILL PLAY WOFFORD

First Football Game of Season Saturday at Greenville.

Greenville, Oct. 7.—The first game of the football season at Furman University will be played next Saturday October 10, in Greenville. On this day comes the great clash between the teams of Furman and Wofford.

There is a great deal of interest being shown in football this year by the people of Greenville as well as the University students. Only last year football was reinstated as an intercollegiate activity at Furman. The first year's team was successful beyond expectations. This year the Furmanites have succeeded in getting together a fast aggregation. Football is in its first year at Wofford, and it is understood that the Wofford aggregation is a fast one.

The reinstatement of intercollegiate football at Furman and Wofford means among other things that the people of the Piedmont section will get a chance to see this, the greatest of college games. As Greenville is easily reached from neighboring towns, a good number of out of town men will see the games in Greenville this fall.

It is not certain now just what Furman's lineup will be in the game next Saturday, but this is a matter of minor importance since there are a good many men to pick the team from. Wofford's lineup could not be ascertained. This game will be a fine exhibition of clean intercollegiate athletics.

HOUSE APPOINTS SPECIAL COMMITTEE

ALL COTTON LEGISLATION TO BE REFERRED.

THEY WANT PAY

Resolution Providing for Only Ten Days Pay Voted Down in the House.

Special to The Intelligencer. Columbia, S. C., Oct. 7.—The House agreed this morning to appoint a special committee of eleven to consider all bills relating to reduction of cotton acreage. The members of the committee will come from the Standing committees of agriculture ways and means and judiciary and the House at large.

The House killed the McQueen resolution reducing the pay of members of the special session to mileage and per diem for 10 days. A record vote was not taken on the resolution, but it was suggested in the debate that if individual members want to show their patriotism there was nothing to prevent them from returning all or part of their salary to the State.

The major part of the session was spent in discussing the question of referring emergency bills to a select committee. The House finally agreed to do so where the measure related to reduction of cotton acreage. Richard L. Manning, of Sumter was introduced by Speaker Smith this morning from the desk as the Governor of South Carolina. The nominee of the democratic party for chief executive was applauded.

The House adjourned at 1:05 o'clock on Monday at 11 o'clock tomorrow.
