

The Abbeville High School.

The closing exercises of the Abbeville High School were witnessed by a large crowd in the Court House on Thursday evening. The exercises were divided into two parts. The first part of the evening was devoted to the execution of the following programme: Debate—Subject, "Which confers the greater benefits, Wealth or Contentment." Affirmative: Masters Thomas Parker, Lambert White, James Perrin. Negative: Fraser Livingston, James Cottrhan, Andrew Edwards.

French composition—Subject, "La Memoire." Written by Miss Annie Hemphill, read by Capt. Bonham. Recitation—"The Conquered Banner." Master Andrew Wardlaw.

English composition—"Romance and Reality." Written by Miss Jennie Zeigler, read by Mr. Willie Thompson.

Recitation—"Guilty or not guilty?" Master Walter Visanski.

Latin composition—"Ars Studendi." Written and read by Master Thomas Parker.

The committee appointed to decide the debate reported their decision in favor of the negative, saying however, that the vote stood seven to five in favor of the negative.

The pupils all did well. We would mention the recitation by Master Walter, as showing unusual power of declamation.

PART II.

This consisted of a play by the smaller children of the School entitled the "Sleeping Princess." The play opened by an address from the King of Dreamland, in which he announced the birth of a baby princess and issued a proclamation for a grand christening feast, to which the fairy queen Titania and all her train were invited. In the midst of the feast, appears Malacina, a wicked fairy, and in revenge for not having been invited to the feast, condemns the infant princess to die by a wound from a spindle. The queen appeals to Titania to break the charm, but Titania declares her inability to do so, but promises to "turn aside its harm." The princess she says will have to sleep an hundred years, but at the end of that time will be awakened by Prince Charming. Titania consols the breaking of wheels, and the banishment of all spinners. The Princess on reaching the age of eighteen, loses her way when out walking, and wanders into an old garret, where she finds an old dame, Tabitha, spinning. She wounds herself when spinning, and immediately falls into an enchanted sleep. Queen Titania puts all her friends to sleep also, and at the end of the hundred years, the Princess and her friends are awaked by Prince Charming.

Below we give the caste of characters. All of the pupils acted their parts well, but it was the universal verdict that Miss Lizzie Marshall, in Malacina, could not be surpassed.

Col. O. T. Calhoun. There is presented in this issue of the MESSANGER the name of Col. O. T. Calhoun as a candidate for the Legislature. It were almost almost an act of supererogation to introduce Col. Calhoun to the people of Abbeville. Born amongst them he has lived his life amongst them, discharging the duties of citizenship as becomes any good man. In war, as a sixteen year old boy, he has served his country well. In all the political duties of the past he has been true and tried, faithful and active. As a lawyer he ranks deservedly high for his ability, zeal and devotion to the interests of his clients. Col. Calhoun is an independent thinker and possessor of his convictions. His voice will give no uncertain sound upon any public question. If he be elected to represent this people in the House his constituents may rest assured that their interests and his public duties will receive at his hands earnest attention.

For County Commissioner. Capt. Joel W. Lites is announced this week as a candidate for County Commissioner. Capt. Lites has never before sought political preferment of any sort, but has been universally recognized as one of the best farmers and business men in his community. If elected he will bring, to the discharge of the duties of this most important office, as sound views on all business matters as is possible by any man in the county. Abbeville County could entrust the management of her affairs to no more competent hands than those of Capt. Joel Lites.

The Court.

The Court was convened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, His Honor, Judge Kershaw, presiding. Only twelve members of the Grand Jury were present at the opening of the Court, but others came in during the day. The Judge thought it unnecessary to charge them minutely as to their duties, this being their second term. He charged them specially upon the bills presented, expounding the law, and pointing out to them their duties with regard to finding bills.

When the petit jurors were called thirty-two were found to be present. Several were excused and an order was issued for an extra venire of ten men. The following composed the extra venire: Lucien Ramey, J. W. Wells, Augustus J. McCord, J. W. Sign, L. G. Fleming, David Haddon, J. D. Miller, Richard Hill, Clarence Dusenbury and R. A. Agnew.

The Grand Jury found True Bills in the following cases: The State vs. Fed Devlin—Fogery, 2 cases.

John Gosline—carrying concealed weapons.

Cesar Thomas—murder.

Amos White—selling liquor without license.

Lewis Harrison—larceny from the field.

Walter McCullough—larceny from the field.

Isaac Wardlaw—larceny of live stock.

No Bills were returned in the following cases:

Ben Little—larceny from the field.

Isaac Wardlaw—larceny of live stock. (Second indictment.)

Fed Devlin pleaded guilty in both cases of forgery and was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of fifty dollars and be sent to the penitentiary for five years in one case, and a fine of five dollars and two years in the penitentiary in the other case.

The case against Caesar Smith, charged with murder, was the first case that was tried. Mr. L. W. Smith and W. C. McGowan defended, and secured a verdict of not guilty.

John Gosline pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons and was sentenced to pay a fine of twenty dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail for three months. He paid the fine.

When the case against Isaac Wardlaw was called, the Court was informed that the defendant was apparently crazy, and was not represented by an attorney. Mr. D. L. Mabry was asked to conduct his defence and the case was continued till morning.

Lewis Harrison was next arraigned for larceny from the field. He was defended by Messrs. Graydon & Graydon, but the case was not ended when Court adjourned.

County Teacher's Institute.

The arrangements for the holding of the County Teacher's Institute have been perfected. The Institute will be held at Due West, the second week in July, and will be presided over by the faculties of Erskine and the Due West Female College. Distinguished educators of the State will deliver lectures during the week, and everything will be done to make the meeting pleasant and profitable to those in attendance. The programme has not been arranged yet, but will be published as soon as it is decided upon. A local committee will provide board and lodging for those present, and every teacher in the County ought to attend.

Judge J. F. Lyon.

The card of Judge Lyon appears today as a candidate for Probate Judge. His services in that capacity have been endorsed and approved by this people and have given satisfaction. He is fitted by natural ability, by his industrious habits, by experience in office to discharge efficiently the duties of Judge of Probate. These are grave and delicate duties and it is well that they should be in charge of one so eminently qualified to meet them. Judge Lyon's gallant services in war, attested by his empty sleeve, his services in peace as an honorable citizen and christian gentleman entitle him to support by our suffrages. We are sure the people will show their appreciation of him by electing him at the primaries.

Hon. W. K. Blake.

The name of this gentleman appears as a candidate for the Legislature. Two years ago he was elected a representative from this County, and his record in that body is a good one. Mr. Blake is an earnest thoughtful man. Upon all questions of public importance he has decided and well matured views. These views he supports by reason and logic and has always good grounds for the faith that is in him. His service in the Legislature fits him now for the even better discharge of the duties of the position. He is a lawyer of position and ability, and a successful farmer. The people will approve Mr. Blake's course in the House by re-electing him to serve them there. And his service will be faithful and efficient.

Capt. W. D. Mann.

The announcement of Capt. W. D. Mann, as a candidate for County Commissioner appears this week. That man who discharges one public duty well is to be relied on in all respects. As jailer Capt. Mann has been prompt, efficient and faithful. The cleanly condition of the jail, the discipline, tempered with moderation and justice, that prevails there commend him to the public. We are sure he would make a most efficient officer and we cordially commend him to the public.

"It's a Jeems Dandy."

Capt. W. R. White, so well known as the proprietor of the Exchange Hotel, in Greenville, has changed his quarters, and may be found now in what is known as the Goodwin House. He describes it as "a Jeems Dandy," "sweet as a pink and fresh as a daisy." Don't forget him when you go to Greenville.

MESSAGES.

The Ferguson case will be called on Wednesday.

Mr W. G. Riley has been visiting at home for the past week.

Judge Kershaw and Solicitor Orr are stopping at the Central Hotel.

Mr. Abe Rosenberg, wife and child are visiting in Abbeville.

Several more candidates are announced in this week's paper.

Mr. John C. Ferguson is just recovering from a severe case of the measles.

Dr. Samuel Lander preached in the Methodist Church last Sunday evening.

The season of picnics has arrived. Our candidates will be kept on the go now.

Prof. and Mrs. Archer left for their home in Richmond, Va. on last Saturday.

Rev. J. Lowrie Wilson preached in the A. M. E. Church on Sunday afternoon.

It is thought little or no civil business will be transacted at this term of the Court.

When in attendance upon Court call around to see us and find out how you stand with the paper.

Thomas McGettigan Proprietor of the Palmetto Saloon, is sole agent for the celebrated Schlitz Lager Beer.

We are sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. J. W. Paak, of McCormick, which occurred yesterday at 12 m.

An infant child of Mr. Pinkerton, of Georgia, died Sunday night at the residence of Mr. James Taggart.

Major A. B. War Hay went to Augusta last week to attend the funeral of the wife of his brother, Dr. W. C. Wardlaw.

All the railroads have offered reduced rates to teachers attending the State Normal Institute which meets in Greenville.

Rev. J. Lowrie Wilson has returned and was welcomed back to his pulpit on Sunday, by an unusually large congregation.

Capt. M. L. Bonham, Jr., will deliver the Literary Address on the 23rd inst. at the Commencement of Cooper Limestone Institute.

We are indebted to Miss Mamie Rogers for an invitation to attend the Commencement exercises of Cooper Limestone Institute.

Rev. Mr. Weber is attending the Commencement of Wofford College, in Spartanburg. He has a son who graduates there this year.

We are sorry to chronicle the serious sickness of Mrs. Bigby, of White Hall, sister of Mr. Hugh Wilson, of the Press and Banner.

"Bulger," the well known dog of Dr. Marshall, came to an untimely end on last Friday night. Some one gave him a dose of strychnine.

The Commencement exercises of the Greenwood Female College come off this week. Governor Thompson makes the address on Thursday.

Capt. R. J. Robinson of McCormick is being urged by his friends to run for the Legislature. He would doubtless make a good representative.

The Literary Club will meet Friday evening at the residence of Judge Cottrhan. W. P. Calhoun, Esq., will read the essay on the "Negro Problem."

Messrs. Speed & Neuffer are daily expecting a fine soda font, and hope soon to be prepared to furnish this delightful beverage to a thirsty public.

Every teacher in the County ought to consider it a bounden duty to attend the County Teacher's Institute to be held, this year, in Due West, the second week in July.

A series of three games of base ball will be played between Augusta and Troy commencing at the latter place on Friday, the 18th. The public are invited to attend.

The mails for the past week have been coming through from Charleston, though they arrive here from one to two hours behind time. The delay is caused by the necessary transfer at the Saluda trestle.

Mrs. McConnell, an old lady about eighty years old, and the mother-in-law of Mr. Robert Winn, died on last Sunday and was buried at Upper Long Cane on yesterday. Rev. J. Lowrie Wilson preached the funeral sermon.

Capt. Lambden Dawson, General Agent of the Staunton Life Insurance Company, was in town last week in the interest of his company. He represents a good company and should be able to place a good many policies in this county.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church sold out their ice cream without any trouble on last Wednesday afternoon. Indeed, they could have sold several more churns. They will be prepared for the rush this Wednesday evening. Don't forget to patronize them.

A timely communication from our Lowndesville correspondent, "Troupe," relative to the repairing of bridges washed away by the recent freshet, may be found on our outside. His suggestions are sensible and should receive the earnest consideration of our County Commissioners.

Mrs. A. B. Tyler, who has so successfully taught the second grades in the Abbeville High School for the past year, returned to her home on yesterday. The patrons of the school will doubtless regret to learn that she does not expect to return, as she has accepted the principalship of a high school for girls at Anniston, Alabama.

The stockholders of the Carolina Cumberland Gap & Chicago railway, have a meeting here to-night at half past eight o'clock. The delegates will be entertained by our citizens and it is hoped there will be a large and enthusiastic meeting. Let every one turn out and show that we are deeply interested in this grand scheme.

Due West Dots.

Irish potatoes are good.

Corn is tasselng.

Gardens are fine generally.

There is very little political excitement hereabouts.

The influx to commencement has begun.

We have heard several applications for Mr. Benet's pamphlet on the negro question. His is to be one of our public questions.

Miss Nannie Hawthorn's school exhibition at Pineville was regarded as quite a success in every way. Some three hundred persons were present were present. You will see there were five speeches from distinguished gentlemen besides the school exercises.

The Bible Society held its annual meeting last Saturday. Dr. Boyce made an excellent address upon the subject: "In unity there is strength." A committee of eight were appointed to attend the annual meeting at Abbeville C. H. A good collection was taken up.

Mr. John Edwards took his soda fountain to the school exhibition and made a snug little sum. Jehnnie is a nice deserving young man.

The whirl of commencement is setting in. Last week the following young gentlemen arrived: Profs. P. H. Brice and Jimmie Pressly from their schools in Alabama and Mr. Mark Grier from John Hopkins.

We have received a copy of Hon. Geo. D. Tillman's speech on the silver question. It is about as coarse a speech as we have read lately. His attacks on the President and Mr. Trenholm are rude and offensive.

At a recent meeting of the council the following gentlemen were appointed the Board Health for Due West for this year: Dr. E. H. Edwards, Capt. John Cochran and Prof. J. I. McCain. These gentlemen will keep the town in order.

Mr. John Devlin had two chickens hatched in his stable without a mother to set upon them and without his knowledge. This beats the incubator.

In cleaning a chicken at the house of this scribe on last Saturday a brass pin was found sticking through the gizzard. No bad effects seems to have been occasioned.

We learn that Mrs. W. A. Todd is finely pleased with her new home in South Carolina. We hope prosperity will attend this young couple.

Dr. W. M. Grier has gone to Newberry to preach at the commencement for the young men.

Home rule has been set back in Parliament for the present. We believe the grand old man will come out all right in the end.

From the way the newspaper correspondents write about Cleveland's marriage it may be classed as the eighth wonder of the world.

We have received a letter of inquiry as to whether a monument will be erected, by teachers, pupils and friends of the lamented Miss McQuerns or not? Would not this be a good idea?

After reading the letter of Rev. James Boyce Jr., on the United Presbyterian Assembly we think our people had better let Union alone for the present.

Prof. Miller had a nice trip to Prosperity. His address came off Thursday night was about thirty-five minutes, and on the subject "The American Student." The trustees made unanimous requests for its publication. The Academy is presided over by Mr. H. S. Cheets with two assistants and has ninety scholars and is in fine working order.

The Columbia base ball association and the Widemans will play two match games on Wednesday and Thursday evening of commencement. Our boys will be put on their metal and must practice.

Greenwood Gleanings.

The council is doing some efficient work on the streets.

James Kelly, a foreigner birth, died at this place on Thursday night.

The Augusta Chronicle gives the Greenwoodites too much Bacon. The Gordon knot has been tied here.

Prof. Baker lectured on phrenology in Waller Hall Friday night. The lecture was well attended and the Professor examined the craniums of several gentlemen.

Miss Berta Law, of Edgefield is the guest of Mrs. James F. Davis.

The Greenwood Board of Trade has invited the inter-State Agricultural Encampment to meet here at their next regular meeting. These meetings have for their object the promotion of agricultural interests. At their meeting in Pennsylvania last year seven thousand men attended.

We have been patiently waiting for "Above the clouds" to be placed on the boards, but the clouds hang over any definite amusement.

The Baptist Sunday school meets every Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The closing exercises of the Female College commences on Monday. An interesting and pleasant time is expected.

Mr. J. W. Hill's horse took a rather extensive jump the other afternoon. Being frightened by the train he leaped clear across the railroad track.

Mr. Woodford Sanders has been invited to come to Kentucky to paint some life size portraits and in consequence of which he will not be able to pay Abbeville his tendered visit. In your local last week you say that he teaches his pupils to paint in oil in fifteen lessons, crayons should be substituted for oil. That would be a feat unheard of by the finest masters.

Mrs. Ramsey Blake has crayoned a fine picture of our late fellow-citizen Mr. Milton Blake. She handles the brush with skill.

The people generally assembled in Waller Hall last Wednesday and Thursday nights to witness the talent and skill displayed in the speeches of the youthful members of Prof. Boozers school. It was an auspicious occasion. The rain god had closed the overflowing windows of water and gave to the boys nights as beautiful and lovely as could be desired. On Wednesday night the smaller pupils were given first place. On the whole the speeches were good and reflected much credit on both pupils and teachers. The exercises consisted chiefly of extracts which evinced decided talent and eloquence. There were no failures incident to appearing before so large an audience. Everything moved as smoothly as the gentle zephyrs on a summers day. But Thursday night was looked forward to with an interest which amounted to almost an enthusiasm for the larger boys were to enter on a spirited debate on the famous question, "Which has the Greater Influence over man Love or Fear." The challenge was thrown down by the affirmative and courageously taken up by the negative. Sometimes it would seem that the arguments hung evenly in the balance in the the minds of the President and the audience. Then some last speaker would prove that your mind was already made up on his side when he had finished. The discussion was listened to with rapt attention, and when President Colman Waller began to sum up the arguments, like a veteran President, all was attention. He reviewed the speakers in fine language for one of his years and gave his opinion in favor of the affirmative. The question was an old one and the usual arguments were given but it was handled with skill and ability. Prof. Boozers has reason to be proud of his success as an educator. He teaches because he likes it and because he is fitted for it and success will follow any man who possesses these qualifications.

Ninety-Six News.

Fruit is coming in and with it all kinds of complaints which put troubled mankind on the qui vive.

Hayne, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Anderson, died Friday last. Beautiful boy, he was too bright to live in this valley of woe.

During these hot days look out for stagnant water. Now is the time to use plenty of disinfectants.
