

The Court.

The Court of General Sessions for Abbeville County was convened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, Judge Fraser presiding; Solicitor Orr was at his post. The grand jury was organized with fifteen members. Mr. G. A. Douglass was chosen foreman. Mr. J. Marion Carlisle was excused from attendance upon this term of the court on account of having seriously injured his only leg. A number of witnesses were sworn upon a number of indictments. The Judge, in charging the grand jury relative to their duties, said that while they had supervision over the affairs of the whole county, they were especially the right arm of the Court of General Sessions, for without their consent no man could be tried for any crime. He knew of nothing special in the county deserving their attention, unless it was to look into the expenditure of a certain sum which had been authorized by an act of the Legislature for the improvement of the Court House. Among other things he would recommend as deserving of their attention was the public school system. It had almost entirely supplanted the private schools, which were our pride before its introduction, and they ought if possible to be kept up to the highest standard. Being in the hands of the State, the system should have the same supervision as other public matters. In overlooking the county officials they should work to correct evils, and not in an inquisitorial spirit. When charges have been made against officials, he suggested that it would be best to notify them (the officials) of the specific charges, so that they could be prepared to meet them, and the grand jury could investigate both sides of the matter. It was the duty of the grand jury, as far as it was in their power, to see that the laws for the peace and good order of society were enforced. There were laws made for such objects which did not enforce themselves, and if it came within the knowledge of the grand jury that they were violated, the parties so doing should be presented and the witnesses named to prove the acts. The annual reports of the various county officials would be in the hands of the Clerk, and it was the duty of the grand jury to examine them and see that they were properly made out and the amounts therein properly expended. He did not think it necessary to charge them specially upon the several bills of indictment which the Solicitor had handed him, further than to say that all the information they wanted would be found in the body of the indictment. It took at least twelve of their body to present a bill. The hours of the Court would be from 9 1/2 a. m. until 1 p. m., and from 3 p. m. to some convenient hour. The cases against J. F. Hodges and W. N. Ransom, for official misconduct, were nolle prossed by the Solicitor. The grand jury returned "true bills" in the following cases: State vs. Granville Martin, Hampton Martin, and Lyman Pinkney—F. O. State vs. John Wells—larceny of live stock. State vs. Wiley Gray—stealing grain from the field. State vs. J. W. Ligon—selling liquor without a license. John Wells pleaded guilty to larceny of live stock. The Court then proceeded to try the case of Granville Martin, et al. and a jury was organized with F. M. Godbold as foreman. Messrs. Benet, Gary, and W. N. Graydon appeared for the prisoners. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty. Pending the trial of Joel W. Ethridge, for obtaining goods under false pretenses, the court adjourned.

The Philomathean Semi-Annual.

Last Friday evening was a lovely one, and just as lovely an audience assembled to greet the young Ciceros of oratory and Apollos of beauty that presented themselves to the public in the semi-annual of the Philomathean Society. The elegant hall was packed. Quite a number of visitors were present. Abbeville was represented by the veteran editor of the Press and Banner and W. L. Miller of the bar. The string band opened the exercises with a sweet selection. President J. K. Hood now arose, and in an exceedingly neat little speech in the way of an introductory presented the speakers. The President said he was sorry to announce that owing to sickness Mr. J. F. Calhoun would be unable to perform his part of the programme. The honor of making the senior oration was conferred upon Mr. H. S. Sibley, which he performed quite handsomely. Mr. Sibley is a fine speaker. Mr. Ira McDavid, as one of the freshman orators, spoke upon "The True Source of Reform." Mr. M. R. Ross spoke upon the "Dangers of Prosperity." These young men were short, and their pieces were well received. Mr. R. H. Henderson being the only Sophomore to speak declared upon "America, the Compliment of Civilization." Mr. Henderson is a good speaker and made an excellent impression on his audience. At this point the President announced, "Now comes the tug of war." He announced as the subject of debate: "Which has had the Greater Influence on England, Anglo-Saxon or Norman French." Affirmative, R. G. Brice and J. P. Knox. Negative, L. L. Reid and R. L. Grier. This contest was waged with much energy, especially by the last two speakers. The arguments of the young men were well put and exhaustive, showing much gleaming of history. We certainly expect to hear from several of these young men further on in life. The committee gave their decision in favor of the affirmative—that is, to the Anglo-Saxon. We must congratulate the President, Mr. J. K. Hood, on the admirable manner in which he presided and made his announcements. R. S. G.

Dr. J. O. Lindsay preached Sunday night on the sin of Cain, and among other things, said he was not nearly the bad character he was usually painted. That there was no malice aforesaid in his crime, and that any soft-hearted and wooden-headed jury of modern times would have acquitted him.

MESSAGES.

Solicitor Orr is at Mrs. Marshall's. The days are getting perceptibly longer. Judge Fraser is stopping with Mrs. Marshall. Capt. Bonham returned from Columbia on Saturday. The Circulating Library is working very successfully. Mr. J. C. Miller is now running the Abbeville Hotel. Measles seem to be very prevalent throughout the country. Hurrah for Greenwood! She never does anything halfway. Mr. DuPre has received another coop of fine Wyandotte chickens. Mr. S. Y. Martin, of Atlanta, arrived in Abbeville last Saturday. Rev. R. P. Franks, of Edgefield, spent last Sunday in Abbeville. The County Commissioners held a business meeting on yesterday. The Upper Long Cone Society held its annual meeting last Friday. The union meeting will be held in the Baptist church next Sunday night. Mr. W. J. Gaines, of the Augusta Chronicle, was in town last week. The brick pavement in front of the McLivaine block needs fixing badly. The Literary Club will meet Friday night at the residence of Maj. A. B. Wardlaw. Thirty-five indictments have been prepared by the Solicitor for this term of the court. The first shad of the season were brought here last Friday by Messrs. Russell & Burns. Dr. J. O. Lindsay preached two very acceptable sermons in the Presbyterian church on last Sunday. Quite a number of drummers have visited Abbeville recently. We do not know what luck they had. We regret to learn of the serious sickness of Rev. A. A. Morse, father of our townsman Mr. A. B. Morse. We propose sending out statements to our delinquent subscribers in a few days. We hope they will respond promptly. A fair pedestrian of our town walked a mile the other evening in the short time of twelve minutes. Pretty good. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Haskell, who have been visiting relatives in town for the past week, returned to Monterey on yesterday. Our Bradley correspondent promises soon to furnish us with more of his news communications from that thriving little town. Mr. G. B. Lythgoe is acting stenographer for the Court during the absence of Mr. Aiken. He is giving general satisfaction. The Augusta Chronicle has taken off its back line between Abbeville and Ventry. The paper reaches here now at half-past four o'clock. Our friend Mr. M. B. McGee, from Cokesbury township, was in to see us last week. He is a man who always keeps square with the printer. Greenwood township rolled up a big majority in favor of subscription to the Georgia, Carolina and Northern railroad. We are bound to have this road. Messrs. S. McG. Simpkins and W. W. Butler, handsome and talented young lawyers of the Edgefield bar, were in Abbeville last Saturday on professional business. Capt. W. C. McGowan, the genial commander of the Abbeville Rifles, has been appointed an aide to the Governor, with the rank of Lieut.-Colonel. We salute thee, Colonel. Lost.—Master Waldo Marshall has lost his fine hound pup. It is about six months old, of a brindle color, with a collar on its neck. A reward will be paid for its return to him at the Central Hotel. Mr. James S. Perrin is the agent of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York, one of the strongest and most reliable companies in the world. If you contemplate insuring your life, call on him before taking out a policy. Last Thursday Conductor Adams, of the down freight train on the Columbia and Greenville railroad, was thrown from his cab as the train was rounding a curve near Greenwood. At first it was thought that he was seriously injured but a medical examination at Newberry proved otherwise, though he was badly bruised about the head and face. As the same train was running into Columbia it ran over and killed a negro woman. She was walking on the track watching a moving train on another track, and she did not see the train that struck her until the engineer blew his whistle, and then she was too badly frightened to get out of the way. Our Bradley correspondent furnishes us with the following as the result of the vote in White Hall township for school trustees: Capt. J. R. Carwile, - - - 47 A. McNeil, - - - 46 Dr. P. H. Adams, - - - 43 J. M. Jordan, - - - 22 W. B. Milling, - - - 12 J. M. Pruitt, - - - 11 S. P. Brooks, - - - 2 This makes a total of about seventy votes. When it is remembered that at the primary election held in August, Bradley polled 74 votes, and Phoenix, which is in the same township, polled 28, it will be seen that there was a pretty full vote in the late election. Notwithstanding this fact, the men elected as trustees were not appointed. Our School Commissioner will have to explain.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain. Try a bottle, only 50c. at Drug Store.

Due West Dots.

January has been a right pretty month. A nice drove of horses passed through town last week. The Council speak of digging a new well, if a suitable location can be found. E. B. Dickson, the cotton buyer of Greenwood, is upon the road draining. We have two photographers in town. The new one, Mr. Puckett, has his tent spread at the cross-roads. Mr. J. R. Coleman's hand got slightly caught in the gin the other day. His friends report him as having been badly scared. The public school term in the Female College began on last Monday. The accomplished teacher, Miss Annie Brice, is the assistant teacher. One of those lovely musicles of the Female College is still a thing of the future. The public is getting hungry for one. None this session so far. The number of lectures delivered in Erskine in the regular course have not been numerous so far. Perhaps with returning spring they may become more frequent. The C. C. G. & C. R. R. again comes to the front. It does seem to be a lively corps. A through connection from Charleston to Chicago and thence to Glasgow is a grand enterprise. The Day of Prayer for colleges was observed here last Thursday. Preaching in the A. R. church from 11 to 12 o'clock. Thursday night Dr. Lindsay preached an able sermon in the Baptist church. Mr. Western Sadler, of Cook's station, Anderson county, has been down to see about entering Erskine College. He stopped with his aunt, Mrs. Galloway. It is probable Mr. Sadler will enter college here soon. Through the kindness of Mr. Sadler we enjoyed a treat in eating some fine oranges just from the grove of Judge James Speer, of Oakland, Fla. The grape fruit were very large and elegant. Judge Speer is a brother of Mrs. Galloway. She has not seen him in some thirty years. Messrs. R. C. Brownlee and W. D. Stom went to Abbeville on business last week. It was Mr. R. E. Hill's birthday. He very courteously invited them around to partake of a sumptuous dinner, elegantly prepared. They were charmed with Mr. and Mrs. Hill. The latter they pronounce to be a very handsome lady. Through this scribe they desire to return compliments and thanks for an enjoyable occasion. R. S. G.

Lowndesville Locals.

Considerable wind and rain last Sunday night. Mr. Will Baskin has removed to the old Baskin place, and will farm this year. Mrs. Marion Latimer is now visiting at Mr. J. T. Latimer's. Mr. J. B. Franks opened his school last Monday was a week ago. Mr. C. A. Huckabee has been quite sick for the past week or ten days at Dr. J. B. Moseley's. It is rumored that ere long one of the daily trains upon the S. V. R. R. will be discontinued. For a while back there have been several cattle buyers around, and some trades have been made. Mr. L. D. Kennedy is repairing the houses upon his place, which will add much to their appearance and comfort. Mrs. J. F. C. DuPre, of Abbeville C. H., spent a day or two here this week with her sick mother, Mrs. Huckabee. Judge William Moore, the new appointee, has received his commission and books, and is now ready for business. Mrs. John H. Power and Mrs. W. H. B. McGraw, of Anderson C. H., were here a day or two this week visiting. Mr. G. P. Pettigrew, an aged and much respected citizen of this section, died very suddenly last Tuesday, and was buried at Smyrna. Mrs. John McCalla, of Elbert county, Ga., who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Belton Watson, of Anderson, stopped a short time in town. Mr. John Allen Martin, one of the oldest men in this township, a few days since had a stroke of paralysis, and is now in a critical condition. Dr. M. F. Game, Mr. J. B. Frank's enterprising and progressive pharmacist, has provided himself with an instrument, and with a little practice will be prepared to take pictures at short notice. "Professionals," no doubt, would be amused at the "flourishing around" of our hotel drummers on the arrival of the different trains. If this town cannot be a "seaport" town, it may be a city yet. TROUPE.

Ninety-Six News.

Do you believe in retribution on earth? If not, beware! He who takes advantage of his neighbor is a great coward. Not what we believe, but what we act, makes us honest men. The negro who stole Mr. W. A. DeLoach's cow a few weeks ago is still at large. Miss Lula Brown, an eminent teacher, of Troy, honored Mrs. Dr. Wenck with a short visit last week. Mr. L. M. Fouché, the polite salesman, has honored his native town with a short visit. We welcome him to our classic ground. South Carolina has the most changeable temperature on the globe. If you don't believe it, watch the signal stations. A friend of ours said: "If you see one rattlesnake, be on your guard, there will be another one near by. Therefore, beware." The person or rascal who stole Mrs. Dr. Wenck's turkey last week is requested to call at her residence, and she will pay him for the job.

The bridge over Saluda river connecting Laurens county with Ninety-Six, was completed last week by Capt. J. N. King. Cheap and honest work, so we have been told by many who ought to know.

A fine turkey was stolen from the fowl yard of Mrs. Dr. Wenck last week. The turkey had been saved so far from destruction by its owners, as it was a present of Dr. and Mrs. Sanders. We know now, but too late, there was a negro festival over the creek. A new sign graces the front of Dr. Wenck's apothecary. We hope it will add to the good looks of the street and the improvement of the town. Come, see, and be convinced that the apothecary with the golden mortar is still abreast with the hard times and will give everyone a fair bargain. We saw an advertisement in the Augusta Chronicle inserted by our friend A. J. Quattlebaum, who lately moved to Augusta, Ga., from Ninety-Six, S. C. He is gone into the milk business, keeping a dairy in Green street. All who know him and family are sorry he left, and envy Augusta for its new acquisition. All possible luck and prosperity to him and family, we wish, with all our heart. VASSLER.

Long Came Locals.

Miss Katie Eaken, a beautiful young lady from near Greenwood, has been visiting relatives and friends in this neighborhood. Miss Ella Porter of Ninety-Six, has been spending a while with her relative, Mr. S. O. Botts. The young folks will meet and sing during the pretty moon-light nights. Mr. W. F. Morrison, our new Jury Commissioner, has but one arm, but he can drive a nail as well as a man with two. Mr. Donald Spruell, who has been confined with measles for the last three or four months is slowly but surely recovering. Mr. Willie A. Stephenson, one of our highly respectable young friends and neighbors, is grieving because he is on the jury. If you have never read "Jane Eyre," we would ask you to read it. It gives the true life of the orphan. No man's character is so pure that an enemy can't find room for ridicule, but it is well to remember the old maxim, "Do right and fear not." The wheat is not thought to be very much injured by the recent cold spell. The oat crop is somewhat damaged. Mr. McDonald has the railroad in an excellent condition. He deserves great credit. Mr. A. T. McLivaine's family are down with the measles. Mrs. William Robertson died at the residence of her son, Mr. Benton S. Robertson, on the 27th of January. She leaves a kind husband and a devoted family of four sons and one daughter and a host of friends to mourn her irreparable loss. She is the mother of Mr. Samuel T. Eaken, a highly respected citizen near Greenwood. Nothing else in the world can strike the tender chord in man's heart and call forth more true sympathy, than to see loving sons and daughters mourning for a mother and will not be comforted, because she is not. This stricken family has the sympathy of many friends in this their sad hour of bereavement. Mrs. Robertson was a lady whom to know was to love. DIXIE.

Level Land Locals.

Measles is again rampant. One month of the year has passed away and nothing done upon the farm. The time has been spent procuring firewood for the stormy blast. Mrs. Noble Bell has been quite ill from an attack of measles and pneumonia. We wish for her a speedy recovery. Dr. Robinson is attending her. Mr. Peter Armstrong, we learn, is going to leave soon for Tennessee, where he expects to remain. We hope he will change his mind and remain with us. Jeff Fair, the negro who was so terribly frightened on the night of the great earthquake, has regained his equilibrium of mind and sunk back to the normal condition again. The public schools are in full blast. Sallad is scarce in Level Land, owing to the rigorous winter. Nic Kay has the finest baby in Level Land, and Nic is a fine fellow himself. Miss Nannie Harkness has returned from Texas, and spending a few days at Mr. Nic Kay's, her brother-in-law. She looks much improved. CINDERELLA.

A Compliment to Col. Coward.

On Saturday last, Col. A. Coward received the following testimonial of esteem from the South Carolina pupils at the State Normal college at Nashville Tennessee: In view of the eminent services rendered by the late Superintendent, Col. Coward, in behalf of common school education, and more particularly of the prompt and efficient manner in which the Peabody scholarships have been filled, and his subsequent solicitude for the welfare of the students selected, be it Resolved, By the delegation from South Carolina at the State Normal college, that we express our appreciation of the excellent manner in which Col. Coward has performed the duties of superintendent of education. Resolved, That we extend to Col. Coward a vote of thanks for the kindness he has shown to us personally, and that we unite in wishing him that success in the future to which his services in the past so justly entitle him. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Col. Coward. Ellen D. Stanley, Columbia; Ella L. Priestner, Greenville; Lillie Wingo Spartanburg; Wade Stackhouse, Donahoe; Thos. Y. Jones, Jr., Edgefield; A. A. Gilbert, Greenville; James D. Campbell Bolton; H. D. Corbett, Bennettsville; A. S. Laird, Lexington; E. J. Brown, Lowrysville.

Governor Richardson's Staff.

Governor Richardson has appointed his staff. The following general order has been issued by the Adjutant and Inspector General: OFFICE OF ADJUTANT AND INSPECTOR GENERAL, COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 24, 1887. General Orders No. —. The following appointments are made by his Excellency the Governor and Commander-in-Chief, and the officers below named constitute his staff: Chief of Staff, Brig. Gen. M. L. Bonham, Jr., Adjutant and Inspector General, Abbeville. Quartermaster General, Col. W. B. Utsey, St. George's. Commissary General, Col. M. J. Clement, Walterboro'. Engineer-in-Chief, Col. J. S. Hanahan, Orangeburg. Surgeon General, Col. B. M. Badger, Clarendon. Paymaster General, Col. J. D. Maxwell, Anderson. Judge Advocate General, Col. P. H. Nelson, Camden. Chief of Ordnance, Col. W. T. Tarrant, Newberry. AIDES TO THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF. Lieut. Col. W. G. Childs, Richland. Lieut. Col. W. C. McGowan, Abbeville. Lieut. Col. Jas. H. Traynham, Laurens. Lieut. Col. P. B. Hagood, Barnwell. Lieut. Col. Edward Melver, Charwan. Lieut. Col. Geo. A. Wagoner, Charleston. Lieut. Col. W. St. J. Mazyek, Georgetown. M. L. BONHAM, JR., Adjutant and Inspector General. When in town this week in attendance upon Court, do not forget the small amount you are due the printer.

Wonderful Cure?

W. D. Hoyt & Co., Wholesale and Retail Druggists of Rome, Ga., say: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnicin Salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced Consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by T. C. Gerrin.
