

Progressive Bankers Invite Your Patronage

The Citizens National Bank

has made a remarkable increase in its business during the past year.

There is a reason for this, try us with a portion of your business now—later you will give us all.

... We Pay Interest on Savings...

J. H. Anderson, Pres.

J. F. Shumate, Cash.

The Farmers and Merchants Bank

...and...

The Farmers Loan and Trust Co.

Whose combined resources are a little the rise of One Million Dollars are taking on more new accounts every day than ever before.

THERE MUST BE A REASON

Small deposits and small loans are especially desired and are especially appreciated and receive especial attention. Interest paid on deposits.

The Farmers Bank of Iva, Now Ready for Business.

The Farmers Bank of Iva is now ready to receive deposits and transact a general banking business.

Taxes will be collected for Corner and Hall and Savannah Townships, and remitted to County Treasurer free of charge. The new bank building will be erected on the Wharton lot at the corner of Broad and East Front Streets, and work on same will begin in the near future.

E. F. MAULDIN, Pres. W. R. MULLINIX, Cashier. Capital Stock $25,000.

The one way to keep the sun of prosperity always shining on you is to always have MONEY IN OUR BANK.

Too many make the mistake of saving for a while and then investing in some deal and LOSING all they have. They then also make a mistake by PILING UP money in the bank and constantly making his balance bigger.

Make OUR bank YOUR bank. We pay 1 per cent. interest quarterly.

PEOPLES BANK - Anderson, S. C.

The Anderson Intelligencer SEMI WEEKLY $1.50 THE YEAR

THE DASHEEN VERSUS THE POTATO

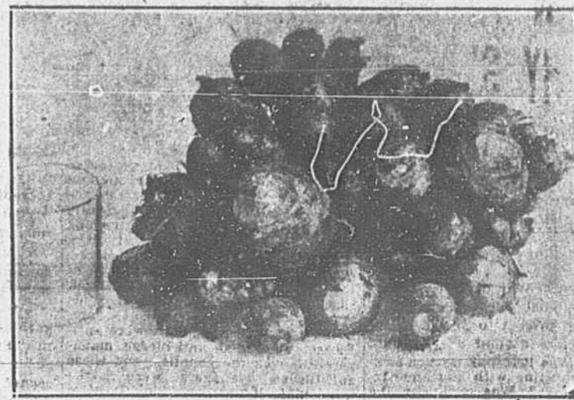

THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT THINKS IT HAS FOUND SOMETHING NEW UNDER THE SUN—STEP-BROTHER OF THE ELEPHANT'S EAR.

About two years ago Congressman Alken sent the editor of The Intelligencer a menu of a State dinner in Washington in which it was stated that among other edibles, entrees and indigestibles was a new wish "Dasheens, raised in South Carolina." Inquiry at the headquarters of the department of agriculture at Washington elicited the information that the dasheen is a tuber, a wonderful thing. It hails from the Philippine islands and its broad elephantine leaf is said to be a delicious substitute for our native American salads, such as turnips, mustards, etc.

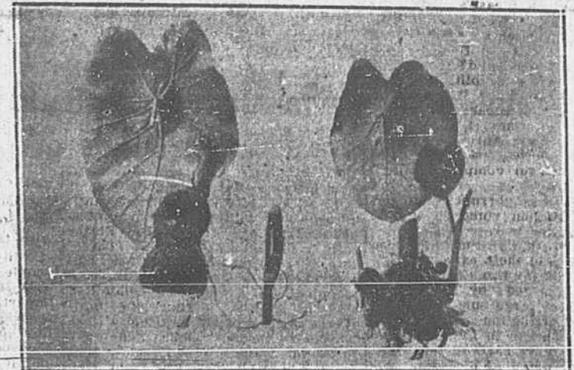

The department at Washington thought it had discovered something new. The dasheen was hailed as one of the coming instruments to cut taters. The United States government is always trying to find something new in the way of an edible to reduce the cost of living. But old man Solomon said there is nothing new under the sun. Luther Burbank has depopulated a spineless cactus, and has developed grapes as large as pears and all sorts of things, but there may have been a prototype away back yonder somewhere. And the latest thing is turkey dressed with dasheens a la pommum and down the cost of high living. For it could be used as a substitute for potatoes, Irish, yams or other varieties. The dasheen, it was declared, was susceptible of many transformations under the culinary skill of any chef who knows the possibilities of the Irish potato, and yet on the other hand it could be prepared for the table in the same way that the sweet potato may be served. Great. But the dasheen is nothing new. It is just the familiar old "tanyah" of the coast counties of South Carolina. The name tanyah suggests that this article of diet may have been brought over from Africa on slave bearing ships, but at any rate the tanyah for at least a hundred years had been a form of subsistence greatly enjoyed in Beaufort and other coast countries.

And then there are botanists who tell us that what we see on the public square of Anderson in the summer time and call in our colloquialism the "elephant's ear." Who ever thought of the great, pulpy succulent leaves of the "elephant's ear" being suitable for the table? And in its uncultivated state it may not be, in fact we have heard that it is rank poison. And there are those who speak of the well known plant more deferentially as the Caladium. We would not advise anyone to use the roots of the elephant's ear in place of sweet potatoes, for the crops of table possums has not yet consumed all of the natural yams, but we would suggest to some of our fancy gardeners to write to the department at Washington to send some dasheen tubers for planting. This plant is hardy during the summer months and does not require much attention and is not attacked by the Irish potato bug. It grows abundantly in swampy places and some of our swamps that are going to waste might be used for the purpose of growing dasheens.

A Bunch of the Tubers Grown in South Carolina.

The Dasheen and the Calladium-- The latter having the long pointed leaf

A field of dasheens growing in the lower part of South Carolina--The leaf is so large that it makes a delightful shade and the roots take the place of white potatoes or yams.

ENFORCEMENT OF LIQUOR LAWS

(Continued From Page One.)

law, and if the supreme court had sustained me in my contention that I had the right to appoint them. As it was, I have been helpless, to a large extent. I could send no men into the counties for the purpose of enforcing those laws. All that I could do was to send a detective and get such information as I could, and report that information to the sheriff of the county, and that sheriff could either take that information and use it in the enforcement of the law or he could ignore it. Magistrates and their constables, whose duty it also was to enforce the law, could positively disregard me, as I have shown, because if I should suspend one the Senate would set aside the suspension and put him back in office, and the supreme court said I could not remove him, nor could I appoint whom I wanted magistrate—my friend, who would help me enforce the law—but I must appoint my enemy, says the supreme court, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, which enemy would not help me enforce the law, but would allow it to go unenforced in order to try to injure me and my administration. In other words, many of those whose duty it was to do so, instead of helping me enforce the law when I was doing what I could to give them a clean administration, have encouraged violations of the law and helped those who did violate it, in order that they might say to me that the blind tigers were freely just what they are now endeavoring run throughout the State under Biease's administration.

Then, when you come to the towns and cities, the mayor of the city and the council, with their police force and their plain-clothes men, are responsible for the enforcement of the law in these towns and cities. But my opponents have attempted to charge up to me that there is more whiskey sold in the towns and cities in blind tigers than has been sold heretofore. I do not know that it is true. I do not believe it. I believe that a clear investigation will show that there is less whiskey being sold in Columbia than has ever been sold in it, because I have a strong constabulary force in this city, and they have watched closely, as the increase in the profits of the dispensary will show.

But if the blind tigers are overrunning the towns and cities, should it be charged up to the governor, or should it be charged up to the mayors and councilmen and police of the towns and cities? If the mayor and councilmen of any city will admit to me that they are helpless and can not enforce the law, I will take charge of the city and guarantee that it is fully enforced. They are there on the ground, living right in the city, and should know conditions better than I. And if the law in their city is not enforced, the people should elect a mayor and council who will enforce it, and the mayor and council should elect a police force who will see that it is enforced. All that I ask is for a fair and honest judgment to be passed in these matters, and I am willing to take whatever blame should be placed upon my shoulders; but I do not propose for the people to be misled into thinking that my administration has been worse than others, for it has not been, and it would have been more free from the sale of whiskey if it had not been for my constables when I sent them into the counties, and if it had not been for the Senate's actions towards me in the magistrature matters, and if it had not been for the supreme court's sustaining these people in their contentions. And, then, last, but by no means least, many of the senators and representatives who were bitterly opposed to me, in order to keep me from appointing constables in their counties, adopted the rural police system for their counties and in their bills would provide that no dispensary constables should be appointed in their counties, and even then, when they would have the rural police system, they went further and would put the appointment of these rural police in the hands of the sheriff, who was independent of me. They deprived me of the right to appoint the rural policemen and thus make them hold commissions under me, thereby giving me the power to remove these rural policemen if they did not enforce the laws—they deliberately took away from me the power to appoint them, and thus the power to remove them, and consequently deprived me of having superior to these offices and put these offices in the hands of my political enemies throughout the State, as the records will show, thus doing all they could to block my administration in the enforcement of the law and doing all they could to put in office those who would not enforce it, in order that they might say Biease was not enforcing the law. And then when I vetoed these bills, and in my vetoes pointed out to the senators and representatives the evils that they were bringing on by giving this appointing power to others than the governor, they overrode my vetoes, and the result is today that there are rural policemen all over this State who are not doing one thing to enforce the law, and I have reports in my office showing that some of them are a menace instead of a protection to the communities in which they are supposed to be working.

THE SULTANA GOWN.

SEED CORN AND COTTON SEEDS

It would not have what you require make known your wants—perhaps we can get it for you at a better price. Forman Smith—The Seedsman, PHONE 464.

TOWNVILLE NEWS.

Jan. 8.—We are very glad to report that Roy and Albert Hawkins, who have been on the sick list for several weeks are much better to the delight of their many friends. Reese Fant and family have declined the idea of moving to Athens, Ga., and have moved into town. We gladly welcome them here. The following students have returned to their respective colleges: Misses Kathleen Hawkins, Winthrop College, Rock Hill; Mars Smith and Alice Price, Lander College, Limestone; Adie May, N. C. L. Asheville; Grace Compton, Susie Fant and Kathleen Johnson, R. G. L.; Messrs. George Smith, C. A. C.; Frank Hawkins, Macdon, Ga. C. H. Burkett, of Anderson, is in town. Misses Mamie and Sula Gant, of Atlanta, were the attractive guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Boleman last week. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hunt entertained a number of friends and relatives at a turkey dinner New Year's day. Joe Heller and family, of Sandy Springs, recently visited Dr. and Mrs. S. R. Heller. Rev. John Harris delivered a most interesting sermon at the Baptist church last Sunday evening. Rev. Harris is a young minister just entering the field. Mr. and Mrs. Piesie Mahaffey entertained the deacon's meeting at their magnificent home last Tuesday. The next meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. King. Misses Emma and Annie Barton were shopping in Anderson yesterday. Lois Hunt spent last Thursday night with Willie Boleman. We are very sorry indeed to hear of the recent illness of Mrs. Elizabeth Ledbetter and hope she will soon be restored to her usual good health. E. C. Ashby, our attentive cashier of the Bank of Townville, and Miss Lilian Peterson, of Laurens, S. C., were married Dec. 20th, 1913, at Laurens, S. C. Miss Peterson, having taught two successful terms here in the graded school, she has a host of friends here who will gladly welcome her to make this her future home. Mr. Ashby has been employed in the Bank of Townville as cashier for about six years and has made many friends while here. Mr. and Mrs. Ashby will be at home at Townville, S. C., after Jan. 15th. We gladly welcome this happy young couple here. Miss Alice Smith has returned to school near Seneca, S. C. The Misses Barton entertained the Priscilla Club last Thursday afternoon. The next meeting will be with Mrs. J. N. Boleman. Mrs. Luther McCarier and two little sons, Ray and Willie, spent last Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Giles.

WILL MANAGE NORFOLK

Buck Presley Signs Up With President McCray.

Roanoke, Va.—William L. (Buck) Presley considered to be the premier first baseman in the Virginia league and last season's manager of the Roanoke club met Dr. J. F. McCray, president of the Norfolk club here today and agreed to manage the Norfolk club next season. Under the agreement the Roanoke club will get Pitchers Campbell and five of the Norfolk club and Norfolk waives its first claim to first baseman Graham of the Morristown, Tenn. club of the Appalachian league. Graham will come to the Roanoke club by purchase.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY

Schedule Effective May 24th, 1913.

IN CONNECTION WITH BLUE RIDGE RAILWAY

Premier Carrier of the South. Arrival and departure of trains from Anderson, S. C.

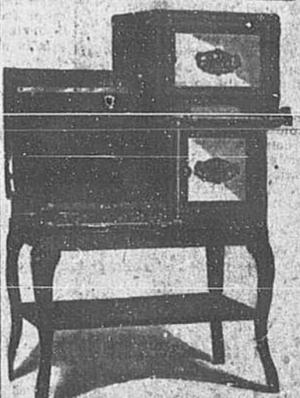

Table with columns: Arriving From, Time, Leaving For, Time. Lists routes to Greenville, Belton, Columbia, Charleston, Seneca, and Atlanta.

GENTLEMEN--

When in need of a FINE TAILOR-MADE SUIT cut, trimmed and shaped to your figure, call on SALLA TAILORING CO., 126 W. Benson St., where your credit is good. Largest assortment Woolens in the City to select from and lowest prices.

...CASH or CREDIT... SALLA TAILORING CO. Under Maple Hall 126 W. Benson St.

You will be doing yourself a good turn by installing a GAS RANGE. We sell them under the strongest guarantee. Easy terms—$2 down $2 per month.

Anderson Gas Co.

- Casey & Fant, Architects, Anderson, S. C. Brown Office Building, Second Floor, Phone 266. Sayre & Baldwin, Architects, Bleckley Bldg., Anderson, S. C. Citizens National Bank Bldg., Raleigh, N. C.

JULIEN C. GUNNSALES ATTORNEY AT LAW. Loans Registered on Real Estate. Office: Watson-Vandiver Building. ANDERSON, S. C.

My Business is Growing Fast

I was compelled to add one more room to my office, it is now bigger and better than before.

Why?

BECAUSE—The people have begun to learn that they can get their eyes examined better. That they can get their glasses fitted better. That they can get more service, a straight square, honest deal every time when they come to my office. DO NOT keep complaining with that headache all the time. Do not neglect your eyes too long when you have to strain them when reading or sewing. Get glasses fitted at once, and get them from me if you want to be satisfied.

DR. I. M. ISRAELSON OPTICIAN. Office over Evans' Pharmacy No. 2. ANDERSON, S. C.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS. The Best of All. For Constipation, Biliousness, Headache, etc. Sold by Druggists Everywhere.