SPRING WORK ON SOUTHERN FARMS

Department of Agriculture Gives Some Good Advice to the Farmers of This Section.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—In no section of the country does a well prepared seed-bed give better returns than in the Southern States. The best spring preparation of the soil is practically impossible unless it has been properly turned and deeply broken during the previous summer or fall. The necessity for deep plowing in the South is probably not realized by those who are not familiar with the heavy rainfalls in this section, which frequently packs and ruins the particles of soil together so as to exclude air and sunshine. The absence of freezing prevents any loosening up of the particles, besides in many places there is an almost impervious hardpan of subsoil, either natural or brought about from a continuous custom of shallow plowing. In other sections this deepening and loosening of the soil is done partly at least by the forces of nature but can only be accomplished by the plow in the South. Such are the findings of the Department of agriculture. The best implement for deep breaking of the soil is the disc plow which turns, pulverizes, etc. mixes at the same time. When properly adjusted the disc breaks the land deeply and thoroughly loosens it, mixing the soil and the subsoil to some extent but does not turn to the surface enough of the inert subsoil to injure the succeeding crop. The next best method for deep breaking is moleboard plowing, set to turn furrows on edge, and this is followed by a subsoil plow in the same furrow as deeply as desired.

If the over crop is to follow the fall breaking a thorough preparation of the seed-bed should be made before planting the seed. If no cover crop is sown the disc plow or spring tooth harrow should be run over occasionally several jolly hours at a surprise party at the home of Misses Sallie and Pauline Hunter Friday evening. These young boys and girls gathered every Friday evening at some friend's home, and pass the time most pleasantly together.

Special to the Intelligencer: Williston, Jan. 19.—Our farmers have done quite a lot of plowing this week but it is likely that they will stop this morning as it rains would stop these pretty soon. A very large crowd attended Sunday school at this place Sunday. Every one, young and old, should come out and take a part in the exercises. With Mr. Joe Melton as superintendent, Mr. A. Z. Bryson, choir leader, and Mrs. E. E. Moore, organist, we certainly have the right people in the right places.

Mr. B. C. Ray of Six Mile, Pickens county, was a visitor here last Sunday. Miss Annie Bargoll, a winsome young lady of Pendleton, was visiting friends here last Sunday. We were glad to have Prof. Lawrence Smith of Slaton, with us on Sunday school last Sunday. Before it is able to be out after a severe spell of rheumatism, Miss Mamie Massey of Mt. Springs, visited relatives here last week.

There will be a box party at the home of Mr. A. W. Pichens on next Saturday night, given for the benefit of Melton school. Everybody invited. Mr. Jas. Griffin is at present suffering with rheumatism. If every one will come forward and give The Daily Intelligencer support it so richly deserves, it will soon be the grandest paper South Carolina ever had.

A BIG 'POSSUM HUNT. Easily Progress. The largest 'possum I ever saw was caught near Tumbler shoals in Laurens county. It weighed 11 pounds, and the largest one I ever heard tell of, a truthful looking man told about it, in the barber shop at Pelzer. He said that this 'possum was caught on bright moonlight night bore Pelzer.

But I started into tall 'bout the big 'possum me, Sirrins Higgins and Tom Earle did not catch the other night. We started with nearly all the dogs in the county, they struck a trail about a mile from town. Higgins said: 'dis new weight look thirty or forty pounds; said he could tell by the bark of his dog. They took it up a poplar tree about two feet thick. We cut it down, and the dogs caught the 'possum, but it turned out to be somebody's old cat. We crossed the branch and the dogs struck another trail. The boys said it's a 'possum this time. You can't fool these dogs twice in the same night. We hurried on when the dogs struck and seized it, eye up a small tree. Earle said it would weigh 15 pounds. I guessed 9 pounds. Higgins said it was the biggest one he ever saw. We bent the pole over and Higgins said I will get some, but what he caught sight of the animal fell he caught it.

Grandma Used Sage Tea to Darken Hair. She made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to bring back color, gloss and thickness. Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur receipt at home, though, is troublesome. An easy way to get the ready-to-use tonic is to buy about 50 cents a large bottle at Drug stores, known as "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell because it does it so naturally, so soon. You take a teaspoon or more of sage brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking out small strands at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.
