THE WEATHER.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Forecast for South Carolina: Fair Wednesday and Thursday.

Thought for the Day.

Trust not thy friends and kinsfolk, nor put off the work of thy salvation to the future, for men will forget thee sooner than thou thinkest.—Thomas A' Kempis.

Anderson is My Town.

Huerta is the villain in who would keep Villa out.

Some one has said it is poor economy to cheapen the things that are God's.

Our sympathy to "Big Bill" King in his illness. May he soon be himself again.

This warm weather is seductive to budding spring poetry, destined to be frost.

The hero of the Monroe was the wireless operator. Nobody expresses surprise.

Judge Jno. B. Wilson finds Anderson juries away above the average in the State.

Woodrow Wilson displeased Collier's Weekly because he removes machine-made ambassadors to appoint men.

One of the nuisances attendant upon a carnival is for the streets to be lined with posters.

Joe Duckworth says that Williamston is about cured of the Chautauqua habit. Net loss, $1,600.

The Intelligencer's campaign for a motor car on the Blue Ridge from Anderson westward is growing.

There's nothing on earth half so mean as a refractory printing press—to paraphrase Sir Thomas Moore.

That carnival band is a dandy. Anybody would get happy listening to their playing of "Radiant Night."

Some people who pull back and never help any public cause get full of glee over any misfortune.

When the sheriff of Anderson met the sheriff of Greenville on the county line Monday, what did he say?

Champ Clark got indignant when accused of disloyalty to the administration. He knows a thing or two.

Whenever The Intelligencer expects mail matter on the night trains it is late on an Anderson street.

Mayor Holleman's excuse for wearing that new hat is that he has bought a new automobile to match it.

After the revolutionists have about won their fight President Wilson's lifting the embargo is merely saying "Sit em."

Washington date says inauguration day will not be changed. Yet history will repeat itself in the case of Woodrow.

There will never be any quarrel with Japan over an anti-alien law in this State. Them Japs are sneered at Cecil Wyche.

Judge Speer and Bob Fitzsimmons came back the same week, and each showed some punch for a hot-noon.

ALL IS GOD'S.

This community was wakened a few nights ago by a powerful address by Dr. E. M. Potat of Furman University. The Intelligencer asked the brilliant educator and gifted speaker for a full account of his subject, which was to the effect that our lives and all that we have and are belong to God. Dr. Potat was unable to give us his thought as he carried it out, but the following synopsis is something to make every reader of the paper think long and hard and deeply.

"I was just trying," he says, "to point out the growth of socialistic opinions, a growth which has been so rapid and in such influential circles that it begins now to look like a menace. As an economic doctrine, socialism stands for the common ownership of all capital. That means, of course, the destruction of the doctrine of private property in those forms of wealth used in production.

"There is no more pressing duty upon business men than the duty of understanding this propaganda and being prepared to meet it. The New Testament assumes the right of private property and puts it on the basis of trusteeship to God. That is to say, private property in the New Testament is not held by right, nor on the ground of expediency, but on the ground of the interests of the Kingdom of God.

"In this way the New Testament provides against the perils incident to possession, giving full recognition to all the factors in production. These factors are three: God, society and the individual. It is easy to see that God furnishes all the original materials of production, that society gives to a man's accumulation the character of wealth, and also that it enhances the value of his accumulations. The contribution which the individual makes in amassing a fortune is extremely small.

"It follows that when a man says, 'This is mine, and I made it myself, and I am going to do what I please with it,' he is speaking without reflection; he would be laughable if the spectacle was not so sad.

"Perhaps more than by any other one thing the growth of socialist opinion is stimulated by such ridiculous selfishness. Only by the adoption of the principles of the Kingdom of Heaven in the making and in the use of money can this wave of socialist opinion be stayed. We effectively spike the guns of the socialistic propaganda when we hold property and use it in the ways of the Kingdom of God."

TEXTILE NIGHT SCHOOL.

With reference to the textile school to be started at nights by the Y. M. C. A. we add the following information: The classes will be conducted under instructors thoroughly equipped and prepared to teach textile designing, mill calculations, mechanical drawing, arithmetic, writing and spelling. The classes will be small and each man will receive individual attention and careful instruction. There is no fee for the class work, but every man who attends the classes is required to become a member of the central Y. M. C. A., and this will carry a fee of $1.50 for three months. We understand that the announcement has met with great favor. This school will be conducted somewhat along the lines of the Camak school at Spartanburg.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT.

We are pleased to see the development that is going along on all sides in Anderson. This town long has had the reputation for being the luckiest in the whole country. The people here, the native Andersonians, are the salt of the earth, and some good people have come among them. We believe that there is not a city in the State that will make a more general, material progress during the coming year than Anderson will do. There is something doing in Anderson every day, and when the end of the year comes and we begin to take stock of the development that has been completed we believe that the whole State will point with pride to Anderson as the banner city.

THE BEEF LAWS.

We agree with the ministerial union in its efforts to break up loafing on the streets on Sunday. There should be some way to make the churches attractive enough to keep the boys' attention there. But the parental discipline, or lack of it, is so noticeable these days that some boys seem to feel most at home in company of a rusty telegraph pole, with a lot of companions around, ogling all who pass by.

We believe a curfew law would be better than a Sunday closing law. As a matter of fact, and of law, we believe the drug stores cannot be closed on Sundays, and as a matter of justice we doubt exceedingly if the drug stores are responsible for the crowds of loafers. A few years ago it was considered a sign of poor breeding for a young man to be seen loafing around the streets or in front of a church door, but, as the Rev. Mr. Garrison said at the Baptist church Sunday night, the times have changed.

WHAT IS THE TANGO.

Some days ago a movement was started in Anderson to raise a fund to employ an experienced dancer to come to Anderson to teach classes in the new dances. Whereupon inquiry was made, "What is the Tango?" Now this is the answer that we got: "The Tango is not as flippant as its name would indicate. It is a beautiful, graceful dance. It is not a lug-me-tight kind of a dance, but a modernization of the old quadrille or schottische, with some of the effect of the stately minuet. It is said to be less dizzy and whizzy really than the old Virginia reel." We call attention to the fact that we quote others in making these few brief remarks.

As the ground fog has fallen down this year, up to now, we hope for the sake of comfort that Forecaster Hicks is also mistaken for once when he says that the worst of the winter is yet to come.

Anderson is still ringing with that address by Dr. E. M. Potat. It is good news to know that he will be here again soon, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

The Woodmen of the World have taken time by the forelock and have bought the turkeys for their big supper. Now you can come on, you Sunday school convention.

The city of the electric light company—we do not know which—is very negligent in the matter of the arc lights on the public square. At least one a night refuses to burn.

Both sides in the political melee two years ago charge corruption. Then why not both get together on a plan to stop the opportunity for evil?

MR. TOWNSEND BURIED.

Last Sad Rites Over One Whom Anderson Missed.

The remains of Henry Claudius Townsend were interred at Silver Brook cemetery Tuesday morning, after services by the pastor, Rev. Dr. W. H. Frazier. The church, that church which the dead man loved, and for which he had done so much, was filled to overflowing with the great throng of sorrowing friends from every walk of life.

Never was sorrow so manifest, and never was a more sincere expression of appreciation for the life of one who had been called away just in the noon day of his usefulness to the city to which he was devoted; to the friends whom he loved; to the relatives whom he cherished; and to the church which he served, faithfully and in humility. The services were profoundly impressive, and the presence of floral offerings sent from many homes and by numerous organizations, proved the universality of the sorrow over the death of this good man. Dr. Frazier spoke briefly and tenderly of the dead man, his friend and more than friend. The remains were followed to the grave by a great many friends, including the employees who have lost one whom they respected and loved.

COMMISSIONERS MAKE CHANGES IN ROADWAY

Which They Think Should Please People of Honea Path and Vicinity.

At the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners Tuesday, Capt. J. C. Rampey, in charge of chain gang number 2, resigned, as he intends to engage in farming this year, and M. J. W. Cook was appointed to succeed him. Mr. Rampey has been a very capable and energetic gang sergeant and he will be succeeded by a good man. Mr. Cook, it is stated, has had 15 or 20 years experience at this kind of work, and is regarded very highly. The commissioners decided to change the road from Honea Path to Belton in the neighborhood of Dochena, where the road crosses and recrosses the Columbia and Greenville railway. The new road will eliminate Co's crossing and Greer's crossing and will run along the south side of the railway, eliminating a bad hollow which is constantly in need of work. The commissioners feel that the public will be greatly accommodated by the new road and that the cost to the county will be minimized in the future.

Supervisor King has been very much interested in the work that was done by private subscription under the supervision of a government engineer on the road leading out from West Market street toward the homes of Messrs. Laboon, Fowler and Fretwell. Mr. Hathaway, the government expert, built the road in dry weather, and left here before a good rain could come to try the quality of the road.

The road was raised above five feet where it crosses the stream in the hollow, and the hillside were cut down to make the fill, thus changing the grade. But it appears that there was not enough sand in proportion to the clay, although the new road had a foundation of clinders. There has been so much dissatisfaction with the road that the government sent an inspector, Mrs. Moon, here this week and he reports that the trouble is the lack of the proper proportion of sand. Supervisors King and Moon are at this time hauling the sand, as it would interfere with his plan of trying to get all over the county with light, running repairs on all roads before trying to centralize his efforts on any particular spot or road for permanent work.

The purchase of twenty-four pieces of motor driven fire apparatus and a motor fire boat is planned for London.
