A Cabinet Official's Opinion

Raleigh, N. C., July 4, 1913.

Mr. Horace R. Dowell,

Raleigh, N. C.

My Dear Mr. Dowell:

In 1889 I took a ten-payment life policy in the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, N. J. I regard it as one of the best insurance policies I hold. It has paid me dividends regularly each year since it became paid-up. I hold it among my most valued possessions.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPHUS DANIELS

JD S

Secretary of the Navy Daniels has carried insurance with The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co., of Newark, N. J., since 1889, which has been "paid-up" since 1899.

SOCIETY

FRETWELL RECEPTION

A beautiful affair of Monday afternoon was the farewell reception given Monday afternoon by Mrs. J. L. McGee at her home on South Main Street in honor of Mrs. McBrayer and R. E. Ligon.

The entire lower floor of Mrs. McGee's home was thrown open to the callers and in every available spot quantities of spring flowers were banked.

Mrs. Tom Allen and Mrs. Rhett Parker met the guests on the front porch and from one corner of the porch Mrs. Blair Crayton and Mrs. J. M. Shumate served delicious fruit punch.

From the hall Mrs. Irving Brownlee and Mrs. John Sadler invited the callers into the living room where the hostess, Mrs. McBrayer, Mrs. R. E. Ligon and Mrs. R. S. Ligon received. This room was usually attractive with ferns and pink carnations. In the sun parlor Mrs. H. H. Watkins, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. O. L. Dean and Mrs. D. P. Sloan met the guests and in the library Mrs. B. A. Henry and Mrs. M. J. Cummings.

In the dining room a yellow and white color scheme was carried out. In the center of the table stood a exquisite mound of jonquills and vases and jardiniere of this favored spring flowers were used. Mrs. J. O. Wilkins and Mrs. J. N. Broyles presided. Assisting them were Misses Kathleen and Lunell McGee, Louise Ligon, Grace McClure and Ella Mae Cummings. They served a delicious ice course.

Matinee Party

Mrs. William Muldrow entertained Thursday afternoon with a matinee party at the Palmoto. A group of friends were her guests on this occasion and a delightful afternoon was spent.

Cord Party

Miss Bush of Washington, who is the attractive guest of Miss Bertha Cushman was the honoree Saturday afternoon when Mrs. T. L. City entertained informally but delightfully at auction. After a number of interesting rubbers the hostess served delightful refreshments.

Miss Glenn Honored

Miss Bessie Glenn, whose marriage will take place in April was the honoree at a beautiful luncheon Wednesday morning when Mrs. E. P. Vandiver entertained at her home on McDuffie street.

Spring flowers were used throughout the house and in the dining room a beautiful pink color scheme was carried out. In the center of the beautifully appointed table stood a tall vase filled with pink carnations and ferns. Covers were laid for the following guests: Mrs. Frank Todd, Mrs. Walter Beatty, Mrs. W. E. Atkinson, Mrs. L. O. Dean, Mrs. R. E. Burdick, Mrs. Earle Major, Mrs. Jack Sullivan, and Misses Etelle Watson, Bessie Major, Olivia Duckett, the honoree and the hostess.

Catechesis Chapter

Mrs. T. E. Howard was hostess to the members of Catechesis Chapter and a number of visitors when she entertained Monday afternoon at her home on Greenville street. Mrs. Howard's home was beautifully decorated for this occasion with quantities of spring flowers, and this was an unusually interesting meeting as the chapter had as its guest Mrs. Calhoun of Clemson college, the state regent. Mrs. Calhoun gave an outline of the work she expects to do during her administration. Her talk was thoroughly appreciated by every one present.

A committee composed of Miss Mae Russell, Mrs. J. D. East and Mrs. John Sullivan reported that they had selected "Historical Spots of the Piedmont" as the subject for the essay to be written by the Anderson College girls. The following program was thoroughly enjoyed:

Reading - Mrs. Johnston. Vocal Solo - Miss Anna Trinkle. Vocal Duet - Mrs. B. S. Ligon and Mrs. Tom Allen - Accompanied. Miss Welch.

At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Howard served an elaborate lunch.

The following gifted musicians of our city will take part in the entertainment: Mrs. R. S. Ligon, Mrs. Tom Anderson, Mrs. R. E. Ligon, Mrs. Tom Allen, Mrs. Charlie Sullivan, Miss Lydia Bewley, Mrs. Walter Beatty, Miss Kate Robinson, Miss Robbie Wakefield, Miss Mary Ramsey, Mrs. William Muldrow, Mrs. Roy Pales, Mrs. W. H. Nardin, Mrs. Carl Lee, Mrs. Bob King.

Mr. and Mrs. Farmer's Dance. Another delightful dance was added to the series that has been given at Rose Hill club when Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sidney Farmer entertained Friday evening. A number of the married and unmarried set enjoyed the one step and hesitation and late in the evening tempting refreshments were served.

Beautiful Flowers

Monday afternoon the Civic Association held its annual social meeting with Mrs. Jim Payne on Calhoun street. The association could not have been invited to a house where the yard was more in keeping with their work than to Mrs. Payne's. In her yard are found quantities of yellow and white flowers and almost every spring flowers. This is indeed a city beautiful yard.

To call the church roll and invite them to come by Hartwell.

Hartwell Box. It was our pleasure to make an auto trip to Anderson, S. C., a few days ago and we noted the efforts of the owners of the different ferries along the Savannah river were putting forth to get the people, and especially tourists to the way of Hartwell. At every fork of the road they have signs inviting the travelers to patronize their ferries and at the same time stating that by way of Hartwell the best roads could be made.

They have been successful in the Savannah all the way to Anderson and every time one comes to the forks of two or more roads he sees the sign of Hartwell printed on a board and inviting the people to come by our city. This is an excellent idea, a good advertisement for Hartwell, and we believe in bringing more people here every day. Keep the good work up.

Miss Winnie Grant and Miss Dunlop of Townsville were shopping in the city yesterday.

EASLEY BOY IS MAKING RECORD

"Big Bill" Folger to Head Both Football and Basketball Team at Citadel

William Folger, better known as "Big Bill" Folger, an athlete of whom the entire state is justly proud and figuratively the owner of Easley when he condescends to spend a few days in his home town, is making a record for himself in the athletic world. He has just been elected captain of the 1915 basketball team of the Citadel at Charleston and having already been chosen captain of the baseball team, Bill will lead the Citadel in a number of fights during the coming season. He has many friends in Anderson and therefore the following from the Charleston Post will be read with interest here:

"The entire Citadel basketball team was the guest of Coach Kangster at a banquet given in their honor at the Elks Club. The event was most pleasant and will long be remembered by all who attended. After an exceptionally fine menu had been served the manager, Julian F. Nohrdren, in a very charming manner introduced the speakers of the evening. The first of these was Manager C. F. Myers, Jr., who spoke on 'The Beginning of Basketball at the Citadel.' In a few words the speaker told of the origin of basketball at the Citadel and of its immense success, although the game is still in its infancy. With the available material at hand for next year, team and the splendid support of the corps, he predicted for basketball a very brilliant future. The next speaker of the evening was Capt. K. H. Buse, who thanked the team for the honor bestowed upon him and for their co-operation with him during the season. To the members of next year's team he said that he hoped they would not only 'local champions' but would have the coveted title of 'champions of the state.' George C. Rogers, who coached the football and basketball teams, then spoke upon the 'spirit existing at the Citadel and of the 'drive' which Coach Kangster has instilled into the team. Complimenting them upon their success and paying a glowing tribute to Coach Kangster, a man with the ability to instill the 'fight' and 'drive' into his men - a splendid coach and an upright gentleman, Cadet Sidney L. Eason in behalf of the team; presented Coach Kangster with an elegant watch fob as a token of the esteem of not only the entire squad, but of every cadet in the corps.

Just prior to the banquet the team elected its captain for the ensuing year, and their unanimous choice fell upon "Big Bill" Folger. This is the second Citadel team of which Folger will be captain next year, as he has already been chosen as the leader of the 1915 football team several months ago. In addition to these honors "Bill" was captain of this season's track team; and probably no worthier leader could have been found to lead the "Hullfords" in their battle, be it football, basketball or track."

GEORGIA CROP FOR LAST YEAR

Gleanings in North Georgia Counties During Year Until March 1, 1914

That this particular section of the country has no monopoly on the cotton crop is fully demonstrated by the following facts and figures from the Hartwell Sun of recent date:

The last ginner's report for the crop of 1913 has been made, and the statistics were reported on the total number of bales ginned exclusive of linters to March 1st, 1914.

A substantial part in the yields from the various counties in Georgia.

It was against 26,725 in 1912. The following is a list of the counties in this section and the compiled ginner's reports for the years 1912 and 1913:

Table with 2 columns: County Name and Ginner's Reports (1912 and 1913). Rows include Franklin, Hart, Wilbert, Albert, Gilbert, Jackson, and others.

Total crop for 1913, 2,345,832 bales. Total crop for 1912, 1,812,777 bales. Increase, 533,055 bales.
