Anderson May Organize Team to Compete With Greenwood and Greenville

The bright, sunny days of the last few weeks brought to light the fact that all baseball spirit in Anderson is not dead. It has certainly been asleep and one could hardly believe that it is very wide awake yet, but still there are a few fans clamoring for the national game.

It is now proposed that Anderson organize either a semi-professional or a strictly amateur team to play two or three games each week here. There is no little material and it is a foregone conclusion that Anderson people would go out to see the "home hopes" play even though they would not care for a professional game.

Greenwood has already organized and is getting a team into shape. The following is what the Greenville News has to say of Stouch's activities:

"Tommie" C. Stouch, erstwhile manager of the Greenville baseball club and well known throughout the country as a baseball player and manager, has denied the report that he will manage the McKeesport, Pa. club this season. Stouch said yesterday:

"It is true that the president of the Pennsylvania and West Virginia League has made me an offer to manage the McKeesport club and while I was tempted to accept the offer I have since decided that I will remain in Greenville. I have carefully surveyed the local baseball situation and have come to the conclusion that I can organize a fast amateur team here and will pit my club against Greenwood, Athens, Spartanburg and other towns during the season. I will try to arrange for two games a week, or a game each Saturday at least."

"The truth of the matter is the erstwhile manager loves Greenville. His family is here, too, and it is not likely that he will leave the city any time soon. "Tommie" as he is known in the baseball world, has played and managed baseball in the east and south for 20 years, but he has at last "settled" in Greenville and it is very likely he will stick to his "home town" and stay out of baseball unless he can be connected with a professional club out of this city."

"Tommie" says yesterday that Athens and Greenwood had organized fast amateur teams and stated that he would play these clubs during the summer. He has developed many players in and near Greenville and will probably put others out in "big league" before he starts the game for good. To "Tommie" Stouch is a more than any other the credit of Anderson.

CONTEST FRIDAY

Local School Boy Has Fine Chance of Winning Out in Oratorical Contest

The representative of the Anderson High School, Jerome Beck, who will speak at Greenville next Friday and Saturday to participate in the Second Oratorical contest, has a splendid chance to win, according to those who have heard Mr. Beck's oration.

The oratorical contest will be held in the auditorium of the Greenville Female College, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. The auditorium will be taxed to capacity as it has been on similar occasions in the past. The pupils of each school will be on hand with their colors and will make their presence known with the school yell and in other ways. The rivalry on such occasions is always intense.

The athletic meet will be held Saturday at League Park. The preliminary will be held in the morning at 10 o'clock. The contest will be in the afternoon. Dr. Callahan of Clemson College will have charge of the athletic events.

An admission fee of 25 cents for children and 35 cents for adults will be charged for the oratorical and also for the track meet. This fee is charged solely in order that the expenses of the occasion may be met.

Approximately three hundred and a hundred and fifty visitors will be in the city for the oratorical and athletic events. Entertainment for those who come from the several schools will be accorded by Furman University, Furman Fitting School, Central High School and Y. M. C. A.

The speaker's list includes the order in which they speak in the contest Friday night at 8:30 o'clock is here given:

1. Liberty: Jay Gaines, speaker, Subject, "A Soldier of France."
2. Easley: Osborne Williams, speaker, Subject, "The Withdrawal from the Union," by Jefferson Davis.
3. Fountain Inn: (Not yet announced.)
4. Seneca: Willie Austin, Subject, "Death of a Traitor," by George Leppard.
5. Westminster: Pritchard Payne, Subject, "America's Mission," by J. J. Bran.
6. Furman Fitting School: Baynor Lehr, Subject, "Defense of Hooper."
7. Central High School: Henry Roland, Subject, "Antony's Mission to Caesar."
8. Greenville: Dakins Stever, Subject, "My Mother, My Country, My God," by W. P. McTeer.
9. Richardsonville: (Not yet announced.)
10. Richland: John Cor. Subject, "The Death of Lafayette," by Sergeant Fontana.

Rev. K. G. Finlay to Speak Here

Popular Columbia Pastor to Deliver Address at Laying of Cornerstone

Rev. Kirkman G. Finlay, rector of Trinity church in Columbia, and one of the best known ministers in South Carolina, has accepted the invitation to deliver the principal address at the laying of the cornerstone of the new Elks' Home in Anderson. As letters were received Tuesday by the committee recently appointed to secure an orator in which Mr. Finlay accepted the invitation.

This event will be on April 10 and the services will be very impressive and most interesting. The principal work will be a feature. It was said last night that a general invitation had been extended to all lodges of the state to be present for the occasion and it is probable that there will be a number of prominent Elks from various parts of South Carolina in Anderson on that date.

The local lodge was fortunate in being able to secure Mr. Finlay. He is a great impression upon his hearers when he comes to Anderson. He was once rector at Clemson College, and has many friends in Anderson.
