THE CLUB MEETINGS

The Intelligencer publishes this morning reports from as many of the democratic clubs in the county as could be reached yesterday. From the general reports the meetings of the clubs were harmonious and in some but little interest was taken. No lines were drawn in the city and men were sent to the county convention regardless of affiliations, it is said.

Some time ago an appeal was made for all counties in the state to send instructed delegations to the state convention. From a superficial reading of the names of the delegates published, we would say that the complexion of the county convention here will be very much as it was two years ago. We hope that the convention this year will follow the sage advice of the county chairman two years ago, which was disregarded, and have no stent rollers, or lines of cleavage or anything of that kind, but select from the body of citizenship of the county as represented at the convention, the best men to stand for the best county in the state.

The convention two years ago followed the visit of one of the candidates for governor who had made serious charges against the governor of the state who was offering for reelection, and the feeling at the time was somewhat acute. As a result there was a misunderstanding on account of rumors, which caused a serious breach in the party. We trust that the mistakes made then, by both sides, will serve to prove that men on opposite sides are not subjects of suspicion and distrust, but to show that we are all citizens of a splendid county, one whose record and history is something of which we ought to be proud, and that in the approaching convention the dominant note will be moderation, toleration and a desire to find a common ground of patriotism upon which all men may meet. Let's have no give and take, as if we were people of different countries but let us seek first the good of the old county, and in doing so look for men who will in honor and fearlessly discharge the duties entrusted to them. There may be serious questions to be discussed, and these should be settled outside of any consideration of personalities.

LET US HAVE BASEBALL

Several of the leagues of professional ball players commenced their annual championship leagues under unfavorable auspices, so far as publicity is concerned. The mix-up in Mexico has taken the time and space of the newspapers and the reading public has almost forgotten the old habit of looking for the sports page the first thing in the morning.

Anderson has had her share of professional ball and is very nearly "cured." It was a costly experiment in some ways. There is some satisfaction in observing, however, that some of our old boys are doing splendid work among the stars who are attracting the attention of the whole country, and as a matter of fact, it was a lot of fun while it lasted. But what we wish to suggest is this: We need baseball—not a daily sit-in, but for a week-end pastime. It does people lots of good to see a game, say every Saturday afternoon. Let us have a local league here with good lively ball by the home hopes. A closely contested game is interesting, no matter where it is played, by whom or when—Sunday not included.

A movement is on foot to organize a league of the kind we had last summer. We hope that the public will take to it, and enjoy it. Some beautiful games were played here last summer.

GOOD FOR EVERYBODY

We would again appeal to the people of Anderson with reference to the Chautauqua.

The appeal is not for the Chautauqua. Whether or not the people of Anderson patronize the entertainments here is of little concern to the Chautauqua management, except for the pride that the men take in the success of their remarkable enterprise.

But it is for the people of Anderson that we make this appeal. Do not fail to see the Chautauqua entertainments. The things that are offered for this week will benefit even those who profess the highest degree of culture, and at the same time will entertain and instruct those who are seeking for more and more knowledge of the great big good old world of ours.

Patronize the Chautauqua—for the good that you will get out of it. It will broaden each individual life, it will advance the community spirit, it will give to the people of Anderson more for it this year's venture is a success, the local people backing it will bring it back next year, with a change of program. We feel that we speak advisedly when we say that the clever presentation of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" comedy by the Ben Greenville is alone worth the price of the season ticket.

BAN ALLEN FOR PRESIDENT

The friends of Ban Allen of this city will be pleased to know that he is being put forward by friends over the state for the position of state president of the Travelers' Protective Association. For several reasons this strikes us as a most worthy suggestion. In the first place is the personal side of the question. We know of no member of the order in the state, with its 1,200 members, who could more worthily fill the place.

In the second place, Mr. Allen is the representative of the traveling men of Anderson, a busy, honest, high-toned lot of men, and Anderson has never been complimented with this position. We understand that Anderson, Columbia, Greenville, Spartanburg and perhaps some of the other larger ports of the state have endorsed Mr. Allen. He is not seeking the honor, but we hope that it will run him down and fasten itself upon him. He has been president of Post D of this city for a year, and the membership has increased to 217 within that time.

The T. P. A. is made up of the progressive traveling men and whole sale men of the state, and Ban Allen is the peer of the whole body of sterling men.

Welcome to the Chautauqua, stars and visitors. If you "all" don't see what you want just ask for it.

ROOSEVELT FOR GOVERNOR

New York, April 25.—"Shall Colonel Roosevelt run for governor at the head of the Progressive ticket in the State of New York this Fall?"

This question is to be discussed by the executive committee of the Progressive National Committee at a meeting to be held in Chicago on April 30.

The matter of the advisability of Colonel Roosevelt's candidacy for governor of the state will be considered by the National Executive Committee in Chicago a week from Thursday.

The statement followed a conference between Mr. Perkins and O. B. Phillips, acting chairman of the state committee for Roosevelt in advocacy of the motion that the Roosevelt should run.

Those of the state leaders who have decided that Colonel Roosevelt must run have been busy fixing up the remainder of the State.

Senator Straus for United States Senator, of Frederick M. Davenport as the possible candidate for Lieutenant Governor and of John A. Hennessy for Comptroller General. However, they agree that all this is subject to absolute and instant revision as soon as the colonel gets back.

District Attorney Whitman would not talk for publication yesterday of his endorsement for the Republican nomination for Governor by the organization in the Fifth Assembly District in the King's county on Monday night. It was said that while he was examined, he would rather the action had been postponed for a few days.

It is understood, however, that the Whitman boomers in Kings County believe that the Roosevelt sentiment is getting so strong it would be wise to get District Attorney Whitman out of the race as soon as they may be endorsed by other district organizations in Kings County within a short time. Attorney Whitman believes he has the organization in Onondaga county with him. He got a dispatch yesterday from Ward D. Edwards, one of the leaders there, saying that the executive committee of the county committee has passed resolutions in opposition to the proposition of Jos. S. Hodges for an unofficial state convention.
