At Least It Seemed That Way—Robinson Blew Up But Will Get Revenge

Special to The Intelligencer: Gaffney, July 20.—Anderson went down in defeat before the Gamecocks this afternoon by a score of 7 to 0. "Pat" Robinson on the mound for the visitors went to pieces in the seventh inning, although the game had already been won by the Gamecocks, pushing one man across the rubber and Dagerhardt holding the visitors to three scattered hits. The local twirler, backed up by Gaines, worked in superb form causing eighteen of the visitors to fan the air when biting at his elusive benders. Ogleby starred in the field for the locals, taking in two attempted sacrifices in beautiful style. Robinson exchanged places with Graydon in the first half of the eighth. "Red" Childers, the visitors' second sacker was hit in the face by a ball during practice and was unable to play in the game.

ASHEVILLE MAN ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE

Killing Caused by Boys Baseball Game Last May, While in Magistrate's Court

Asheville, N. C., July 20.—Alex H. Brooks, prominent West Asheville merchant and real estate man, was placed on trial for his life this morning charged with the slaying of Frank B. Huggins, well known in fraternal circles, last May. The killing was the result of a boys' baseball game in which the son of the defendant was hit by a ball that was thrown by the brother of the deceased. Bad feeling was caused when the boys' team of the injured sustained a defeat by the deceased and the killing occurred as the deceased and the defendant were sitting at a magistrate's court where the two boys were to be tried for simple assault.

KING GEORGE ASKS FOR CONFERENCE

Proposed conference at Buckingham Palace between King George and the leaders of the Liberal, Unionist, Nationalist and Ulsterite parties on the Irish home rule bill was heard in Unionist clubs today. Unionist leaders expressed the view that their party had been out-manuevered by Premier Asquith. The initiative for the conference was taken by Premier Asquith, and not by King George, according to the Unionists.

Carson Talks. Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Ulsterites, took the calling of the conference calmly. He told his colleagues it could make no difference in his attitude. He said that under no circumstances would he accept less than the exclusion of Ulster from the provisions of the bill. Sir Edward added that he could do nothing else, as he had given his promise to the covenanters and intended to stand by it.

The Parliamentary labor party strongly disapproves King George's intervention in a political controversy and has asked Premier Asquith to tell the king what they think of his action. "No Laborites held a private meeting tonight at which they passed a resolution stating they considered the king's action 'undue interference on the part of the crown and calculated to defeat the purposes of a parliament act'."

THE GEORGIA SUFFRAGES

Will Not Give Up the Fight Until The Very Last. Atlanta, July 19.—Georgia suffragettes do not give up a fight until the last bullet is fired, as proven by their refusal to accept the adverse report of the senate committee on the women-suffrage bill. The committee voted 5 to 2 against votes for women, but the ladies got the two dissenting senators to offer a minority report, and will carry the fight to the floor of the senate.

The twenty-fourth anniversary of the Georgia woman's suffrage association will be held in Atlanta July 21 and 22, and for the first time the ladies will be permitted to use the hall of representatives for their meetings, the house having been gallant enough to grant this. The day time sessions will be held up town.
