Annual Meeting of Stockholders.—Mr. T. B. Jones Gets Deserved Promotion. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Fork Township Oil Mill was held in this city Monday.

The annual report for the preceding year was made and the stockholders were pleased with the showing made by Manager T. B. Jones, who had been in charge of the mill for two years.

So much gratified were the stockholders that they elected Mr. Jones president. The other officers are Leo G. Holleman, vice president; and D. Oscar Browne, secretary. Mr. Jones was elected treasurer and manager also.

The company some time ago decided to add to its plant this fall a fertilizer mixing plant and the machinery for this has been installed. The machinery for the ginney has been overhauled and is ready for work.

The mill last year ginned 2,300 bales and expects to gin that many bales this year as the crop right around Townville is good.

In addition to improvements there was a profit which was put back into the plant. In view of the fact that Townville is nearly 10 miles from a railroad the people are proud of the success of the plant.

Revival Services. A series of revival services will begin at Oakwood Baptist church Tuesday night, Sept. 8. The pastor, Rev. Lewis M. Smith, will be assisted by Rev. D. W. Hammett of Greenville.

TIRED OF FACTIONALISM

Fred Wannemaker, Former Supporter of Blaine, Now for Manning. (From the Orangeburg Sun.)

The Sun firmly believes that Mr. Manning will give South Carolina a business administration if he is elected governor.

South Carolina, along with the balance of the south, is right now face to face with serious business problems affecting our farmers and every other class of our citizens.

It seems to us that South Carolina has had enough factional politics to last for many years—and that it is high time for us to get down to those things that count for our welfare.

Mr. Manning is a thorough business man; he has attained success through honest effort and hard work; he is courageous and his ability is unquestioned, and above all he is without taint or blemish.

He will make an ideal governor and will, we feel sure, do all in his power to end factional strife in our state, a strife of which both factions are decidedly tired.

Although before the first primary Mr. Manning proclaimed himself as the "Anti-Blaine" candidate, the Sun has no idea that, when he becomes the chief executive of South Carolina he will be any other than the governor of ALL THE PEOPLE.

Good Advice.

If farmer readers of this paper will accept advice from one who has been making nothing about practical farming, here it is:

No man knows how long the war in Europe will continue. Already it has lowered the price of cotton. If fighting continues through the winter, cotton will sell for less than 3 cents.

Meanwhile all grain and food stuffs will go very high, for armies must eat. Grain and bear your loss on the cotton crop. Then plant every foot you can in winter grain. Plant turnips now. Get off all the chickens you can with an incubator. Mountain Inn

MARKET REPORT

New York Cotton

New York, Sept. 2.—A notice issued late today, by President Cone, of the New York cotton exchange, calls upon all the members having open contracts to meet Thursday, September 3rd, at 11 a. m., to receive a report from the conference committee. This was supposed to mean that the representatives of the Liverpool, New York and New Orleans exchanges, which have been holding conferences here since the beginning of the week, had arrived at a plan for the liquidation of the international interest left outstanding when the exchanges were closed at the end of July. Such an impression was strengthened by an official cable from the Liverpool cotton association reading as follows:

"Inform your members who have contracts open that we will admit their orders to close same through ballot. We suggest that the orders be limited to the price fixed by our committee. Twenty four hours notice of any change from previous prices will be given."

No definite statement was available as to the probable terms of the settlement proposed by the international committee, but the announcement resulted in favorable comment among local trade who evidently regarded them as foreshadowing a decided step toward a resumption of business.

Meanwhile the Southern advices indicate generally favorable weather conditions from a new crop standpoint and further declines were reported in the Southern spot markets. August quoted middling at 7 3-4 today with sales of 307 bales and local spot brokers say that cotton in the interior of both Alabama and Georgia was offering at easier prices during the day. Rumors of large purchases for Japan were in circulation here again today, but could not be confirmed in the local trade circles.
