

LUMBER SASH, DOORS, COLUMNS, MILL WORK
Quality and Prices are Right
BRISSEY LUMBER COMPANY

Electric City Sparklets

Banquet For The Physicians. The meeting of the Anderson County Medical Association which took place yesterday morning in the rooms of the chamber of commerce...

Schedules Are To Be Changed. Effective next Sunday several changes will go into effect on the Charleston and Western Carolina railroad...

Changes Made In Local Cigar Store. E. C. Martin, who has been connected with the Anderson Coca-Cola Company has resigned his position...

Deeded Lot To Civic Association. H. G. Anderson has deeded a pretty "triangle" lot on River street to the Civic Association of Anderson...

Work Is Begun At The Hospital. A number of men went to work yesterday an improving the grounds at the city hospital and within the next few days the lawn of this already beautiful place will present an entire...

Brain Matter Has Delayed The Work. Officials of the Charleston & Western Carolina railway say that work on the splendid new terminal station of that road in Anderson has been delayed because of the fact that the city has not been able to reach any decision as yet regarding the drain question for West Market street...

Pollock May Make The Race. Anderson people are much interested in an announcement which came from Columbia yesterday to the effect that W. P. Pollock of Cheraw may be in the race for the United States senate when H. R. Tillman's term expires...

Miss Garlington Is Back at Work. Miss Maggie Garlington has returned to Anderson from Columbia, where she has been spending the summer and has already assumed her duties as supervisor of rural schools for this county...

Dog Chorus Very Enjoyable. People living on Whitner street say that the dog chorus to which they have been treated for the last few nights are highly enjoyable...

Anderson To Use More Rye. In talking yesterday of agricultural conditions in Anderson county, the county demonstrator said that it was very important that people here should sow cover crops of some sort this fall...

Busy Day For The Magistrate. Magistrate Broadwell had his hands full yesterday in attending to the civil and criminal cases which came before him. Joe Scott, a young white man, was arraigned on a charge of being drunk and was sentenced to pay a fine of $5.00...

Mr. Oliphant Is To Write Report. Albert D. Oliphant, one of the best reporters on the staff of the Columbia State, arrived in Anderson last night and will spend today in the city, collecting material for an article which he will write about the city of Anderson...

Back From Their Visit to the Mountains. Mrs. S. M. Orr, Miss Lydia Orr and Mr. and Mrs. George C. Aid returned to the city yesterday after a month's stay at Russells and Cashiers, N. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Aid will spend the next month in Anderson and after that, if conditions permit, they will return to their home in Italy, where Mr. Aid is an artist of note...

Long Creek To Be Dredged. Quite a number of Anderson's Baptists will journey to Long Creek in Oconee county today for the purpose of attending the dedication services which are to be held at Long Creek school. It is understood that a number of splendid speakers have been secured and that the day will be full of interest for those who attend...

Some Trouble Has Struck Anderson. Something approaching the equinoctial gale has struck Anderson. Following a storm off the Atlantic coast Tuesday night, this city has been in the grip of a tremendous wind since that time and Anderson people have begun to believe that winter is here in earnest...

Officials Are Here On A Visit. W. S. Lee and E. Thomason, two prominent officials of the Piedmont & Northern line railway, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Anderson looking over the situation and checking the affairs of the company here. Mr. Lee said that he and the other official were merely here for a visit of inspection and that there was nothing of any importance in their visit to Anderson...

Calhoun Street Being Improved. The city's street force went to work yesterday on Calhoun street and that thoroughfare will soon be one of the best in the city. At a recent meeting of the city council that body agreed to do some much needed work on this street and as a result Calhoun will be a street of which the city may be proud at no distant date...

Anderson Will Be Represented. According to announcements coming from Columbia yesterday, Miss Eubank Taylor of this city will be one of the members of the engrossing department for the special session of the general assembly of South Carolina which will convene in Columbia on October 6...

Mrs. Sloan Is A Little Better. It was said yesterday that Mrs. D. P. Sloan was slightly improved, although her condition is yet a matter of grave concern to her hundreds of friends in different parts of the county. Mrs. Sloan has been very ill for some time and within the last few days some fear has been entertained as to her recovery...

Miss Lundkowsky About Recovered. Miss Annie Lundkowsky who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, has about recovered and left yesterday for her home west of the city. The patient was at the home of Mrs. M. P. Hardy and the operation was performed there. Friends of Miss Lundkowsky trust that she may soon be entirely restored to health...

Sheriff Left For Florence. Sheriff Joe Ashley left last night for Florence where he went to carry four boys, convicted of various offenses and sentenced to terms in the state reformatory. Sheriff Ashley will be gone for several days and hopes to pick up information leading to one or two wanted criminals while he is away...

BIRTHDAY WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Friends of J. S. Fowler Gathered Last Night At Country Home and Celebrated 60th Birthday. The country home of J. S. Fowler was the scene of a happy dinner party last night, the occasion being the celebration of the 60th birthday anniversary of Mr. Fowler...

The dinner was sumptuous, being served in courses, and "kid, lamb, shote and country fried" showed the kind of farmer and the kind of host that Mr. Fowler is. At the conclusion of the dinner Mr. Fowler was made the recipient of a very handsome and elaborate cut glass set, water pitcher, decanter, waiter, etc., a testimonial of love from many friends of Anderson...

Mr. Fowler gave such a delightful dinner last year, and this last evening was a kind of encore, except for the fact that the second occasion was, if possible, more pleasurable than the first. The dinner was sumptuous, being served in courses, and "kid, lamb, shote and country fried" showed the kind of farmer and the kind of host that Mr. Fowler is...

At the conclusion of the dinner Mr. Fowler was made the recipient of a very handsome and elaborate cut glass set, water pitcher, decanter, waiter, etc., a testimonial of love from many friends of Anderson. Delightful short talks were made by many of the friends and neighbors, all showing in their earnestness their high regard for this splendid citizen of Anderson...

Mr. Fowler was much affected by the remarks of some of his friends, and responded fittingly in receiving their felicitations. Diarrhoea Quickly Cured. My attention was first called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as twelve years ago. At that time I was seriously ill with summer complaint. One dose of this remedy checked the trouble...

CRUEL TREATMENT ABSOLUTELY FALSE (Continued From Page One.)

direction of the burgomaster established themselves in the church, where they installed a machine gun. They proceeded to greet the Germans with a deadly fire.

"The Belgians say that part of the German army, mistaking one of their own retiring divisions for the enemy, opened fire upon them, whereupon, deluded into thinking this an assault by Belgian civilians, the Germans razed the whole city. I have not been able to acquire any direct evidence in regard to the last two instances, but the explanation generally credited by disinterested persons is that the Belgians who had laid down their arms according to the burgomaster's proclamation on the entrance of the enemy, took them up again when it looked as if the Germans were retreating from the town, and opened fire from their windows upon a retiring German train...

"The most authoritative German denial of German offences comes from Major General Thaddeus von Jarotzsky, military governor of Brussels, who informed me that in numerous cases he had been deceived with a pretense of friendliness by Belgian civilians who later fired upon the German soldiers from windows and from between the roof tiles. This was done after a declaration of surrender by the burgomaster and a proclamation, warning the citizens against any show of resistance.

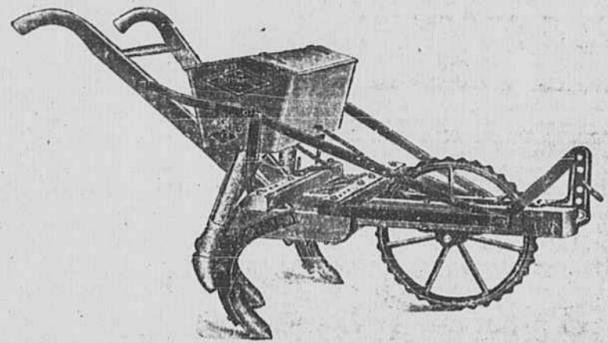

"In such violations of the rules of war, the general said, he punished the offenders by burning the house from which the shots were fired. In every case of reported outrage or reprisal which was susceptible of investigation, I have found either that the outrage was a figment of the Belgian mind or that it was more than half excused by circumstances. The prevalence of the Belgian practice of sniping from the house was perhaps indicated by the warning of the German officer who acted as guard for five American correspondents including myself, who were being taken as prisoners from Beaumont to Aachen in an army train. We were advised to lie down on the floor of the car as the Belgian snipers would shoot at us from the houses. But there was no firing.

"This, of course, is not a brief for the German army; it is an account of German conduct as it appeared to an impartial observer who had the rather extraordinary opportunity of traveling for days with the German columns, over a distance of more than a hundred miles through a dozen important cities and towns. Was Near to Battles. "Sometimes I was near enough to the front to see the white artillery smoke spurt into clouds along the horizon and hear the double detonations which came from artillery at short range. At other times I trailed behind through the desolate waste which a victorious army leaves behind it. But the waste was the inevitable footprint of war, marking the most utter dreariness, misery and despair, but not with a hint of savagery, or wanton butchery or excess.

"On the contrary, I witnessed numerous cases of the most careful courtesy on the part of German soldiers. In Brussels they not only paid their cafe bills, but tipped generously along the road, when a German officer or soldier entered a Belgian house for food or shelter, it was not with a demand, but a request. "The German soldiers were punctiliously considerate and polite to women and children, apologizing for the discomfort they were causing.

"Were Very Considerate. "A French lieutenant and two English officers traveled with us in the prison train from Beaumont to Aachen, a halting journey which took 36 hours. The train was crowded with German wounded and French and English prisoners, and there was nothing to eat or drink except a few fragments of rice bread, hard as a stone and a little liquid compound of chicory, which in Belgium is called coffee. Since there was not enough even of this disheartening fare to go around, German officers went without food so that the prisoners might be fed.

A Ticklish Experience. "In Beaumont while I was detained for 24 hours in a small cage with an armed guard at the door, although specifically told that I was not an ordinary prisoner, a swaggering petty officer lunged toward me and showed me the sharp, convincing edge of his sword, insisting that I run my hand across it. Meanwhile he muttered to other soldiers in the room that the other correspondents and I were English spies. But this was my only disagreeable experience of this sort. Gives Good Advice. "German discipline and German training seem to have bred into German soldiers an exemplary behavior, which is nothing less than remarkable. Before I fell asleep on the floor of the Beaumont cafe, with two German soldiers' guns slanting almost over me, I heard the petty officer who was in charge of us giving instructions to the guards, which included the statement that any one of us who stirred outside the door, should be shot. Then he counseled them, almost in a fatherly way to drink only moderately,

COLE GRAIN DRILLS work perfectly and give entire satisfaction even under unfavorable and adverse conditions.

Mr. Jas. R. Anderson, well and favorably known by most Anderson County farmers, writes regarding his COLE TWO ROW GRAIN DRILL as follows:

Anderson, S. C., Sept. 1, 1914

Sullivan Hdw. Company, Anderson, S. C., COPY

Gentlemen:

Replying to yours in reference to the Cole Drill, wish to say I take great pleasure in speaking a good word for the Two-Row Cole Drill which I purchased of you last Fall.

Notwithstanding the very dry Spring, I made a splendid yield of oats where I used the Cole Drill. It does most perfect work, giving entire satisfaction.

Yours truly, (Signed) JAS. R. ANDERSON.

Sullivan Hardware Co. Anderson, S. C. Belton, S. C. Greenville, S. C.

If "IT'S" Coat Suits, Coats, Dresses, Skirts and Waists We Are IT! Millinery Millinery Our MILLINERY DEPARTMENT is the Talk of the Town We Sell Gossard Corsets, Warner's Corsets, Thompson Corsets D. Geisberg

"The Trey O' Hearts" -AND-

"MILLION DOLLAR MYSTERY"

AT THE BIJOU TODAY

Matinee ..... 5c Night ... 5 and 10c

THE DELICIOUS "Lookout" Cakes SIX VARIETIES

WHITE LOAF MARBLE LOAF CREOLE LOAF GOLDEN LOAF RAISIN LOAF SPICE LOAF

PRICE 10C EACH

Made of the purest and best of materials, baked in the clearest of bakeries, wrapped in oiled paper and packed in neat cartons tied with dainty blue baby ribbon.

Anderson Cash Grocery EXCLUSIVE AGENTS