ANDERSON WILL HAVE ABUNDANCE OF COURT

SESSION FOR ALMOST EVERY MONTH

CIVIL COURT NEXT

Sessions Will Be Held in Anderson County in October, November and December

Before a new judicial circuit was formed, Anderson county always had a great deal of trouble in getting the docket straightened out. It is said that there were always from 50 to 75 or 100 continued cases on the docket, and some of these were never reached, but evidently this is now to be a thing of the past as Anderson is to have a regular session of court for the next few months to come and the same thing will apply to the coming years until there should be future changes. According to the new roster, as arranged since the formation of the 13th circuit, Anderson county was to hold a two week's session of criminal court during September, which has already been disposed of. Now will come a two weeks session of the court of common pleas, to be held beginning the first Monday in October and then on the 1st Monday in November another round will be had with the court of general sessions. This will be followed by another term of civil court beginning on the first Monday in December. Then the first break comes in the long list of courts and there will be no court in January but on the first Monday in February the round begins again.

It is understood that the criminal docket in Anderson county is in better shape now than it has been for some time and when some of the numerous sessions before Christmas are concluded, it is believed that the entire docket will be cleared up and that there will be no continued cases here.

TRIBUTES PAID TO CAPT. "BILLY"

Columbia Man Writes of the Real Service Done By Gallant Men in Olden Days

Numbers of Anderson people knew and loved Capt. "Billy" Smith and they will all therefore learn with interest of the things that people in other sections have had to say of this veteran on the road.

The Columbia State on Sunday said: Recent dispatch to The State from Anderson told of the presentation to the widow of Capt. "Billy" Smith of a check for 1,000 from the Southern Railway, the voucher reading: "Gratitude in recognition of the long, efficient and faithful service of her late husband, extending over a period of fifty years, who was honorably retired from active service as conductor, Columbia division, with an unblemished record, on January 1, 1912."

The writer never knew "Capt. Billy" Smith, but he knows his type, and honors it. Fifty years of service as a conductor, with an "unblemished record!" Service stretching back to the days of the War Between the Sections! Service on ill-ventilated trains to demoralize times. Service when every trip was like going to war, when the conductor was not only master of his train but sole guarantor of decency and bulwark against anarchy. Brave! These old conductors on the jerk-water Southern roads were a breed of heroes of a strange admixture of circumstances that will never be seen again. Gentlemen, patriots, heroes, in some instances ruined militarily, they took their humble "jobs" with a pride that made their title of "Captain" a thing of more than real honor than any Iron or Victoria Cross. We yet remember almost with tears of gratitude the innate courtesy of this breed of old-time conductors—sometimes with one arm—the women and children aboard riotous trains. We have seen them play the part of heroes, and the part of friends, and the gallant part of gentlemen of the purple, which they were. Every one of the old order is an inspiration for the new order.

What "Capt. Billy" Smith did for his road is shown in the recognition that his road makes of his memory. The modern conductor's role holds not as much of the dramatic as his doubtless did hold. But the modern conductor has not in life an ambition that could be higher than that which he achieved, of 50 years of service with an unblemished record.

SUNDAY SAW USUAL KILLING OF NEGRO

TROUBLE AROSE BECAUSE OF TEN CENTS

SHOOTING SCRAPE

Following Conclusion of Gambling One Negro Was Shot To Death in the Row

Anderson county officials have now reached a place where every Saturday night they make preparations for handling the usual Sunday killing with the negroes. Last Sunday morning the sheriff's office received a message shortly after daylight to the effect that a killing had taken place on the plantation of J. C. McPhail, near Tate's store and when the coroner arrived he found that Cardozia Jefferson had shot and killed Duck Clement. Both of the participants had been engaged in a "crap" game and the termination of the affair came over a matter of ten cents.

Saturday evening eight negroes began to shoot craps and when midnight approached the game was broken up. At that time everyone seemed to be in a pleasant frame of mind, but when Clement began to count his money, and as that interesting feature of the occasion was receiving his attention, Jefferson spoke up and said, "Duck, you owe me ten cents of that money." When Clement made this statement Jefferson produced his gun and placed the weapon and the dime side by side on the ground, saying, "Well, there it is, you get it." While Clement's attention was occupied with another negro, the testimony shows that Jefferson suddenly seized the gun and as Clement began to run, Jefferson fired.

At that time all the negroes beat a hasty retreat from the scene of the row and it was not known that Clement had been fatally injured, but on Sunday morning he was found on a log in some bushes about 25 yards from where the shooting occurred and it was then ascertained that death must have been almost instantaneous. The coroner's jury held Jefferson responsible for the killing and he was arrested by Sheriff Ashley and was brought to Anderson and is now in the county jail.

VIRGINIA MAN IS TO AID CAROLINA

Charles K. Bryant, a Visitor to Anderson Yesterday, Will Design State's Building at Frisco

Charles K. Bryant, architect for the Anderson Development Company, now building the Anderson theatre, was in the city yesterday for the purpose of inspecting the progress being made on the new building. Mr. Bryant says that he was well pleased with the manner in which the work is going along and he believes that Anderson will have one of the prettiest theatre buildings in the South.

It will be of interest to Anderson people to learn that Mr. Bryant has been selected as the architect for the South Carolina building to be erected at San Francisco for the Panama Exposition and will leave Richmond for Frisco, Va. Anderson, on October 2, to go for the purpose of selecting the site for the South Carolina building and he will then begin the actual work of getting his plans under way.

The building to represent South Carolina will be a replica of the building in Charleston, on Meeting street, South, just below St. Michael's church. This building has been the home of the South Carolina Society and the Society of Saint Andrews, both of which have members in all parts of the world, for a number of years and there is no more historic building in the entire state. It was erected over 150 years ago and every native South Carolinian is familiar with its old lines.

When the work of choosing some building for a model was being discussed, there was great agitation in Charleston to have selected Fort Sumter as the building to exhibit but this idea was rejected because of the fact that almost every one in the United States has seen, at some time, a picture of Fort Sumter, whereas comparatively few of the people of other sections know of the historical significance of the dual home of the South Carolina Society and the Society of Saint Andrews.

THEY SAW FATAL SHOT WHEN FIRED

Negroes Present When Man Was Murdered to Be Tried Today on Charge of Gambling

Seven negroes, all charged with gambling, will be arraigned in Magistrate Broadwell's court today. In all probability the entire seven will plead guilty simply because they were so badly scared Sunday night that they will be afraid to deny their participation in the game. The negroes were present when the shooting began at Tate's store, Saturday night, when one negro killed another and they were rounded up yesterday by the sheriff and his deputies. Their names, as they appear on Mr. Broadwell's blotter are: Lawrence Grover, Charles Thompson, John King, Tom Adams, Richard Powers, Charles Pearson and Bob Belton.

Yesterday was a busy day for Magistrate Broadwell and he had several cases to dispose of. Will Cheater, charged with larceny, was given trial and was acquitted.

Roy Watson was tried on a charge of larceny, was adjudged guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or to serve for 30 days.

Bob Sams was charged with being drunk and disorderly, was convicted on this charge and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or to serve for 15 days.

Pat Gilliam was charged with being drunk and disorderly, fighting and using profane language on the public highway. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or to serve for 30 days.

CLEMONS MAKES FINE SHOWING

More Than 90 Per Cent of the Former Students Have Returned

Clemson College, Sept. 19—Clemson college is running as smoothly as if it were midseason instead of the opening. A member of the faculty who has been in college work for thirty years in other states said he never saw an opening session in his life that was so smooth as the one here.

The total enrollment today was 777. More than ninety per cent of the old new men in the corps. The one-year students returned. There are 256 agricultural students will report on October the 1st. The total enrollment last year was 616. President Biggs feels sure that the same figures will be reached this session.

The new men seem more mature than former freshmen classes. The average age of the recruits is 18.91 years. There is no preparatory class, and consequently some have to return home because of lack of preparation.

President Biggs has several times cautioned the students about spending money. He made it clear to the new men, that while college loyalty would prompt every man to support all the college interests, such as the various publications, the literary societies, and athletics, they must not feel that any of these calls are in any sense compulsory, but that they must consider carefully their financial ability. He also cautioned the students not to embarrass the new students by too strong insistence on contributions.

The college Sunday school was organized last Sunday with a fair attendance, under the superintendency of Cadet E. H. Pate. The preaching service was held in the chapel last Sunday, the Rev. R. M. Marshall, assisted by the other pastors conducting the service.

About one hundred men met on the football field every afternoon, practicing furiously under the guidance of Coach Bob Williams, assisted by J. L. Carson, last year's center. Clemons expects to have a team that will surpass any eleven that has been turned out here in half a dozen years.

Work on the new athletic field was begun in the summer, but on account of financial difficulties the working force has been reduced. Its completion is expected by January, 1915. The field is to be approximately 400 feet by 1,000 feet, and will be a great improvement over the Bowman Field, (old field). Have had one afternoon's practice on it because of the other field being always slippery.

Work on the "new hospital" has been suspended for the present. The same is true of the extension work on the mechanical building.
