Big Show Has Arrived

This will be a busy day in Anderson, for Miller Bros. & Arlington's much-heralded 101 Ranch Wild West show will exhibit here today.

The big show will arrive at an early hour this morning, and as expectantly as possible the long trains will be unloaded and the paraphernalia transferred to the exhibition grounds. It goes without saying that there will be a big crowd of the curious on hand to see the unloading of the show and to watch the always interesting operation of erecting the tents. There are over 25 big time long-haired express messengers, will be having all kinds of trouble trying to keep the six army mules attached to the stage coach from starting down ahead of schedule time, and Jos. C. Miller, the ranchman and White Chief of the Poncas, who is associated with Edward Arlington in the ownership of the show, will be ready to give the word that will start a mile of Wild West people, horses, ponies, burros, long-horned steers, buffaloes and tableau-floats on their long hike to the business section of the city. The line will leave the and little tents in the Wild West camp, and in combination they constitute a veritable traveling city of canvases.

By 10 o'clock or a little after the Wild West city will be in busy, active being, the flags will be flying, the red-tanned men of former days, who has reformed his ways and now tempts the thirsty public with certified soda pop and ice cream cones, will be ready for business; the Indians, painted and feather-bedecked, will be on their ponies waiting for the bugle to give the signal for the parade; the cowboys will be hurriedly getting into their "chaps;" the cowgirls will be putting the last feminine touches to their picturesque costumes; old Rocky Mountain Hank, the last of the old-grounds as soon after 10 o'clock as possible.

The afternoon performance takes place at 2:15 and there will be a final exhibition at 8:15. A strenuous program is promised. There will be reproductions of scenes during the historic days of the Old West; when horse-stealing was a crime more heinous than murder; battles between Indians and white settlers; the hold-up of the stage coach; a buffalo hunt, showing how the Indians formerly stalked the wild sison; rough-riding by daring cowpunchers and cowgirls; expert roping, crack shooting, a wrestling match between a cowgirl and a wild steer, broncho-busting with "outlaw" horses, and other sensationally lively events.

Seats will be on sale all day at Evans' Pharmacy.

WHOLE COUNTRYSIDE FAIRLY REEKING WITH BLOOD

Net is expressed here, however, that the fleet will be able to render untenable German occupation of any part of the Belgian or French coast. The opinion is also expressed here that the operation of the allied vessels off the Belgian coast and in the vicinity of the Straits of Dover may cause the German fleet to come out and give battle.

In naval circles here it is considered that the German submarines, although they have proved deadly to ships steaming slowly, will not be so effective against ships steaming and maneuvering at high speed and in shallow water, as the British monitors and their auxiliaries have been doing.

There is some talk of the Germans bringing their big 42-centimeter guns to the coast to use against the Allies' warships, but the British sailors are credited with saying that their vessels can prevent these guns being put in position. They claim that even if they should be mounted they will not be so deadly against a fast moving target as against the stationary forts they destroyed so easily.

While this life and death struggle is going on in the west, the French have become more active among the Alaskan border and are said to be making preparations and securing advanced positions in view of possible attacks by the Germans with their big Howitzers on the Belfort fortress. It now seems to be realized that no fortress has any chance of holding out when once these big German guns are brought into action against it.

The German official report tonight again speaks of the German offensive on Augustow, Russian Poland, which it declares that the battle near Ivanogrod, although favorable to the Germans, remains undecided.

North of this section the Russians claim they are still pursuing the Germans, who attempted an advance on Warsaw and southward to have crossed the Vistula and driven the Austrians back.

In Galicia and in the Carpathians the Russians also claim to have broken down the Austrian offensive.

As the days come and go and the promised visits of the Zeppelins to England do not materialize the public seemingly is beginning to believe these monster air craft are being held in reserve for the day that the German navy comes out and that they will be used in force to assist the warships in an endeavor to cripple the British fleet.

Go Easy, Brother, Go Easy.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 26.—"The most serious thing churches face today, particularly the Baptist, is furnished by deacons, many of whom are nothing more than moral thermos bottles and fireless cookers, showing religious fire occasionally because they find things already heated," was the statement of Dean Shalder, Matthews, of the University of Chicago, in an address before the New Jersey Baptist convention here today.

A great number of deacons, the dean added, are moral parasites, who throttle the work of the minister.

A. M. Pinkston Has Returned to Anderson and Bought Palmetto Theatre Back.

"Of course you can do better in Anderson," said A. M. Pinkston yesterday to a reporter for The Intelligencer, after scouring all over North and South Carolina, Georgia and Northern Florida for a town in which to open a picture show. "I thought I had made a good sale, when I sold the Palmetto to Messrs. Brown and Able, but after I had spent considerable money and about a month of valuable time looking for another live town in which to reopen a picture show, I was not so certain that I had done so well; and when I found that I could get the Palmetto back, I was delighted; you can tell everybody for me that I am perfectly satisfied with Anderson."

Mr. Pinkston also stated that he had been told that some people were criticizing the shows and pictures which had been run here; and that he was going to Atlanta this week to book the very best and cleanest shows and pictures that could be had and that any person could come and see the show that was being played here this week, and if they could find anything objectionable, to please let him know; that it was as clean as any show that ever catered to the public. Mr. Pinkston was very emphatic in his declaration that he was not going to show anything, either in pictures or shows, but what was perfectly clean and moral in every way.

Regarding the "Spellman" show, which appears at the Palmetto this week, it is a really clever show in every way. The acting is very good, indeed; in fact, there are lots of shows charging a half dollar that are not near so good. Their costumes are good; their singing and dancing is remarkably good for the price. And there is not one objectionable thing in the entire production.

Anderson is glad to welcome such a "live wire" back into town, as Mr. Pinkston has proven himself to be. Messrs. Brown and Able have not yet decided when they will leave, but probably this week. Mr. Brown will probably go to Charlotte, and Mr. Able back to Georgia.

dilla or the Platina strengthened the belief of administration officials that there could be no difficulty. In this connection where the ownership of vessels which changed their flag was continuously American.

The attitude of the British government in these matters was regarded by the administration as eminently satisfactory, assurances that cotton when bound for belligerent countries caroes would not be molested even being particularly welcome. As a result of these definite assurances Secretary McAdoo issued the following statement tonight:

"There is no reason why underwriters who cover marine and war risks insurance could now hesitate to issue policies on cotton in neutral bottoms, so far as Great Britain is concerned. The bureau of war risk insurance of the treasury department is writing insurance freely on cotton when carried in American vessels."
