SUGGESTS ACTION BE TAKEN TO RELIEVE SUFFERING IN CITY

MAYOR GODFREY CALLS ON PASTORS TO APPOINT COMMITTEEMEN

AID NEEDED

Suggested General Committee Be Named to Look After Deserving Cases.

Acting upon a suggestion from Gen. M. L. Bonham, Mayor J. H. Godfrey has called upon the pastors of the churches in the city and the Chamber of Commerce to appoint representatives for the formation of a general relief committee, whose duty it shall be to adopt and put into execution measures looking toward the relief of suffering in the city of Anderson brought about by the general business depression existing all over the country.

As soon as Mayor Godfrey has been informed of the appointments he will call a meeting of the committee, in order that measures to be followed may be taken up at the earliest date possible. As to what plans the committee will adopt, nothing is known as yet. Several schemes have been suggested, but which one of these will be chosen will not be known until the committee has held a meeting.

The letter from General Bonham which has prompted Mayor Godfrey to call for the appointment of these committeemen is as follows:

"I was sorry I could not attend the meeting last night at the Chamber of Commerce because I am much interested in the organization of a relief committee to look after the cases of destitution and want in our city and cases which are almost certain to arise during the hard winter which the weather prophets predict. It seems to me that we ought to have a large relief committee consisting of those appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, by the churches and by you as mayor. This committee could divide the city into districts and look out for the cases of deserving people who would not themselves seek charity. In order that this committee may do effective work it must have a fund. I presume the city would make a donation to that end and the churches would take up collections and private individuals would contribute, but you need more than that and I suggest that the charitable inclined should set to work to raise the funds in the ways known to the earnest and zealous minded charitable men. Bob King would get up a minstrel show that would rival Al Fido's and all would go and pay double prices in the name of charity and get our money's worth in laughter. I simply suggest these ways of reaching an end which we all have very much at heart. As I said in a former communication, I have known the people of Anderson for 20 years and a more generous, charitable people never lived and I do not doubt that the response of the people to your appeal would be a liberal one. I suggest that you ask the pastors of the different churches to take action in this matter by naming the representatives of their churches to act on this committee and asking for contributions to this fund. This general committee as I have suggested, ought to meet and organize immediately. It is a condition and not theory that confronts us and we have got to act quickly if we would save suffering and want."

house of the State legislature for eight years and in the upper house for 12 years last November he was elected for another four years. It was in the senate, it is said, that his greatest work was done. Up to a few weeks ago he was chairman of the finance committee, but resigned on account of ill health. As chairman of this committee he made an enviable record and was instrumental in saving the State work.

He was the son of Peter Hardin, who married Miss Rebecca King, and was born near Bascomville.

Senator Hardin was a steward in the Richburg M. E. church and was always an active and faithful member.

He spent his as a farmer and was one of the county's most successful planters. He leaves a large estate.

Senator Hardin is survived by one half sister, Mrs. M. E. Blackstrom, and one full sister, Mrs. J. T. Marion.

A special train over the L. & N. railway will leave here Sunday morning at 10:30 to convey the people from this section to the funeral.

The governor also granted a parole to Will Watson, colored, who was convicted of manslaughter at Wall-halla in 1913 and sentenced to serve six years imprisonment.

Was Burned

Henrietta McGowan Met Horrible Death at Home Yesterday.

Upon returning to her house after an absence of an hour yesterday morning, a granddaughter of Henrietta McGowan found the latter had been burned to death. An 18-months old grandchild of Henrietta's, who was left with the woman, was also burned but it is not thought that these injuries will prove fatal.

Henrietta McGowan was the wife of Henry McGowan, one of the most highly respected negroes of the county, and lived on the Greenville road, something like a mile from the city. The old woman and the young grandchild were left in the house about noon by another granddaughter. Within an hour or so the latter returned and found the old woman dead upon the floor. The clothing had been burned from the body and indications pointed to her having been dead several minutes.

It is supposed that Henrietta McGowan, who was some 65 years of age and in bad health, had gone too close to the fire; that the clothing caught fire and she was too feeble to extinguish the flames before they had burned her fatally. The flames did not spread and the house was not damaged in the slightest. A place in the carpet and some rugs on the floor were destroyed.

NOMINEES FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONERS WERE LEFT OFF THE TICKET

THEREFORE ANDERSON HAS NO DULY ELECTED COMMISSION

CAN BE RIGHTED

Suggested That Legislature Can Pass Bill Declaring Them

A flurry was created in the office of the county supervisor yesterday when the morning's mail brought a letter from Secretary of State R. M. McCown which means that Anderson County is without county commissioners for the ensuing term, although four men were nominated for these positions in the Democratic primary of last August. Looked at from one standpoint, the matter appeared to be a rather serious one; but viewed from another, it seemed to be but merely the failure to comply with a technical point of law. It is quite probable, however, that the whole matter will be cleared up as soon as the legislature meets, for a bill will likely be passed rectifying the error. At any rate, Senator J. L. Sherard is quoted as having assured the commissioners-elect that they need have no fears of their not having been elected and their not getting to serve their term of office.

Only an Error.

Several days ago Supervisor J. Mack King received from the secretary of state a blank form to be filled out for his retention in office for another year. Mr. King complied with the request and upon seeing some of the commissioners-elect a few days later inquired if they had received similar blanks from the secretary of state. When informed that they had received no such blanks, Supervisor King instructed Clerk J. S. Acker to write the secretary of state inquiring why the commissioners-elect had not received the necessary blanks to fill out.

Supervisor King yesterday morning received the following letter in reply from the secretary of state:

"The return of the county board of canvassers for Anderson County, as made to the State board of canvassers, does not show the election of county commissioners for the county of Anderson. Such a report should be made by the county board of canvassers and filed in this office as evidence that an election was held for said officers at the general election November 3, 1914, giving the names and number of votes cast for each of said county commissioners.

"With this explanation you can see why notices have not been sent to the parties named in your letter. After they have been declared elected they must qualify by filing the required bond properly executed and also subscribed to the constitutional oath of office."

Left Off Ticket.

Upon investigation it developed that the names of the Democratic nominees for county commissioners were left off the ticket which was voted in the general election of November 3. The record of S. Dean Pearman, chairman of the county executive committee, show that he forwarded to the secretary of the state executive committee the names of all the Democratic nominees in this county. Therefore, it appears that the error in leaving the names of the nominees for county commissioners off the general election ticket must have occurred in the office of the secretary of the State executive committee.

Can Pass Bill.

It has been suggested that the general assembly can pass a joint resolution declaring the four nominees for commissioners to be duly elected officers and requesting Governor Manning to so commission them. The commissioners-elect are: J. Lawrence McGee, 1st district; J. R. Culbertson, 2nd district; W. A. Spearman, 3rd district; R. D. Smith, 4th district. Until these four men have been declared commissioners for Anderson County the duties of the office will continue to be performed by T. M. Vandiver and J. M. Dunlap, at present commissioners.

Business Fine

Merchants Report Satisfactory Sales Despite Inclemency of Weather.

Despite the inclemency of the weather and the cry of hard times, merchants generally enjoyed a good day's business yesterday, according to reports from several of them. While the business done is probably not up to that which was done this time last year, yet a considerable amount of buying is being done. There are several more shopping days before Christmas Day, and it is quite probable that the remaining ones will be quite busy for the retail merchants.

Those places which handle special lines of Christmas goods seemed to be doing a thriving business yesterday. Especially was this the case with the jewelry stores, and judging from the number of gifts which were purchased it would seem that people of moderate means are going to have about as good a Christmas as ever, or at least a great deal more than they think they are going to have.
