Proposition is to Establish Teaching of Subject in County Schools.

Proceeds of Function Will Be Given to Local Charity Through Salvation Army.

Could a person afflicted with the blues have been present in the court of Magistrate W. C. Broadwell yesterday and heard the trial of six negroes on charges of gambling, the same being held Tuesday night at the domicile of one Jerry Pickens, on the plantation of Mr. D. B. McPhail, some seven miles above the city, he would have had laughs enough to not only cure him of his despondency but serve him for many a day to come.

To urge the appropriating of a sum of money for the purpose of promoting the teaching of agriculture in the schools of this county, W. W. Long, state agent of the Farmers' cooperative demonstration work, with headquarters at Clemson College, will appear before the Anderson county legislative delegation today at noon when they meet in the county court house for the purpose of considering the supply bill for 1915 and hearing petitions and other expressions of opinion concerning proposed legislation.

Following the announcement in The Intelligencer yesterday morning that a charity ball would be given at Rose Hill Club next Tuesday night and in response to a call for a meeting of members of the organization at the chamber of commerce at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning for the purpose of perfecting details of the function, a representative portion of the club membership met yesterday at the appointed place and selected committees and transacted other matters with reference to the entertainment.

Several of the party before the magistrate pleaded "not guilty" when they were arraigned but later admitted that they were guilty. Some of them, before they were placed on trial, stated that they were not ready for trial, because they desired to communicate with their boss men with reference to getting "paid out."

Prof. Long stopped over in the city yesterday morning en route to Spartanburg, where he was going to appear before the delegation of that county with reference to the same proposition. Ma Long has already appeared before the delegation of Greenville county and secured a promise of an appropriation of $1,000 for establishing an agricultural course in some of the schools of that county.

The meeting yesterday morning was presided over by Robert E. Ligon, chairman of the Charity Ball committee. Following the proposal and adoption of a resolution to have a charity ball at Rose Hill Club on the evening of Tuesday, January 5 at 8 o'clock, it was agreed to make the affair a masked, fancy dress cotton ball.

Jerry Pickens pleaded guilty to the charge and received a sentence of 20 or 30 days on the chancery. Mack Pickens also pleaded guilty and received a similar sentence. William Warden and Jim Milwee pleaded guilty and received punishment in the same measure. Fringle Acker and Andrew Williams, who insisted on going through with a trial, were found guilty and sentenced to pay fines of $20 or serve 30 days on the chancery. Several of the negroes were paid out by their employers.

Anderson people will recall that during the visit to this county several weeks ago, Prof. Lucien Gunter, state inspector of rural elementary schools, this official spoke frequently of some splendid agricultural work which was being done by some schools in Darlington county. Some five schools in that county made up a fund and engaged an expert agriculturalist to teach this subject in these schools. In connection with the schools there is operated a demonstration farm, where the pupils are permitted to put into practice the theories of the classroom. The experiment has attracted considerable attention throughout the country and there is a general demand in some counties of the State for the establishing of the agricultural course in the schools.

Only those who come in fancy dress will be permitted to dance, the others to be spectators only. The time of unmasking will be announced later. It was decided to charge $2 and $1 for tickets. The two dollars tickets will admit a gentleman or a gentleman and a lady. The one dollar tickets will admit ladies.

The officers received the call to raid the gamblers about midnight Tuesday and arrived on the scene shortly after 2 o'clock. They made the raid and arrested six of the gang, whom they brought back to the city and convicted, as noted. The officers returned to the city shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

The details of the proposition Prof. Long has in mind were not made public by him yesterday morning in conversation with The Intelligencer, but it was understood that the plan he is working on is similar to the one which has been put in practice by the schools of Darlington county.

When these points had been decided committees were appointed as follows: C. J. B. Decamps and A. S. Farmer, ticket sales; Bond Anderson and W. F. Marshall, music, refreshments and decorations, S. N. Gilmer, S. R. Parker and B. M. Parks, floor committee.

The proceeds of the ball are to be given to local charity through the agency of the Salvation Army. Car service to and from the club house will be provided. It is stated that automobiles should enter the gate to the right as the other will be closed.

where the pupils are permitted to put into practice the theories of the classroom. The experiment has attracted considerable attention throughout the country and there is a general demand in some counties of the State for the establishing of the agricultural course in the schools.

Soldiers Correspondence Strictly Censored—Not Even an Endearing Term Allowed.

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 30.—A sample of the printed post cards provided soldiers in the trenches of the Allies was received in Atlanta today, and shows the lengths to which British censorship is carried. The soldier may merely mark printed lines saying he is well, wounded, recovering, in the hospital at the front or at the base, didn't receive a letter, or has received a letter. There is nothing to indicate where the writer is stationed, and if as much as one word beside the signature is added to the card, even an expression of love, the card will be destroyed and not mailed.
