GREENWOOD MULES SOLD FOR $17,000

This Sum Has Been Paid For Animals Shipped to French Government.

GREENWOOD, Feb. 2.—Approximately $17,000 has been paid to the farmers in Greenwood County for mules during the present winter. This estimate was made today by Mr. S. O. Harvey, at whose stables the animals have been purchased and who has handled the financial end for the buyers. Mr. Harvey states that not less than 200 mules have been shipped from the county since last fall, the average price, thus being $85. The last lot was bought by an Atlanta man who paid from $70 to $160 for them.

Practically all of the animals that have been shipped to the French government to be used in the war. If other counties have sold anything like the number that Greenwood has some idea may be had of the enormous number of animals that have gone from the Southern States.

The sale of so many mules here is another evidence of the large amount of grain that has been sown in Greenwood County for this spring. In many instances it is said that farmers with three plows have sown one to grain and the proportion holds good with the larger planters. As long as grain takes the place of cotton the county can well afford to decrease its "mule crop" also.

FIRST THROUGH TRAIN

Cars Loaded With Cotton Pass Through City.

CLIO, Feb. 1.—The first through train from Hamlet, N. C., to Charleston by way of the Carolina Atlantic & Western, passed here at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, this first being a cotton train for the most part and was pulled by two of the new engines of the line. At McColl the train picked up 11 cars of cotton from C. E. Exum, and there they got eight cars from Charles Manning, both buyers representing W. Gordon McCabe, Charleston. When the train left here it had a string of 49 cars.

Much of the cotton stored in the warehouses here had been sold on the recent rises in the market and the outlook for brighter prospects are manifest for the near future.

COTTON DAMAGED IN FIRE AT GREENWOOD

GREENWOOD, Feb. 1.—Thirty-six bales of cotton stored on the C. & W. C. platform and belonging to J. S. Chipley & Co., was badly damaged by fire early Sunday morning. The alarm was turned in at 2:40 and the firemen fought the flames until after 6 o'clock. The fire originated in the first row of bales next to the depot building from an unknown cause, and had evidently been burning for some time when discovered.

J. S. Chipley stated this morning that he did not know the extent of the damage. Several bales are almost a total loss. The cotton will be turned over to the insurance company and will be sold by them after the loss is estimated.

THE TRUTH WAGON

Why Don't You Tell the Truth and Go to Work.

The answer is given in the moving picture coming here today at the Paramount theatre.

John Ross, the idle son of a rich father, because of his pranks and idleness is continually bombarded with the question, "Why don't you tell the truth and go to work?"

George Ross, his father, is an honest man, but is a plant tool in the hands of Henry Drew, the republican state chairman. Ross, however, is ignorant that he is being used as a puppet. Neither will he believe his son, who, with all his faults, is keen enough to see through the politician's scheme.

Helen Dean, a reporter on "Truth," a last-dying newspaper owned by William Dean, her father, seeks out John Ross to get a story concerning his newest joke. Like those of his family, she is incensed by his idleness and asks him why he does not go to work. Later, when his father takes him to task for his uselessness, he makes the startling announcement: "I'm going on the Truth Wagon for ninety days. I'm going to buy the 'Truth' and go to work."

And he does. He buys the newspaper and begins to wage a bitter war against crooked politics. He refuses to sell out to Tammany and when his father will not cut loose from Drew and Sullivan, he begins to fight him. He retains Helen Drew and her father to aid him in his campaign and goes so far as to have the elder Dean nominated for the governorship to run against his father. Sullivan brings libel suits against young Ross and holds him practically a prisoner in his office. When these means fail and when John Ross succeeds in getting incriminating evidence against Sullivan and Drew, Sullivan gets his strong-arm men together and instructs them to stop the "Truth" from going to press if they have to wreck the plant to do it.

Young Ross takes the law into his own hands, gathers a mob and places it under the leadership of a prize-fighter. A fight between the two factions follows which results in the utter defeat of the Sullivan gang. In the meantime Forbes, a reporter on "Truth," has sold out to the "Star," Sullivan's newspaper, and has furnished them with a slanderous story regarding young Ross and Helen Dean. He offers to trade this story for the evidence held by Ross which will convict him. John Ross consents, but he still holds the joker up his sleeve. He summons his father, George Ross, and shows him the evidence of Sullivan's and Drew's conspiracy against him. Thus enlightened, the older Ross resigns from the gubernatorial race in favor of William Dean and gives his son an exclusive story of his action. This is a body blow to Sullivan and routs him completely.

Dean is elected, the political machine is disrupted and Ross shortly afterwards, leads the governor elect's daughter, Helen to the altar.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

If feverish, bilious, constipated, give fruit laxative at once.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child, see if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

When you phone Billy Power for fresh meat be sure to ask for his sugar cured New York roll pork. It's the work that brings joy to all.

LaVallieres

A lady came into my place a few days ago and said that she had been all over town looking for a LaValliere.

I felt a little bad as I was the last on the list. But when she wrote a check for $50.00 and put on one of the prettiest LaVallieres I had, I felt better.

LaVallieres from $3.00 to $50.00.
