Some Things You Know and Some You Don't Know About Our Towns, County & People

—For land anywhere in Pickens county see or write J. R. Ashmore, "The Land Man."

—For first-class shingles, either heart or sap, see or write me for prices. Can deliver them at Pickens or give you special price on them at the mill which is 2 miles north of court house.

J. H. Earle, Pickens, S. C.

The weather was delightful for the fair.

Mr. T. J. Bowen, one of the substantial, attended the fair.

Mr. John F. Harris, of Greenville county, was a visitor at the fair.

Another landmark at the fair was Mr. J. D. M. Keith. He is one of our best citizens.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Freeman, of Greenwood, visited friends and relatives here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Norris, of Central, and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Norris, of Catechee, attended the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Morris will occupy the former residence of Mr. W. H. Johnson, on Hampton avenue.

Mr. J. Bennett Hill, of Walhalla, was circulating among his friends during fair week. Mr. Hill was a former citizen of this county and ought to return to his first love.

Mr. R. E. Bruce, of the Big Store, kept a man busy filling a tub in his store with fresh water every day during the fair. Many thirsty ones appreciated thoughtful kindness.

Boys, what about this? Reports reached here Monday that Harold Holder picked 194 pounds of cotton one day last week in six hours. What other boy can do it?

Mr. Geo. A. Ellis had charge of the corn exhibits at the fair. He says he prefers that job to the one he had last year, although he has no very serious objections to helping with a baby show.

It seems good to have the old friends come home during fair week. Dr. Webb, from Atlanta, and Q. M. Serg't Luther Leslie, of San Antonio, Texas, were in town looking as if time is dealing gently with them.

The 15-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Finley, the market man, died Monday, after an illness of several months with bowel trouble. Interment was in the town cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

At an election held last Saturday to fill a vacancy in the city council caused by the resignation of Mr. R. L. Hames, the unanimous vote was cast for Mr. J. I. Callahan, the popular clerk at the Big Store.

The friends of Mr. R. G. Gaines were delighted to see him at the fair. Some months ago his health began to fail which was brought about by an overload of business cares, but since he has given them up he is almost himself again.

In the coupon contest at Moore & Mauldin Co. last week No. 913 gets the grain drill and No. 933 gets the pair of shoes. Parties holding either of the above numbers will please call and get their prizes at once. If they are not called for by Tuesday, the 17th, another draw will be made.

Married, on the 8th inst., at the home of the bride's father, Mr. L. R. Dalton, Miss Peake Dalton and Mr. Wesley Chapman. Rev. B. C. Atkinson performed the marriage ceremony. This happy young couple are receiving the hearty congratulations and good wishes of hosts of friends.

Married, on the 8th inst., Mr. J. Walter Mauldin and Miss Maggie Williams. The ceremony was performed by Judge J. B. Newbery at his residence. This young couple have the congratulations of their many friends.

The army worm or cotton caterpillar has been general over this county and has stripped the cotton of the leaves. No damage to the cotton has been reported, and it is not thought any will result, as it attacked the plant too late to injure the growth of the stem.

Mr. Harrison Dillard died at his home at Calhoun last Sunday, aged 76 years. He was an old Confederate soldier and an upright citizen. He numbered his friends by his acquaintances and was held in high esteem. The funeral and interment was at the Old Stone Church, near Clemson. Five children survive him, all grown and married except one.

Rev. E. T. Snuggs, a returned missionary from South China, will preach in the Baptist church next Sunday morning and night. Rev. Mr. Snuggs has been a missionary for twenty years, is a native of England, but for the last seven years has been in the employ and working under the direction of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Judge Newbery's services are much in demand these days. Last Monday afternoon a young couple appeared in his office and requested a license to be married. After the license was issued they decided not to postpone the event any longer and the Judge tied the knot. The groom was Mr. Ernest Bagwell and the bride Miss Lillie Holder. Congratulations and good wishes to them.

Messrs. C. B. Haddon and T. F. Jackson, of Clemson College, addressed the people at the fair last week. The former spoke on agriculture and the latter on live stock. These gentlemen greatly interested the people on these subjects and gave much valuable information. They stated that they would be glad to visit the county any time and talk to the people about these matters. This is their business, to advise and instruct the people on the best methods of farming and stock improvement, and any time a gathering can be had these men will gladly attend.

Hendricks, Morris.

Married, on Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Oct. 5th, 1911, at the home of the bride's father, Mr. W. F. Hendricks, Mr. Jesse M. Morris and Miss Irma Hendricks, both of Pickens county, S. C., Rev. W. C. Seaborn officiating. The groom is the oldest son of A. M. Morris of Pickens, and possesses a kind heart and a noble Christian character. He is one of the assistants in the postoffice at Pickens. The bride is one of the twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hendricks of the Oolenoy section, and is loved by all who know her. She numbers her friends by the score, a lady indeed, possessing many charming traits of character and Christian graces.

No one present but the immediate family of the bride, except her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Hendricks. After the marriage the bride and groom left for the home of the groom's parents. Their many friends join the writer in extending to them congratulations, wishing for them a long, happy and prosperous voyage through life.

Unavoidable Accident.

Coroner Medlin re-assembled the jury of inquest at Easley last Friday to re-consider and inquire into the cause of the death of little Fay Smith, an account of which was published in The Sentinel last week. After mature consideration of all the testimony produced, and after hearing the statement of Mr. Warren Smith, the driver of the automobile at the time the sad accident occurred, the jury rendered a verdict that the child's death was caused by an unavoidable accident. This exonerated Mr. Smith.

ATTENTION FARMERS.

All the farmers of Pickens county and other business men who are interested in the welfare of the progress of agricultural interests are hereby called to meet at the court house on Monday, the 23rd inst. to discuss means and plans to enable the farmers to hold their cotton.

This meeting is very important and all are urged to attend. Plans are being made whereby money can be secured for those who are obliged to sell, to help them hold, and these plans will be presented at this meeting for discussion. Prominent speakers, among them Senator Smith, and others have been invited to address the meeting. Everybody

PICKENS FAIR LAST WEEK

Many Interesting Features About the County Fair—A Large Crowd and Fine Show.

Many inquiries have been made why nothing was published in the last issue of the Sentinel about the county fair. The reason is that our type is all set by hand, and in order that the paper may be put on the press Wednesday the forms must be made up by Tuesday night. The fair did not open until Tuesday of last week, and therefore we could not have given anything except what occurred that day; and rather than publish it in fragments we preferred to give it all in one issue.

The attendance the first day was not as large as was expected, but the second and third days it was an overflow.

The first day was given over to horse-racing and other amusements. Jones Bros. exhibited each day one of the best and cleanest shows ever seen at Pickens. They fully met the expectations of the people and pleased every one who patronized them.

The Piedmont Band furnished music for the occasion each day, and their stirring airs gave zest and enthusiasm, and was one of the attractive features of the occasion.

The lemonade and peanut vendors, the itinerant jobber of wares and merchandise and the catchpenny devices were in evidence as usual on occasions like this, and carried away a great many shekels.

One of the most attractive features each day was the balloon ascension. This part was carried out perfectly and without any mishap. On the second day the balloon went beyond the clouds and out of sight.

Space will not permit a detailed account of all that was exhibited and which took place at the fair; but the agricultural and poultry departments must not be overlooked. There were ten entries for the corn prize and twenty-three for the cotton prize. And the exhibits of corn and cotton were very fine. A full list of these entries cannot be given for lack of space. The name of the winner and the prizes awarded are as follows:

- FIRST PRIZES FOR COTTON.
W. E. Ridley, 600 pounds Armour guano.
J. L. Nix, 1200 pounds Swift guano.
D. B. Adams, 2000 pounds Navassa guano.
J. Benton Robinson, 1200 pounds Etiwan guano.
J. M. Arnold, 600 pounds Royster guano.
Alex. Cannon, 600 pounds Unedit guano.
SECOND PRIZES FOR COTTON.
J. D. Stansell, 800 pounds Swift guano.
W. P. Stewart, 400 pounds Armour guano.
J. E. Allgood, 800 pounds Etiwan guano.
Roark Powell, 400 pounds Royster guano.
J. R. Kirksey, 400 pounds Unedit guano.
J. D. Stansell, — pounds Royster guano.
J. N. Chappell, 800 pounds Wando guano.

CORN.
While there were no prizes offered for the best corn there were many and very fine exhibits. These elicited many favorable comments, and encouraged those who came with corn to continue in this most worthy and profitable line.

A prize of $5 was awarded to Mr. Robert Mosely, however, for the best corn. Mr. Mosely lives on the Keovee, about twenty miles above here, and used Unedit guano. He is a successful corn-grower and takes great interest in his farm.

- OTHER PRIZES.
A. B. Talley, blue ribbon for the best watermelon.
Will Manly, red ribbon for the best watermelon.
I. H. Simmons, blue ribbon for the best brand of tobacco.
T. J. Mauldin, blue ribbon for the best red peppers.
W. H. Chastain, blue ribbon for best wheat and oats.
W. L. Boggs, blue ribbon for best apples.
J. B. Manly, blue ribbon for best cane.
Courtly Durham, red ribbon for best guano.

LANDS

....IN CENTRAL AND SOUTH GEORGIA....

Where the story of the Magic West is being repeated in marvelous development. An ideal spot for the home-seeker or the investor.

FERTILITY.—Land that will produce in abundance cotton, corn, hay, grain, melons, vegetables and the various orchard fruits. Two halves of cotton to the acre on many farms this year.

HEALTH.—High on the great ridge of Central Georgia, where chills and fever are practically unknown. In the region of the famous pine balm that guarantees health and vigor.

HIGHWAYS.—Magnificent graded highways—one of Georgia's best assets. A net-work of railroads. In the direct path of the great trunk lines from the Northeast and Central West to the Gulf.

CULTURE.—A splendid school system and good churches supported by an enthusiastic and loyal people. The place to rear your children.

200,000 Acres that we can show you in tracts of from fifty to two thousand acres at from $15.00 to $50.00 per acre. NOW is the time to investigate. Six months hence these lands will cost you 10 to 25 per cent. more.

Come and let us show you, or write your land wants to ERIC W. HARDY.

is to be regretted. Our people should be encouraged in stock-raising and stock-improvement.

POULTRY.
There were many fine coops of the feathery tribe, the prize-winners being W. E. Hendricks, D. F. Hendricks, W. A. Mathews, C. G. Rowland, E. H. Craig, Rev. G. F. Kirby, C. L. Cureton, E. J. Tripp, M. M. Holder, B. Lewis, W. G. Medlin and W. M. Rosemond. The list of prizes and breed of chickens will be given next week.

Two Old Chums.
Frank and Tom were two old chums who were together for the long, long ago. They met at the fair for the first time in many years and had a good time together. But several years ago they separated—one went away to Texas and the other remained—and the old world wagged on, adding years to days and, cares to their lives. The frosts of the by-gone winters have decked their heads with silver threads and furrowed their cheeks, but when they met at the fair the troubles which the years had brought rolled away, the fire and spirit of former days rekindled and jubilant as of yore the warm grasp of hands and friendship was renewed. These two old chums were Frank Looper and Tom Parkins. May they meet again.

FOR FALL PLOWING

Use Avery's Reversible Disc Plow

AVERY'S TWO-HORSE REVERSIBLE disc plow is the best of its kind. It is a simple, sturdy, and efficient implement, both in regard to the details obtained by their users. By use of these plows, the soil is effectively covered. The regularity of depth of soil aid in preparing a seed-bed of uniformity by two horses or mules. Cuts furrows finished with Avery's Steel Double Tree and for this plow. It is made especially for the farmer. We are in a position to quote you on any of our plows.
