

SATURDAY NIGHT SERMONS
BY REV. SAMUEL W. POWERS, D.D.

THE UNHAUNTING, UNFEVERISH GOD.
Text: "And Jesus said, Make the men sit down."—John vi, 10.

God cares for calendars. No use rising at 2 a. m. to find fault with darkness and ask why the sun has not risen. It is not time. Though all men should clamor and complain, the sun will not rise until the appointed time. There's an exact second for that event. Astronomers may calculate it for this date 3000 A. D. God works that way. The Almighty timed hour, minute and second when the star should flash to the wise men and the angels sing to the shepherds. When his Son came there was divine order. "Mine hour is not yet come," he said again and again. When the work was done he said, "The hour is at hand." The calendar was complete.

One April afternoon in Galilee divinity and humanity stood face to face. A mighty miracle was near. Five thousand people were going to be fed from a lad's lunch basket. There's great confusion, danger of an awful panic. Cassock knots beat back Russian passants at the czar's celebration, yet 200 were trampled to death. British bayonets pierced, famine-crazed sufferers in India before relief corn could be distributed. Christ calls a halt. No tumult, with the throng tramping down the weak. "Make the men sit down." There's no hurry, no fussing, no fever with the Son of God.

The American Disease.
Hurry, justly or unjustly, is called "Americanitis," the American disease. Our climate, dry and overplus with oxygen; competitive system, honor and opportunity beckoning at every street corner, the very American "atmosphere" breed nervousness, oversolicitousness, premature death. The "Americanitis" is his shoulders, laughs, his feet, is off to the German and American snows his pipe. Frau says, "A cus is in the shop." "Ach, himmel, am wait!" John Bill is rosy cheeked blooded; Brother Jonathan thin, cadaverous. He must "git there" "Lard, Purr-russ," drawled English friend as I dragged him down the street. The day and the night door was snappin' faces, "Is this the lawst day?" "No," I clicked; "there'll be another in a minute." I can hear a heavy British laugh yet. Who setting this pace? Some invisible, benevolent national spirit driving us on. The whole structure of American society is a race for the prize. I've seen the ranchmen on the plains take blazing branding irons and burn the mark of ownership on the hide. Hurry is taking a fiery brand on the mark on the American.

Man's Mania For Speed.
There's something in our climate dry and hot that brings a necrosis of hurry. We are 80,000,000 charged with frantic batteries. Attach one of us to a desk, a pulpit, a pen or a wash on till the current is exhausted. If there are thirty porches in a row there will be at least ninety rocking chairs, all going furiously, while the occupants tell excitedly, possibly shrilly, of an entertainment where they "nearly died" laughing. On the way home the darkness was "Egyptian," it rained "pitchforks" and the mud was "knee deep." Stand at the ferry, the railroad station, the trolley terminus. See the crowd surge on or dash off fighting, going up stairs or down, squirming and elbowing to get through the gateway. What's the hurry? No one knows. The Niagara gorge is a swift stream, but it bears no vessels of commerce. The autist goes at a frightful clip in the hope of getting somewhere he doesn't need to go in as small a fragment of time as the speed laws will allow. He has a dread of being considered "slow." To be a "has-been" is disgrace. "Old 999" once pride of the New York Central, now a milk train along the Hudson. Empire State express to milk degradation! That's the specter hunts our national American. Let our mental picture of the "has-been" of His Country is looting a cabinet or a million on Lincoln would be a disgrace. "Old 999" as a "has-been" is a disgrace. "Old 999" once pride of the New York Central, now a milk train along the Hudson. Empire State express to milk degradation! That's the specter hunts our national American. Let our mental picture of the "has-been" of His Country is looting a cabinet or a million on Lincoln would be a disgrace. "Old 999" as a "has-been" is a disgrace.

Tax Notice.
Office of County Treasurer, Pickens County, Pickens, S. C., September 25th 1911.
The books for the collection of State and County taxes will be open from October 15, 1911 to November 1st 1911. Those who prefer to pay in January, 1912, will be charged with interest. Those who prefer to pay in March, 1912, will be charged with interest and a penalty of 10 per cent. After said date no more will be accepted.
N. B.—Taxpayers owning property or paying for others, will please check the tax receipts in each township or special school district in which they own property. This is very important. There are so many special districts that it is not later than the 1st of October, and will furnish them with the amount due and they can remit me by check, money order or registered letter. Stamps are sent to not send above two (2) cents, as I cannot use them. Please do not send me cash without registering same, as it is liable to get lost; if sent otherwise it will be at sender's risk.
