J. P. Carey, Jr., Will Not Run For House

Jas. P. Carey, Jr., has announced that he will not be a candidate for the legislature to fill out the term of the late Hon. Fred Williams. We predict he will yet be called upon to serve the people in some capacity.

We wonder if our Oconee subscriber cradles much grain now days.

Reports from Marietta say that a bad storm passed through that section yesterday. A very high wind and rain and rain did a lot of damage to growing crops and blocking the roads with timber. If there was any damage done to other property your writer has not had the information.

Our good friend E. F. Looper and son, Sammie, were through this section last week. E. F. tells us he is going to try Supervisor Craig next August for that office. Mr. Looper made this part of Pickens county a good officer. He has some good friends in this section and if he makes the race it will be a welcome one.

Our good Commissioner G. W. Bowen was through this vicinity last week looking after the public roads. He was accompanied by Wash Nimmons.

Dacusville News

Crops are looking fine in this section of the country, and if no disaster should come this way there will be enough made to pay for the fertilizer and some left to pay taxes and the preacher. You know the preacher is always the last to pay with some folks.

It seems that Progressive likes these big dinners and asks Johnnie-on-the-spot to talk up that all day singing at Peter's Creek. So come on Progressive with a well filled trunk and your song books next second Sunday and enjoy the day with us. Don't forget the rations.

Mrs. Mary Hall, of Easley, who has been on a visit to her nephews, J. M., S. M. and H. A. Looper, and others for the past month, returned to her home last Wednesday.

Lawrence Looper, son of J. M. Looper, had the misfortune to cut his foot very badly one day last week while hewing cross-ties.

Roy, Stansel and Landrum McWhite and sister, Miss Virginia, all of Greenville, visited the family of W. O. Turner the fourth Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Christine Sutherland and friend, Miss Mary Lewis, of Pickens, and Miss Sutherland and Miss Cox, of Belton, are on a visit to D. P. Sutherland this week.

Miss Annie Hughes visited her father, J. G. Hughes, one night last week.

H. L. Jones lost a good horse about two weeks ago, also another one fell in a ditch a few days later, but is all right now.

There is a white man in the Peter's Creek section who goes about begging something to eat. He has been seen about a week.

The last seen of him to know that he is the same man was last Sunday morning at S. F. Robinson's asking for something to eat. On Monday night after he was seen on Sunday, some man was seen at J. R. Foster's and Mr. Foster shot at him.

We do not know whether it is the same man or not as it was in the night. The man has red complexion, is about six feet tall and will weigh about 165 pounds. He is dirty and ragged and looks to be about 35 or 40 years of age. He looks to be a fool to see him, but Hovie Singleton had a conversation with him and says he has an education from the way he talks. He says he is a drunkard and has been all his life. The mystery is he won't tell anyone his name and no one knows who he is. Some think he has done some great crime some where and has escaped. The women of this section are all scared of him. The sheriff should look after such men and find out their name. The man has got a pistol. Johnnie-on-the-spot.

A Big Picnic at Cross Roads

In the beautiful grove at the home of Mr. Joe Pindley, near Cross Roads church, the three Camps W. O. W. from Dacusville, Hester's store and Cross Roads united and gave a picnic to everybody on Saturday, August 2nd. This was one of the greatest occasions of the kind ever given in the county. Mr. L. L. Smith introduced Hon. E. P. McCray, who after a few remarks presented Ex-Gov. M. F. Ansel, who delivered a splendid address. He was followed by Hon. R. A. Cooper, of Laurens, who also made a splendid and forceful speech on Woodcraft. The third speaker was Hon. C. A. Power, of Laurens, the head consul for this state, who spoke on the history of the order and who gave some good points. Mr. McCray seemed in his glory as he was among his friends and both Messrs. Cooper and Power are old friends of his, all being Laurens county boys.

The Easley Mill Band furnished music for the occasion which added much to the pleasure of the day. After the morning program a Cross Roads picnic dinner was served on a long table in the grove. This picnic will long be remembered by the W. O. W. and every one else who had the good fortune to be there.

Miss Ruth Parsons is visiting in Liberty.

We left Pickens Monday morning at 7.30 and went to Greenville, where we caught an interurban car and went to Belton. At Belton we changed cars for Shoal Junction where we arrived at 11.40 a. m., and arrived at Ware Shoals cotton mill about six o'clock. From there we went to my father's home, about five miles northeast, and here is where the writer saw one of the best farming countries we have seen in this state. Crops are looking exceptionally fine here. I had the pleasure of meeting several Laurens county people in my father's home. The trip was one of enjoyment from beginning to end, and we long to visit Laurens county and meet those good people again.

How Time Does Change Matters

Mr. Editor: As we have always believed that all evils will adjust themselves if you give them time. So your editorial or comment on the piece you copied from the Pennsylvania Gilt and written by one Mr. J. W. Kincaid of Texas, expressing himself as an ex-Union soldier in regard to the love and respect he has for the Confederate soldier, and his suggestion to finally unite our country and break down all sectional strife and be one united country, is good; and J. W. Kincaid is not the only ex-Union soldier who has expressed himself to give the Confederate soldier what is justly due him. And as for the tax of $15.00 on every bale of cotton taken from us unlawfully after the war: It was made mostly by the old soldiers and widows of the men who were killed and their orphan children. How often it has been seen, old one-arm and one-legged Confederate soldiers tugging away trying to plow and hoe to make an honest living, for it was the only source they had. Then for it to be taken away from them by unlawful means, and piled up in the treasury of the richest nations of the world. It is a wonder that a nation that pretends to be honest could stand for such knowing the injustice of such matters.

Yes, let us call upon our representatives in congress to have this money prorated to each Southern state that made this cotton, and let it be paid back as far as possible to the ones who made it. Some have suggested that it be applied for educational purposes. I say in the name of all honesty if this money should be paid back to the cotton states, let the old Confederate soldiers and their widows have it. And as far as South Carolina is concerned, she has comparatively done nothing as yet for her old heroes who have sustained and maintained the homes of their state at all times when they have been called upon to do so. But we hope the time is not far distant when South Carolina will come to the front in caring for her old soldiers and pay them what she owes them. And is it not our duty, old comrades, not to elect any more tight wads to the legislature? B. C. Johnson.

Lost by Miss Geneva Finley, on the streets of Pickens between Jno. Craig's residence and City Market, one gold locket and chain. Finder will please return to F. L. Finley.

Farmers' Institute Was Held Tuesday

The first farmers' institute for Pickens county this year was held at John Hendricks', near Pickens, Tuesday, the 5th. The attendance was small, but the class of farmers that were there was among our very best and much interest was manifested, many questions were asked the speaker and from this meeting will come much good.

P. N. Lott, of Edgefield county, was the first speaker and he talked about "Soil Building." He is a practical farmer himself and was not expounding theories, but told how and what could be done by any farmer. It was a fine, common sense talk. He is a "crank" on vetch for a cover crop, and every farmer in the county should have heard his talk.

J. D. W. Watts, of Laurens county, spoke on "Live Stock." He is also a practical man and raises live stock for the market. He advocates township live stock associations, and told much of his experience which will prove valuable to those who hear it.

O. M. Clark, of Lexington county, spoke on "Horticulture" and W. P. Stewart, of Greenville county, spoke on "Poultry."

Our farmers should turn out better to meetings of this kind. It cannot help but make them better farmers. The institutes held in this county this week will mean thousands of dollars, better homes and more happiness for our people in years to come.
