The Sentinel is not responsible for the views of its correspondents.

Virginia's legislature has rejected the woman suffrage bill by a vote of 74 to un lucky 13.

"Carranza Gives Word to Protect Foreigners," reads a headline. But those Greasers are so slippery.

Speaking of old-fashioned things, what has become of the daily newspaper that used to paste its sheets together?

There's more baseball news in the daily papers this winter than there was last summer. And not a championship game played as yet.

If you have not already done so, help your friends in The Sentinel's contest today. The contest will close Saturday, so your time to help is short.

Senator Tillman has introduced a bill to create a second federal judicial district in this state. He is very optimistic as to the prospects of its final passage.

With Democracy in the saddle one year, we have only had one blizzard and one earthquake. That is doing better than the average stand-patter prated for.

Some of the fashion plates showing the new styles of women's dress look more like the old-time circus clown's costume than anything we have seen for some time.

There is to be a pageant of the cities in St. Louis May 23 to 31, and every representative of a city must be to ride horseback and to dance. Tango, turkey trot, or bunny hug?

A chump out in Illinois bet five dollars that he could swallow one hundred nickels. He got away with ninety-seven of them, and now physicians are trying to extract those $4.85 from him.

Mayor "Jim" Woodward, Atlanta's printer chief executive, is being boomed by his friends for governor of the Cracker state. There is no doubt that he would make as good a governor for the state of Georgia as he has been a mayor of the Gate City.

An Atlanta policeman was fined $10.75 for trying to kiss a pretty 15-year-old girl, to "find out whether or not she was fast," as he explained it to Recorder Broyles. He also lost his job on the force; and it served him right. But what was that odd 75 cents for?

In one of his characteristically humorous stories, Finley Peter Dunne quotes "Mr. Dooley" on baseball heroes and makes him say that "Ther'd be more ginocoyne grief in 'th' homes iv America if Joe Tinker sprained his ankle thin if Cole Bleasie broke his neck."

Here is a good tip given by the Barnwell Sentinel, and which we pass along to our readers: "Don't promise any man your vote. Wait until the entries have closed, decide for yourself which is apparently the man for the place—then vote according to your own judgment."

We are surprised at A. L. Gossett, the bachelor editor of the Tugaloo Tribune. Listen to what he said last week: "Much criticism was made about the women's skirts last year. There can be no complaint about the stockings this year, according to fashion rumors."

Ministerial Union Means Progress

Mr. Editor: I notice in your last issue an article signed by Mr. John D. Holler, stating that some of our ministers have organized a County Ministerial Union. When I read the statement I said, thank the Lord, and again I say, thank God for such men as D. W. Hiott, who was elected president of this noble movement. I also learn of this being done in other places. It is to be hoped and prayed that it will be done in every part of the world.

The ministers must organize if they expect to fulfill their high calling as they should. In unity there is strength. It is the will of God for his servants to be united in the bonds of peace and love, for he said a kingdom divided would fall.

What a shame that the ministers of the gospel of Christ would ever be divided against each other. Why not heed the word of truth, which saith, "If ye bite and devour each other, take heed lest ye be consumed one of the other."

May I illustrate what I mean? There was once a king in war who had two captains who were mad with each other and would not speak to each other, and upon a certain time there was a severe battle to be fought. The king called the two captains upon a high point and said: "You two men are brethren." Then pointing to his enemy he said: "Yonder are your enemies; shake hands and go after them."

So today Christ, calling to his servants to come upon a higher plane, and I hear him say "You men are brethren." Then, pointing to ignorance, unbelief, the demijohn, ballroom card table, theater, profanity, cigarette, malice, the lust of the flesh, the pride of life, the pride of the eye, and the many other things which are sapping the very life and virtue from the people: "Yonder are your enemies; shake hands and go after them."

May we heed his command; may we learn that Christ calls us to war against sin and Satan and not against each other.

So this union means progress. H. F. W.

The green wig has arrived in Atlanta. It is green, pea-green, but the Journal says it is not unripe. It was worn on the streets by an actress, and she said she wore it because it matched her gown and hat. Beside being stylish, she said she wore it just because. Reckon that settles it.

Col. C. R. D. Burns, of Wall-halla, spent several days in Pickens recently. While we do not intend to take much stock in political matters during the approaching campaign, we would modestly suggest that Col. Burns would make the state of South Carolina one of the best Comptroller Generals she has ever had. If Wallhalla will excuse us, Pickens would like to nominate Col. Burns for that position.

Since the election of Hon. Thomas J. Mauldin to the judgeship of the Thirteenth district, the people of Pickens county have been thinking of someone to represent us in the state senate. To our certain knowledge, considerable pressure is being brought to bear upon Dr. R. F. Smith, of Easley, to allow his friends to announce his name for the senate. It is hoped by his friends that he will consider the matter carefully and favorably. Dr. Smith is a man of fine ability, and should he decide to enter the race, and should be elected, Pickens county would no doubt be proud of his record in the senate as she is proud of the retiring senator. Senator Smith, of Pickens, would sound all right.

Mrs. Adeline Godfrey

Mrs. Adeline Godfrey, an estimable lady about 66 years of age, was found dead in bed at the home of Mr. Calvin M. Smith, near Easley, early Monday morning. Mrs. Godfrey was Mr. Calvin Smith's mother-in-law, and had been making her home with him for several years, helping him take care of his children. It is thought that she died from heart trouble, and also without a struggle, as she was laying on her side as if in sleep when found. The deceased was a sister of Hon. Laban Mauldin, of this city. She is also survived by three other brothers, Mr. Vardry Mauldin, of Birmingham, Ala., and H. L. Mauldin, of Lavonia, Ga., and E. A. Mauldin, of Atlanta, Ga. Mauldin, Jr. and C. V. Mauldin, of Atlanta, were also present and with the four brothers, acted as pall bearers. She was truly a good woman.—Easley Progress.
