Political Campaign Now Seems To Be On

The campaign of 1914 may be said to have opened. Candidates for governor have been announcing their platforms in the public prints, and a general activity along all political lines seems to have been started. At least four of the candidates for governor have given out their formal platforms and it is expected that others will fall in line and state the issues upon which they will ask the votes of the people this summer.

The Senatorial Race

The race for the United States senate seems to be between Governor Blease and Senator Smith, without a third entry. There was talk for a time of other candidates, but one by one they withdrew, and there are now only two candidates in the race, and, unless something unforeseen happens, these will be the only two candidates when the time for filing pledges expires.

Congressional Campaign

Assistant Attorney General Fred H. Dominick, of Newberry, was in Anderson recently in the interest of his candidacy for congress, and again last week he was in the up-country, in Oconee, Pickens and other counties in the third district. Mr. Dominick, who is a candidate for the seat now held by Congressman Aiken, says that he is confident of election.

Peoples for Re-election

Attorney General Thos. H. Peoples has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election. There has been no opposition announced to the attorney general.

The Governor's Race

There is a great deal of interest in the race for governor. The number of candidates is large, and most of them are well known to the voters of the State.

County-to-County Campaign

There has been considerable discussion of abolishing the county-to-county campaign this summer. This movement will wear itself out, as did the effort in the legislature to restrict the primary. Governor Blease has come out flat-footed in favor of the candidate going before the people, and has announced that if the State convention does not provide for a county-to-county canvass that he will go to each county seat, inviting the other candidates for the senate to meet him.

Found a Cure for Rheumatism

"I suffered with rheumatism for two years and could not get my right hand to my mouth for that length of time," writes Lee L. Chapman, Mapleton, Iowa. "I suffered terrible pain so I could not sleep nor lie still at night. Five years ago I began using Chamberlain's Liniment and in two months I was well and have not suffered with rheumatism since." Landlords And Tenants

Since becoming a reader of your valuable paper I have read all the discussions with interest: Duty of tenant, duty of landlord, and their relations. Having had some experience along these lines I feel inclined to join the discussion:
I own 110 acres of land, with 50 acres in cultivation. I work all this myself in corn, oats, cowpeas and cotton. I have no tenants. My neighbors on each side have tenants and while I "saw wood and saw nothing," I hear both complaints. And my impartial decision is that it is the same old story that generally exists with all the farmers, lack of co-operation. We are all so afraid of doing something that will benefit our neighbor that we actually fall in our own behalf.
This winter while breaking my land with a ten-inch plow as deep as three horses could pull, a tenant neighbor came in the field and strongly emphasized the work as being "the thing."

As this tenant worked the same land last year and laid his crop by so that at gathering time there appeared to be at least a ton of crab grass to the acre, I told him I thought he would at least make the rent over and above by turning under all this grass during the winter. This he said he could not afford, being a renter; that he had rather burn off and break in the spring and save two breakings. To this I replied that it would only be necessary to disk instead of break twice (owner furnishes him disk). This he also claimed he could not afford, as he would be improving the land for the owner. This man, with numbers of others, has not done a day's work this winter.

This is very much the policy of all the tenants I have ever known. If they break a pane from the window they call for the owner to put in another. Allow the ditch that drains the lot to fill up and notify the owner that they can hardly get in their lot on account of the mud. Is it any wonder such people are renters? This same lack of cooperation and same stupidity is characteristic of a vast majority of the land-owners and is the most damaging example and the greatest obstruction to progress in our Dixie Land. Is it any wonder the tenant is so trifling? In the general summing up of the subject one is about the equal of the other, and all affected with the same old disease, growl, growl and do nothing.—Arkansas, in The Progressive Farmer.

Mr. Elijah M. Stone, a prominent citizen of Central, came to Easley the 8th instant and claimed for his bride Miss Sallie Oates of Greenwood. Rev. D. W. Hiett, an intimate friend of Mr. Stone, said a few words which made them one. May their pathway be smooth.

To be worthy of the respect of all, a man must respect himself.

FERTILIZE YOUR CROP

In fertilizing your cotton and corn, care should be taken to apply at least 600 pounds of high grade fish, blood and bone fertilizer to the acre for the best and most lasting results. Where less than 600 pounds of fertilizer is used to the acre, it acts as a stimulant only, and takes more plant food from the soil than it furnishes, and your soil runs down, but where you use 600 pounds or more of fine fertilizer to the acre, you furnish the soil with more plant food than the crop takes from it and your soil improves. And, besides, the more fertilizer you use, the faster your crop grows and the quicker your land is shaded, and you know that is an advantage. And then with heavy fertilization you have larger stalks, more limbs and leaves and bolls. This gives you more vegetable matter for the soil. This vegetable matter furnishes humus for the soil, and soil without humus is like leather without oil, its usefulness is greatly impaired. And then heavy fertilization makes more bolls and this makes more bales, and there is where you make your money in farming.

The difference in cost of fertilizing an acre with 400 pounds and 600 pounds of fertilizer is around $3 an acre, the difference in the crop will be at least 100 pounds of lint cotton, and at present prices that is a little rise of $13. That is how it pays. There is no doubt of its paying, and 600 pounds to the acre will pay better than 400 pounds or 300 pounds. Unless the ground is in an unusually high state of cultivation we doubt if it will pay to use more than 600 pounds to the acre for cotton or corn. If your lands are red our 8-3-3 or our 9-3-3 or our 10-3-3 is about what you need.

If your lands are gray use our 8-4-4 or our 10-4-4. If you are a little late in planting, use our 10-3-3 or our 10-4-4, as the extra percentage of phosphoric acid will hasten the growth and maturity of your cotton. If you don't care to use 600 pounds to the acre on all your crop, try it on half and see where you make your money.

We are getting out a fish, blood and bone goods that has no equal and farmers using it this year will have an advantage in crop making that people who are deprived of it will not understand. We hope you have noticed the analysis of our goods this year, issued by Clemson College. Not a single sample has fallen down; the analysis of every one of them stands up like a little tin soldier.

HOME-MADE GARDEN DIBBLE

Experiences Teach that Implement Made of Flat Board Works Well and Leaves Clean Hole.

A dibble made of a round and sharp-pointed stick is the usual tool for making holes when setting tomato and other plants. I found by experience that dibble made of a flat board would work much better and leave a cleaner hole if worked into the earth with a horizontal swinging motion, says a writer in the Popular Mechanics. The hole produced in just right for the plant. The illustration shows its construction.

Pleasure and Protection

"One of the best reasons why I would not be without telephone service," writes a Georgia farmer, "is the pleasure it gives my wife and the knowledge that while I am away, she has the protection that the telephone gives."
On the farm the telephone dispels loneliness and is the means of bringing help in any emergency that may arise.
If you haven't a telephone on your farm see the nearest Bell Telephone Manager or write for our free booklet and learn how little this service costs.
