N.B.--We pay postage if you pay cash

We are indebted to Taylor H. Stewart, county treasurer, for a nice lot of the finest Irish potatoes we have seen. Mr. Stewart is a fine gardener, his ability in this line being exceeded only by his kindness and his ability to get votes along about election time.

Mr. W. A. Thomas, the well-known butcher employed in the Pickens meat market, who has been very ill with typhoid fever for the past six weeks, is reported no better at this time. His many friends, however, hope he will soon be on the way to permanent recovery.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Hattie Earle spent Friday in Greenville.

L. B. Ferguson, colored, reports a cotton bloom July 2.

There will be an all day singing at Mountain Grove church the fourth Sunday in July. Everybody invited to come and bring song books and well-filled baskets.

Everybody interested in the cemetery at Mountain Grove church are requested to come to the church Saturday before the fourth Sunday in July and help clean off the cemetery.

Rev. John T. Mann, the blind evangelist of Belton, will assist the pastor in a meeting at Mt. Carmel church, beginning the first Sunday night in August. Mrs. Mann will be with her husband and help in the meeting.

J. P. Carey, Jr., and J. T. Richey have secured agency for the Overland car in this county and expect to make many sales of this excellent, reasonably priced car during the season. Their ad will appear in The Sentinel within the next two or three weeks. Look for it.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lewis, of Lincolnton, Ga., spent several days last week with her mother, Mrs. N. S. Moseley, who has been very sick. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis are both natives of Pickens county, but have been living in Georgia for the past five years and are doing well in their adopted home.

Mr. Job Smith, aged 62 years, died at his home in Liberty on June 28. He had been declining in health for several years, but seriously ill only a few weeks. He is survived by his wife and the following children: J. C. T. B., N. H., Ebb and Miss Fay, of Liberty; Roy of Ware Shoals, and Mrs. Jane Heaton of Gaffney. After funeral services at the home by his pastor, Rev. T. M. Galphin, assisted by Rev. J. C. Bailey, the body was laid to rest in the Westview cemetery. The bereaved have the sympathy of many friends.

A Pickens young man went to see a young lady the other night and as it was raining when he started home the young lady insisted upon him wearing her raincoat. He put the coat on, but couldn't find any buttons on it and thought there were none. Next morning when he went to return the coat he noticed that the buttons were on the left-hand side. He investigated and found that all ladies' coats have the buttons on the left-hand side and men's coats have the buttons on the right-hand side. He wants to know why this is, and we would like to know, too. Will someone please enlighten us?
